WE PROPOSE A CHALLENGE --

IT is a confirmed opinion that the high school youth of the modern South is the most level-headed and most clear-thinking group that has ever crossed a threshold.

With this in mind, we'd like to propose a challenge to the young people of Chilton County to take the facilities they have been given for education, and despite the crowded-conditions, try to conserve and magnify these facilities for those who are to follow.

Every school building in Chilton County has in some way, during the past summer, been refitted or remodeled. Painted, papered and prettied up. We realize what a temptation it is for a young mind to strike out against the "slavery" of "guidance" and it is usually shown by damaging something that is representative of "authority" which youngsters naturally "think" they abhor.

To deface a school building is in no way striking out against supervision; it is rather depriving yourself or your brothers and sisters of much needed facilities for further education.

The fact that you, boys and girls, have among you some fine personalities which will someday make attempts at straightening out the world situation, is gratifying and should inspire you toward bigger and better things. You have the raw material that is necessary to put America and the world back on its rubbery legs and our future, more than anything lies in your hands.

Unless you develop your minds and your thinking to high ideals, you cannot accomplish your "impossible" task in life.

As for defacing school buildings and property, we think this up-and-coming generation has too much "internal fortitude" to fool with such childish and ignorant pastimes. They have their sights set for things which require thinking and most of all, respect for the things and the people which serve them in their upward climb toward a better tomorrow.

DO WE MAKE IT CLEAR?--

CHILTON County needs a new courthouse in the worst way. The building as it now stands is a disgrace to our progressive community.

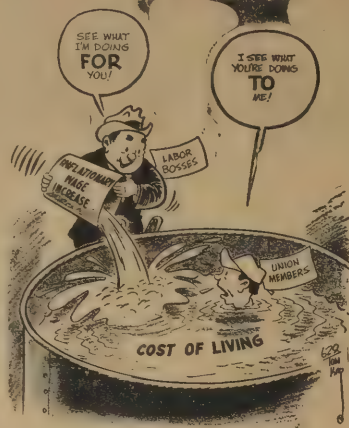

The present Board of Revenue & Control of Chilton County are making plans for another election to see if the citizens of this county are ready for that new courthouse.

In past elections on this same project we have always voted and worked for a new courthouse. The present building is inadequate and antiquated. Without exception every office in the building needs room and storage space.

Who builds the courthouse or gets credit for it's construction is of little concern--the only thing of interest to us is that the citizens of this County get a courthouse of which they can be proud and one that will properly accommodate the files and records of the county business. Should the present Board of Revenue & Control see fit to call an election for this purpose we will certainly be for it, we have been for it all the time. We only urge that it will be done at the least cost to maintain proper working conditions and with an eye to the future.

As we said before, we have been for a new courthouse all along. We just hope the thinking voter has come to see the need the way we do.

Report from Washington

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

When Congress overrode the public works appropriation bill veto last week, it marked the first time since President Eisenhower has been in office that a bill has become law without his signature. A two-thirds majority of those

COMMUNISTS ARE DENIED
PASSPORTS

With only 18 dissenting votes, the House of Representatives has passed the bill authorizing the denial of passports to communists. A similar bill introduced by the 6th District Congressman last year was approved shortly before the House adjourned.

The new bill, approved on a vote of 371 to 18, has been referred to the Senate. It is not sufficient for consideration before adjournment the measure will carry over to the second session of the 86th Congress which begins in January 1960.

Seeking in the U. S. House of Representatives in support of his bill, Congressman Selden said, "Since June 16, 1958, it has been possible for the United States government to deny passports to persons who are active supporters of the international communist movement even though they openly acknowledge that fact and frankly state they are going abroad to further the cause of international communism. On that date, the Supreme Court handed down two decisions... in which it ruled that the regulations of the Secretary of State denying passports to supporters of the world communist movement were not valid because of a lack of specific legislative authority."

Selden went on to point out that since the Court's decision, hundreds of passports have been issued to persons with known records of communist affiliations, many of which the State Department would have denied if it had not been for the Supreme Court ruling.

As passed by the House, the Selden Bill specifically delegates to the Secretary of State the necessary authority to deny passports to communists if it can be proved that the applicants have been engaged in communist activities since January 1, 1951. No passport can be denied, however, until the applicant has been given the opportunity for a hearing. In addition, the bill provides that any denial or revocation of a passport shall be subject to judicial review on the record in the district courts of the United States.

"Travel by couriers and agents is a major means by which the international communist movement is promoted," Rep. Selden stated, "and the possession of a United States passport protects the holder and facilitates his travel."

"It cannot be claimed," he added, "that the passage of this bill will assure that no active communist will be able to travel outside the United States. It will, however, give the Secretary authority to deny passports to a considerable number of persons who, without this legislation, will receive passports and whose presence abroad is definitely detrimental to our security."

voting in both houses of Congress is necessary to override a Presidential veto. The House vote on the public works veto was 280 to 121, twelve more votes than required. In the Senate, where the vote was 72 to 23, there were eight more votes than needed. The first public works bill passed this year was vetoed by the President because it exceeded the budget request by $20 million and included funds to start 67 unbudgeted projects. After an attempt to override the veto failed, Congress passed a new bill which contained funds for all the projects but which reduced each project's appropriation by 25%. The measure was again vetoed. Shortly thereafter, Congress voted to override and thus enacted the bill into law.

In the original bill, funds of $24,000 were included for planning the Holt Lock and Dam on the Warrior River near Tuscaloosa. This project received an automatic cut of $3750 from each item in the revised bill was reduced by 25%.

As passed, this appropriation measure contains a total of $1,185,000,000 for various public works projects throughout the nation in fiscal year 1960.

Third Housing Bill Although the President has already vetoed the housing bill twice, there is every reason to believe he will sign the third measure passed by Congress. Two previous measures that were more costly than the new bill were vetoed by the President, with attempts at overriding the vetoes failing.

The latest housing bill omits the $50-million dollar loan program for the construction of college classrooms to which the President had objected. It also reduces the immediate cost of the slum clearance program by authorizing grants for this purpose totaling $650 million over a two-year period rather than for one fiscal year as authorized in the previous housing bill.

The bill still contains, however, authority for 37,000 new public housing units and $55 million in loans to provide housing for elderly persons. Both these programs have been criticized by the President.

As sent to the White House the housing bill rises a total fiscal authorization of about one billion dollars.

Gas Tax Raise Final congressional action was taken on the gasoline tax increase bill last week, and the highway revenue measure was referred to the President.

As approved by the House and Senate, the bill will help finance the interstate highway construction program by raising the federal tax on gasoline from three to four cents for 21 months beginning October 1. After this period, certain excise tax revenues will be transferred to the highway trust fund to provide financial aid for the construction program.

THINGS
We see
and hear

by BOB

ONE of the things in life that we, as humans, appreciate most is the effort of one handicapped to overcome that affliction. One who shows great promise as not only overcoming an affliction, but actually making his affliction work in his behalf is Donald Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Martin of Clanton. "Donny" as he has been affectionately known for many years, is a prime example of personality and determination overpowering the shadow and uncertainty of a physical affliction. Donald has been suffering a handicap all his life, but he is one of the most friendly, happiest fellows you'll ever come across. Oh, he's had his ups and downs in his life, dependency included, but he always came out the victor, with a helping hand from the Almighty and we think, given a task, he will accomplish it about as readily as anyone we know. He has worked tirelessly this past week-end on the Palsy drive for funds. He appeared on TV during the Telethon and collected quite a few hundred dollars locally for his "pet" cause. We salute you, Donald Martin, on your spunk, determination and courage. You personify the things which makes America strong... faith in the future and confidence in your ability through Divine Guidance.

LOOKS like Mississippi has a corner on the market for beautiful wholesome-American-type women. Two in a row now... Miss America's. Must be something in that "Mississippi mud" after all. We think the judges' choice was an excellent one, but we couldn't help but notice the lack of talent displayed by the supposedly most versatile young ladies of the 49 states, plus a few others. It's enough to make us stop and wonder if this materialistic world we're living in is sapping our desire to make something really useful of ourselves. Well, anyway, we still have the "best looking" girls of anybody, anywhere, bar none!

YOU have not given unless you have sacrificed. There's a great difference in "giving up something" and "giving up" period.

THE pastor of the First Methodist Church in Clanton, Rev. Griffin Lloyd is recuperating, according to reports, from a bout with a physical disorder which had every- one pretty much baffled for a spell. According to our information, he is doing much better now and though notice has not been given as to when he will resume his position with us, prayers are going out each day that it will not be long. We're thinking about you Bro. Griff, and take it from one who knows, thank God, many others. Get well, right soon.

—by CARL HELM

From my
porch...
...I watch the world go by.

Do you wonder sometimes how, and why, parents arrive at unusual names for their children? A boy gets Cuthbert (later, luckily, cropped to plain Bert); a girl gets Daphne or Hermione, but what can you do with those? Once I knew a lad named Elwyn, and he was, a blighted kid until his playmates nicknamed him Andy.

A little girl named Gloria has a lot to live up to, doesn't she? As does a boy named Victor... "What's in a name?" asked Shakespeare many generations ago; it's still a question that parents might well ask themselves today.

However, there are names both of progeny and of products that are happily arrived at and just seem perfectly to fit, as with the Shakespeare people and their Lark. They did a lot of researching and testing to find an appropriate name for their stylish and sprightly car. When they hit upon "The Lark," they knew they had it!

Little girls named Lark wrote the company from all over (even from England) to express delight that their name had been chosen "for such a beautiful car." And, from the photographs of these lively and luring youngsters, it was apparent that they, too, had been most happily named.

If Election Were Held Today--

Demos would win control of Congress by greater margin

By Kenneth Fink, Director, Princeton Research Service.

If the nationwide Congressional elections were being held today, Congress (House of Representatives) would almost certainly go Democratic by a bigger margin than it did last November when the Democrats picked off 282 Congressional seats in the House to the Republicans 153.

Here's the way Public Opinion sees it at this time:

Democrats 59%
Republicans 41%

In 1958, the Democrats won control of the House of Representatives by the whopping margin of 129 House seats while at the same time receiving 56 per cent of the popular vote for major party candidates—3 per cent less than they would receive today.

In the 1956 nationwide Congressional elections (a Presidential election year), the Democrats won control of the House of Representatives by a margin of 28 per cent. In terms of House seats, the Democrats won by a margin of 35 seats.

In the 1954 nationwide Congressional elections (a non-Presidential election year), the Democrats won control of the House of Representatives by the slim margin of three seats. At the same time, they actually received less than a majority of the popular vote cast for major party Congressional candidates—49.8 per cent to the Democrats 50.2 per cent.

When today's Congressional vote is stacked up alongside the national Congressional vote in the past seven Presidential election years, the trend looks like this: (1950 would be a Presidential election year.)

NATIONWIDE CONGRESSIONAL VOTE--	% Repub.	% Demo
1932 Election	43.4	56.6
1936 Election	41.5	58.5
1940 Election	42.9	57.1
1944 Election	37.8	62.2
1948 Election	46.3	53.7
1952 Election	49.8	50.2
1956 Election	48.6	51.4
TODAY	41.9	58.1

From the above table, it can be seen that in the past seven Presidential election years, the majority vote has always gone to the Democrats for the House of Representatives, albeit in the actual number of Congressmen (House of Representatives Members) elected, the GOP won control in 1952 by a margin of three (3) House seats. Examination of the above table also shows that GOP Congressional candidates are running so well today as they did in 1954, 41 per cent today to 48.6 per cent in the 1956 elections -- 7.6 per cent less GOP strength today than in 1956.

Highlighting today's Congressional findings is that at the present time, Vice President Nixon when matched against Adlai Stevenson runs 9.5 per cent better than the GOP Congressional candidate ticket across the nation.

Last week's Public Opinion column showed Nixon with 50.5 per cent of the major party vote to Stevenson's 49.5 per cent.

Still another interesting sidelight is that President Eisenhower in the 1956 Presidential elections ran 8.9 per cent ahead of the GOP Congressional candidates.

The racked up $7.5 per cent of the major party vote while GOP Congressional candidates could muster only 48.6 per cent of the major party vote of the nation.

Today's findings would thus indicate that unless the GOP can find better issues, or Congressional candidates, or both, than it did in the past seven Congressional elections held in Presidential election years, the House of Representatives will almost certainly remain under Democratic control after the 1960 returns are in.

This is one of a series of exciting Public Opinion measurements of Congressional strength that will be reported between now and November, 1960.

Watch for them in this newspaper. Public Opinion predicted the vote for the House of Representatives within one per cent of fact accuracy. PRS has never been wrong on any nationwide Presidential or Congressional prediction it has made. PRS began predicting national elections in 1952.

PRS has been predicting elections across the nation since 1940. At that time, it holds a record for accurate predictions for the Chilton County News. The service is operated and distributed by Princeton Research Service.

PRS was established on August 1947--more than a dozen years ago.

Clanton Fumbles To Childersburg 13-0

by Wayne Atcheson
Clanton County High School boys were beaten Friday night by Childersburg 13-0. Two costly fumbles in the second and fourth quarter proved the difference. Childersburg scored early in the first quarter after Clanton made the first quarter surge from the 19 yard line to the 46. Making two consecutive first downs, Vines went back to the 19 yard line and was hit by Childersburg tacklers. Clanton scored the 28 yard mark. On the play fullback Buster Vines crashed through the center line to playlift. Childersburg tried to kick the extra point. Sophomore Warren Edwards crashed through the line to the 12. Childersburg recovered on the 13. Led by fullback Holmes, Wayne Barnes on the fourth down. Jerry Nix line back the extra point from the 12 and threw to end Tony Vines for the point. Childersburg received the opening kickoff and picked up a first down but had to kick. Deep in their own territory the Tigers couldn't go and punted out. Childersburg couldn't move either so they kicked and Warren Edwards took the punt on the 14 yard line and returned to the 19. The Clanton ground attack opened up and moved 27 yards led by Elliott Monroe and Mick Mims before Vines fumbled setting up the Childersburg touchdown. On the kickoff Elliott Monroe read 24 yards to the 43 yard line. Clanton moved over the midfield triple, but was offset by a 15 yard penalty to the 39 yard line but had to give over and Childersburg finished up the second quarter. The Tigers dominated the first half by running twice as many plays as Childersburg. The Tigers also led in first downs 5 to 2. Down to 0 Clanton was still in the game. Clanton received the third period half, but both teams swapped the half twice. Childersburg picked up a first down. Childersburg had to kick and Clanton took over as the third quarter ended. Clanton punted and Childersburg moved for a first down before having got punt. The kick went out of bounds, on the 13 and two plays later Childersburg had recovered a Tiger fumble which proved to be another score for Childersburg. From then on it was all Childersburg. Clanton got the ball one more time 60 yards from the goal line but were set back. Childersburg controlled the last half picking up four first downs to Clanton's none. Clanton couldn't

TIGERS TO INVADE RED DEVIL TERRITORY IN SECOND TANGLE

by Wayne Atcheson

The Clanton Tigers will go after their first victory of the season when they invade Maplesville tomorrow night. What a team they will battle, a team who lost only one man all year and who defeated Perry County 33 to 0 last week. Clanton is recovering from the Childersburg game in which two fumbles meant the difference. The coaches were very well pleased with the Tiger defense last week. One in particular was Warren Edwards, second string quarterback, who played lincolner and middle guard. Carren at 130 pounds blocked a extra point and was credited with the most tackles. Other boys who stood out on defense were Jimmy Dennis, Elliott Monroe, John Argo, Tommy Tiffin, Don Jones and several others. Buddy Vines and Elliott Monroe supplied most of the offense. Vines ran the quarterback sneak four times and had to run several times when back to pass for a total of 45 yards on ten games. Elliott Monroe got his yardage the hard way mostly on off tackle plays, and having to carry about manage the ball over the fifty yard mark in the last half but Childersburg only moved over the middle of the field twice besides the recovered fumble. Both teams proved a good defense despite a slow offense. It was what you might say a thank you win, but those two unlucky breaks made it tough to lose.

MAPLESVILLE TOPS PERRY COUNTY HIGH

The Maplesville Red Devil Football team won 33-0 over Perry County last Friday night in their opening game. Perry County was unable to get no more than three first downs. Maplesville scored in the first quarter when John McAfee blocked a punt and Henry E. Perry ran the touchdown from the nine yard line. Bobby Edwards stuck in another counter in the same frame when he returned a punt 47. In the third quarter Bobby Seales bucked two yards and Bobby Edwards raced 56 for two more touchdowns. In the fourth quarter, Tim Moore went 8 yards for the final touchdown. The team did some mighty good blocking, which made the touchdowns possible. The B team played quite a bit of this game. Red Devils meet Clanton here, Friday night, Sept. 18.

VERBENA JEMISON LOCK HORNS IN THRILLING 0-0 TIE FIRST GAME

by Benny Davis

The Red Devils met the Jemison Panthers in a gruesome battle Friday night. The Red Devils put up a very good defense against the Panthers. The leading men on defense were Kenneth Scarbrough, Richard Davis and Dewey Deavers. The outstanding men on offense were Earl Griffin, Richard Davis and Kenneth Scarbrough.

Red Devils Receive

The Red Devils received the kick off at 7:30. The Red Devils started their offense game. After a few plays Earl Griffin, quarterback, completed a pass to left half, Richard Davis, for about 40 yards. Then the Red Devils fumbled on a running play up the middle. After this the game processed along each team battling to score. It was a very exciting game to the end. It was a very clean football game. Our captains were: Richard Davis and Earl Griffin.

REELTOWN TAKES "BEARS" IN 21-13 TILT

by Joe H. Turner

The Billingsley Bears lost a hard fought game to Reeltown Friday night on their home field. It was a real good game and both teams should feel proud of themselves for a game well played on a wet and muddy field. James Rhodes and Andrew Dennis scored Billingsley's two touchdowns and Hammonds scored twice and Smith one touchdown for Reeltown. Reeltown was leading by a score of 14-13 until the last play of the game when they scored to make the final score 21-13. A large crowd witnessed the game even though the weather was very disagreeable. We feel that our team played extra well for their first game and with our support will continue to improve and cause us to be real proud of them. So let's give them our best support.

THREATS FAL; JEMISON 0; VERBENA 0

Hubert V. Ray

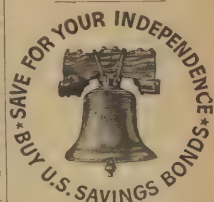

Everyone enjoyed a great game at Verbena Friday night. Two very good looking teams fought it out on a wet football field, but neither team could break loose. Verbena's best drive was broken up on the 15 yard line when Jemison recovered a fumble. Jemison's threat was broken up on the 2 yard line after it was moved from deep in Jemison's territory to Verbena's 22 yard line in two terrific drives by Benny Sims. These were the outstanding plays of the game. After moving on to the 2 yard line, Verbena intercepted a pass and saved the game. Jemison defeated Verbena last year 13 to 0. Jemison meets Isabella next Friday night at Isabella. Come on and enjoy a good football game.

MAPLESVILLE HAS NEW PRINCIPAL

Maplesville people are really proud of their new principle, Mr. J. I. Kelley, and of the tremendous job he has done for our school. Maplesville parents have organized a new P-TA with a membership of, around 75, but all of our committees haven't given a full report yet. So we are expecting 100 members. The finance committee with the help of local and rural friends have over $700.00 for our lunchroom and school needs. Of course, that isn't enough to complete what has to be done, but we think it is a very good beginning. We have several new teachers, and we are looking forward to the best school year ever. Our new school principle is Mr. J. I. Kelley, former coach at Maplesville, for about two years. Mr. Kelley got his BS degree at Troy State College. Also his Masters degree at the University of Alabama. We are all very proud of him. Mrs. Mary Jo Crumpton is our Commercial Instructor and is a graduate of University of Alabama. Miss Mellie Brown a resident of Maplesville, teaches English, also Physical Education. Nettie Rixon also a Maplesville resident teaches Jr. English and also is a Librarian. Our new coach, Mrs. R. L. Haggard, a former assistant coach in Florida. He is a graduate of Howard College. Mr. Maurice Lind, our new Math teacher is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. He lives on Clanton Rte. 1.

KNOW YOUR CHIROPRACTOR

Be sure that your Chiropractor is a graduate of an accredited four year college.

There's no need to dread your Chiropractic adjustments any more. Under Dr. Crandall's new specific type of adjusting, you feel only the slightest pressure upon the impinged nerves.

Substantiated vertebrae cause pressure on nerves and obstruct transmission of mental impulses from the brain to organs of the body. Interference with the transmission of these vital life currents cause disease in the organs to which nerves under pressure lead. It is paramount that spinal subluxations be adjusted before disease can be eliminated.

Dr. Crandall under his new methods of adjusting makes a specialty of this work, and by his valuable services, has ingratiated himself in the hearts of thousands who have been sufferers from almost every form of disease.

It stalks our streets -- TERROR MUST BE CHECKED. That this should happen in my home town!

My town, where as a child I walked to and from school. Where we used to play hide-and-go-seek all over the neighborhood at night! There were as youngsters, Buba, Ed and walked to and from the picture show on Saturday nights. Where my teen-age boy, and used to walk to and from BFPU on Sunday nights. Where I walked "piece-the-way-home" with my girl whom I lived six blocks away. Where, in later years, I have come and gone about my work all over town, at all hours unafraid. Where, at day's end I used to walk around the neighborhood alone to clear away the mental fuzziness of fatigue. The sorrow, the shame of it that I can't do this any longer--because I'm afraid. Afraid in my own home town, the town I love! Perhaps if we all adopted Sam Levenson's Ten Commandments for Parents, we could check the terror that has begun to stalk our streets--

Ten Commandments

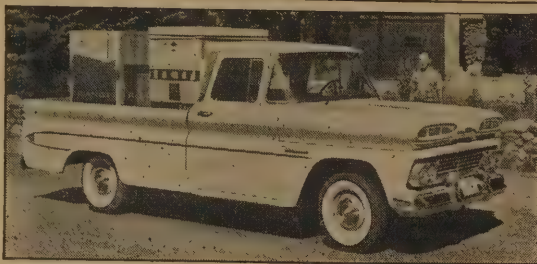

1. Thou shalt guard thy children in the home and on the street.
2. Thou shalt make thy home a sanctuary of love and devotion.
3. Thou shalt honor the teachers of thy children and teach thy children to honor them.
4. Thou shalt not condone the fault of thy children through a misguided sense of loyalty.
5. Thou shalt teach thy children respect for the law and keep them from the companionship of children who indicate disrespect for the law.
6. Thou shalt not lead thy child into temptation by providing him with such money, a car, and such privileges.
7. Thou shalt enforce decency in the dress of thy daughters, and dignity in the dress of thy sons.
8. Thou shalt protect the morals of thy children from the indiscretions of youthful ardor and inexperience.
9. Thou shalt conduct thine own affairs in such manner as to set an example worthy of imitation by the children.
10. Thou shalt not permit thy children to bear arms except in the service of their country.

Drive Carefully... School's in Safe driving is everyone's job, all year long. But now that school's starting again, it's time to be even more careful.

Our youngsters may carry some of that carefree summer back to school with them. They may forget to stop and look carefully before crossing streets and highways, getting off their school buses, chasing after baseballs.

All of Southern Bell's drivers are going to work to make this the safest school year ever. They are going to drive as if their lives—and someone else's—depend on it.

Because they do.

Williamson Farm Overcomes 'Plagues', Now One Of Best

GOOD markets and an irrigation have made the Williamson farm in Chilton County a successful vegetable growing enterprise. Collards are the main crop on the farm and in the pasture Jimson Vo. Ag. Teacher L. C. Shields discusses insect damage to the crop with Cecil Williamson, a former FFA member of the Jimson Chapter.

This engine furnishes power for the irrigation system on the Williamson farm in Chilton County that enables the vegetable growers to overcome one of the plagues faced by farmers—the lack of rainfall at the proper time. Jimson Vo. Ag. Teacher L. C. Shields discusses operation of the system with Cecil Williamson, a former student of his who is operating the engine.

PHONE 429 CLANTON

The Williamson farm in Chilton County has made considerable headway in overcoming two of the worst plagues faced by farmers — dry weather and poor markets. Operator Cecil Williamson and his brother-in-law, J. E. Burnett, believe they have the answer in an irrigation system which is capable of delivering up to 750 gallons of water a minute and as established market for collards, the main crop, and other vegetables grown on the farm.

When asked about the irrigation system, Cecil, whose FFA program under Jimson vo-ag teacher, L. C. Shields, netted him a State Farmer Degree in 1940 said that he wouldn't farm without it, "we've had lots of kidding about the system during wet weather, but there isn't much said during droughts which often come at a key time in vegetable production," he continued.

The farming operation was begun by Cecil's father, Jim, who is now retired. He built up a good reputation with produce houses which Cecil and J. E. are maintaining.

"They know that we can be relied upon to furnish vegetables when needed," the young farmer said, "out of eight months last year we had collards to sell, we missed only two days filling orders, no matter what the weather conditions were."

Along with the main crop of collards, grown on the farm also are 20 acres of peach trees, 35 acres of corn, 15 acres of turnips, 5 acres of blackeye peas, 3 acres of squash, 2 acres each of cabbage and onions, 1 1/2 acres of bunch beans and 1 1/4 acres of ribbon cane.

The farming operation is rounded out by 25 head of grade Hereford cattle and a registered bull. A crop of which the Williamson's are especially proud is the ribbon cane which will be sold for chewing. It is planted in eight foot rows, fertilized with more than two tons of fertilizer an acre and is irrigated by flooding at regular intervals. The stalks are already forming blue joints which indicates lots of good chewing ahead.

The vegetables are sold to produce houses in Montgomery. Water for the irrigation system comes from a stream that runs through the farm. Portable sprinklers are used except for the ribbon cane. Power for the system which is kept in steady use by the variety of crops comes from a 125 horsepower Chrysler engine and a 33 horse Wisconsin.

Other machinery includes three tractors and equipment and two trucks. Two hired hands work the year around.

Cecil perhaps accounted for the success of the farm when he gave Mr. Shields his theory of how to succeed in farming—a farmer should specialize in a crop, do a good job and build up a market, but at the same time needs a variety of crops to put land, equipment, and labor to the most efficient use.

DO-IT-YOURSELF SHELTER PROJECT

For Family Protection From Radioactive Fallout

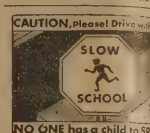

BASEMENT SHELTERS generally are the least expensive type that will give substantial protection. The basement shelter shown here can be built with solid concrete blocks as a do-it-yourself project for $150 to $200. Standard 8-inch solid concrete blocks are recommended because hollow blocks would have to be filled with concrete to give effective protection. Bricks are an alternative. If they are used, the walls and roof should be 18 inches thick to give the same protection as 8-inch solid concrete blocks. Plans for this do-it-yourself project appear in "The Family Fallout Shelter," OCDM booklet. Copies may be obtained from the Home Shelter, OCDM, Battle Creek, Michigan.

BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

THE question is "Do The People of Chilton County Want A New Courthouse?" However, the implication behind the question and the facts at hand point to another question; "Do The People Of Chilton County Realize How Badly They Need A New Courthouse?"

The Records Don't Lie

The records so show that time and time again recommendation, and outright pleas have been made to build a new Courthouse for Chilton County that will adequately house all administrative offices of our local government. To say that the present facilities are inadequate is a colossal understatement.

The Board of Revenue and Control, wishink at all costs to comply with the wishes of the people, has gone on record (Monday, September 14) indicating that they are not only 100% in favor of a vote of the people, but are also unanimous in their opinion that Chilton County needs, can pay for and should have a new Courthouse building.

"A Disgrace..."

Numerous Grand Jury reports, such as the most recent one, (SEE PAGE TWO) have specifically requested that something be done about the Courthouse. According to numerous parties, including Grand Jurors who have thoroughly inspected our Courthouse, "It is a disgrace to the people of Chilton County" and should be done away with and a building befitting the prestige and volume of business we transact should be erected in its stead.

One official, showing us the inefficiency of his facilities, stated that "It is making criminals of every official in this County because we do not have storage space for all our records". And the law requires that such records be kept in a "vault".

No Storage Space

According to authorities many of the County's records are now housed at the local armory and the storage space at the Courthouse is such destroyed by termites. These can never be replaced.

It is also the opinion of many that if the situation is that bad, then there is every possibility that valuable records are being lost which may someday prove to be invaluable to Chilton County's business.

No More Taxes

As to cost, the main thing, stated one Board of Revenue and Control member, "is no additional taxes!" According to Judge J. C. White, there is, at present, some $120,000 plus in the Road and Building Fund that can be applied to the building of a new courthouse. It was also brought out that "before any construction is begun there will be between -175,000 and $200,000 in the Fund". Some members felt, and so stated, that this could possibly be one-third or more of the entire cost of a new building.

"If not a new Courthouse, then we must put two or three hundred thousand dollars into this building," stated one member of the Board, and this would be neither wise, nor economical.

Need Outgrowing Facilities

This newspaper has consistently advocated the building of a new Courthouse. Chilton County needs a long way since the present facilities were built and our need has far outgrown the foresight which was put into the building of our present facilities.

Why We Can Do It

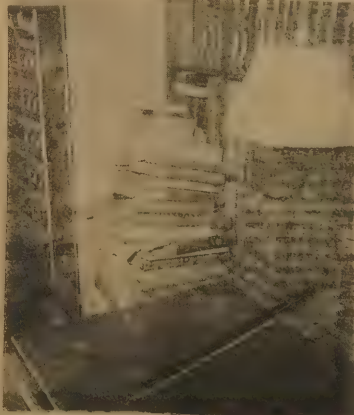

Progressive does not necessarily mean the same thing as the term "modern" which we so loosely use these days. Chilton County is fast growing into a progressive one, and indications on every hand point out the indispensible fact that progress far outdoes standing still. In fact, we cannot stand still; evidence of this is our present Courthouse building. In fact, it is "standing still" and we are trying to cram our progressive ideas and increasing business into a building that was out-of-date 15 or 20 years ago. This indicates that we are "backing up", not standing still nor progressing.

We Are Progressing

Every business in Chilton County has progressed greatly in the past 10 years. Progressive ideas, seasoned with old-fashioned ideals and conservative intelligence has brought this change about. The people of Chilton County are ever increasing in number and they are better educated, better housed, better fed and better taken care of than any other time in history. With these facts in hand, nobody can honestly and truthfully say "we do not need a new Courthouse!" Neither can they say "it will cost us too much..." the officials have promised "no new taxes."

Logical Direction

We are at a decisive turning point in our history as a part of this country. We can either take a forward step and keep up with the times by building a new courthouse or we can fall back into the past and let our County go to rot. After logically considering the facts at hand we feel there is only one direction to take.

HERE you see valuable records "stored" very inadequately. It is a scene from the Circuit Clerk's office and though in no way pointing to inefficiency on the part of Horsley White or his staff it is proof positive of the need for space and action should be taken at once to relieve these public servants so that they may serve better and more efficiently.

NO this is not the city dump. It could be termed the County "dump" however, because this is the way some of the records... your records are inadequately, pitifully housed due to the lack of space in our present Courthouse. This room is representative of many in the Courthouse. The records have shifted now since this photo was taken. They are now housed in the National Guard Armory under lock and key, though not in a vault as the law states and according to one Courthouse official are kept "if anything, worse than shown in this picture".

IT'S A BOY --

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Driver are the proud parents of a baby boy, born at the Chilton County hospital on Sept. 22, 1959. They have named him Middleton Kiri. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Res Driver and Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Mims, all of Clanton.

IT is the desire of this newspaper to paint for the public, not a picture of the inefficiency of its public officials; on the contrary, it is remarkable that they do so good a job with the facilities we give them. Rather, it is an attempt to show the citizens what a deplorable situation thrives right under our noses. That we need a new courthouse is unquestionably true. How we get it is up to the Board of Revenue and Control. Whether or not we get it seems to be up to the people and it is time the people spoke!

A special election for the question cannot be held, according to official statement. There may be an Amendment voting in November or there may be one in February, according to reports. These are maybes. It is also possible that the people cannot vote on the matter until next May. That means that it could very likely be a year or more before construction can begin.

There is an alternative!

The people of Chilton County can speak now! Write in your opinion; tell any Board member or meet with them and discuss the matter; write in to this newspaper or fill out the blank and your "vote" will be forwarded to the Board post haste.

We can do it now. It is in our hands to publicly announce that "We Do Want A New Courthouse" without an election, but definitely getting the public's opinion on the matter.

If by now you know the situation... act immediately. The facilities are deteriorating more every day and so is the service to you, the public, due to this deterioration.

We rest the case entirely in the hands of the people of Chilton County!

LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK

"I do believe, after viewing the facts, that Chilton County needs a new Courthouse Building. I hereby give my consent as a citizen of Chilton County for a new Courthouse Building."

The Bible — Dominates Existence

LET'S NOT OVERDO IT--

FOR years now the sale of advertising in high school annuals for the payment of same has been on the increase until today is a big business with the promoters of such advertising.

There are extenuating circumstances which alter, should alter the course of events which do not benefit those concerned. Those concerned with buying annual advertising do so on more of a "blackmail basis" than on a free will level. We speak thusly because we have discussed with businessmen the situation and find that they advertise in this medium because they want to keep what trade they have and apparently the high school student, along with his family are a large part of most business revenue.

This, not only is not a healthy situation, it isn't even a desirable one. The merchants feel that the money they spend does them no good advertising wise. They feel that it is a donation to the school. However, they are aware of the large chunk of these funds which goes to the publishers of these yearbooks for printing them and other services rendered.

The merchant feels that it would be better to donate 100% to the school or graduating class and keep the money at home rather than giving it, or a large percentage thereof, to some out-of-town firm.

The trouble is, the poor merchant cannot support only the local school, but must support all outlying community schools from which he draws trade and who at the pinpoint the starting place and the stopping place of trade area?

As we said, the merchant would prefer to donate to the schools rather than to a large printing or advertising firm. It's another form of "trading at home" of which we're highly in favor of and some remedial steps should be taken by "the powers that be" to improve the mass draining of the local merchants pocket. It is totally unfair, and as one merchant puts it "getting to be a nuisance!"

Grand Jury Once Again Recommends Immediate Action On Courthouse

STATE OF ALABAMA,
CHILTON COUNTY.

Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama

JULY TERM, 1959.

To The Honorable Oakley W. Melton, as Judge of said Court:
After having been empaneled and receiving your Honors charge, we entered upon the investigation of all matters that came before us and herewith submit the following report:

During our deliberation we examined 57 witnesses and are herewith returning 30 true bills.

A personal inspection of the County Jail found it to be generally neat. However, it is noted that a serious situation exists in the plumbing condition of the jail building. It is the opinion of this Grand Jury that extensive repairs will be necessary in order to rectify the unwholesome condition which prevails.

'You Are Not Alone ...'
There are few of us who have never been lonely at one time or another, nor deeply yearned to feel the presence of another human being — yearned for the assurance that someone cares even a tiny bit...
It is horrible enough to be lonely in a small town. But it is so much worse to be lonely in a big city, in the midst of millions. It is almost unbearable in the biggest city of all — New York: and loneliness there is so common.
But now, blessings be, the poor lonely soul, desperate even to hear the sound of a voice, even more desperate to know that someone, somewhere, cares if he lives or dies, may find succor by picking up a phone. You dial a certain number — an hour or minute of the day or night — and a warm kindly voice responds with words of love and encouragement.
It may be a passage from the Bible you will hear; it may be the "blessed assurance" of the old hymn — and the voice may be recorded. But the words reach right down into the lonely heart and soul. It is always there, every mortal minute, within your reach — just as God is: you have only to "tune in."

Just in case you're ever lonely in New York some time, the phone number is Circle 5-2411.

A lot of people who speak about "capital and labor" never had any capital and never did any labor.

An inspection of the County Court house building found it to be still deteriorating. The Grand Jury called before it Probate Judge J. C. White for a discussion as to any anticipated action by the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control in providing an adequate building for our County government.
Judge White reported that the County is now in good financial condition. It is anticipated that with the collection of the revenue due this fall that the County will have in the building, bridge and road fund approximately $150,000.00. The anticipated income in the years that lie ahead is sufficient to pay for a new Court House without any additional taxes. On September 14th, 1959 the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control passed a resolution authorizing that a referendum be held as soon as possible whereby the citizens of Chilton County can vote on the proposition of whether or not they want a new Court House. It is the opinion of this Grand Jury that the people of Chilton County desire a new Court House building. It is our recommendation that the Board of Revenue and Control proceed with all haste in placing this question to the voters of this County. Should the people of the County vote against building a new Court House, then it is the recommendation that the Board of Revenue and Control proceed immediately to renovate the present building and add thereto space to accommodate the agencies of our County government.

The Grand Jury notes that the Grand Juries of both Autauga and Elmore Counties have gone on record in advocating a second Circuit Judge for the 19th Judicial Circuit. We too, are of the opinion that one Circuit Judge can no longer adequately fulfill the duties expected of him. This is no reflection upon our present Circuit Judge but due to the increase in the volume of litigation within the three Counties, one Judge can no longer be expected to handle all of these matters. Therefore, it is our recommendation that our legislator and senator join with the other legislators and senators from the other two counties in obtaining necessary legislation to have the two Circuit Judges for our Circuit.

Why we built two cars for 1960 ... as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance... a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" engine—only 16½ inches high—so it only takes three cylinders long... and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength... it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's... take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

LAST OF THE MIGHTY OAKS HAVE FALLEN

The last of the beautiful great oaks is coming down in this photograph of the old Hayes homestead on the South edge of the business district. They stood majestic in all their glory for a half century but as with all material things—how to progress. It is reported a modern store building will replace Dr. and Mrs. Hayes old homestead.

The Clanton Tigers won the toss of the coin and elected to receive. John McAfee kicked off and Elliott Monroe returned for nine yards to the 29 yard line.

After failing to move on two downs quarterback Warren Edwards passed to Tommy Shelton for 37 yards down to Maplesville's thirty-two yard line. The Tigers moved only three yards as Maplesville took over on the 29 yard line. The Red Devils managed only two yards and kicked to Clanton, but the Tigers had to return the ball as Vines punted 35 yards to the 23 yard line. The Red Devils

IT'S CALL-HOME TIME! Kids away at school? Then you know what a job it is to keep in touch with them. Letters are all too few, and your campus Joe or Jill is often hard to reach. So, why not try this. Plan a Long Distance get-together. Set a certain time on a certain day--once a week or more often if you like--for your young folks to call you. It's fun to get the news and not expensive, especially when you call station-to-station.

AND, HERE'S another money-saving tip. Long Distance is an efficient sales and buying tool. Salesmen can save time, reduce travel expense, process orders faster by using Long Distance. And if you're the buyer, quick Long Distance calls will often help track down the best buys. Try it for economy and efficiency.

HELLO, IVAN? For the first time in 22 years, statistics have been compiled on the number of telephones in Russia. Comes out to about 2 telephones for every 100 people as compared to our 37 per 100. And even though our total of 64 million phones makes us the best-telephoned country in the world, we still have plans to bring you even more and better services in the future.

caught on fire and moved for a first down on plunges by Tim Moore and Bobby Edwards aided by a 15 yard penalty against Clanton for unnecessary roughness.

The first quarter ended as Maplesville had the ball second down and two to go. The Devils promptly picked up the first down, but were slowed down by the Tigers defense. Clanton took charge and a five yard penalty offset their chance for a first down. Buddy Vines punted and Bobby Edwards retrieved the football ten yards to the 47 yard line. Two plays later southpaw Bobby Edwards passed to Henry Ed Perry for 31 yards before Buddy Baker brought him down. This was the last scoring threat in the first quarter.

At halftime Maplesville led in first downs 3 to 11 and had put on a better show than that of Clanton.

The highly spirited Red Devils received the third quarter kickoff as Doug Smitherman returned twenty-two yards to the 38 yard line. Maplesville picked up two first downs down to the 44 yard line. Butch Higginbotham threw to Graham for 5, Edwards bucked for 1, Bobby Seals lost a yard to go. Quarterback Higginbotham pitched out to Edwards who threw to Graham who sprinted into the end zone untouched. It was a beautiful executed play which climaxed a 62 yard march. Clanton was penalized one yard for off sides on the extra point but fullback Bobby Seals plunged into the end zone to make the score 7 to 0.

Maplesville kicked off and Clanton couldn't move a yard and had to punt. The Red Devils picked up a first down, but gave back to Clanton on downs. Clanton took over on the 38 yard mark and drove to the 49 as the quarter ended. Spearheaded by a 15 yard penalty against Maplesville for pass interference which netted 25 yards and an eleven yard keeper play by Buddy Vines, the Tigerman moved to the eleven yard line where a stubborn Red Devil defense stopped the drive. The Red Devil took over and could pick up a first down. Then one of the most exciting plays of the game came when Junior John McAfee kicked a sensational booming kick which went over safety back Tommy Shelton's head, who ran the kick down and returned 30 yards to the 38 yard line. The total distance of the kick was 71 yards.

For the first time in the Tigers got down in business. Quarterback Vines threw to Elliott Monroe for 11 yards and three plays later, Vines threw to Shelton for 25 yards, the ball on the 41 yard line carried for 9 and 3, another first down. With resting on the 13 Vines carried 4. Now it was a four and two situation on the yard marked. Vines took a hit pay dirt. Vines of Shelton in the flat for the point. The touchdown, 62 yard drive in eight plays. After the touchdown was over. Maplesville had a spirited team and played hearts out. Clanton came fensively in the fourth, even things up. The size of their eight first downs of their eighth first that period. Both teams fine defensive attack. Maplesville 7 Clanton 7 Maplesville scoring: Graham (38, pass for 31, Pat, (Seals) 1 yd. punt. Clanton scoring: touchdown (8); Pat, (Shelton) (Vines) run (8).

Buy Everything You Need in Chilton

WE had one lovely lady say she agreed with our idea about "Trading At Home" but she just didn't like having to "run all over town" looking for what she wanted when she could go to one of the large department stores (elsewhere) and get everything at one time.

Besides the benefits she derives directly from the business houses through taxes, etc. we wonder if the lady ever considered the possibility that if she patronized the Chilton County merchants regularly she would learn their wares and where to go to find what in a short time without shopping the entire area.

We certainly won't argue that we have everything in the world available here at home, but we are prepared to back up our local merchants to the extent that they try to handle the most WANTED items and one of the big reasons they don't handle MORE items is the demand is not big enough. That gets back to the consumer! Tell the local merchant what you want. He will either supply you with the commodity, see that you get it on order or he'll frankly tell you he can't get it for you and will suggest that you go out of town.

But don't go out of town first. . . TRADE AT HOME. . . AND SAVE!

REMINDER TO CYCLISTS AND IMPATIENT MOTORISTS

A number of bicycles have been parked on the sidewalks and some are being ridden on the walks in business districts of Clanton. This is against a City Ordinance.

Parents, please caution your children about this carelessness. We will have to issue tickets to anyone breaking this Ordinance.

In the past few people have been run into with bicycles and we also have some blind people here which we all love, let us keep our walks safe for them to travel on. SEVERAL motorists continue to disregard our Stop Signs; also several of our traffic lights have signs on them that say "Stop, then Turn Right". After you stop, look, and when you have clear traveling, proceed.

For any violation, we have no other choice but to issue traffic tickets for which the cost is five ($5.00) dollars.

PETROLEUM'S DISCOVERY WELL — At this site near Tusville, Pa., the petroleum industry was born on August 27, 1859, when "Colonel" Edwin L. Drake proved to the world that oil could be found in the ground in abundance and that drilling was the best means of extracting it.

Seated in the foreground of this photograph is "Uncle Billy" Smith, Drake's trusty helper, who was the first to detect the success of the operation. This year the petroleum industry is celebrating the Centennial of Drake's historic discovery.

You get a hundred years of progress in every gallon of gasoline we pump

This year marks oil's 100th birthday. It's been a century of great progress in better products and friendly service for you—and the best is yet to come.

Did you know—the gasolines used 30 years ago would be useless in the engine of the car you drive today? In fact, today's gasolines are as powerful as the fuels that our fighter planes used at the end of World War II. That's progress—oil's progress. You may never notice the progress in gasolines, motor oils, lubricants and other products we offer you—but it's there. Each year, improved oil products provide more power and better care for your car.

We're proud to have been a part of this wonderful century of progress. And we join with the rest of oil's men and women in promising—the best is yet to come.

GROWINGEST

ONE of the finest young men in Chilton's Oil Industry is William Thomas, Standard Oil Agent. Bill has been in the oil game about three years now and is one of the leading young businessmen in Clanton and Chilton County. Noticeably, it's personality and hard work that pay off and Bill believes in his share of both. He and wife, Hazel (Messer) have two sons and live on 1st Ave. in Clanton.

JOE SMITH OIL MAN WITH A FUTURE

JOE Smith, owner-operator of Joe Smith's Sinclair Station on the corner of 7th Street and 4th Ave. says "Just call 839 for the best of everything for your automobile". Joe has built a tremendous business on the strength of his character. He is simply, a fine fellow. A good head for business and a feeling for the public has netted Mr. Smith one of Clanton's and Chilton County's most successful businesses. The Oil Industry is fortunate to have such a man in their midst. We too, are fortunate. Joe and the "missus" have two children, Mrs. Bill Hays of Clanton and Bonny, attending college for the first time this fall.

BEN STUDDARD UP BY YOUR BOOT STRAPS

B. N. Ben Studdard, is what is commonly known as a "self-made individual". He probably will disagree with us, which only serves to prove our point. Hard work, grit and determination has made Ben and wife Hazel two of Chilton County's most respected citizens and they are builders of the future in the broadest sense. Mr. Ben is a country boy who made good and he deeply appreciates his friends and the men who gave him the opportunity to accomplish his goal. Light oil sales has jumped from 18,000 gallons in 1940 to 175,000 gallons a year ago under his able supervision. A success story 'tis true, but it hasn't turned his head. He's still just "ben".

TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in America!

First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built wide-base coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. Brawnier bulldozer build!

Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jare and road shock that used to spell slow death for the truck's body and sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs!

Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips. More real comfort!

Spring 1955—Salk polio vaccine answers every mother's prayer.

Another Great Day for America—and Oil Was There!

For 100 years—since 1859—oil's people and products have been responsible for milestone after milestone in America's march into the future.

The children were slow to bare their arms, but the world was quick to rejoice. Dr. Salk's vaccine was the beginning of the end for dreaded polio. A special product developed by oil research was used to help render the polio virus harmless. Oil was there. Oil helped make it possible.

Oil's first hundred years have brought unreamed-of changes in the lives of all of us. Today, in transportation, clothing, food, medicine, housing and many other ways, we reap the benefits of a century of oil progress.

At the root of this progress lies the tradition of freedom fostered and cherished in our country. Working in this same freedom, oil's men and women will bring forth more Great Days for America. No one knows all the wonders that lie ahead for America. But we know this—progress lies ahead... and oil will be there!

Another Great Day Ahead—and oil will be there!

In days yet to come, medical research will produce answers for many of the crippling, killing diseases that plague man today. When those Great Days for America arrive, oil will be there!

County Office Participates In Study on Chilton Child Welfare

Examining child welfare, the Department of Pensions and Security in Alabama at the time of a recent study on nearly 10,000 children receiving child welfare services in that state, together with all other children receiving service only and aid to children in foster care, but under supervision of someone other than a child welfare worker. Not included, he pointed out, were most of the more than 71,000 children receiving aid to dependent children that month. Findings of the nationwide study are to be used in pointing up legislative and other child welfare needs," Prestwood added.

"Our services to children represent Alabama's oldest public social service program," Prestwood declared.

The study showed that about half of the children were in the homes of parents and nearly 15 percent with other relatives. More than 115 percent were in boarding foster homes, Prestwood said. There were over nine percent in adoptive homes and nearly that number in institutions.

Ages of the children served indicated that they range from babies to teenagers, with nearly 54 percent being ten or under. Of the total, over 55 percent were boys, who outnumbered girls in nearly every age group.

By far the largest number of children came from broken homes. Prestwood said, indicating that for over 30 percent parents were divorced, or separated. For over 18 percent of the children one or both parents were dead and for over 22 percent they were not married. In fact, Prestwood said, only 28.7 percent of the children had married parents who were living. Nearly two-thirds of the children served were white the study showed.

The length of time service was being given was indicated, Prestwood said, by the fact that service had been initiated for over 60 percent in 1957 or later.

Prestwood said a little more than six percent of the children received OASI child benefits.

"These services to children are particularly significant in terms of prevention of delinquency, rehabilitation, and helping boys and girls to grow into useful, independent citizens," Prestwood concluded.

The Chilton County Department of Pensions and Security participated in the study of characteristics of children receiving child welfare services, Miss Clements, Director said here today. She pointed out that at the end of July 1959, Chilton County Department of Pensions and Security was serving 450 children who received aid to dependent children, 1 child in foster care, and 42 children receiving social service only.

"The Director also explained that the public child welfare services of the State reach children directly through their own county department of pensions and security."

PUBLIC OPINION —

WHY PEOPLE FAIL TO VOTE ON BOND ISSUES AND OTHER PUBLIC QUESTIONS.

By Kenneth Fink, Director, Research Service

During the nation this year (1959) approximately one billion dollars worth of bond issues will be voted on in state and local elections.

Many of these bond issues are for such things as higher education, elementary and high schools, highways, and other public projects.

The only thing certain about these bond issue elections is that where political candidates of one sort or another are on the same ballot, many people will go to the Polls, vote for one or more candidates, and then neglect to register their opinions on the bond issue up for decision.

The above finding is highlighted by a study of voting behavior in recent bond issue elections where political candidates were also on the ballot just completed by Princeton Research Service.

In every election examined, where candidates were also on the ballot, a tabulation reveals that at least 31 out of every 100 who went to the Polls neglected to vote on the public question or bond issue that appeared on the same ballot.

Further, the only thing certain about this year's elections on bond issues across the nation is that from three out of every ten to as many as one out of every two who actually go to the Polls will not vote on the bond issues or other public questions if candidates for office are also on the ballot.

What is the reason for this?

There are several reasons:

1. People don't understand them.

2. People don't know enough about the question to be voted on.

3. People don't want to be bothered; too much public money is involved.

TIGERS FACE POWERFUL WETUMPKA

by Wayne Atcheson

Winning their first game of the season, and a spirited one it was, the Tigers will shoot the works against powerful Wetumpka tomorrow night.

The Wetumpka Indians have beaten Prattville, Alex City, and Auburn so far this season.

The Tigers are recovering from minor injuries. Elliott Monroe, who has an infected thumb, probably will be ready to go tomorrow night. Monroe played right when Don Jones came up with a knee injury. Jones didn't dress out against Montevallo, but he will probably be in there against Wetumpka.

Tommy Edwards was injured last week, but he still played a big part on the line.

Buddy Vines re-hurt his shoulder but he punted the ball five times for an average of 35.8 yards. One of his punts went 44 yards.

Band Queen to be Crowned

The game tomorrow night will be highlighted with the crowning of the Band Queen. Each grade, 7th through the 12th, has a Queen and the one who has the most votes this afternoon will be the Queen.

IN CIVIL CLASH— MONTGOMERY DEFEATS CENTER POINT 13-6

The Montgomery All-Stars defeated the Center Point Rebels, at Clanton last Saturday night, 13 to 6.

The All-Stars scored in the first quarter on a beautiful 45 yard punt return by Estes Frey, who played at Troy State. Bobby Glass of Prattville tried to drop kick the extra point but it was partially blocked.

The other scoring came in the last quarter when all-star half-back Terrell Parrish formerly of Robert E. Lee ran around right end for eight yards for a touchdown.

County High School Band: The Elmore County Band were ranked 3rd in the Nation, among other high school bands at the Lions Club International Convention this summer.

Larry McCord of Holtville kicked the extra point.

After the touchdown Center Point got the ball on their twenty yard line. Two plays later Gil Avans, from Woodlawn of Birmingham, ran the ball 80 yards for the only Rebel touchdown. The kick for the extra point was no good.

Montgomery had three or four boys who have played college ball. Probably the most popular was Benny Dempsey, who played four years at Alabama. Dempsey displayed his abilities on defense and played just a bit on offense. He played with an injured foot.

Others were Bull Wilson, who played two years at Auburn, and Tom Metcalfe of Lanier, who played at Alabama.

Spirited Tigers Take 1st Win of Season

by Wayne Atcheson

Clanton's mighty ground attack paved the way as Clanton took their first win of the season, 7 to 0 over Montevallo.

The touchdown was made mid-way in the first quarter on a 9 yard pass from Warren Edwards to David Cobb.

The pass was the second one thrown in the 72 yard march which took eleven plays. Edwards threw to Elliott Monroe for the extra point.

Montevallo virtually got as close to a touchdown as anyone could get when they fumbled on the one yard line, after blocking a Tiger punt on the 25 yard line.

The Tiger team looked like a different ball club from the other two games. The boys were all in the best spirit and they had the desire to win.

A big question arises about who was the outstanding players. All of the team played good hard football.

Probably the best on offense was Tommy Shelton. Shelton picked up 87 yards rushing on 15 carries for 5.8 yard per carry. Tommy sparked the touchdown drive with a 29 yard sprint.

Warren Edwards was called upon in the first quarter when Buddy Vines' injured shoulder was hurt. Warren ran once for 45 yards but the play was called back.

Montevallo got the first chance to score when they won the toss and chose to receive. Buddy Vines kicked off and Cooter Smithman returned for 22 yards.

After going no where on two plays Montevallo quickly kicked 40

A 15 yard penalty against Montevallo put the ball on the 32. The Tigers took the ball there and never stopped 'till they struck pay dirt.

The drive was spearheaded by Tommy Shelton who contributed 41 yards to the march. Warren Edwards carried for 16 yards when he had to run with the ball when back to pass.

Clanton was penalized 15 yards on the drive.

The ball was on the nine and third down and 9 yards to go when Edwards threw to David Cobb, who was waiting in the end zone. Edwards threw a jump pass to Elliott Monroe for the extra point.

Montevallo's defense of the second quarter was unimpressive when they blundered in the third quarter.

Montevallo's defense was unimpressive when they blundered in the third quarter. But a sack by James Hayes and he fumbled and Mick Mims recovered on the one yard line.

Clanton moved the ball out of perilous lines and out.

The half was as exciting as the first. Montevallo never threatened and Clanton got the ball in the last part of the fourth quarter on the 35 yard line, and controlled the ball for the last four and one-half minutes.

The spirited team saw victory accessing as the team moved the ball down to the 24 yard line.

There's nothing like a new car—and no compact car like this de luxe Corvair 700.

FRIDAY! ASTONISHING! NOTHING LIKE IT! CORVAIR! SMALL MIRACLE! FRIDAY!

Here's the car created to conquer a new field—Chevrolet's low-priced compact Corvair.

The product of nine years of research and development at the auto industry's most advanced facilities, it's America's first truly compact, economical car that retains the side and 6-passenger comfort you're used to in a big one.

The key to this small miracle: America's first and only modern rear-mounted aluminum engine—a lightweight 6 that's so revolutionary it can be packaged with the transmission and drive gears as one compact unit.

By putting the engine in the rear, Chevrolet has made the floor practically flat, front and rear. There's plenty of foot room for everybody, including the passengers in the middle.

Shifting engine weight to the rear also makes for smoother, easier compact car handling and gives glued-to-the-road traction on ice, mud or snow.

Corvair's size—some 5 inches lower, 2 1/2 feet shorter and 1,300 pounds lighter than conventional sedans—makes it a joy to jockey through busy streets, a pleasure to park (no need for power assists). Its revolutionary Turbo-Air 6 gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon of regular (a real magician on mileage). And, because the engine's air-cooled, you never have to fuss with antifreeze, you get quicker warmup with less wear on parts even on the coldest mornings (even heat for passengers comes quicker—almost instantly—from an airplane-type heater).

Yet, wonderfully practical as all this sounds, you'll find the most practical thing of all about this new Corvair is its remarkably low price. Your dealer's the man to see for all the short, sweet details.

REVOLUTIONARY TURBO-AIR 6 Gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon, needs no antifreeze, provides quicker warmup with less wear on parts.

ONE-PACKAGE POWER TEAM Works rear engine, transmission and differential together into one compact lightweight unit. Takes less room, leaves you more.

STYLING—PURE AND SIMPLE Clean, uncluttered lines shape both 4-door models—the de luxe Corvair 700 and the standard Corvair. Each has its own distinctive lines, and you get more visibility area than in many full-sized cars.

FOLD-DOWN REAR SEAT Works easily, instantly, adding to Corvair's versatility by enlarging rear seat cargo space to 17.6 cu. ft.

FLAT FLOOR Corvair is America's only compact car with a practically flat floor, the only one with the kind of relaxing room that U.S. motorists are used to.

UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER Does away with conventional frame, incorporating all structure into a rigid body-frame unit that gives you more inside room with less weight.

UNDER-HOOD LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT Trunk's up front (like an elephant's) where it's convenient for groceries, luggage.

4-WHEEL INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION There's no conventional axle—front or rear, wheels, cushioned by coil springs, take bumps independently of each other, for smooth, road-bugging ride.

JEMISON — PANTHERS DOWN EAGLES 12-6 IN HOMECOMING THRILLER

by Hubert V. Ray

The Jemison Panthers gave up the first touchdown of season to the Calera Eagles at Jemison's Homecoming game Friday night.

The first quarter was pretty much "fuss and tuck" with the ball changing hands frequently but no one doing anything with it. Neither team made a first down in the first quarter. Marvin Robinson picked up the first first-down of the game in the first quarter.

Calera was the first to score, a 12 yard pass play from Larry G. to Donnie McRae. The try for the extra point was no good. The Eagles were leading at half time 6-0.

Miss Martha Tillery of Jemison was crowned Homecoming Queen at halftime. Also Calera's band gave a fine performance.

Jemison kicked off to Calera to start the second half rolling. Some terrific drives were made by Marvin Robinson which set Jemison up for their first TD.

The Panthers scored on a 35 yard pass play from Dick Northeutt to Donnie Guy. The try for the extra point was stopped. Early in the 3rd quarter with the score 6-6, it could have been anybody's ball game.

Calera took the ball on the kick-off and began passing, driving hard, trying to win this game. But their passing was fatal when Geo. Plier intercepted a pass intended for McRae from Guy to Calera.

Northeutt passed to Guy in the end zone in the 4th quarter, but a flag on the play put the ball back and the Eagles took over on their own 11 yard line unable to move the ball, they attempted to punt out of the situation. A bad kick gave Jemison the ball on Calera's 15 yard line. The Panthers quickly moved to the 2 yard line and again Northeutt passed to Guy in the end zone for the second touchdown. The point was stopped.

Jemison kicked to Calera again and Calera in turn began their passing drive which in the 3rd quarter had been effective. James Hlivi intercepted for Jemison this time and the game ended with the Panthers threatening to score again. The final score, Jemison 12-Calera 6.

The score last night was Jemison 20-Calera 0.

Marvin Robinson was an outstanding player for Jemison with 61 yards rushing. James Burnett was high man for Calera with 54.

This was a great night for the Panthers as well as their fans. This is the first time in five years Jemison has won a Homecoming game.

Jemison now has one tie; two wins and no losses. They will play Montevallo at Montevallo next Friday night. They want another victory, we hope they get it.

MARION INSTITUTE TOPPLES MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE "B"

MARION Institute's well poised football machine conquered an out-manned Mississippi College "B" Team by a score of 42-0 last Thursday evening.

Chuck Clark, displaying mid-season form, got the scoring party started when he climaxed a 55 yard drive with a 2 yard plunge off tackle for a TD in the first quarter.

Cosch Garner and Coach Pegues were well satisfied with their team's offensive attack as 7 backs averaged more than 4 yards per try. Leading ground gainer was Richard Griffin with 98 yards in 18 tries and Ted Davis with 95 in 14 tries. Ted Davis again did a superior job of directing the cadet's attack from his quarterback slot.

It was the "Fighting Cadets" rugged line, however, anchored by Herschell Billingsley of Clanton, Doug Hollifield, Joe Harrison, Chris Vaughn, Tom Melachrine, Charles Smith, Red Wilkins, Charlie Walker, and others, that caught the spotlight. Their gang tackling and pursuit was something to behold. Seldom has Marion been fortunate enough to have so many superior linemen.

Next week the Cadets play Castle Heights on Johnson Field in Marion, Alabama at 7:30 P.M. An all time performance by the White additional attraction at the game Knights, Marion's crack drill platoon.

PAYMENT RATES IN CONSERVATION RESERVE CHANGED; OCT 9TH

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that the method for determining basic annual payment rates for the 1960 Soil Bank Conservation Reserve program is being changed in accordance with new legislation recently approved by the President.

To permit necessary payment rate adjustments and additional farmer participation, the deadline date by which farmers must apply for the establishment of basic rates has been extended to October 9. The previous deadline was September 30.

Following the determination of basic rates farmers will have until October 16 to apply for Conservation Reserve contracts.

Approved by President

The new legislation, approved by the President September 21, supercedes the requirements in the 1960 Agricultural Appropriation Act that the annual payment rate in the Conservation Reserve must be based on production history during the period 1955-59 on the land placed in the reserve. That requirement has proved difficult to administer, especially in areas where drought and other natural disasters have affected crop yields unusually during one or more of these years. In addition, accurate farm production records are not available.

New Law

Under the new law, basic annual rates for 1960 will be determined on the same basis as for 1959, with the productivity and value of the land for agricultural purposes as the basis for rates. This basic rate may not exceed 20 percent of the value of the land offered and may not be higher than the basic an-nal rate that would have been established for the same farm in the 1959 program.

Until Oct. 9

USDA anticipates that the return to the 1959 rate formula will bring into the program some farmers who have previously not requested rate determinations, particularly in the Great Plains wheat areas where there is a great need for production adjustment. Such farmers now have until October 9 to apply to their County ASC Office for basic rates. Under the Conservation Reserve program, a basic per-acre rate is determined for each farmer who offers land for the program. The farmer may apply for a contract at any figure below that basic rate. In cases where acceptance of all applications would exhaust available funds offered than it would be desirable in a county or where more land is to be retired in one year, priority in accepting offers will be based on the rate which the farmer offers his land.

The Purpose

The purpose of annual payments under the Conservation Reserve is to bring about the withdrawal of cropland from production, help to adjust total crop acreage more nearly in line with needs and to place in the reserve land which is not needed or must be conserved with conservation uses.

The flannel moth is one of the very few wooly worms found in Alabama that have stinging hairs. The moth stage of the moth is a white, cream colored insect, and its wings are densely covered with long, curly hairs that resemble bits of flannel.

Kenny Foundation Sponsoring New Polio Oral Vaccine Tests

Minneapolis, Minn.—The end of polio world wide is in sight but the final battle test must be fought, according to Marvin L. Kline, national executive director of the Sier Kenny foundation. A recent international conference in Washington, D.C., of outstanding polio scientists from 20 nations brought their combined wisdom to bear on live virus polio vaccines which can be taken by mouth instead of injection and which, it is agreed, have many advantages over the killed-virus vaccine now in wide use in the United States.

The meeting was under the joint sponsorship of the Kenny foundation and the Pan American Health Organization of the World Health Organization. It was agreed that some problems in connection with the live virus vaccines must be worked out yet and a second international meeting is planned to assess further tests and trials with the product. Three different types of such vaccines, all developed in this country, already have been tried upon more than five million people in various countries of the world with seeming success. Control tests in the United States, Kline said, have been confined for the most part to the University of Minnesota under joint sponsorship of the Kenny foundation and the Minnesota State Department of Health.

A 1958 test at the university led to mass tests that summer in Colombia and Nicaragua. In a 1959 test members of student families were fed all three strains of live polio virus in a single dose of cherry flavored liquid. Results of this still are being assessed. The live virus vaccine is weakened to the point where it protects without giving the disease by passage through a variety of tissue materials. It is much cheaper to produce than the killed virus vaccine and can be administered with greater ease.

The vaccines are not licensed yet for use in the United States although several other nations now are using them, Kline declared. The next year or so should give a definite answer for all countries. Meanwhile, Kline said, staff and facilities of the Kenny foundation remain geared to deal with such polio outbreaks as may occur. Until the final battle is won, the fight against this dread crippling disease must continue with determined vigor, he added.

LIVING ON OUR LAURELS--

SOME writer disclosed the other day that we, the American people were getting soft, physically, morally and spiritually. This is a most negative approach to the subject of improving our nation.

Perhaps, to be sure, probably, we have created in ourselves a habit which makes us forget to state the things which we feel to be part of our heritage and we don't always shout the loudest about our methods--in short, we take it for granted.

This in no way, however, indicates a "softness". Most of us, as Americans are aware of what we are, who we are and how we came to be. Our way of living has so improved over the past century that we are prone to take things for granted. . . things which we actually should hold sacred and respect daily.

It is not a softness the American people are guilty of, it is an apathy and though it does not indicate the same lack of ability that softness does it is worse in some ways. We are too vulnerable physically, morally and spiritual, but it is not too late to do something about it. We need waking up alright, but let it not be said that we are soft. . . we definitely have a reputation and have proven time and again that this is not true. Living on our laurels is not only unbecoming so great a people, it is dangerously deceiving and can bring about trouble.

By maintaining our humility, our faith in God and our care for the other fellow we can renew our awareness of our responsibilities and at the same time renew our faith in ourselves. We need to do it, as individuals.

HE WAS LIKE UNTO BARNABAS--

" . . . Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting." This could have been his motivating thoughts which lead him "in the way" for if anyone ever personified the verse written here, it was the Rev. Griffin Lloyd who passed away September 24, 1959.

It is not within our power to elaborate on a man who lived so close to his Creator. He loved his work, he loved his people and most of all he loved the Lord and His word.

A place in the world, which cannot be filled is vacated by Bro. Lloyd. Many will follow, and some perhaps better, but we know of no being that held anything but the highest regard and deepest respect for this man and there are few who attain such glory. Yet, he attained it with a humility such as we've never seen and his life made a great impression on our life.

The one thing that would probably please him most in death was the thing which he so reverently sought in life. . . that more people would turn to God and His ways and find their peace.

As the Eulogist said, "this was a good man, and his heart was filled with the Holy Spirit and love for his people."

You cannot elaborate on such an epitaph! His life was a light unto those who knew him and many will miss his "touch with God" which they so often used, and were made better through that use.

THE GOVERNOR IS WRONG--

A few weeks ago the Legislators of the State of Alabama toured the Mental Facilities of our State and most were shocked and many sickened at what they saw.

And now, Governor Patterson says, in effect: "We'd like to help the mentally retarded, but it is not practical at the moment."

It is indeed a great shame when we cannot meet our moral obligations to the mentally ill except through the increased taxation of alcoholic beverages. The Legislature is considering bills which will increase these taxes.

The Governor argues that Old Age benefits will be decreased because of the decrease in sales of liquor and beer due to the increase in taxes. This is assuming a lot. He underestimates our "drinkers". Taxes will not stop them.

We have long had a moral obligation we have ignored with reference to our mentally retarded. The social obligations such as Old Age and The Needy are just that . . . social obligations. We owe the mentally

MORE GOVERNMENT THAN WE CAN AFFORD (OR NEED)--

A statistical research firm has figured out that the "average man" in the United States makes almost $100 a week--and pays $25.23 of this in taxes. Eight years ago this "average man" paid 22% of his earnings in taxes. He now pays 25.3%.

Heavy as the tax burden is on individuals, it falls even more heavily on corporations. The president of the Northern States Power Company recently told the company's shareholders:

"The total taxes for Northern States Power Company in 1958 amounted to $2.71 per share of common stock, or more than twice our actual earnings of $1.30 per share. Compared with the declared dividends of $1.00 per share of common stock, our tax bill was 2.71 times as large. Thus government without any investment gets more than twice as much out of our business as the common shareholders."

As long as government is necessary, taxes will be necessary. And as long as government continues to expand, taxes must expand also. Considering the price, doesn't it seem probable that we are already paying for more government than we actually need?

Thinking Together

AS I once stood on the banks of a stream, I noticed in the eddy waters below, a crumpled wad of paper swirling slowly around. As I leisurely watched this piece of paper I noticed that it finally drifted out, and was caught and hurled rapidly downstream. I began thinking of this as a good parable of life.

So often, in the stream of life as it were, have we known those who seemed to be unprepared for the swift currents of influence around them. We have seen young men and women grow up with seemingly fine potentials in life. With good talents and personalities, but obviously without moral and spiritual stamian and stibility, and without sufficient aim and purpose in life. With disappointment, we have seen them drift helplessly into the currents of corruptible influences and be hurled fully down the stream of degradation and spiritual and moral destruction.

Like the stream, the scheme of things all around us, the ways, thoughts and philosophy of the world about us is downward. The Adamic nature of man is naturally downward. It does not require strength and courage to be tossed into a stream, and it will move, but it moves downward with the currents. It takes strength of character, vision and determination, it requires moral and spiritual stamian to stem the tide and move upstream to the achievement of the more noble aspirations, and reach the fuller and richer goals in life.

BPW CLUB HEADS
MENTAL HEALTH
FUND DRIVE, 1959

The Chilton County Chapter of Business and Professional Women, has accepted chairmanship of the 1959 Mental Health Fund Drive for Chilton County. It was announced today by Leon Gilbert, of the Alabama Association for Mental Health.

The campaign for funds to support mental health activities will be conducted Oct. 12-Oct. 17.

The mentally ill of this County and State benefit in many ways from contributions to the Alabama Association for Mental Health. These funds are expended for direct service to discharged mental patients, to foster County organization activity in the behalf of mental patients and the promotion of mental health, to promote education and training of personnel needed in the mental health field, and to encourage legislation affecting the welfare and recovery of hospitalized mental patients and equally important to provide research through State and National organizations.

Mental illness is now known to be America's most critical health problem affecting more people than all other illnesses combined. Interest and general support are vital in the fight against mental illness for the personal benefit of sufferers and for the social ill something also and from a moral standpoint.

Truly, the Old Age people of the State of Alabama have increased until they make up a voting block. On the other hand, the Mentally Ill have no such powers. In fact, they have no powers. . . they are merely existing.

If the Legislature is cowed into submission on this vital matter it will be a decided blow to the prestige and moral awareness of our great State and we pray that this does not happen. It will also be a personal blow to the individual legislator who has observed the need.

We do not believe in taking from the Aged and the Needy. However, we believe they will agree that something must be done to do away with the deplorable conditions of our mental institutions.

If additional taxes on alcohol will benefit, then we say, tax 'em!

AND speaking in unquestionable tones, loud and clear. It is far too early to say that the majority of the people of Chilton County wish a new Courthouse building, but if cross sections are of any values at all, then they are 100% for this project.

The News has received, since last Thursday, numerous opinions concerning the building of the new Courthouse and thus far we haven't one single opinion against the matter. This, though encouraging, is not conclusive. So the Board to act, we need hundreds more "votes" on this matter. Enough to convince them that the general citizenry of Chilton County does desire a Courthouse befitting our County's position alongside the other counties in the State and Nation.

Here Some Opinions

For instance, Mr. E. R. Dennis says simply, "I think we need a new Courthouse."

Mr. and Mrs. C. Wade say "We have needed one for a long time. The sooner the better!"

From Lay Dam, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Marcus: "The existing Courthouse is a disgraceful fire trap. Any person would be derelict in his duty to oppose."

From Route 5' Clanton: Mr. W. O. Thrash says: "I would like to have a new Courthouse. I feel we need one for lots of reasons."

From Samuel J. Lawrence, "We should have a new Courthouse as soon as possible."

"The old Courthouse should be completely torn down and a new one erected in the center of the lot, where the old one now stands," says Jack Bates of Clanton.

We have other similar opinions

Department that we sincerely hope these eight young men will take along with them. It was one we have adopted as our "Junior Prayer" for regular use and it applies for all of us. It goes like this:

Oh Gracious God, help us today, Teach us to do Thy will;

Watch us, guide us, use us Lord, Show each his place to fill.

Help us to work, help us to pray, Oh God, help each of us to say.

When shadows fall, and evening comes: I've done my best for Him today.

THE Clanton Drive-In Theatre reports Mr. Joe Jackson, is setting a new time, as of this week, for showtime. According to Mr. Joe the attractions will begin at 6:30 (see advertisement, this issue) and will let out at approximately 8:30. He states that this is so the younger set can enjoy a movie during the week on school nights and still make it home early, so mom and dad won't get out of sorts. We personally, think it's a good deal. Mr. Jackson had you school kids in mind and we think it's a helpful idea.

We see
and hear
by BOB

ONE fellow, writing in his opinion on the Courthouse question stated: "I will circulate a petition if the occasion arises. I appreciate your interest very much." It is we, who appreciate his interest and needed to say, we are seeing to it that he receives several of the blanks mentioned elsewhere in this paper.

DAVE Norman now has one ball point pen more than he had Monday morning. Yet, it's ours. We don't know if he knows it or not but the danged thing didn't cost us but a dime. . . he ain't so smart as all that. Come on Dave, give us back our green and purple pen. (We know it's a terrible color, but after all, what can you expect for ten cents these days.)

We lost eight boys last Sunday! No, it's probably not what you think; they were members of our Sunday School class for three years and we didn't realize how much we would miss them until we missed our class Sunday and none of them were present. We thought for a spell we were in the wrong room, but alas, it was the right one. The boys, moving on to bigger and better things were: Woody Fulmer, George Tucker, Griffin Lloyd, Jr., Billy Swift, Harry Loyd, Alvin and Jerry Dalton and Joe Carter. They are as fine a group of eight boys as we've ever seen, bar none and we think back, and we've been through quite a bit together. Parting was rough; rougher for us than for the youngsters no doubt but all is not lost for us; we gained three new heads in our class and we are glad to see 'em. They are Bo Ellard, Kirk Stokes and Landy Godbold. We've still got a top-notch class, but it's not the same! We gained some good boys, no doubt, but we lost some good boys and it wasn't easy to see them go. We wish 'em Godspeed.

We have a prayer in our Junior and economic improvement of all our Counties and the State as a whole.

NO MORE CROSSBOW
BOYS

The Alabama Department of Conservation today announced that the crossbow will be illegal for use on all wildlife management area hunts in the state during the coming hunting season.

William C. Roegner, Conservation Director, stated that he has outlawed the crossbow on these managed hunts because of the exceptional danger from this weapon where there are many hunters in the woods. Also Younger said, the crossbow is not within the same class as the longbow as a sporting weapon.

Alabama has a number of management area hunts in the national forest areas and several other designated wildlife management areas. The crossbow is legal in all other hunting areas of this state, Younger said.

The People Speak
On Courthouse Question

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
"Vote" Today -- Give Your Conviction on The Matter

from Clanton, Thorsby and Maplesville. And these are just a few; there are many more and coming in every day.

Joe Mullins, states, "I KNOW, it should have been built years ago and without additional taxes." This of course has been pointed out by the Board of Revenue and Control. There are to be no new taxes.

Questions Asked, Answered

Some questions have been asked concerning the funds. For instance, one person asked us "how will it effect our road building and maintenance program?" Well, we set out to get them the answer and this is what we learned:

The Road, Building and Bridge Fund in which this money is deposited is not the fund for maintaining County Roads. The Gasoline Tax Fund and the Paying Fund are the funds which sustain and improve our County Road system. Thus the building of a new Courthouse will not affect the budget in that respect at all, it is an entirely different set of funds. No new taxes, no harmful effect on our Road System, which by the way, is a good one.

"Vote" Now

The front page of the News, week, carried a "ballot" on which you could voice your opinion on the matter of a new Courthouse. We have printed additional copies of this form and they are available at the News office, at your request. Also several of the clants in Clanton have these at your request. The form also appear in the News, at several places for the next few weeks.

Board Waits For You

Don't wait. Do it now! It is agreed with the people who have already voiced their opinion on it down and send it in. If you don't agree with any of them, out the blank the way you see, but first be sure you have considered all the facts. We want everybody to give his or her vote, then the Board will have what they can sink their teeth into and work on. The sooner, the better! Let's show them we stand. They have already expressed their desire for a new Courthouse building and the Board are being presented; it's up to you to decide!

LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK

"I do believe, after viewing the facts, that Chilton County needs a new Courthouse Building. I hereby give my consent as a citizen of Chilton County for a new Courthouse Building." ADDRESS.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

In a poll just completed, 95% of the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, are in favor of House Bill No. 978 which would make labor unions responsible under anti-trust laws.

While so-called labor leaders may jump on this as evidence of "labor baiting," it should perhaps be borne in mind that any time anything is proposed which in any way seeks to regulate the misuse of the monopoly power. C. W. Harder, now wielded by some huge labor organizations, it is always termed labor baiting.

Yet the fact remains, as brought out in hearings on Jimmy Hoffa, and other labor investigations by Congress, that all too often a labor union and a certain firm, or group of firms, will conspire to prohibit a free market from existing in certain lines.

And actually, labor should expect to be put under and trust laws. Because labor has departed a long way from the old principle of fighting for wages and hours. Today labor unions seek to control what tools should be used in production, what the rate of production shall be, and in fact, almost dictate the operating policies of companies.

Thus, labor leaders have entered into an area where they never belonged in the first place, yet they insist on holding all the prerogatives that were given them when the popular viewpoint was that labor was the down-trodden masses.

BPW Club Supports Mental Health Week

Mental illness is not something new. It has been with us since the beginning of time. It is a problem that affects all of us in one way or another. It is a problem that we must face and deal with.

toher 17 camp-in. This period is Mental Health Week, in Chilton County.

Many people are back in the hospital. They are not happy. They are not healthy. They are not living. They are just existing. They are just waiting for death.

only as taxpayers helping to support the public institutions constantly caring for thousands of mentally and emotionally disturbed patients.

"It is known that in Alabama one person in every ten is mentally or emotionally ill to an extent that will require hospital treatment at some time during his or her life. This rate of mental illness has increased by 100% during the last 25 years.

"That is why local mental health associations, the Alabama Assn. for Mental Health and the National Assn., with which we are affiliated, maintain a broad program of activity in behalf of the mentally ill.

This program provides direct aid to discharged patients and their families to prevent recurrence and foster complete recovery and support community activities which promote better understanding of all phases of the problem. At the state level, vigorous projects in education and training of personnel needed in the mental health field and in legislation affecting the welfare and recovery of patients are conducted. STUDY CLUB MET AT JONESBORO

Judge Walter B. Jones of Montgomery extended an unusual courtesy to The Study Club when he invited the members to meet at his country place, "Jonesboro".

With October's bright blue weather, a spin through the country enjoying the glories of nature, a lodge set in the midst of stately pines overlooking a beautiful lake, and a gracious host. It was a perfect setting for the Club's first meeting of the 1959-60 season, held the afternoon of October 2.

Judge Jones was at his lodge to extend warm and most cordial greetings to the club members.

In the spacious and inviting lounge a short business meeting of the club was held with Mrs. Harold T. Lawrence, president, presiding. Time was then spent in leisurely fashion. Across the lake on a high knoll was a caboose that created interest. A most inviting place was the cottage with its cheerful homelike atmosphere.

The large and airy screened porch was an ideal spot to enjoy the bountiful picnic lunch. Amidst lively conversation and fine fellowship were two fountains tinkling merrily just outside as if vowing with the chatter within.

On arrival until leave, Judge Jones made the Club's visit a most pleasant and memorable one.

Mulberry Church
Services were well attended at Mulberry Sunday. The pastor spoke Sunday morning on "What Kind of Faith Do You Have?", and Sunday night on "The Holy Spirit and the Believer." In his message on Sunday morning, he stressed three points. He said, "as we begin a new church year, we need a faith that is unconditional, unshakable, and unlimited." He pointed out that Job had this kind of faith. Sunday night his message dealt with the necessity of a faith-filled life if our service is to be effective. He pointed out that physical equipment, beautiful churches, well planned services, as important as these things are, are empty and barren and vain without the presence of the Holy Spirit of God to make it effective. Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Short visited with the church on promise of a letter from the First Baptist Church of Hopkinsville, Ky. We are very happy to welcome them into our fellowship.

The church letter to the association was read and approved at the business meeting which followed our morning service. The letter showed gains along many lines for which we are thankful. The budget for the new church year was also adopted. We look forward to this new year with a prayer that it will be our greatest year yet.

You are invited to listen to our pastor each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock over station WKLF, Clanton, Alabama.

RECORD ENROLLMENT—LOCAL VOC. AG. CLASSES GET OFF TO GOOD START

The Vocational Agriculture classes at Chilton County High School have had a good start for the 1959-60 school year, according to M. M. Reed Thompson, the Vocational Agriculture teacher. There are 125 students enrolled in the Agriculture classes. This is the largest enrollment this department has yet had.

The classes are divided into General Agriculture and related occupations for the first year agriculture; Horticulture and related occupations for the second year; and Farm Management, Shop and related occupations for the third year.

Mr. Thompson stated that it is important for him to teach and stress the related occupation that these farm boys may enter. Many business concerns today are looking for young men that have a farming background or Vocational Agriculture training.

COUNTRY BANKS MAIN LENDERS

Country banks have been the main source of funds from which the Farmers Home Administration made insured loans for farm improvement and purchase during the past year the county over, Isaac C. Byrd, county bankers liaison adviser, reported that in fiscal 1959 the agency advanced $64,733,000 to buy, enlarge, or develop farms, and that 55 percent of that amount was from funds made available by private lenders under the insured loan program. Another $7,468,000 was loaned to farmers for soil and water conservation measures, and a third of that amount was insured.

Farmers Home Administration guarantees full repayment of principal and payment of all interest due, and services the loans.

Benny Sims was an outstanding player for Jemison. He picked up 28 yards. Hayes of Montevallo was highest with 84.
Last year's score was 15-0 in favor of Montevallo.
A silent, sad, almost tearful silence came over the large roaring crowd of spectators in the last few minutes of the game when Horace Cook, a Jemison tackle, was seriously injured. Horace is reported to be in fair condition at this time. We wish him a speedy recovery. Horace, as usual, played a great game.
Jemison meets D. C. H. S. at Jemison Friday night. Jemison now has two wins, one time and one loss.

ers Go After Third Straight Against Columbiana

By WAYNE ATCHESON
Clanton Tigers have beaten their last two games, two teams were undefeated. The big win was Wetumpka, who came in unscathed and on rated no. 1 of the state AA class.
The Tigers have improved only since their second game. The blocking, were better last night than any other game so far.
Several players have begun to ball like the coaches thought could. Still others have performed better than expected.

Tommy Shelton and Warren Edwards teamed up and made 242 yards of the total 291 yard rushing against Wetumpka. The Tigers made all of their yardage on the ground.
Tomorrow night Columbiana comes to Clanton. Columbiana has almost the same team they had last year. Columbiana also beat Maplesville 12-0 last week.
The Tigers will again have their "paws" full and will be playing for their third victory.
nesday they outsmarted an overweight, overburdened Elmore County. TS eleven at Wetumpka 26-7 by striking like sudden lightning four times. On the bolts, John H. Melton of South Clanton dashed 80 yards on a punt return to show off the speed and power of the Lion back.
Playing their first home game under the new lights at Clanton Colored Park, the Lions opened the game by kicking off to Car-

Miss Bannister Crowned Queen

LOCAL GRID STAR PLAYING AT LIVINGSTON

By WAYNE ATCHESON

MISS Linda Bannister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bannister, was crowned Band Queen of 1959-60 at the Chilton County High School Friday night, Oct. 2. The colorful ceremony took place at the half-time program of the CCHS - Wetumpka football game.
Last year's Band Queen, Miss Sandra Sewell, placed the crown upon her head. Miss Bannister was attended by a representative from each of the six classes of the High School - Jr. I, Miss Susan Scott; Jr. II, Miss Sonja Penton; Jr. III, Miss Nono Jean Smith;

Sr. I, Miss Linda Penton; Sr. II, Miss Patsy Bassie; Sr. III, Miss Betty Dale.
The ceremony was the climax to a contest of a week in which Miss Bannister was elected. Friday afternoon the Queen and her attendants were paraded through the City of Clanton on beautifully decorated floats and later paraded at the ballgame where they had a rest of honor on the field.

Calera Edges Verbena

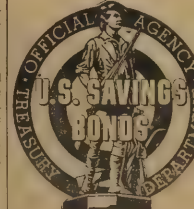

By Benny Davis as told to Wayne Atcheson
The Verbena Red Devils were beaten for the first time this year 7 to 0 by Calera.
A blocked punt set the stage for the Calera touchdown in the third quarter. Calera recovered the ball on the eight yard and after a series of plays, Tommy Barnett took the ball over. A pass was good for the extra point.
Verbena virtually outplayed Calera. The Red Devils reached the two yard line four times but fumbled. Verbena also had one touchdown called back.
Kenneth Scarbrough and Butch Davis were the stars offensively for Verbena. Tommy Pierce did a fine job in the absence of Billy Thomas.

Jerry Deavers, Butch Davis, and Benny Davis were the leaders on defense.
The team has three players out with injuries. Benny Davis has a bruised backbone and hip. Davis, received the injury in last week's game and was knocked out. He did not regain conscious till he got to the hospital.
Halfbacks Roy Ball and Billy Thomas are also out with injuries. Ball has a hip injury and Thomas is recovering from a rib injury.
Thomas is expected to see action tomorrow night against Monte-

Clanton Takes Indians For Long Upset Ride

By WAYNE ATCHESON

THE superior running of Tommy Shelton and Warren Edwards and the potent Tiger line was too much for Wetumpka as Clanton gained a 19 to 6 victory.
Wetumpka, unscathed on in three games and rated no. 1 in the state AA class, did all they could do in the first quarter.
The Indians received the opening kickoff on the 20 after Buddy Vines made the ball go into the end zone. Wetumpka, from there, started a drive that went down to the four yard line.

	Clanton	Wetumpka
First Down	9	12
Rushing Yardage	291	146
Passing yardage	0	116
Passes	0-1	11-24
Passes intercept.	0	0
Punts	3-35.3	1-35
Yards penal sed	35	40

The drive, sparked by a 25-yard gallop by halfback Ray Harrel and a 23 yard pass from Mickey Stiff to Sonny Dickinson, was halted by the massive Tiger line.
Clanton took over and Vines punted out 45 yards but Dickinson brought it back to the 37.
Wetumpka got down to serious business and scored as Dickinson plunged from the 1 yard line. The extra point was blocked by Warren Edwards and Wetumpka led 6 to 0 after one quarter.
The Indians almost completely controlled the first period - Clanton ran two offensive plays - one was a punt.

MARBURY DEFEATS ISABELLA 28 TO 6

FRIDAY night, October 2, 1959, the Isabella Mustangs were beaten by the Marbury Bulldogs 28 to 6. Isabella's only score came on a 5 yard plunge by left halfback, Wayne Mims, in the closing minutes of the first half.
Isabella has been unable to come up with a victory in four starts this season. The team has been playing hard and hopes to come up with a victory against Hicks Memorial on Isabella's home field Friday night.

17 yards to the 45. Shelton and Edwards moved the ball down the 24 yard line. Shelton then ran 45 yards down to the 0. Shelton was tackled by Warren Edwards and the game was knocked down.

The Score: 6 AM

Buddy Vines again insulted the Indians when he kicked the ball over everybody's head. Vines had a 24 yard punt. The Indians couldn't move but the game was had to punt.
The punt went out of bounds on the 48 yard stripe. The hungry Tigers began to move again as Tommy Shelton ran 26 yards around left end behind some beautiful blocking.

The Tigers were set back 2 yards but Edwards and Shelton picked up 8 yards. Buddy Vines drove thru way four yards just enough for the first down.

Shelton Again

Shelton carried and got back to the line of scrimmage and on the next play Clanton was penalized 15 yards for clipping. The Tigers made up for it on the next play as Shelton sprinted 21 yards. Vines picked up the first down and the ball lay on the 10 yard line.
Then Shelton ran wide around left end for one. Edwards ran around the other end for four and with 40 seconds remaining in the first half Buddy Vines drove thru the middle for the touchdown.
Shelton failed to make the extra point and the score was 12 to 6, Clanton at the end of the first half.

Halftime Ceremonies

At halftime the Elmore County Band put on a fine show and the Chilton County High band followed with a fine performance.

The main feature at halftime was the Crowning of the Band Queen, Linda Bannister, a beautiful Senior. Both teams came back on the field and Wetumpka kicked to Clanton. Buddy Vines took the kickoff on the 28 and returned to the 40. Shelton ran for 1 and 3 yards.

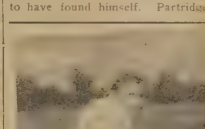

And Here's The Payoff

Then the most exciting play of the game brought the fans to their feet when flashy Warren Edwards outran several Indians to pay dirt. The play was a double reverse handoff from Shelton that covered 56 yards. Buddy Vines kicked the extra point to make the score 19 to 6.

Look what on the Indians' man. Shelton drove down 56 yards and the game was over. The Indians were defeated 19 to 6. They are scheduled to play next week.

The entire team played good football. The blocking was at its best. Tommy Tiffin and Donald Partidge were the big gun in the line. Tiffin has been outstanding defensively all season.

Partridge at 245 pounds, seems to have found himself. Partridge

Playing right tackle this year, Tommy Edwards has carried his share of the load on the line. Tommy is a senior and weighs in at 199 pounds.

In the first two games this season was just another player, but he has helped the team considerably the last two games.
Other outstanding players were Tommy Edwards, David Cobb, Jimmy Dennis, Freddie Lewis and Buddy Baker.
Shelton and Warren Edwards played great football. Shelton rushed 142 yards on 17 carries for an average of 73 yards a carry. Edwards rushed 100 yards on 10 tries.
Clanton 19 7 0 19
Wetumpka 6 0 0 6
Touchdowns: Wetum (Dickinson, 1 yard plunge).
Clanton (Vines, 56 yard plunge).
Edwards, 56 yard sprint). Pt. (Vines, kick).

WE'VE GOT IT FIRST HAND--

TALKING with a citizen the other day the conversation stormed around to the Chilton County Hospital and there is no doubt in our minds that this fellow is a living, walking testimonial as to the efficiency and effectiveness of the staff at Chilton County Hospital.

Personally, we have never had anything but the highest possible regard for the nurses and employees at the hospital, but it hits home even harder when their services are rendered in a first person manner. In other words, we needed them!

In the words of our friend mentioned above (who according to himself, has seen the inside workings of many a mission of mercy) "I can't praise them enough". He also said, "The Chilton County Hospital tops them all when it comes to good service and performance of duty".

Those are our sentiments exactly!

One thing we learned and admire the hospital administration even more for it, is the fact that you are treated just as you deserve. If you're hard to get along with, those sweet little ole nurses somehow change their temperament. Oh, you get the same service, you just don't get the cheerfulness. That's what we liked most about every last one of them. We just can't think of a thing to say about any of them. . . except maybe, "Thanks ladies!"

Thinking Together

The greatest and most common of all sins is the sin of ungratefulness. The brother of the Prodigal Son was the meanest of the two. He had not made as many errors as his brother, but he was a blunderer, and his inflated ego and unrelenting selfishness was even worse.

He felt nothing in his selfish heart but indignation, hatred, and contempt for his brother who had been lost in his wrongful life. He had no pity, no feeling of sympathy and concern for his welfare. Aren't we today, so often guilty of this same spirit of selfishness and ungratefulness? It is so easy to allow ourselves to scoff and scorn at others when those around us have committed some sin or error. How often do we see a person who has been saved from a bad life, and we ask for his testimony. "He asked for it, let him get out!" And often we do not put these expressions of ungratefulness to rest. We feel this way?

God, for we have all sinned, and come short of his Glory. None is good enough to point the accusing finger at our brother, but by our meekness and humility, and by our example of better living and loving concern for him, we may lead him to a better life and save him from eternal destruction.

SCHOOL SAFETY

As we consider, as back-to-school time approaches, these five facts from the National Safety Council:

1. Accidents are the leading cause of death to school-age children.
2. More than 2,500 children 5-14 years of age are killed annually in accidents involving motor vehicles.
3. More than 1,100 of those children are pedestrians.
4. A total of 150,000 children in the 5-14 age group are injured each year in motor vehicle mishaps.
5. One out of 12 students injured in school accidents are killed.

It is a sad and alarming fact that the school-age child is in a real danger when he is on the streets, and back to school time is when the problem is most acute, according to the National Safety Council.

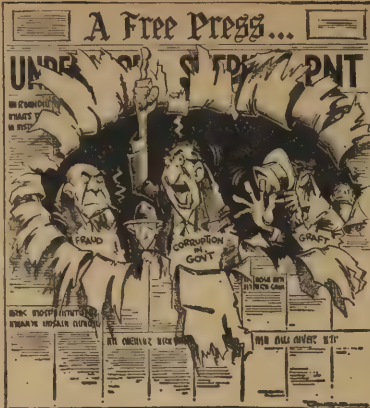

Solution to the problem? "Parents," the Council said, "should teach their children to look and listen before crossing streets or railroad tracks. It is the responsibility of the parent to see that the child is taught to be safe."

Parents also should set a proper example. Don't expect a child to obey a rule you violate. Some Council suggestions to motorists as the nation's schools prepare to open their doors:

1. Keep your car in good condition. Pay special attention to tires and brakes. You can't blame the garage man if your car doesn't stop quickly enough in an emergency.
2. Drive slowly near schools. And slow down where children are walking or playing.
3. Expect the unexpected from children. Most of them get hurt running from behind parked cars or crossing in the middle of an intersection.

YOUR NEWSPAPER--

National Newspaper Week is being celebrated this week with the theme, "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Textbook." The American press plays a vital role in your daily life. Don't take it for granted. Your daily and weekly newspapers are your living textbooks on current affairs affecting your way of life. An informed people needs a free press. And free press depends upon an informed people.

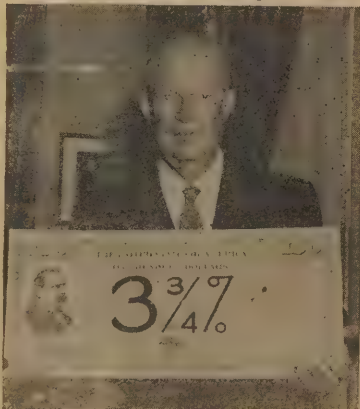

FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

TO THE NEWSPAPERS OF THE NATION:

It is a pleasure to take part in the twentieth annual observance of National Newspaper Week. "Your Newspaper... Freedom's Textbook" is a fine theme for this year's observance. To me, it stands for the hopes and achievements of American journalism. As our editors report the daily affairs of their communities with zeal and accuracy, they help to supply our citizens with the lessons of history, together with the information which is required to make history move steadily forward in the direction of freedom and justice. I am delighted to add my best wishes for the success of National Newspaper Week.

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Bigger and Better Savings Bonds

President Eisenhower wants the country to know that United States Savings Bonds now pay 3 3/4 per cent interest. He posed for this photo just after signing into law a Congressional bill permitting the Treasury to increase interest rates on Series E and H Savings Bonds from the old 3 1/2 rate. This enlargement of a $100 bond is symbolic, of course, but it carries the message that Savings Bonds are "Now bigger and better." The new rate was made retroactive to June 1. In addition, the 40 million persons already holding Savings Bonds benefit by the legislation. The interest rate on outstanding bonds has been increased by at least one-half per cent from now on if held to maturity. "To my mind," the President said, "there is no better way of saving, no more effective way of strengthening our power for peace, than to own United States Savings Bonds. To buy these bonds is to express faith in America. It helps provide the economic strength in both our Government and in individual families on which our freedom depends. I hope that the making of both old and new Savings Bonds even more attractive will serve as a renewed invitation to every citizen to buy and hold these 'Shares in America'."

STRAWBERRIES RECOMMENDED FOR ALABAMA

Order strawberry plants now while the best choice in variety is available.

Start planting in late October or as soon as fall rains put some moisture in the soil, recommends API Extension Horticulturist John Bagby. Be sure that the plants you use are disease-free and, preferably, from a southern source. Bagby recommended the following varieties for commercial growers and home gardeners in South Alabama: Klommore, Blakemore, Missionary, and Florida 90. Growers in Central Alabama should plant Klommore, Blakemore, Dixieland, and Albritton.

According to the horticulturist, Blakemore, Tennessee Beauty, Dixieland, and Albritton are best for North Alabama counties. He adds that everbearing varieties seldom do well in the state.

USE a low iron setting on most synthetics to prevent shining or fusing of fabrics. Orlon and similar fibers are very sensitive to heat.

MODERATE to low temperatures are recommended for cooking eggs to keep protein tender and to make attractive looking egg dishes.

Let The People Speak on Courthouse--

Unanswered Question In Minds Of Many; How Important is it?

IN the October 1st issue of the News we stated there had been no dissenting "votes" on the Courthouse question. Now it's the middle of October, the people have been answering the call with increasing enthusiasm every week and we have still to receive the first dissenting "vote".

This is most convincingly indicative that Chilton County and it's fine citizens are ready for a new Courthouse. We still haven't enough "votes" to convince the Board but more are increasing in number each week and we still need your "vote" on the matter as a citizen of this County.

The People Choose

The question most asked at this point in the Courthouse problem is "where is a new Courthouse going to be located?" By this the questioners mean "is the location to remain the same or is it to be a complete new site?"

Concern Mounts

Strange as it seems, people with this question on their lips are still signing the 'coupon' proposing a new Courthouse building. This indicates that though they are con-

They Can Answer

The people have put intelligent, well-educated men into positions on the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County. There is no question that they are fully capable of deciding the best and most suitable site for a new Courthouse building whether it be the present site or John Jones pasture!

We do not presume to know where the best location would be. Built properly, a new building could be put on the lot where the Courthouse now stands and serve the people well. By the same token, there are no doubt other locations which would serve equally well.

The point is... Rome is burning, so to speak and we're fiddling! We voted for the Board members and now we are "voting" on a project of the people assumed by the Board as a part for the betterment of our people and our County.

Keep Ball Rolling
Is location important enough to "bottle-neck" the entire procedure? We have made great progress in this campaign to find out the people's wishes. It is not our intent to turn and go back, or so much as sew down. We set out to find out what the people want and they are answering.

Here's what some of your friends and neighbors want:
G. T. Murphree, Clanton says: "Only about 2 other courthouses in the state as bad as Chilton's."

"I feel that a new courthouse is greatly needed," says Mr. M. C. Hensley of Clanton.
Mr. B. T. Adams, Maplesville says, "It is long overdue. Please rush the job on."

Thack Burnett of Stanton: "I have talked to lots of the people around here (Stanton) and they

Now, where do you stand? It's no good to say, "I agree with them" and then do nothing to express your convictions. Why do you think these people want the trouble of answering the question? Because they all want something better for Chilton County and have finally realized that they

FARMING NEEDS GOOD BUSINESS PRINCIPLES

For efficient and successful farming, it is important to adopt at least some of the principles required in any other successful business.

According to API Extension Farm and Home Development Specialist, Sam Doughty, one of these principles is the full and efficient use of capital, labor, and management. In addition, farmers must choose activities or enterprises that supply efficient uses for their resources. In order to determine where a business is and where it wants to go, it is important to keep accurate accounts and records.

SAUSAGE is a real breakfast buy. It has flavor, is high in food value, and is economical and very versatile.

How Your Youngster is Nourished At School

To help parents understand better the importance of school lunches to the child's health and education, there will be short articles from time to time during the year. The schools of Chilton County are concerned with the development of the whole child. The school lunch program provides many learning experiences which will contribute to the emotional, aesthetic, spiritual, social, and physical development of the child. The extent to which the lunch program is used effectively to broaden and enrich the child's experiences will depend upon the understanding and cooperative planning of the total school staff, the parents, and others in the community.

In our county, there is a lunch program in each of the twenty-four (24) schools. Approximately 4,750 meals are served daily by the fifty-eight (58) workers at an average price of twenty cents (20c) per lunch.

During the week of September 13 to October 2, the following Type A menus were served at Maplesville High School. Price twenty-five cents (25c).

Monday—Fish sticks with tomato ketchup, green lima beans, pickles, cabbage slaw, hush puppies, chocolate pudding, milk.

Tuesday—Pork patties with gravy, creamed potatoes, English peas, tomato slice, bread, graham cracker, peanut butter sandwich, milk.

Wednesday—Chicken and dressing, cranberry sauce, string beans, candied yams, bread, cup cake, and milk.

Thursday—Spaghetti with meat sauce, apple and carrot salad, bread, cherry pie, milk.

Friday—Ham salad, baked beans, buttered potatoes, bread, peach half, cookies and milk.

Thomas Junior High

sweet potatoes, sliced tomato on lettuce, cornbread, fruit jello, milk.

Thursday—Dried peas, buttered corn, carrot salad, cornbread, chocolate pudding, milk.

Friday—Cheese slice, English peas, buttered potatoes, tossed salad, wheat bread, peanut butter, milk.

All of the above menus had the required amount of butter served but usually it is used in seasoning food rather than being served on the plate.

FOODS OF THE FUTURE

TAILOR-MADE STEAKS?

In the next few years, your butcher can take tough, tasteless cuts of meat, grind and dehydrate them, then rehydrate and remold the fibers to create a tender, delicious steak, roast or chops!

Fantastic? Far from it! Meat company researchers soon may perfect this process to glorify "budget cuts" into new attractiveness as your favorite choice of meat.

Many changes will improve foods of the future, but BEER and ALE will continue as "old stand-bys" in countless American homes! These wholesome beverages always will go well with many types of food!

Your Newspaper . . . and YOU!

THIS year, 1959, as every year in the past the Chilton County News takes the opportunity which "National Newspaper Week" affords to rededicate itself and its services to the betterment and growth of Chilton County. And to uphold the ideals and principles of a free society such as we have to the best of our knowledge and belief.

The News has been a part of some 168 businesses in Clanton and scores of others over Chilton County in their progressive efforts over the past many years.

Congratulations to the old and new businesses in Chilton County! It is with great pride that we serve you and we also proudly hail the fact that of all businesses, your newspaper is probably the closest related to your particular business. In other words we're in close communication with all business establishments in the County. . . serving and growing together!

We hope these merchants will join us in re-dedicating their efforts toward a better service to the people through a greater Chilton County.

MY

This newspaper has been called many things -- by many people. Sometimes good -- sometimes not so good.

We've been called a rag—a sheet—a dad - blasted thing—a-ma-which. At the same time in a kinder vein, we've been called a good newspaper—a fine paper—occasionally even an outstanding newspaper.

But we have always liked it best when we've heard one of our readers call us: "MY Newspaper."

Now — National Newspaper Week comes along and our theme says that Your Newspaper—(is) Freedom's Textbook."

We've never been called a textbook before but after studying this idea - we like it. A lot of truth in that simple statement.

Mr. Webster's dictionary says a textbook is: "A presentation of the principles of the subject." When you think about it, that's just what a newspaper does — particularly in this tricky but important freedom business.

Freedom is pretty hard to define, so we're not going to try. But I suspect that you and I think of the same things when we think of freedom. We think of the right to express both sides of a question—the right to know what our government does with our money—the right to worship as our own hearts dictate—the right to be an individual.

Stories about and for these rights make up a big part of your newspaper. Taken on a broad basis, the principles of freedom are the backbone of the everyday stories about you, your neighbors and your community.

Yes—our newspaper is Freedom's Textbook.

In fact your newspaper is not only your "textbook", it your "history book." Witness a letter received by a Louisiana weekly newspaper publisher from one of his subscribers: "I have many fond memories of your newspaper and the people who have been connected with it. Not long ago. . . it occurred to me that in the files of your paper is the history of my life. Your newspaper has recorded the story of my birth, my childhood parties, my graduation from high school and later from college, my marriage, the arrival of my four children and the death of one of them--and now in more recent years your columns have been recording the arrival, one by one, of my grandchildren. . . Is it any wonder that your newspaper means so much in our home and that we look forward eagerly to receiving it each week?"

When any individual, group or organization wants to accomplish a program in the community, the first step is always to bring the newspaper into the program. Thus the newspaper unfolds into the semi-public institution that carries the torch for all good causes.

One facet that is many times overlooked in today's hurry and bustle is the selling and marketing jobs that newspapers accomplish. Our economic life today is dependent upon marketing. No other media can point to such great accomplishments in keeping the wheels of commerce moving as can the newspapers of the nation. The weekly newspaper is more thoroughly read and digested than any other publication because the subscribers to the weekly newspaper are a part of the everyday happenings of that community. They have faith in their weekly newspaper because they know it is the only publication that cares the least bit about their particular part of the nation.

Origin of The Bible--

The Prophecies of Isaiah

Presented as a public service in this newspaper in cooperation with Local Jehovah's Witnesses.

Isaiah

In the listing of the three common-sense-called "major" prophets, Isaiah comes first; that is, first in the order of time and placement in the Bible canon. His prophetic service fell within the reigns of the Judean kings Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah. It appears that he started prophesying shortly before the death of Uzziah (784 B. C.) and continued through the years till at least the fourteenth year of Hezekiah (732 B. C.). (Isa. 1:1; 6:1, 3-5.) This would draw out his long service record to more than forty-two years, at the least; and a service period several years longer seems very probable. Tradition has it that Isaiah survived into the reign of wicked king Manasseh, who bloodthirstily had the aged prophet sawn asunder, and that it was that vile deed that prompted Paul's exclamation at Hebrews 11:37. But remember, that is only a tradition. Contemporaneous with Isaiah were the prophets Hosea, Micah and Oded. (Hos. 1:1; Mic. 1:1; 2 Chron. 28:6-9.) Of Isaiah personally little is definitely known. He was the son of Amos (not the prophet Amos), was married to a prophetess, by whom he had at least two sons, and wrote in addition to the Bible book of Isaiah certain historical works. (Isa. 1:1; 7:3; 8:3, 18; 30:8; 2 Chron. 26:22.) His name means "salvation of Jah".

Three Sections

The book of Isaiah may be divided into three sections: chapters 1-35, taking in prophecies wide in scope and involving several nations, and which seem to have been uttered prior to the Assyrian invasion of Judah and siege of Jerusalem; chapters 36-39, being chiefly historical and giving account of Sennacherib's invasion, and also relating Hezekiah's sickness, cure, and misdeeds in exhibiting his treasures to the son of Babylon's king; chapters 40-66, embracing prophecies which pertain chiefly to a faithful remnant's restoration from the Babylonian captivity, in miniature, and to a far greater restoration many centuries later under a Greater than Cyrus in major fulfillment. This last section of twenty-seven chapters seems to have been written after the defeat of Sennacherib, after the threat of Assyrian dominion had passed and when prophetic attention had been turned entirely toward the Babylonian threat to come. It was probably written sometime during the peaceful fifteen years that were added to King Hezekiah's life. Outstanding throughout the prophecies of Isaiah is the abundant testimony concerning Christ and His kingdom. The restored anointed remnant of today and their companions, the "other sheep" or "strangers". The contents of each, of these three sections will be very briefly sketched.

Majestic Boldness

Section one, chapters 1-35: With majestic boldness Jehovah's prophets calls for the ear of all creation while he lays bare God's controversy with His professed people. The great Theocrat is weary of their abominable ritualistic fasts and feasts and sacrifices; but, by turning from religion, their scarlet-line sins will become cleansed to a snowy whiteness and then in the last days will peoples of all nations flow into Zion and Jerusalem and learn Jehovah's law and peaceful pursuits. A sudden shift by the prophet again calls Judah to account for her idolatries, foretells her calamities, and cites lack of knowledge as the cause of her fall into captivity; Isaiah has a vision of Jehovah's glory at the temple, has his lips cleansed, and is sent forth to prophesy. Syria and Israel join forces against Judah; the fall of the conspirators to Assyria is foretold; Judah is warned against leagues of nations and admonished to fear Jehovah; after foretelling his human birth by a virgin the prophecy reveals Messiah's unending government, its increase and peace; Assyria is to be used as a corrective rod by Jehovah, but will in turn fall by divine decree and a remnant of faithful Israelites will return to God's worship; Israel is comforted by knowledge of Christ's peaceful kingdom and a promised recovery of a faithful remnant from who God's anger has passed.

Babylon

Attention is next riveted on Babylon; her destruction by the Medes is foretold; through the figure of the Babylonian king ambitious Lucifer's fall is pictured; then follows in succession woe-burdened messages against Moab, Damascus, Ethiopia and Egypt, and again Babylon, then Mount Seir, Arabia, Jewry and Tyre. God's judgments of desolation upon the land follow on account of breaking the everlasting covenant, but a remnant shall return and feed upon a divinely spread feast on fat things, be delivered from death, and sing a song of praise and confidence to Jehovah; but He will destroy the monstrous world powers that dominate the "sea" of humanity, and an overflowing scourge shall sweep the scornful men of Ephraim and the rulers of Jerusalem with death and hell instead of accepting the tried foundation-stone of Zion, the Messiah Christ. A woe is declared against those who drunkenly worship according to human precepts, and against those who trust in the fleshly arm of Egypt for deliverance; the divine purpose to make Assyria feel the fires of destruction is reaffirmed; the reign of a righteous king with his princes is foretold; Jehovah's indignation and vengeance against all nations to avenge the ill-treatment of Zion is declared; and the last chapter of this section beautifully describes the flourishing condition of Jehovah's restored visible organization and the blessed joys of His faithful restored remnant who re-

Section Two

Section two, chapters 36-39: Herein is discussed Sennacherib's invasion of Judah in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah; Rab-shake's taunting speeches of blasphemy are recorded; Hezekiah's dispatching of servants to inquire of Isaiah; a comforting prophecy against the haughty Assyrian comes from Jehovah through Isaiah; and how in the end God wipes out the invaders and Sennacherib is thereafter murdered by his two sons even as he worships in the temple of his demon gods. Hezekiah's deadly sickness is cured and fifteen years are added to his life; he indiscreetly displays his treasures before the looking eyes of the Babylonian prince Merodach-baladan, and Isaiah then foretells the time of the Babylonian captivity when this treasure would be carried off to Babylon along with the people of Judah.

Babylonian Captivity

Section three, chapters 40-66: As previously stated, this section repeatedly speaks of the Babylonian captivity, and particularly Babylon's fall and the restoration of a faithful remnant to Zion or Jerusalem. But our view of this section should not be limited in scope to such narrow confines of miniature fulfillments long ago; our view of these glorious prophecies should rise far up and beyond any such literal limits and soar to sublime heights in foreseeing the Messiah and his kingdom and the blessings and triumphs of his reign. At the outset (40:1-31) the comfort to His organization and the forerunner of the coming Messiah are foretold, and the incomparableness of Jehovah's wisdom and power is forcefully drawn; He will favor his persecuted servant and will show up all the opposers to be nothing; his elect servant will come with release and freedom and light; a people to serve as Jehovah's witnesses will be redeemed from captivity; the raising up of liberating Cyrus to smite down oppressing Babylon is told about two hundred years in advance, this to the end that when liberation came Israel would know Jehovah so unshakenly. Cyrus being the conqueror of Babylon, logically humiliations and bereavements and death are foretold to come upon idolatrous Babylonian; but Jehovah's servant will lead Jehovah's remnant forth from bondage and those gathered from among all nations will be a surprising multitude; gone then forever from the lips of Jehovah's restored organization is the cup of trembling and bitter dregs, and the stubborn mouth of the affliction is it passed and to the last bitter drop shall they surely drink it down! Awakened Zion arises from the dust and her children depart from Babylon as clean vessels to publish good tidings.

Chapter 53 foretells the sufferings of Christ on earth; the three chapters that follow show God's long-barren "woman" a beautified kingdom of many; the heir of David's kingdom covenant is promised as Leader and Commander for the people; to him gather not only a covenant remnant, but also strangers from all nations.

Inspiring Theme

The inspiring theme of boundless prosperity and ingathering marks time during chapters 57-59 to allow denunciation of the idolatries of professed worshippers and to warn of the Redeemer's coming to Zion for judgment. The theme returns with pent-up power and hits new highs as chapter 60 shows Gentiles joining themselves unto shining Zion and her anointed remnant in unprecedented droves, as an inrushing sea, as dense clouds of flying doves; the gates of Zion are open continually to receive the ingathering that makes one become a thousand, a small one a strong nation. Messiah Christ is the one commissioned to accomplish all this, by Jehovah's spirit-anointing, and as a result of his reconstruction work Zion is called by a new name; he it is too that trades the wine-press of Jehovah's fury in wreaking upon Satan's world divine vengeance. Jehovah's unchangeable purpose to rend the old heavens and melt the old earth and also to create new heavens and a new earth is next declared, and in that new world without end all creation, including all flesh on earth, will regularly come and worship before their Creator-Sovereign.

"Higher Critics"

Of course, the Bible's "higher critics" who delight in straining at gnats that do not even exist continue up questions concerning this book over which to vainly babble, the chief one being that Isaiah did not in fact write the third section of the book, that is, chapters 40 to 66. So flimsy is their pseudo-evidence that space need not be taken to present the plain and overwhelming proof of Isaiah's authorship. (See Acts 8:30-35 and Isaiah 53:7, 8.) Others go into ecstasies over the literary style of the which is truly of unvarying beauty and they fall entirely prey to the weightier matters of the book cannot be successfully contested. Many of the prophecies were fulfilled in miniature upon the Jewish people many more were fulfilled by Christ Jesus when he was on earth and many of them were gone or are now undergoing complete and major fulfillment. All the Hebrew prophets aside from Moses, none is quoted more often in the Christian Greek Scriptures than Isaiah.

A GOOD BOAR MAY MEAN GOOD PRODUCTION
 Commercial swine producers cannot afford to take chances on boars.
 Since it is often said that the boar represents half of the swine herd, you can't be too skimpy in purchasing one. According to A.P.I. Extension Hog Marketing Specialist Ray Caverdine, purchasing a boar incapable of siring large thrifty litters that gain efficiently may turn out to be a poor investment.
 "Performance records take much of the risk out of selecting replacement breeding stock," says Caverdine. And with lower pork prices, efficiency of production and quality of the market hog are extremely important factors.

CLANTON JEWELRY COMPANY WAS ORGANIZED IN 1946 WHEN CHICK WADE AND WIFE CAME FROM ONEONTA, ALABAMA TO START THE NEW BUSINESS. IT FIRST OPENED IN THE BUILDING NOW OCCUPIED BY DR. W. W. RENNING AS AN OFFICE.

IN 1949 "CHICK" MOVED TO THE PRESENT LOCATION OF THE STORE NEXT TO SCOTT'S STUDIO ON 7TH STREET. ABOUT THAT TIME MRS. DELENE ASKINS JOINED THE FIRM AND HAS BEEN WITH THE CLANTON JEWELRY EVER SINCE SHORTLY AFTER OPENING MR. A. C. ROGERS TOOK OVER THE WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIR DEPARTMENT AND MR. ROGERS IS STILL ON THE JOB THERE.

MR. AND MRS. WADE HAVE TWO CHILDREN. "LITTLE CHICK" WHO IS 10 YEARS OLD AND IN THE FIFTH GRADE AND MEL, WHO IS SIX YEARS OLD AND JUST STARTING HIS FIRST YEAR IN SCHOOL THIS YEAR.

WE had one lovely lady say she agreed with our idea about "Trading At Home" but she just didn't like having to "run all over town" looking for what she wanted when she could go to one of the large department stores (elsewhere) and get everything at one time.

Besides the benefits she derives directly from the business houses through taxes, etc. we wonder if the lady ever considered the possibility that if she patronized the Chilton County merchants regularly she would learn their wares and where to go to find what in a short time without shopping the entire area.

We certainly won't argue that we have everything in the world available here at home, but we are prepared to back up our local merchants to the extent that they try to handle the most WANTED items and one of the big reasons they don't handle MORE items is the demand is not big enough. That gets back to the consumer! Tell the local merchant what you want. He will either supply you with the commodity, see that you get it on order or he'll frankly tell you he can't get it for you and will suggest that you go out of town.

But don't go out of town first. . . TRADE AT HOME. . . AND SAVE!

WHAT IS VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The program of vocational agriculture at Chilton County High School is off to a good start toward a successful year with an enrollment of 84 students, J. Reed Thompson, CCHS vo-ag teacher, said today.

Instruction in vocational agriculture no longer centers around production of crops and animals but takes into consideration current trends in agriculture which are toward fewer actual farmers and more persons in agricultural related enterprises.

The course of study has been revised so that more emphasis will be placed on science related to agriculture, developing leadership qualifications, and discovering and perfecting mechanical skills which students often follow as a life's vocation.

In connection with the teaching program, a vo-ag student puts in to practice what he learns in the classroom by carrying on a supervised farming program.

Many students have grown into prosperous farmers from the beginning made as vo-ag students while others have used profits to pay for college educations and later returned to the farm or farm-related job.

During the school, vo-ag class is making field trips to factories, farms, or other enterprises in the community related to the subjects being studied at the time. These trips give students a first hand look at agriculture on the community level.

JUNIOR CITIZENS CLUB NEWS

The Junior Citizens' Club met on Friday, October 9, 1959, in the Clubroom. The meeting was called to order by the president, Jan Sexton. The Club prayed the Club prayer. The club then recited the Alabama's Creed and then sang "Dixie." The secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The minutes were approved as read. The vice-president had no report. The treasurer reported a balance of $6.50. The corresponding secretary wrote one letter this week to Dr. Edwin Williams, asking him for the answers to the review questions on the Science TV program. The Activity committee reported that Mrs. Warr's room chartered a bus and went to Birmingham to the State Fair. The following mothers went: Mrs. H. C. Williams, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Craig, Mrs. T. C. Davis, Mrs. Joe Moore, Mrs. Harold Culp, R. L. Tapscott, Mrs. J. W. McKee, Mrs. M. J. Langston, Mr. M. J. Langston.

The membership committee reported that the Club hasn't gained or lost any members. The room committee reported that they prepared the roof for the meeting. The flower committee reported no flowers at this meeting. The P-TA committee reported 53 members in the P-TA.

There was no old business. In the new business it was voted that Mrs. Sexton and her class be invited to this meeting since it would be the last time Jan Sexton would preside.

The program chairman, Earl Monroe, accepted the chair and presented the following program about "Old Coins". Among the old coins presented were:

1. An Indian Penny made in 1909.
2. A Nickel made in 1907.
3. A Liberty Nickel made in 1901.

The Crisis reported that the program was very interesting. The Parliamentary reported on violations at this meeting.

The club, recited the "American Creed", and followed by the song "Star Spangled Banner." It was moved and seconded that the club be adjourned until October 16, 1959. The motion was carried.

'Beat' Bugs With Bug Board

CLANTON FFA'er Royce Easterling looks up the name of an insect on the "bug board" in the Clanton vo. ag. classroom. Vo. Ag. teacher J. R. Thompson conceived the idea of mounting the bugs on the board with a list of recommended controls in the center.

Finding the name and control for that "little black bug" is an easy matter for the students in the Clanton Vocational Agriculture department.

A "bug board" made of plywood with about 100 three-eighths inch wooden blocks pasted on it hangs in the classroom. Each block has a hole in it containing a mounted insect sealed in clear plastic. A label on the block gives the name of it and the most common host. In the center of the board is a list of insects and recommended controls.

TEACHERS STUDY AREA SKILL

The program participants for the October intermediate in-service meeting selected "Social Studies and Science with Special Emphasis on the Language Arts" as a theme. The idea grew out of a discussion of the importance of putting more stress on the language arts and developing a program to implement functional language on a satisfactory level.

Supplementary current news reading relative to the recent visit of Nikita Khrushchev further enhanced activities. This led to the teaching of Russian folklore and "The Song of the Volga Boatman." A study of rocks, seeds, and varieties of plants were also used.

The group plans to enumerate (1) the value of the chalkboard as an important visual aid, (2) the silent movie with narrator, and (3) "TV: Power Tool For Teachers" by Harold E. Wilgren as taken from the NEA Journal, Vol. 48, Feb. 1959.

The program chairman, Earl Monroe, accepted the chair and presented the following program about "Old Coins". Among the old coins presented were:

1. An Indian Penny made in 1909.
2. A Nickel made in 1907.
3. A Liberty Nickel made in 1901.

The Crisis reported that the program was very interesting. The Parliamentary reported on violations at this meeting.

The club, recited the "American Creed", and followed by the song "Star Spangled Banner." It was moved and seconded that the club be adjourned until October 16, 1959. The motion was carried.

GOV. SAYS STATE COMMISSION READY TO STUDY DELINQUENCY

Gov. John Patterson this week announced the appointment of a newly created Alabama Commission on Juvenile Court Legislation to study the far-reaching problem of juvenile delinquency.

The 10-member state commission was authorized by a bill sponsored by Rep. Albert Brewer of Decatur and Rep. Tom Bevil of Jasper. The commission is to conduct a "complete and comprehensive study" pertaining to sound juvenile court legislation and make a report to the 1961 Legislature.

Members of the commission, who will serve without pay, were also directed to investigate the "prevention, control and diminution of juvenile delinquency" in Alabama. Their report may result in new legislation affecting the handling of juveniles in state courts.

"This is a vital study of one of the most pressing social problems facing our state," said Gov. Patterson. "I assure the commission of my full cooperation and assistance in making this important investigation."

Rep. Brewer, chief sponsor of the study commission, was named

Tot Strangles On Marble

MARGE Lindsay's homeroom at the Chilton County High School has been fuller than full since school started. She has in serious trouble. She has pupils than there are places in her roll book. All desks have been taken and students are standing around the wall against the blackboard. She has students leaning against the blackboard. This, of course, is a situation to be laughed at, but it does give an idea what condition the teachers are in and the positive that something must be done.

PITTS DIRECTOR OF 1960 MARCH OF DIMES

MR. John Will Pitts, Clanton has been appointed Chilton County Director for the 1960 March of Dimes, it was announced today by Dr. Frank Rose and Mr. Thomas Parker, State Campaign Co-Chairmen. The drive will be held during the month of January.

The polio fighting organization is expanding into a broad new force that will tackle health problems on a wider front and no longer will confine its activities to a single disease.

"I am confident that the people of Chilton County, who helped make possible victory over polio through their contributions to the March of Dimes over the past 20 years, will give even greater support to the National Foundation's expanded program in the future," the county director said.

"We would like to make it clear as we begin preparations for 1960 March of Dimes, that the National Foundation will NOT abandon polio patients," Mr. Pitts stated. "We have a moral obligation to the patients of this county to continue to provide needed care and rehabilitation, and we will fulfill this obligation."

This year's program had eight times more polio cases by the end of September than the entire total for 1958. The state also ranked second in the nation of cases per population count.

NO DOUBT, THE NEED FOR BOTH--

THERE is a great need in our County for many things. Not in the least of these are funds for our educational and school system.

Our schools are overcrowded. The need for more modern facilities and more room in general is obvious.

Our school system in Chilton County derives a great deal of its operating income from the County Poll Tax, from a 4-mill County tax and a District tax, from the sale of property, scrap and from other minor sources. This is above and beyond the 1-cent increase in Sales tax which the voters agreed on.

This is not enough!

One member of the Board of Education has stated that he will not agree on the Courthouse until something is done about school buildings.

A fact is, that by all standards, population and the prosperity it affords a community adds to the funds for schools. Industry, which Chilton County is very lacking in, increases a prosperous population.

It has been said, recently, by an interested citizen that should an industry send someone in to look over our situation here in Chilton with the intention of settling here they would get no further than the Courthouse steps.

True, Chilton County has acquired some industry and will no doubt be blessed with more, but the fact remains that we lose many due to the obvious neglect of our County facilities.

If it is true that population increases the income of a County, then it is also true that to bring about such additional income we must have facilities to serve the needs of those who would increase that income.

Without a new Courthouse we cannot properly function to attract new industry. We are behind in that respect now.

The schools and our children have a need. The people voted additional tax upon themselves to try to help in filling that need. Additional taxes are not required for a new Courthouse. Funds are already available to put us a long way out front in the building.

It is the opinion of many that the increase in population and income brought about by new industry would bring a greater percentage to the schools than would any taxation proposed. We cannot attract this much needed source of revenue without proper facilities and a Courthouse befitting the times and our need is of utmost importance in the overall undertaking of building a greater Chilton County.

The people are trying to help education, but they also realize the need for proper housing for our administration offices and public servants. It is an obvious must for the progress of our County.

WHAT HAPPENED TO MARCHES?--

REMEMBER when a football game, a parade or most any public gathering was sure to be inspired by pulse-pounding march music by John Philip Sousa or the like?

What's happened to it? It's an American tradition and from where we stand it looks like it has gone down the drain.

The military still uses marches, but that's about the extent of it. Popular music has even taken over the marching bands and they try to entertain the public with hopped up versions of "Alice Blue Gown" and "When The Saints Go Marching In".

March music like the "President's March" or Semper Fidelis have a beat and heartwarming quality like no other music and "Old Kentucky Home" no matter what you do to it cannot take the place of a good Sousa march. If you want the public's interest, chill their spine with a good old American March by a drum and bugle corps. You just can't beat it!

THANKS FROM CANCER SOCIETY

Dear Editor:

The American Cancer Society, Inc. is deeply indebted to you and your paper for the wonderful support you gave to the Society's 1959 Crusade.

As you know, the Cancer Society is entirely dependent upon public contributions for the support of its three-fold program of scientific research, public and professional education, and aid to medically indigent cancer patients.

Throughout the years the press in Alabama has been a staunch friend of the Cancer Society in its fight to control this terrible killer, and there is no doubt that your assistance has helped to save many lives in your city and county. For this, the Cancer Society is grateful, and we want you to know that your cooperation has been instrumental in helping, not only to provide assistance for cancer victims in your county, but to help promote the long-range fight against "man's cruellest enemy," cancer.

Lillian G. Meade,
Executive Director,
American Cancer Society
Alabama Division, Inc.

Thinking Together

When must we forgive? God does not expect us to do something that he does not, and can not do himself. God can only forgive transgressors for their sins when they are repentant and seek forgiveness. He does not forgive until these conditions have been met. If he did, no one would ever be lost. Likewise, we are only expected and required to forgive those who have transgressed against us when they repent and are desirous of our forgiveness, but this does not mean, however, that we are justified in going around with a chip on our shoulder, and with malice in our hearts. God's mercy and forgiveness extends, at all times, toward those who have transgressed against him, even as far as he can without intruding upon the free choice and will of men. "He is not willing that any should perish, but that all shall come to repentance." (1 Peter 3:9)

How often should we forgive? In the same that most of us do forgive, we tire of forgiving after a few times, but we are told to be long-suffering and forbearing in forgiveness. "Take heed to yourselves, if thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee saying I repent; thou shalt forgive him." (Luke 17:3-4)

What is forgiveness? There is a difference in true forgiveness and appeasement. When we have had our ill feelings patched up, and we lay down our grudge and malice, which we sometimes refer to as "burying the hatchet," this is not true forgiveness, for if we have entertained these things in our hearts, we stand as much in need of forgiveness as those who have transgressed against us. True forgiveness is ever-present in the heart, expressing itself in concern and desire to be in peace and harmony with all men. And it comes from a heart that is free from ill will or malice, or any such thing. We sometimes hear someone say, "I can forgive, but I can't forget!"

GLORIOUS THINGS ARE SPOKEN OF
THE CITY OF GOD...

Now we have been told by St. John of old that there is a beautiful city... its gates are solid pearl... most glorious to behold... the walls are all of precious stone... the streets are pure gold... in that city nothing will be there... that defileth or maketh a lie... but it will be the home of the brave and the free...

And they will eat the fruit of the tree... an there will be no sin or sinners there... but the saints and angels and the saved of all ways...

There will be no more tears, no more sighing will be there... no more sorrow sickness sin or death... But all will be joy and happiness... and the gates of the city will not be shut at all by day... for there shall be no night... for Jesus, my Savior will be the Light...

And then, too we will eat of the leaves of the tree, they will be medicine for you and me... and after we eat the leaves of the tree... we will live throughout eternity... brighter than the sun... we see no less days to stand when we first began... in that sweet home of the blessed... there we shall forever rest...

ALA. DONATES RECORD SUM IN CANCER FIGHT

Birmingham, Ala.—Citizens of Alabama contributed a record amount of $315,015 in the 1959 crusade of the American Cancer Society, Inc. Dr. Thomas S. Gibson, of Huntsville, crusade chairman, announced.

Dr. Gibson observed that "this was the most successful fund-raising effort the Cancer Society has ever conducted in Alabama," and thanked the people of the state for their "wonderful support."

"The people's response to this year's appeal indicates," he said, "that the people of Alabama and all America are sincerely concerned with the business of speeding up the fight to control cancer."

Dr. Gibson expressed appreciation for the "devotion and hard work" of crusade leaders and workers in all counties of the state. The American Cancer Society carries on a three-fold program of scientific research, public and professional education, and aid to medically indigent cancer patients. This program is supported entirely by public contributions.

The American Cancer Society conducts its annual educational and fund-raising campaign in April, which is designated by act of Congress as "Cancer Control Month."

What they are really saying is that they have been appeased, and that their feelings have been patched up. They actually know very little about forgiveness, for true forgiveness erases and banishes all remembrances of transgressions from the heart and full and complete restoration and reinstatement of those who have transgressed is made.

We see
and hear

by BOB

WE note this week that a man feels the necessity to ask folks why they don't consider more often the men in service away from home. According to this citizen, the most preferred thing to a G.I. overseas (with the exception of personal mail from friends and relatives) is the hometown newspaper.

Considering the contents of a hometown weekly press, it is good to consider too, the fact that foreign relations could be given a decided boost if better coverage (increased circulation) in foreign countries were to come about to show these folks just what hometown America is really like. You might consider sending the hometown paper to that brother, uncle, nephew, cousin or husband overseas. They tell us, it's as well-known as a week-end pass.

TELEVISION writers have obviously become obsessed with the theme of drinks, drinks and drinking in general. We are what you might call habitual TV hounds (which is nothing to brag about) and we note that every TV variety show or spectacular or whatnot, practically without exception, fills the script with notations and insinuations about strong drink. We don't believe in strong drink, but we're not fanatics about it. We do think that it's unhealthy when they can think of nothing else and all of us have to watch nothing else. Yes, we know, we're quit watching TV and much to the horror of the industry we're sure, we're considering just that. We're not reading enough anyway!

HAD a visitor Monday morning and we called him "Skip." Turned out it wasn't Skip at all, but his brother Sibley. He's the grandson of the late Sibley McGowan and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Reynolds of Clanton. We're sorry about the mistake Sibley old boy and we'll try to keep up with the growth from now on. We didn't think brother Skipper was that big even. They sure sit growing and going in a hurry now don't they.

THE "only good thing about being without in a time of plenty is that when things do get hard, in general, you're about the only optimist left!

REMARKS and reports from every corner Chilton County and every conceivable source are coming in hot and heavy concerning the Courthouse for Chilton County.

Probably, by this time, every citizen is fully aware of the importance of each one of us speaking our mind on the situation. Signatures of supporters and remarks by many are increasing to this day and we cannot stress enough the fact that you should voice YOUR opinion along with the others.

Only a few opinions have indicated a "negative" opinion on the new Courthouse question and their opinion appeared very weak. In fact when we tried to get them to write it down in black and white and sign it, they laughed it off. That did not indicate to us that they felt very strongly one way or the other. They just seemed not to care particularly. Well, the big percentage of the people of Chilton County care and they are sending in their opinions and 100% "Yes" However, the great number of people who have answered in the past three (going on four) weeks have answered 100% "YES" on the new Courthouse for Chilton County.

What They Think Just a few of this week's letters are: "I was for it the first time it was brought up, we should have built it 10 years ago, which is what Jones of Clanton.

Mrs. Eric L. Champion of Jackson says: "I'm all for a new Courthouse."

Carlton Collins, Thorsby, says: "yes."

Robert B. Johnson, Jonesboro, says: "We are just due for a Courthouse," says L. S. Doc Lewis of Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsley Williams, says: "yes."

From Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Owens say: "We need a new Courthouse."

And one we count a very good one may be mistaken is from Joe Abel Jackson, Clanton: "What would it do to build a new one unless it was kept clean and the present one, which is more than a hog pen." An old fellow, yes?

You Must Speak Up Many more "votes" are needed to clinch the public approval of a new Courthouse although it is standards, such a 100% approval by a minority is indicative of an outcome. We will not jump conclusions. We must hear from all the people. LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK! SPEAK SO CLEAR ON the question of a Courthouse for Chilton County. We need it! Now, do we need it?

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman—even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

BAPTIST

The organizations of the First Baptist Church are moving forward under the fine leadership of those who have been chosen to head the organizations and departments since October first. Bro. Fred Honeycutt, Superintendent of the Sunday School reports an increase in attendance and efficiency each Sunday. The Training Union, under the direction and supervision of Mr. W. T. Robinson reports an increase in attendance and efficiency in work done since October first. The Brotherhood will get underway Thursday night, October 29, under the direction of Mr. S. T. Bentley who is the president for the coming year. He has a very fine staff to work with him in the Brotherhood. At our next meeting, we will have as our guests the Junior and Intermediate RA's. We are looking forward with delightful pleasure to this meeting.

WMU Gets Good Start
The WMU is off to a good start in the new associational year under the direction of Mrs. Grover Knight, president. The auxiliaries to the WMU are well in hand so far as leaders are concerned and one of the high points of leadership is the staff working with the Sunbeams. The Sunbeams are important in the work of the church necessity have to be graded or departmentized. This is most encouraging. Mrs. Bill Davenport is sup. of this work assisted by the following: Mrs. S. F. Mims, Mrs.
Theresa Childers, Mrs. John
Heaton and Mrs. John F. Mims.

Church Most Pleased

Supt. of the Adult Department is Bro. W. T. Robinson. He has the finest opportunity of enlarging this department numerically. There are some 11 classes now in operation.
This is no small task because this department is approximately 50% of the entire Sunday School.

Training Union Progress
We are most pleased with the work done in the Training Union.
Mrs. Otis Littlejohn is the Adult Director and she is doing a splendid job. The Young People are under the direction of Mrs.
Glenn H. Marcus. The Intermediates are directed by Mr. H. H.
Smith; the Juniors by Mrs. Bill Davenport. The Primaries are led by Mrs. Jeanne Goode. The Sun-beamers are led by Mrs. Calvin Pate and the Nursery is under the supervision of Mrs. S. F. Mims, who is superintendent and copre-

The 1960 Ford Sunliner is one of 15 models in the new Ford line which will be introduced October 8 in Ford dealer showrooms across the nation. Featuring the strikingly modern rear deck and fastening motif, the new Fords are five inches longer, five inches wider and have more interior leg, hip, shoulder and head room than before. Ford's new integrated design, harmonizing the exterior with a single, flowing exterior styling, is proof that modern styling need not be radical or eccentric.

MAPLESVILLE kicked to Jemison start the game rolling between the two top teams of the county at Jemison Monday night. Henry Guy brought the ball back 4 yards before he was stopped. Henry Perry scored for Maplesville on a 35 yard pass play in the first quarter from Lynn Higginbotham. The point was made giving the Red Devils a 7 to 0 lead. The Panthers received the kick for the TD and began their drive toward pay dirt with big Donny Guy in the driver's seat. Donny Maplesville showed their poor defense a terrific 20 yard drive and pointblankly by deliberately pinning on, injuring Donny and he was able to play any more throughout the game. The Panthers scored at half-time was Maplesville 26-Jemison 0.

The second half was pretty rough on neither teams doing a great deal on the ground, but Maplesville passed Jemison to death. Edwards went over from the 1 yard line for the second Maplesville TD after a series of passes. The point was made on a pass play.

Higginbotham passed to Perry for the third TD, the play being good for 30 yards. The point was not made.

The Panthers threatened more than once during this game, the closest was when Benny Sims placed the ball in the end zone on a fourth down play and for some unknown reason, the officials placed it six inches behind the goal line.

Thus, the final score was Maplesville 26-Jemison 0.

Statistics	Jemison	Maplesville
First downs	7	9
Rush yards	74	102
Pass yards	4	112
Passes completed	1-3	9-11

The score last year was Maplesville 26-Jemison 0.

Jemison vs Clanton
 The big case will single at Jemison Friday night when the Jemison Panthers meet the Clanton Tigers. This should be a good game, let's all go out to see it.

CLANTON INVADES JEMISON FOR TOUGH TILT

WARREN EDWARDS PROGRESSING

by Wayne Atcheson

WARREN Edwards is improving nicely at the present time at the University Hospital in Birmingham.

Last week the doctors saw a possibility of having to operate on Warren, but since the past week and the weights have been pulling the vertebra back in place.

His mother reports that he is doing fine and Warren also appreciates your visits and wants his friends to come and see him.

The term and school are missing you more than you think Warren and all are hoping for you a speedy recovery.

THE MOST UNEXPECTED HAPPENS

MISS Ann McKee felt like the proverbial dark horse for sure when she learned she had been chosen as Miss Homecoming for Dallas County High School and was crowned at the Plantersville Homecoming Game on October 16.

Miss McKee, 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Frances Terry McKee was elated, overjoyed and a bit baffled that she had actually won the title, but a prouder youngster you've never seen. She felt the underdog all the way, but won the title and was completely happy about the whole thing.

Crowning ceremonies were held at the Plantersville-Linden game Friday, 16th and Miss McKee's court included: Misses Judy Miller, Anita Pickering, Georgia Weaver, Shirley McGill and Joyce Jones.

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE WELL REPRESENTED IN CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

THE Clanton Tigers have high hopes of beating the Panthers at Jemison tomorrow night on Jemison's back yard.

Both teams were beaten in their last outings and both are strong rivals in the county.

Jemison will be going into tomorrow night's game fresh from a 1-0 win by Maplesville. That game was played last Monday night.

Clanton was beaten in a close tilt with Holtville last Friday, and are seeking their first win in three games.

The Tigers are in pretty good shape physically for tomorrow's game. Elliott Monroe didn't dress 't last week and probably won't play this week.

Tommy Edwards played exceptionally well last week as did Jimmy Dennis. Both played an important part in holding Holtville to 0 yards rushing.

Other standouts on defense were John Argo, Freddie Lewis, Buddy Vines, and Melvin Billingsley.

Tommy Shelton put on a fine offensive show scoring all three touchdowns. Tommy rushed 420 yards, returned two punts for 16 yards, and returned a kickoff 37 yards.

Buddy Vines completed 3 of 7 passes for 54 yards. David Cobb caught one of those passes for 38 yards.

See you at the ball game.

Holtville Edges By Clanton 20-19

by Wayne Atcheson

THE Holtville Bulldogs scored twice in the fourth quarter to edge out Clanton last Friday night 20 to 19.

Clanton was in the lead at the start of the fourth quarter 12 to 6, but the Bulldogs deadly passing along with a break gave the Tigers their third setback of the season.

Quarterback James Herring and end Billy Wayne Wilson connected together for all three Bulldog six pointers.

Statistics	Clanton	Holtville
First downs	10	9
Rushing yardage	168	30
Passing yardage	34	629
Passes	3-7	8-12
Passes intercepted	0	0
Fumbles lost	2	2
Punts	3-31	5-32.4
Yards penalized	15	35

Tommy Shelton also scored three touchdowns for Clanton.

James Herring kicked two extra points for Holtville and Buddy Vines kicked the lonely extra point for the Tigers. Vines also kicked another extra point, which would have tied the game, but Clanton was penalized for holding.

Off To Early Start

Clanton got off to an early start when on the second play the Tigers has control of the ball, Tommy Shelton ran around left end for fifty yards for a touchdown. Vines kick was no good and Clanton led 6 to 0 after one period.

Just before the first quarter ended Holtville punted and Tommy Shelton touch the ball, but couldn't find a handle to it and the Bulldogs recovered on the 32 yard stripe. Two plays later left end Billy Wilson got behind pass defenders and brought in a pass from Herring for the first Holtville score.

Herring tried to pass for the point, but Buddy Vines rushed in and knocked the ball out of his hands.

The score at the half was six up.

Clanton Receives

Clanton's turn came again as Holtville kicked off to the Tigers. Mike Mims returned the boot 21 yard to the 32.

Shelton rambled 05 for a first. Vines threw over the middle to Melvin Billingsley for another first down.

Shelton again ran through the middle for a 15 yard pick up.

Clanton Scores Again

The ball rest on the 15 as Mims got one and Shelton ran around left end for another Tiger TD.

Vines kick was good, but Clanton was penalized 15 yards for holding and a pass was broken up.

Holtville Fights for Best

Behind 12 to 6 going into the last period Holtville began to fight and hope for the best.

And that they did as the Bulldogs started a drive from the 25 yard line that reached pay dirt.

The Tiger defence just couldn't stop the Bulldogs sharp passing Holtville lost 10 yards on one play and got a 5 yard penalty, but passed for seventy-nine yards on that drive.

Pass Completed

The march was culminated by a pass from Herring to Wilson for

The Chilton County Soil Conservation District Challenges All Land Owners

To Conserve Soil And Water

SOILS, like people or machines, have their limitations. Do you know what the limitations of the soils on your land are. Everything you sell has some unit of measurement--bushels, pounds, board feet, etc. It takes "blank" bushels, pounds, or board feet to pay cost of production, and all above this "blank" unit of measurement is what you have to put in your pocket; providing the soil that the crop is harvested from is as good or better than before the crop was harvested.

There are seven classes of land in Chilton County. Each class of land is best suited for certain crops. For example: Class I, II, and III are suited for row crops, pasture, haylands or woodland, Class IV and V are suited for hayland, pasture, or woodland. Class VI and VII are suited for woodland and wildlife.

The Soil Scientist of The Soil Conservation Service, will classify your land into these various classes, giving you the type of soil, slope, and degree of erosion which has taken place. Then a workable plan can be applied, where the landowner can enjoy a much better income and save his soil from erosion. LAND IS CAPABLE OF PRODUCING CERTAIN CROPS IF PROPERLY TREATED. TREAT IT AS SUCH.

We can grow grass and convert it into milk, beef or pork, timber and concentrated truck crops and play second fiddle to no one.

SOIL IS OUR ONLY NATURAL RESOURCE. IT CANNOT BE STOCK-PILED.

FIRES ON FARMS CAN BE EASILY ELIMINATED

Most of the common fire hazards on many farms could easily be removed.

API Extension Engineer J. T. Gaillard points out that buildings and equipment that are kept clean and in working order seldom cause fires. Check these often, and eliminate any danger spots.

Be sure to store fuels and lubricants used for farm machinery in a separate building from livestock and other storage areas.

These says the engineer, are common causes of farm fires in Alabama. Also, plow a fire land through farm woodlands or underbrush to control the spread of fire.

GAillard adds that fire departments are usually glad to point out places where fire may start.

Mrs. Bertha Mims visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson, June, and Shelton of Montgomery on Tuesday.

Mrs. Geraldine Denson and children made a business trip to Montgomery on Thursday.

C. L. HARRELL NOW EMPLOYED IN FARM BUREAU

C. L. (Buddy) Harrell, of Billingsley, Auburn agricultural graduate and Air Force veteran, has joined the staff of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation with headquarters in Montgomery. He is serving as director of organization for District IV, comprised of 17 north-central Alabama counties.

Harrell was graduated from Auburn in June, 1955, with a major in animal husbandry. He worked briefly in the Auburn economics department before being called to active duty with the Air Force.

His latest assignment before completing his tour of duty last March was flying KC-97 tanker aircraft for aerial refueling, at Hunter AFB, Georgia. He has recently been engaged in farming.

Mrs. Harrell is the former Miss Ann Bryan, a 1957 Auburn graduate, and they have a one-year-old daughter, Linda.

R. L. Griffin, Farm Bureau director of organization, said Harrell would succeed Frank M. Stewart, who is retiring to devote full time to his dairying and other

LOWER TAXES FOR INCORPORATED FARMERS

Certain small corporations can now be taxed as partnerships and retain the advantages of incorporation.

Under a new tax system family farm operators can manage their farms as corporations without having to pay heavy federal corporation taxes. According to API Extension Economist Roy Helms, this will mean a considerable saving for most incorporated farmers.

Helms points out that farm corporations were taxed twice on net returns under the old law. One tax was made on the income of the corporation, and another was made on the same income when it was distributed to shareholders. Now each shareholder can assume the tax obligation for his share of the corporation's taxable income, whether distributed or not. This income is then exempt from the high corporate tax rate and is taxed as personal income at a much lower rate.

JEMISON FHA DEPARTMENT HAS A NEW LOOK

The vocational homemaking students at Jemison were very busy last week getting their living room refurnished for the new furniture given to them by the 1959 senior class.

Mr. Stifelds and the vocational agriculture students sanded the floor with an electrical sander. Then the homemaking students and Mrs. Guy completed the refinishing job.

An old floor lamp that had been discarded took on a new look after the girls painted the base and made a new lamp shade for it.

These students can tell you there is more to vocational homemaking than learning to cook and sew.

Mrs. Guy and the students thank the senior class for this furniture and hope they will visit the department and see the new look.

HALLOWE'EN USED TO BE A HAPPY TIME

HALLOWE'EN used to mean punkin pie, school and private parties where there was always plenty of good things to eat and lots of fun playing clean tricks on people.

Nowadays, the mere mention of Hallowe'en and the first thing that comes to mind is "Trick or Treat".

We would certainly like to get our hands on the fellow who invented "Trick or Treat". We'd sure as sin turn him over to the witches and goblins.

Trick or Treating has gotten way, way out of hand and naturally the commercial people have taken advantage of a good thing and are promoting "Trick or Treat" in order to promote their wares.

No doubt, most of us know the meaning of "Trick or Treat". And in the light of its original meaning we think it's O.K. But the youngsters, bless 'em, in this time of plenty (and wastefulness) have the wrong idea about the whole thing. They have the misconceived notion that you're supposed to get out and get all you can. The trouble with the whole thing (actually it's disserviceful) is that the kids get bags (bags, mind you) and load them with the goodies and then waste the biggest portion of it due to the limits of their capacity.

We're not against Hallowe'en or even "Trick or Treating" for that matter. What we are against is the abuse the children make of the privilege and the parents who will let their kids act in such a way.

We'd rather have doorbells rung or sandbags dumped on the porch any day, than have that incessant "gimme" act that so many of the kids partake in. It couldn't be fun for them... they're merely following the crowd!

"THREE THINGS WRONG" SAYS MR. HEADLEY

"ONE thing I can overlook" said Mr. Cecil M. Headley; "but three of them... I can't".

Mr. Headley was referring to the Chilton County News. "I've never wanted you to stop my paper even when it was out" (meaning he would catch it up) "but now" says he, "when it's out just take me off the list".

Well, naturally we wanted to know what was wrong that had Mr. Headley so again' us.

"First off" he said, "you ran a story about a little Nigger baby on the front page" (he gestured to indicate that it was quite too much). "You give 'em the whole front page" he said. (He was referring to a feature story printed in the News July 30th which told of the Nurses at Chilton County Hospital taking a premature Negro baby and nursing it literally to "life".)

"Second says he, "you went up". Meaning our recent one dollar a year increase in subscription.

And third, he indicated some of the "Let the People Speak Forms" on the desk and said: "Your pushing that thing too much".

All three of these things were done and are being done to give the people a better News and a better Chilton County and are done in good faith in the hopes that the people of Chilton County will become more aware of the importance of their free Community Newspaper... their free voice!

If any or all of these things are grounds for cancelling a subscription to a newspaper then we are by no means reluctant to cancel same!

Mr. Headley just doesn't get the message that we are striving to send forth. Maybe some day, he will!

WHAT CHILTON COUNTY HOSPITAL MEANS TO OUR COMMUNITY

Editor Chilton County News

Hospitals, traditionally houses of healing, have been spoken of as comprising the fourth largest industry in this country. Is this incompatible with their purpose? Not at all. For hospitals have come to this as a result of carrying out their primary mission-care of the sick.

Everything that goes into the creation of the hospital-personnel, equipment, supplies is for one purpose, patient care. But it means money spent for these things, money which in turn is needed back into the economy of our community.

LETTER TO EDITOR - IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE

In loving remembrance of Mr. Joe P. Klinger and Miss Mary Alice Mims. According to the County News last Wednesday, Oct. 21 about 3:45 they were working, and they lost their lives... when the antenna touched the high voltage wires... it has left us without words to express the depth of sorrow and the saddest regrets... DEATH is a solemn thing... it roams the world its victims for to claim... invades our homes it takes its toll... has no respect for young or old... when our loved ones are passed away... it leaves us in the greatest of sorrow... for they are here today and gone tomorrow... and when their voice is hushed and still... it leaves a vacancy... that no one else can ever fill... through trouble and sorrow we struggle on 'til the summons comes from on high... and then the saddest of all... we must DIE.

KILL WILD ONIONS IN PASTURE NOW

Farmers plagued with onion flavor in milk can rid their pastures of this pest by spraying with 24-D.

API Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews recommends using one pound of 24-D agnine in about 20 gallons of water per acre. This mixture will control wild onions or garlic in small grains, ryegrass, and fescue. Add about two ounces of household detergent to the mixture when spraying oats. Apply when oats are approximately six inches high or well tillered.

Remember that 24-D badly damages crimson clover, vetch, and other annual winter legumes, warns the specialist. For control in white clover-dallis grass pastures, use two pounds of 24-D per acre. Avoid spraying white clover just before a freeze or in the seedling stage. The chemical may injure the crop and retard its growth.

Apply 24-D when the temperature is above 60 degree F. and when the plants are growing, says Andrews. Then keep livestock off the pastures for about a week.

Acie Mims bought out the H. H. Glenn Company on April 1, 1958 and started the City Tire Service. In this very short time it has grown into a thriving business and the first part of 1959, Mr. Mims sold half interest to Mr. Charles Easterling.

Eight men are required to operate this hustling business now and with the recapping of tires, new tires, electrical appliances, television sets, radios and other modern day necessities all are kept extremely busy.

Employees are James Minor, Floyd Porter, Horace Burnett, Ralph Edwards, Nolan McCall and of course Acie Mims and Charles Easterling, the owners, who do a lions share of the work.

Mr. Mims has two children; Carol June age 11 and Sharon Kate age 5. Mr. Easterling has a boy and a girl; Timothy, who is 6 years old and Angie who is three years old.

For your inspection and approval are the most modern TV sets, the Motorola, and Radios. A large display of electric ranges Refrigerators and both new and used or recapped tires.

CLANTON ROLLS OVER JEMISON 14 TO 0

by Wayne Atcheson

A stout defense and a sharp offense was adequate enough as the Panthers of Clanton blanked Jemison 14 to 0.

The Clanton Tiger line held the Jemison offense to a total yards rushing and passing of 248.

Wayne Atcheson contributed to most of Clanton's 248 yards rushing. He was Mike Mims, who rushed 145 yards for an average of 10.3 yards, and scatback Tommy Shelton.

The Panthers dug in at times and held the Tigers, but that wasn't all of the time.

MINIATURE HISTORICAL INDIAN BATTLE

Preparator of the University of Alabama Museum, Thomas DeJarnette, Jr., has recreated in miniature an historical Indian battle which will be placed at the Moundville State Park Museum.

The diorama, a small scenic representation employing three-dimensional figures in an illuminated setting, was made by DeJarnette based on what he has been able to perceive through historical studies.

The Battle of Maubila, known to Alabama archaeologists as the "lost city", was a clash between Chief Tuskaloosa and the Spanish explorer LeSoto. Descriptions of the battle have been drawn from seven historical sources based primarily on descriptions written in later years by the some 100 Spaniards who lived through the DeSoto explorations in the New World.

The Importance of the 1-Cent Sales Tax Bill

WE have just ended another fiscal year and in doing so we have received our last appropriation of state money for the operation of schools during the scholastic year of 1958-59. Since the schools belong to the people, the Board feels the responsibility to report that Chilton County Along with the other school systems of the state received a prorated. Last year the prorated amount to $26,000.

That is, the county failed to receive this amount which had been appropriated by the state for school operation. This simply means that your Board of Education is forced to use every means in order to meet its financial obligation.

We would like to point out that the prorated over a 3 year period has amounted to approximately $125,000. The money which was promised the Board for operation of the schools and which was not received is a sufficient amount to make substantial improvements which would benefit all of our boys and girls. For example, the amount of money lost through prorated would have constructed and equipped ten classrooms and indoor rest rooms in those schools where children are using outdoor toilets.

Since our money has been prorated and since Chilton County according to the state will have to put up some $243,616 in order to receive all the funds from the State Building Program, it becomes all the more necessary for us to rely on ourselves the local one-cent sales tax.

In other words, if we do not have money to match the above money and additional matching money increased enrollments this year. Some enrollments are as much as 130 over the enrollment of last year. Our libraries are poorly equipped coming far below the state standard. The shortage of classrooms requires us to have classes with more children. Enrolled than the state allows. In some cases our children are still eating their lunch under the house. In fourteen schools children are forced to use outdoor toilets. All of these conditions continue to jeopardize the health and safety of our children. Accreditation of schools and this is no time for children to graduate from unaccredited schools since many of the colleges are beginning this year to require entrance examinations before enrolling students.

Again I want to point out to the people of Chilton County that no community can be better than its schools and our county as a whole will prosper only in proportion to the advancement of our educational program. Every phase of our society must advance together and it will only advance when we all work together in a cooperative way with no selfish spirit whatsoever.

We feel confident that our Representative and Senator will be able to get enacted into law the one-cent sales tax bill with the same provisions that other counties have been able to get.

"... A little child shall lead them..."

CHILTON County Hospital has a life giving machine for the care of little babies who were born premature or weak, or not naturally developed.

The machine is called a "Isolette" but here's the catch the Chilton County Hospital does not own the machine. It hasn't sufficient funds to see its way clear to buy the machine. Although they need it badly--they can't buy it.

What they need is a good Samaritan to contribute enough money to buy the machine and present it as a gift to the hospital. The machine only costs someone around fourteen hundred dollars--and who can put a price on the life of a little child?

Although installed several months ago the machine has only been used two or three times. It would be wonderful if it were never used--but who knows if it will be used tonight or tomorrow? And who is it to say if it will be your baby, a new member of your family, who will use and need it?

This is the opportunity of a life time for some Civic Club to take the project of making the hospital a gift of this machine in their name. It may save the lives of countless babies, and one of these babies may be "the little child that leads them..."

REGULAR ATTENDANCE MEANS MORE TO YOUR CHILD THAN JUST GOOD GRADES

UP to the present time school pay for will be based on the present enrollment so one can readily see that there is a two-fold value in keeping children in school (1) children learn better and keep up their work when their attendance is regular and (2) the schools will have a better chance of keeping or increasing the number of teachers.

NO INSURANCE FOR '60 CROP -- LETTER TO SELDEN ABOUT CHILTON PEACH INSURANCE

THE following is a letter forwarded to the News through the County Agent's office from Hon. Armistead Selden, Jr., concerning Peach Insurance in Chilton County. It is from F. W. McCartney, manager of Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, United States Department of Agriculture in Washington.

Hon. Armistead J. Selden, Jr., House of Representatives Dear Congressman Selden: In my letter of September 2, 1959, I indicated that you would be asked to our decision regarding peach insurance in Chilton County, Alabama, for 1960.

As a result of three years' experience in peach insurance in Spartanburg County, South Carolina, several provisions in the insurance contract had to be completely revised effective with the 1960 crop. The indemnity paid, as a ratio of the dollar premium income, proved to be highly unfavorable during years when the peach crop was considered to be average or near average. As a result we are not at all certain that the revised provisions will be satisfactory to the insured or for that matter to the Corporation. It is only by additional experiences that we can say that we have a sound peach insurance program developed. Until such time as we gain additional experience, we feel the peach insurance program should be limited to prove the workability of the revised provisions.

Therefore, in view of the foregoing we feel that peach insurance should not be offered in Chilton County, Alabama, for 1960 crop year.

Sincerely yours, F. W. McCartney, Mgr.

W. A. LeCroy, Supt. of Education.

VOTE ON IT-PEOPLE--

THE news is eagerly awaiting you to come by and vote your opinion on the Courthouse question. As one fellow said, we have said a lot about the situation and many have sat up and taken notice, but there is still you. . . How about dropping by the News office or drop us a line with your convictions on Chilton County's Courthouse Question. Action awaits your approval. That does not seem to be asking too much of you, as a citizen, since that's all that is required. Do it now!

GIRL SCOUTS--

To our knowledge, there is no Girl Scout organization now functioning in Chilton County. Several have expressed interest in such an undertaking. Boy Scout and Cub Scout groups are abundant and thriving in this area and we think it is depriving our young ladies much not to give them the same or similar benefits. We have a letter before us that states: "If at any time there is a question pertaining to Scouting that we might supply, please feel free to contact Mrs. Hal Bloom, 850 E. Elm Street Ave., Montgomery, Alabama. Anyone interested?"

WHAT'S APATHY?--

SEE where Hal March, one of the emcees of a now defunct TV Quiz Show said in a news story from Memphis that "The most striking part of this TV Quiz Show scandal is the public apathy." We're always fighting public apathy, but it strikes us that it is pretty apathetic that the emcee of a show didn't even know what was going on in his own backyard. We don't think that the people will be silent about the thing once they get the complete lowdown on just what went on. As yet, it seems to be merely accusations. You have to give the public something they can sink their teeth into!

ABUNDANT LIFE by ORAL ROBERTS

LET GOD WORK THINGS OUT

A friend of mine says he believes "right things always happen" and "God will always work things out for us if we will let Him." Says Clinton Davidson, head of a company on Wall Street in New York City: "I believe God is interested in everything that touches your life, the big, the small, the insignificant and the most significant ones." He tells of a time when he and his partner, Morris Townsend, had spent a very busy year in one of America's largest cities, and how God undertook for them in a small but important way. "At 4:30 in the afternoon," he said, "we realized we had forgotten to confirm our airline reservations. Morris called to check." "The flight leaves on time," he was told, "but since you did not confirm your reservations six hours before flight time, they have been sold." He said that if he and his partner had missed the airplane, they would not have reached home until 11 o'clock the next morning. "I had important things to do," Davidson said. They decided to go to the airport and take their chances of getting on the plane, for there was no other way to get home that night. On the way to the airport, Davidson took the problem to God. "Father, if from your viewpoint it is best, I should appreciate very much your arranging for us to go on this plane. Thank you for taking care of it, Father." "Suddenly, I had nothing to worry about. I knew the right thing would happen," he said. "When we got off the bus, I asked Morris, 'Did you ask God to take care of this for us?'" "He looked greatly chagrined and said, 'No, Clint, I overlooked it.'"

KNOW YOUR HOSPITAL NOW SAYS SUDDUTH

Not long ago, as I was leaving the home one night, my young three year old son asked me the question, "Where are you going?" "I'm going to the hospital," I told him and then he asked the question, "What is a hospital?" As I searched for an answer to his sincere question, I found many other people might ask the same question. The image as it exists in the public mind today should be a fascinating subject for investigation by psychologists. For the time that we call it a hospital is neither fish nor fowl, but a charitable institution. It is a business. It is non-profit, but it absorbs large sums of money.

Divided Responsibility Management of the hospital's activities is a divided responsibility, split between administration and the Medical Staff. The hospital is as essential as a public utility, but it operates without comparable regulations. It is noncompetitive, but in Blue Cross it has an aggressive sales department.

Hospitals are operated by religious orders, by local state and national governments, by labor unions, by industrial firms, by individuals, and by community groups. They operate closely in some respects; they reject common action in others.

No Two Alike No two hospitals are exactly alike. It may justifiable cost twice as much to have an appendix removed in one hospital as in another of the same community. Hospitals are administered by nurses, the clergy, accountants, doctors,

STATE and National leaders of The American Legion assembled in the office of Governor John Patterson today to watch the signing of the Governor's Proclamation designating the week of November 4th through 11th American Legion Week in Alabama. The Governor stated his action was motivated by the organization's outstanding contribution to the Public Welfare of Alabama.

Shown here with the Governor is Joe S. Foster, State Commander of The American Legion, who is also State Director of Civil Defense. Lawson M. Lynn, Department Adjutant of The American Legion, Nicholas Lynch, Jr., Director of The American Legion's National Field Service, Indianapolis, Indiana.

THINKING TOGETHER

FORGIVENESS WITH REPENTANCE

In the last two articles we have attempted to discuss the importance of forgiveness. The Bible teaches that to be forgiven, we must forgive, and that we cannot forgive too often when penitence is evident, but nowhere does it teach forgiveness without repentance.

As we have said before, God does not forgive sin without the sinner's repentance from it. If he forgave a sinner while in his sins, he would be compromising with sin to do so. He cannot do this, because his would remove the penalty for sin and upset God's plan of condemning and rewarding righteousness. There must be a penalty for sin from which there is but one escape. God has provided that way of escape through repentance and forgiveness.

Therefore, there is a time for us to forgive. Parents can be too forgiving toward their children. A child can be spoiled and used when its faults are ignored and forgiven without having brought to a consciousness of its guilt and a feeling of penitence. They should be taught early in life that there is a penalty for wrong, and a reward for right. The earlier they can learn these lessons the more impressive, convincing and compulsive they will be without their lives. Penal institutions so often fail in their mission to reform men because of the fact that the wrong ideals and influences have already gotten the upper hand, and the roots of sin and wrong have become so deep-seated that it is not possible to bring them to any real consciousness of guilt and conscience.

Churches have lost much of their power of conviction and influence because of being too forgiving. When the sin and wickedness of men is winked at by the church, and they are fellowshiped and recognized by the church as Christians, and Christian leaders, the church has hurt its influence, and miserably failed in its mission to convict of sin and guilt, thereby committing a most grave injustice to the sinner.

A ship is designed to sail aloft the waters of the sea, carrying its passengers to the shores of safety, but when the waters get into the ship, it means disaster, so it is with the church. God designed the church as a ship, to sail the seas of worldliness and sin, carrying men's souls to the eternal shores of safety, but this ship can also be sunk when worldliness and sin gets inside. Yes, there is definitely a time not to forgive. Grave sinners and sinners can come from forgiving without repentance!

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

THE joke of the month coming from the Verberia Chapter FFA says: "Be sure brains are engaged before putting mouth in gear! Lot of truth in that statement."

OLD Mother Nature seems to be running a month behind. The bright blue October skies we were supposed to have are now appearing in November skies. Guess it doesn't matter when they come as long as they're here. There's nothing quite as lovely as a cloudless steel blue sky on a crisp wintery morning.

WE'D like to make a note here that any of you who have not been in Ward's Flower Shop since Morris Moss took over as owner-operator, should do so at your earliest convenience. Morris has injected many new ideas into his displays of flowers and dried arrangements and they're worth the trip, even for a person such as we, who do not know a Chrysanthemum from Poinsettia.

A Jaycees organization has been formed in Clanton, which is an auxiliary to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and they will have their initial and installation meeting on Thursday, November 19 with the Jaycees playing host to the group. It is the opinion of the Jaycee leaders that the forming of such an organization which will make a family unit, so to speak, out of Jaycee work will improve the Jaycee organization immensely. President of the new group is Mrs. Dave Norman. Other officers are to be announced.

ANY of you folks who went "lookin'" for the Sugar Cane Patch which was advertised in the Classified Section last week around Billingsley can quit lookin'! It was'n around Billingsley at all it was around Maplesville. It's in again this week, so if you're in the market go to looking again. We just sort of threw that in there. . .

AND the fellow said, "The only thing that can influence my opinion. . . is most anything!"

LOT of dogs being used for hunting squirrels and rabbits this season. The game laws prescribe a limit on such things fellows and we've been hearing some fantastical tales of going the limit and there's some. If you want to keep the hunting privileges you now have as well as the abundance of game which is here for your enjoyment carry the code in mind and do the thing that the law requires. If you mean so, to protect the game, the hunter and the hunting. . .

Dear Mr. Editor:
I am writing in regard to the letter about Mr. Cecil Headley. I am quite sure you welcome criticism, as well as compliments, however a compliment makes one feel better. People make up the news for a paper. We all don't see things the same way, which is good we don't. But the best policy I find is if, I don't like something just don't take part in it and go by the "live and let live policy." To sum up what I think of your paper: it is one of the best. I read it all and I appreciate my subscription. Even if I weren't my community reporter, I would gladly pay $3.00 for the subscription. It's the best buy I know of.
The news about the child being saved at the hospital was what I call love for the human race. Who wouldn't, if they had any heart, try to save the life of anyone regardless of race. Surely Mr. Headley hasn't ever withered anyone being at the point of death. He had he would be a different vein.
Several years ago my home was near a place where some negro children were burning grass, to clear a garden. A 6 year old negro girl got her clothing on fire. If my mother hadn't been near to see her, her clothing she would have died. Anyway she was surely turned, but lived. What some people's lack being right, is love? We don't let each other enough.
As for the Courthouse, how much can't be said! I hope some day soon. We can see a nice Courthouse building in our fair county with new restrooms the public can appreciate.
Sincerely,
--A READER

WEEKLY FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Friday, Nov. 6—Clanton at Isabella Verbena at Billingsley

ATCHESON PREDICTIONS

I got three of five games right last week and that gave me seven right and five wrong for the season. I missed the Plantersville-Maplesville game and the Clanton-Prattville game.

This week we have only two games scheduled. Unless Maplesville has scheduled an open date, they will be vacant this week. Jemison has an open date also.

Game of Week

Verbena will beat Billingsley. Billingsley will give Verbena a fight for their lives, but I think the Red Devils will manage to win this one.

Clanton Over Isabella. Isabella played probably their best game of the season last week but the Tigers are looking for revenge after losing their homecoming game.

One of 12 students injured in "school-jurisdiction" accident was taken to or from school. National Safety Council says.

LEGION, VFW TO ASSIST PATROL AT SAFETY STOPS

Montgomery, Ala.—Members of American Legion and Veterans of American Wars will help Alabama highway patrolmen distribute safety leaflets on Veterans Day at highway check points throughout Alabama.

Patrolmen will be out in force then since November 11th is a state and national holiday.

"We hope these safety stops will impress on holiday motorists the need to exercise extreme caution at all times," said Gov. John Patterson this week. "I commend the veterans organizations for joining the Highway Patrol in promoting traffic safety."

Some 100,000 safety leaflets will be handed motorists at about 25 check points on Alabama highways. The leaflet contains a safety message and photograph showing Gov. Patterson, Public Safety Director Floyd H. Mann, State American Legion Commander Joe Foster and State VFW Quartermaster James Gates. Members of their organizations will assist patrolmen in manning the check points.

Prattville Neatly Spoils Clanton Homecoming

by WAYNE ATCHESON

The Prattville Lions spoiled Clanton's homecoming Monday night as they blanked the Tigers 14 to 0. The game was postponed Friday because of a muddy field but the field was in good shape Monday night for homecoming.

Miss Kathie Wade was crowned homecoming queen at the half by Captain Jimmy Dennis. The queens made were Betty Dole, escorted by Buddy Vines and Anne Deason, escorted by Don Jones.

PICTURED here is Tommy Shelton, a devoted football player. Tommy is just a junior and is the top ground gainer for the Tigers this year at right halfback.

Before the game the queen and her maids were driven around the field and then took their seats on the side lines.

Little Dominic Finlayson served as mascot. Donnie came out on a model A Ford and he was dressed in a football uniform.

Each player was introduced before the game. A tiger was painted on a large piece of material and hung between the two goal posts. The Captains had the privilege of going through it first.

Game Gets Underway

After introducing the players the game got underway. Clanton won the toss and elected to receive. Tommy Shelton took the kick and as he began to run he stumbled and fell on the 15 yard line.

The Tigers started a drive that led to the 48 yard line before they were forced to punt.

Neither team could get going until the second quarter Prattville boomed a 45 yard quick-kick at Clanton and the Tigers were forced to punt.

Vines Punt to 32

Buddy Vines punted 32 yards up to the 47 yard line. On second down quarterback Bobby Northington passed to right halfback Buddy Tatum for 15 yards down to the 33 yard line.

Left halfback Paul Ceamann ran 9 yards around left end.

Buddy Tatum led the attack from there and he scored from a foot out. David Mimachels kicked the extra point and Prattville led 7 to 0 at the half.

Clanton stars 3rd Quarter

Clanton kicked to Prattville starting the third quarter. Vines kicked out of bound and Prattville took over on the 40.

The Lions moved down to the ten yard line, but a 15 yard penalty offset their chance to score and the Tigers took over on the 11.

Clanton moved up to the twenty and were forced to punt.

Vines punted and Prattville was in charge on the 49 yard marker. The Lions quickly picked up two first downs and moved to the nineteen.

Tatum Goes to Pay Dirt

Buddy Tatum took a pitch out and ran hard around left end to pay dirt. David Mimachels again booted true and the Lions had a 14 to 0 lead going into the 4th period.

The Lions didn't threaten but the Tigers succeeded in moving the ball two times, but a fumble close the gate on one drive and the game ended on the other drive.

Outstanding Leaders

Clanton had several outstanding leaders on defense. Don Jones and John Argo played exceptionally well. They were all over the field and were in on more than half the tackles.

Others were Jimmy Dennis, Tommy Edwards, David Cobb, Clay Carroll, Elliott Monroe, and Buddy Baker.

Buddy Vines and Tommy Shelton carried most of the offensive load. Prattville 0 7 7 0-14 Clanton 0 0 0 0-0 Touchdowns: Prattville (Tatum, 1 ft and 19 yard run) Pat (Mimachels kicked 2.

MAPLESVILLE LOS ES TO DALLAS COUNTY HIGH 19 - 13

Maplesville Red Devils counted their second loss of the season last Friday night when Dallas County High Green Hornets defeated them with a 19-13 score.

At half time the Devils had the Hornets 13-12, but the Hornets scored in the third period and made the point.

In the first quarter Bobby Edwards passed to Henry Ed Perry and he ran for the touchdown. In the second quarter Bobby Edwards scored, the point was made which put the Devils in lead.

Due to the mud and drizzle of rain each team fumbled the ball several times.

A large crowd from Maplesville attended the game.

$1 MILLION PAID IN SOCIAL SECURITY IN CHILTON

Old-age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits are being paid in Chilton County at the rate of $1,015,000 a year, according to Carl Dahm, manager of the Birmingham Social Security Office.

"This is an increase of about 18 percent over last year," Dahm said. "Benefits are now being paid in the four-county area served by the Birmingham Social Security Office at the rate of over $37 million a year."

Dahm stressed that while benefits are intended primarily for the beneficiary's economic security, the payment of social security checks at the rate of $1,000,000 a year in Chilton helps build business generally. "Most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing, and other necessities. Nationally, social security benefits are being paid at a rate of over 10 billion dollars a year."

The benefit for a retired worker averages $67.50 a month nationwide and for a retired couple $419.40 a month, Dahm said. The average for a widow with two young children is $165. The maximum payment for a family is $254.

Reasons for Increase

"There were several reasons for the increase in benefits over last year," Dahm explained. "There are more people reaching retirement age every year, they live longer, and more and more of them have been covered by social security long enough to be eligible for benefits. In addition, the 1958 social security amendments make it possible for the wife, dependent husband, and children of disabled-worker beneficiaries to receive monthly payments. These amendments also provide for benefits to aged dependent parents of a deceased worker even though other survivors are entitled to payments.

"Increases in average benefit payments reflect the 7 percent raise in benefit amounts which became effective with the checks for January 1959," Dahm said.

Benefits in Chilton

The table below shows the number and amount of each type of benefit being paid in Chilton County with the Beneficiary Group, Number of Beneficiaries, Total of Monthly Payments:

Retired Worker	845	$49,000
Wife or Husband	430	11,040
Widow or Husband	125	6,050
Mothers with Children	70	3,000
Children	345	11,000
Dependent Parents	16	350
Disabled Workers	43	4,200

For the entire State of Alabama, social security payments are going to 204,000 beneficiaries at the rate of $10,265,000 a month.

(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS

The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

You belong to the largest family of owners in the automotive world. We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people.

We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your taste to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver.

Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done.

But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want. They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully.

Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more checks and inspections and tests than ever before.

Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system.

Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family.

Party for Susan

Susan was a very happy little girl, Monday, Oct. 23, for it was on that day she celebrated, being 4 years old. Her mother, Mrs. William Vines entertained at a children party, honoring Susan.

The little guests were given a color book on arrival and everyone was very busy coloring for a while, then they entered into several games.

The birthday cake held a doll, with a lacy dress of icing, the four candles around it. As Susan blew the candles, the little ones, sang the birthday song.

Balloons were party favors. Candy, punch, cake and ice cream were refreshments. Present to help Susan celebrate were: Joel Price, Mark Hilver, Cathy Lowery, Nancy Garrett, Vicki Woodley, Donna Crowson, Robert and Julia Peterson, Larry Wells, Dale Lowery, Jimmy Miller, Joy Faircloth, Brenda and Brad Simmons, Patricia, Cynthia, sisters of the honoree, Anthony brother of the honoree, several mothers and two grandmothers.

GES Attends Tea

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cost, Della Cist, Mrs. Sam Woodley, Mrs. Pat Clements and Mrs. Elton Cobb attended a tea at Stockdale Hall, Birmingham Southern College Sunday afternoon. The tea honored bride-elect, receiving the gifts. They were displayed by Mrs. T. J. Ellison.

The colors of green and yellow were used in the decorations and refreshments. An arrangement of yellow snapdragons centered the living room mantel. The table, covered with lace over green satin, was centered by a crystal punch bowl, flanked by crystal candleholders holding yellow tapers. Fave Burnett and Shirley Beasley served fine punch and small cakes which were decorated in green and yellow. Mints and nuts were served from crystal bowls. An arrangement of yellow snapdragons centered the buffet.

The honoree received many beautiful and useful gifts. The hostesses presented her with a turquoise and white chafing dish on a brass stand.

SEE your county agent for soil test supplies and information sheets.

WORKING ON THE RAILROAD. Bell Laboratories has many well-known "firsts." Here's an interesting one uncovered recently. The first public address system for use on a train—particularly for back platform "whistle stop" notices—was developed by the Labs in 1923. Designed at the request of President Harding, it was used by him on his last trip across country, concluded by his sudden death on the West Coast. For "whistle stop" speeches or just coming around the corner, Telephone Company research always coming up with something to get the word around easier!

The Alabama Baptist State Convention will hold its 125th annual session here Nov. 10-12, with more than 2,000 pastors and denominational leaders from the state expected to attend at the First Baptist Church.

Using the theme "Evangelism through Teaching and Training," the convention messengers from Alabama Baptist churches will hear reports from the past year's work and vote on goals and recommendations for the 1959-60 year which begins Nov. 1.

One of the major issues under consideration is the 1960 budget. To be presented is a budget of $3,062,000 for the Alabama Baptist Cooperative Program which supports mission, education, and benevolent work of the Alabama Baptist Cooperative Program and the Southern Baptist Cooperative Program.

The convention gets underway Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 9 a.m., and closes Thursday, Nov. 12 at noon, with the final address by Dr. Leo H. Eddleman, president of New Orleans Baptist Seminary.

Dr. W. W. Adams, professor at Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Ky., will be in charge of devotional periods at the beginning of each session. Election of officers of the Alabama Baptist State Convention is scheduled for 2:45 p.m. Wednesday. Serving as president for the meeting this year will be Dr. B. Locke Davis, pastor of the Parker Memorial Baptist Church in Anniston.

Goals for 1960 will be announced to the convention messengers during the three-day meeting. The number of church members is expected to reach 1,000,000 in the year, with a total of 35,000 baptisms recorded in the churches. The 1960 goal for Sunday School enrollment is 515,000, with a figure of 235,000 set for Training Union organizations around the state.

Carl Griffin, representing the State agency, cooperated in the preparation of the inventory.

In congratulating Mapleville on the completion of the inventory, Leland Jones, State Planning and Industrial Development Board head, said that this information "will be kept on file in our offices, and used in our promotional efforts. It will be of great value to your local committee in its efforts to interest new industry in the town of Mapleville."

Jones added that interest in the industrial potential of Alabama is very great, and many industries are showing an interest in the State. "This Mapleville information will enable site specialists to assess what you have to offer for industry. It also demonstrates that you, as a community, are interested in seeing our promotional efforts. It will be of great value to your local committee in its efforts to interest new industry in the town of Mapleville."

ADVERTISING!

WE just never saw so much advertising in one single picture!
Of course the theme of the photo above is Queen Kathy Wade in the Homecoming Parade held in Clanton recently. It is a picture advertising for Coca-Cola, Clanton Motors Inc., Marysville County Center (the new doorway), IGA Super Market and even the remodeling of the First Baptist Church for good measure. But he couldn't have done that if he'd tried!

Copy of Bill Because accusations have been made that Senator Graham and I changed this bill after it was advertised, I am leaving with the editor of this paper a copy of the bill as it was passed by us. Not one word or phrase was changed.
I am leaving a copy of the Executive Amendment so that you can see that the only changes made were by the Governor of this State. If anyone wishes to see these papers, they will be available to you. Again I wish to say, my only desire is to serve the people of my County honestly and honorably and I feel that when all the truth is known they will see that I have done so.

Progress Evidenced
I am greatly pleased that the people of my County have voted to accept this tax to improve the schooling for their children, but I also believe they should be correctly informed as to the extent of this program.

Ten Instead of 20
This money will be available to us without the necessity of expensive long range financing and the issuance of long range bonded indebtedness and would save the county approximately 300,000 in interest of the approximate cost of one school building in this county.

In addition to the above revenue we will receive in excess of $121,500.00 per year increase in our present revenue for salaries of teacher and principals. So in reality we have a greatly expanded program over a ten year period than would have been possible under the original tax for twenty years.

ATCHESON PREDICTS...

by Wayne Atcheson
I picked correctly two games out of the two games played last week and that gave me a total of nine right and five wrong for the season.
That adds up to a measly 55% percentage.

But I have high hopes of raising that percentage this week.
This is the only "bad" in county that plays its last game on a Tuesday night.
So here we go.

Game of the Week
Marbury over Billingsley.
Marbury has been off and on all season and Billingsley has been having their turn. I'll go with Marbury on this one.

Clanton will edge Thompson -
I think Clanton will catch Thompson over-confident after their edging John Carroll 7 to 6 last week.

Columbiana Will Beat Jamison - Columbiana is having a real good season this year. I pick Colum-biana.

Uniontown over Verbena - Verbena Walloped Billingsley last week, but will lose this week.

Maplesville Will Defeat Marion Maplesville has lost only two games this year and I don't think they will lose another game this season.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE — $3.00 PER YEAR
(Plus 3% State Tax)

OBSERVING a publication of the Alabama Planning And Industrial Development Board, we note that practically every town and hamlet in the State is blessed with new industry, quite often. . . what's the reason Clanton and Chilton County is lagging so in new industry which would give our jobless work without seeking out of town?

THE frost is on the pumpkin, and then some! See where they're observing National Jam-Up Week; that's where everybody and his brother's cousin are crowding service stations trying to insure "old Betsy" against "frostbite." We just will wait 'till the last minute. . . isn't that right?

OUR income is not keeping up with our tax burden! What are we going to do about it? When it's down in black and white it's easier to see we're going in the wrong direction. In 1949 for instance, Charley Chilton earning $4900 paid $447 in Federal taxes. The same Charley, in 1959, earning $7500 paid $1081 in Federal taxes. Now we ask you, is that any way to a secure future unless, of course, we intend to continue letting Uncle Sam support more and more of our citizens through one program or another. Your Congressman home now. . . see him about it!

AND speaking of taxes (and who ain't) did you know that there were (according to the experts) at least 100 taxes on an egg, 116 on a man's suit and 151 on a loaf of bread. Is that hidden taxes or is that hidden taxes?

THE ILLOGICAL THINKING OF UNIONS

IF labor unions are all they claim then a large percentage of our buying power is made up of union members. This being the case, why do they stubbornly insist on higher prices? When they make increasing demands on management to pay more, give more, for less work they are literally inflating the "balloon".

We are definitely for labor unions, but: Nearly every, if not literally every member of the working class belonging to a union has better pay for less hours, more vacation time off with pay and more benefits than any other member of the working class.

This, in itself, is not discriminatory in any sense. But, they react to this new found prosperity like the man who has become "money-hungry"; they are never satisfied.

The living standard of the American people is at an all-time high and we do not want to see it slip. You can bend a twig just so much, however, and the constant increases demanded by labor unions is bending the twig of our national prosperity and economical stability entirely too much.

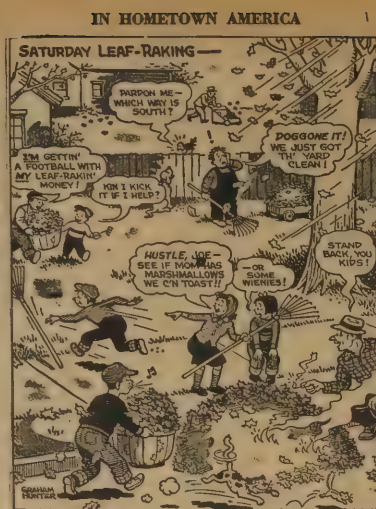

It used to be the other way around and the laboring man had nothing. Now the shoe is on the other foot, indeed, but if we are to progress we cannot take advantage of this blessing and drive management into the ground. After all, it takes both.

The Lord has the power to strike us all down dead. He so chooses, but He does not take advantage of this power merely to show who's boss. Why do the labor unions force stubbornly and repeatedly try to harm or intimidate those who do not agree with their ideas of economic stability. They are using their force of numbers as a battering man, only they are using it against the very foundation of our strength, as a free nation. . . our power to produce in quantity.

This practice is not in line with the American way which the unions declare so profusely that they represent and support.

If we're all a little bit wrong, it's time we conceded this fact and set about to find the truth and the solution which will benefit our America. Why should we destroy something which has given us so much, through the pettiness of individual gain and personal influence?

THINKING TOGETHER

We read and hear many views on juvenile delinquency. Many varied attempts are made to explain it, but there is really just one explanation. When we don't go around wondering why something else didn't then our children, and so greater responsibility comes to us than our children. They should be our first concern. Nature provides that parents have more influence and power of direction in the life of their children than any other, so it is up to the child's parents to shape the destiny and well being of their lives.

The mind and character of a child is a blank that must be filled out, and will be in some form and manner. It is like the roots of a growing plant that feeds into the soil around it, gathering the substance that develop it. The mind of the child also, gathers the moral and spiritual substance of the soil around them that develop the kind of characters that they will be.

JOHNNY DAVIS REPORTS— VERBENA VO-AG STUDENTS LEARNING FARM MECHANICS

The Agriculture Three Class at Verbena High School has completed a unit of welding as part of the farm mechanics program of vocational agriculture. Mr. Claude Mims, Verbena, Vo-Ag teacher said. During the six weeks of study, the agriculture students combined classroom lectures with actual experience in doing welding work in the shop of the Vocational Agriculture building. The found knowledge of welding can be used often both while in school and in later years.

The farm mechanics program is an integral part of vocational agriculture. It brings the classroom close to real life situations, as boys use skills and learning acquired in the home and on the farm.

THINGS We see and hear by BO3

MUST have been a lot of stingy people in town last Saturday: sure were a lot of 'em going around with empty hands in their pockets!

LUXURY and leisure are not everything! On the contrary, they are an abomination to man's nature and increase. Is the world of automation a Godsend or is it a definite thwart to the average man's creative abilities? Every day we see evidence of man's increasing leisure and ease, but what is this scientific achievement giving to man? To the everyday man, what are the "stars" which he will set his eyes upon which everything is done for him and he is no longer "necessary" in his own thoughts. The scientists perhaps can see far enough to vision the answer to this question, but the common man is being "given more and more" that he does not want. What really is our aim in life? Are we satisfied with leisure and uselessness or can we visualize the gift of automation enough to put it to practical use? It is one of the things we must speak for ourselves and our children for. . . and we are doing that, or are we baffled by its possibilities and taking it as a matter of course? Man will never be replaced, except possibly in his own mind and that is the danger we must be alert for. We have to prepare ourselves for such a challenge as complete automation. . . or either we must not let it happen!

WE are taking a chance, so to speak, on our brief knowledge of him, but our faith in human nature is such that we would like to say we thank we have a fine minister in Lloyd H. Kimbrough at First Methodist Church, Clanton. In our own mind, and probably in many others, it requires quite a man to replace Bro. Griffin Lloyd in the comforting circle of a church family. We feel, however, that Bro. Kimbrough and his family will add greatly to the increase of our Church and we welcome them into our 'circle'. May it broaden in scope and strengthen in purpose with Bro. Kimbrough as he leads our church toward a better church, community and world. As a matter of fact, he comes highly recommended by someone whom we think the world of and who is acquainted with him. That, along with what we have learned of him in two short weeks, assures us that he is a fine man of God and we are fortunate here at Clanton to have such a man! Let's all put our shoulder to the wheel and continue on the road to better things in an even greater way than before.

THERE can be no threat of evil in understanding. . . that is why we should strive for a better understanding of one another. Evil and malice are forgotten when two people, two opposing factions, two nations understand!

95 Positive Voices On Courthouse Question; Will They Be Heard?

NINETY-FIVE persons have thus far expressed their desire (in black and white) for a new Courthouse building in Chilton County. We know for a fact that this is only a fraction of those who do want Chilton County to have a new Courthouse building of all the answers we have received, there were no negative

"Let John Do It."

This situation is indicative of two things: one, that many of Chilton's citizens feel the need, and can see the way to a new Courthouse for the county; two, that there are entirely too many of the "let John do it" variety and are either afraid to speak their mind or they are too unconcerned about their own and their children's welfare.

If you fall into the second category have you asked yourself if there are enough "Johns" around to do the job? We'll tell you, there are not!

Speak Up People

The only way Chilton County can hope for a new Courthouse building is the near future is for every responsible citizen to stand up and speak for something which they or we need and should know we can have. We have the money (part of it) and we have the 100 percent vote of the Board of Revenue and Control for it. . . all they need is the public approval and with the exception of the following public minded citizens we are falling way short in that respect:

From my front porch. . .
I watch the world go by.

I would ask you, dear reader, to reflect with me for a moment, upon the strength and peace one may gain from a tree.

Let it be a tree that you may take unto yourself from your front porch — or, preferably, from a window through which you may see and hold it close to you, in all seasons.

Become, if you will, an observant and meditative part of it, and of its daily life through the years. . .

Become aware of how, in dark dreary Winter, it stands patient. Firmly rooted in the frozen earth, its arms steadfastly uplifted to the sky, though the sun may be hidden.

Be aware of the bitter winds that twist and bend it, and test its strength. Be aware, too, as slowly pass the days, of its confident first bud and unfolding leaf, in the returning Spring.

Watch, then, its joyous full-flowering into Summer — into beauty and service, into nests for the songbirds and shade for its neighbors.

Take note of how, in Autumn, undiminished, it sees its foliage mellow and fall, to enrich the soil in which it stands—enrich the earth which nurtured the seed and the shoot, and to which it must one day return, its cycle complete. . .

"Only God" sang the poet Joyce Kilmer, "can make a tree." True. Perhaps He gives us trees to observe, in His supernal mind and plan, as witness to His love—to testify to the wonders of faith, and of trust; of birth, and of living, and dying. . .

DOES IT AGAIN — SELDEN HAS FOUR-YEAR PERFECT RECORD IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON — Representative Armstead Selden of the 6th Congressional District has once again attained one of the highest participation averages in the U. S. House of Representatives.

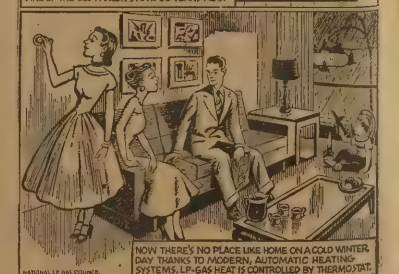

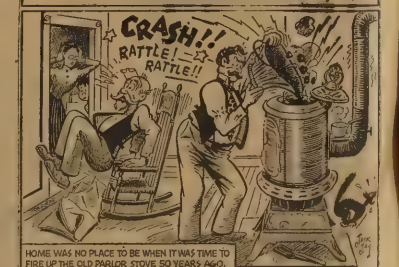

During the First Session of the 86th Congress, Rep. Selden's presence and vote on all roll calls. This is the fourth consecutive year he has attained a perfect roll call record, having missed only three votes during his seven years' service as a member of the U. S. Congress.

According to Congressional Quarterly, a privately-owned publication devoted to reports and comments on congressional activities, Selden's record for the 1959 session was based on 87 roll call votes. Only (14% of the House membership, which now consists of 435 members, equaled his perfect record this year. Fewer still attained the seven-year record chalked up by Alabama's Sixth District Congressman.

ACID soils are restricting crop production on many Alabama farms, according to API Extension agronomists.

BEAUTY AND THE...

THE girls might not look so hot, but these fellas are neat, you can say that for them! Actually they just put up a futile struggle against Prattville and the two fellows on the left certainly show it by their expressions.

New Church

The Maplesville Baptist Church is building a new church. The present church was erected in 1907. Many of the first members are still living here and are still members.

We would like to have the old building filled to capacity next Sunday. Let each of us do all that we can to have the people of our town present.

The plans are to start the new church as soon as the old is cleaned away.

Mrs. Jessie Gillespie, Mrs. Kathryn Goff and Bubber shopped in Clanton last Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. V. B. McCain are visiting Mrs. McCain's sister, Mrs. Farmer in Atlanta, Ga.

Clanton Rumps Isabella 14 Final Home Game, 42-6

The Clanton County High School Tigers romped the Isabella Mustangs last Friday, 42 to 6.

It was the last home game for the 1959 football season for Clanton.

The weather was very cold and most of the small crowd left at the half.

Isabella couldn't control the Tiger offense especially in the first period. Clanton scored three times before Isabella could get up on their feet.

Statistics

	Clanton	Isabella
First downs	8	8
Yards rushing	256	178
Yards passing	32	17
Passes	2-4	2-5
Passes intercepted by	0	0
Punts	2-36	4-29.5
Yards penalized	45	10

This football season has gone against Isabella entirely, it seems. The Mustangs are winless in nine games. It could possibly be Isabella's worst year in football.

Clanton's 4th Win

It was Clanton's fourth win against four losses and one tie for the season.

Denny Mims kicked off for Isabella and Melvin Billingsley returned the kick 38 yards to Isabella's 44 yard line.
From there Tommy Shelton ran for 28 yards in five plays and Buddy Vines ran 76 yards in four plays for the touchdown.
Buddy Vines took it in from the two and he also ran the extra point.

Vines Kicks

Vines kicked off to Isabella and kicked it into the end zone. The ball was brought out to the twenty and on third down Isabella fumbled and Melvin Billingsley rated in and carried the fumble from the 19 yard line to the 6.

Buddy Vines got five off tackle and Tommy Shelton sneaked in around left end. Vines again added the extra point and Clanton had fourteen points.

Clanton Kicks to Isabella

Clanton kicked again to Isabella and forced Isabella to punt. The punt traveled only 22 yards and once again the Tigers were in business on 1st 37 yard line.

Shelton got seventeen around left end and Vines went over left end for 22 yards and another touchdown. Vines made the score 21 to 0 on the extra point after one period of play.

Isabella's Fumbles

Clanton kicked to Isabella who fumbled and John Argo hopped on the loose ball on the 25 yard line for Clanton.

Tommy Shelton got two and three yards and on the next play the Tigers were penalized back to the 30 for holding.

A pass was incomplete and on fourth down quarterback Hilliard Wyatt threw to Tommy Shelton who got away from defenders and ran into the end zone. Wyatt again passed to Shelton for the extra point.

At the half the score was 28 to 0.

Band Performance

Although it was so cold the band put on a very good halftime show. Head Majorette Lynn Lineberry gave a single twirling performance, as she served for the last time, her duties as head majorette at home.

The majorettes presented Lynn a gift at halftime, in showing their love and appreciation.
Other band members who are graduating are: Robbie Hagan, Clarke Hutchinson, Katie Wade, Kenneth Thomas, Steve Rennings, and Billy Minor.

"B" Team For Clanton

In the last half the Clanton "B" team did most of the playing for Clanton.

Clanton kicked off to the Mustangs and forced Isabella to punt 15 yards up to the forty yard line.

On the first play Tommy Shelton ran like a sewing machine around right end to score. Vines scored the extra point and made it 35 to 0.

Isabella Holds Remainder

Isabella controlled the remainder of the third quarter that covered a march from the 27 yard line to Clanton's 36 before having to punt. And a punt it was. The punt measured 41 yards and it went out of bounds on the four yard line as the quarter ended.

Vines Goes 96 Yds. for TD

On the first play Vines took the snap from center and went straight up the middle and didn't a man touch him after he got past the 25. That's right, he scrambled 96 yards for the touchdown.

Shelton ran the extra point and that made the forty second point.

Isabella's Only Points

On the very last play of the game Roy Bray ran beautifully 40 yards for Isabella's only points. The extra point was no good and the final score was 42 to 6.

When Buddy Vines and Tommy Shelton got through Vines had totaled 22 points and Shelton had 20 points which came to a sum of 42 points.

ON February 19, 1949, WATSON'S came to Clanton and Chilton County. From a fairly humble beginning here it has grown into one of the largest dry goods stores in the area and features bargains absolutely unlike any you ever saw anywhere.

In the first Advertisement in the News Watson's made this statement:

"It will be a policy at Watson's to Exchange or Refund. Any purchase made at Watson's that you are not entirely satisfied with, return same promptly with your sales ticket, and the merchandise will be exchanged, or your money will be cheerfully refunded. You MUST be Satisfied when you make a purchase at WATSON'S."

This policy has served well as part of their success in Chilton County because they have lived up to it.

"Watson's is here to stay" they said in 1949 and today, 10 years later, the proof has been revealed. . . Watson's is truly "here to stay".

Another reason for the success of WATSON'S is that they leave little to the imagination of their prospective customers. If they have a bargain or a quality item they do not hesitate to tell their customers about same. They consistently keep the public informed about their product and the volume of business which they do verifies the wisdom of such a policy.

And to sum it all up, they said in the beginning: "Our desire is to be close friends and be a real part of your community." This is no other accomplishment, for they are certainly recognized as part of our community and are doing much toward keeping trade at home with bargains and quality merchandise. Remember, "Watson's is the store that constantly lowers your cost of living."

HERE is a full view of the Watson Store managed by Mr. Paul Bennett. Mr. Bennett came to Clanton as manager of Watson's in 1952 and has been manager since. He is married and he and wife, Nell have two children. A boy Mike, who is nine years old and a daughter Ann, who is four.

THE holiday and Christmas Season is just around the corner and the merchants of Clanton and Chilton County want to make every effort to give the people the best in quality merchandise and tops in service so that they will know the real value of trading at home.

Since the initial "Business of The Week" page was run in the News Local merchants have evidenced great strides in giving the people of Chilton County better and more merchandise at prices that many times, beat their competition in the larger cities. This is proof positive that the local merchants want and need your trade and support.

It is foolish to go out of town when you can find the same thing here at home.

Trading at home not only saves you money and time, it also helps to build a stronger and more stable local trade area. You can help your community to grow and prosper simply by trading regularly with local merchants.

McKENZIE MAN INDICED — PENSIONERS BEWARE OF FALSE 'AGENTS OF AID'

On a charge of false pretenses in selling insurance to old age pensioners, Kelly Bryant Kelly of Route 4, McKenzie, was today sentenced in Clarke County Circuit Court at Grove Hill to two years imprisonment.

He has appealed and bond has been set at $2,000. Sentence was read by Circuit Judge William Lindsay this morning.

Pensions and Security Commissioner Alvin T. Prestwood reported today that he had just been advised by his Grove Hill office of the outcome of the jury trial which began Monday. He explained that Kelly, an insurance agent, was indicted last spring by the Clarke County Jury.

"Investigators from our staff followed up complaints by pensioners that an agent, later identified as Kelly, had sold them hospital insurance promising their pensions would be increased to cover the premiums. Pensioners also charged that Kelly indicated he was sent to them by the Clarke County Department," Prestwood said. "Our findings were made possible by the county solicitor and the arrest, indictment, and trial followed."

"The Department of Pensions and Security is gravely concerned when any one either misrepresents himself as being a Department agent or assures pensioners their checks will be increased to buy insurance or any other product," Prestwood declared. "It is the old people who lose out."

He expressed satisfaction with the outcome of the Kelly trial.

TON FEELS PINCH TOO— EL STRIKE SETS BLESS RECORD IN ALA.

MONTGOMERY, ALA. -- The strike pushed Alabama's jobless to a record 44,000 this week, R. Williams, Director of Labor Relations, announced. Over 4,000 of these were unemployed as a direct result of the steel strike dispute.

Figures are: State unemployed, 44,000; in strike in State, 24,000; unemployed due to strike, 6,000.

Unemployment offices in several states reflect that there has been a note of caution in the hiring of many employers as a production uncertainty and materials stemming from the strike, Williams said.

Layoffs in allied and adjacent industries accounted for 5,000 jobs, with more foreseen on the continuation of the Williams said.

Accounted for more than the secondary layoffs, Williams said. Other industries were: building, general and trade contractors; food and kindred products; stone, clay and primary metals; fabricated machinery; transportation; and, motor freight.

Secondary layoffs are increasing, particularly in the producing centers—Birmingham and Decatur, Williams said, with some of the local reporting unemployment claims being filed by returning to Alabama from the automobile industry in other states.

IN 4-H CLUB SAFETY— JOHN FOSHEE IS CHAIRMAN OF LP GAS ASSOCIATION

A Clanton businessman will serve as chairman of an important committee in the Alabama Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association for 1959-60.

John Foshee, operator of the Central Alabama Gas Company, Inc. has been notified of his appointment as chairman of the 4-H Club Committee by President Ed Moore of Anniston. In announcing the appointment, Mr. Moore said, "In view of Mr. Foshee's many valuable contributions to the Association and L.P. Gas Industry, I am especially pleased to have him serve in this important capacity."

For several years the Alabama L.P. Gas Association, composed of propane and butane gas dealers throughout the state, has worked closely with the Auburn Extension Service in its 4-H Club activity. One of the most popular programs sponsored by the Association in conjunction with the Extension Service is the annual 4-H Club Safety Essay Project.

The purpose of the safety project is to promote interest and activity in farm and home safety. To the winners in each county, ranging in age from 10 to 20, the Association awards valuable prizes and certificates of merit. A $100 cash award is given to the boy and girl selected as the state winners.

As a member of the 4-H Club Committee, Foshee will help direct the safety essay project.

INSTANT SHRIMP?

When the atomic submarine NAUTILUS sailed for the North Pole, the galley had various experimental dehydrated foods that were rated by the crew. New dehydrated shrimp ranked at the top of the list of foods that taste "excellent" and taste the substance of two wholesome beverages!

Although dried eggs and other dehydrated foods left a taste with many World War II servicemen, food research is improving processes until most instant foods and snacks now defy comparison with the original products.

Thanks to nutrition and food scientists, you'll have many new and interesting foods in the future, to be enjoyed with tried-and-true "old favorites"—BEER and ALE. Changing tastes in foods won't change America's preference for these two wholesome beverages!

NOV. TIME FOR LANDSCAPING

November begins the season for landscaping and revamping old plantings.

Auburn University Extension Ornamental Horticulturist Troy Keeble points out that each home has a different situation. Therefore, shrubs and trees should be carefully selected to complement the area to be landscaped.

According to Keeble, the style of the house, structural materials, soil, exposure, finances, preferences and other factors must be considered before landscaping. Some bushes need extensive plantings of shrubs and trees to provide a beautiful landscape. Still other homes need only a few plantings to create an equally pleasing effect.

Mrs. Brasher read these scriptures: Matt. 16:16-19, Acts 2:41-42, Heb. 10:24-25 and 1 Cor. 16:2. These songs were sung at intervals: O Happy Day, Let others See Jesus, Trust, Try and Prove Me. As the close, Bless Be The Tie was sung.

Carol Brasher, pianist used Onward Christian Soldiers as a march for classes to assemble.

Mrs. Brasher used a poster to announce M night in Jemison Church, Dec. 7th at 7:30 p.m.

The church certainly appreciates and gives thanks to the RA's and their counselor, Mr. J. A. Chandler for such a fine job in collecting produce for the Children's Home at Troy. There was an estimated $372 in produce and $7.50 in money.

The Measure Of
A Man Lies In His Actions--Not In His Friends!

FOLKS
and
About Town
by Ben

WHEN we were a boy an older man was perhaps 21 years old. He reached 21, an older man was 21 years old. Then when we were 21, the old aged group was 21 years old. Now, any man who is 21 years old or better, is 21 years old or better.

THE guy who said "talk is cheap" hadn't looked at his long distance telephone bill, had he? He would have to pay the government tax just to talk.

WOULD you mind repeating what you said to me? asked the priest to the station just for the sake of it. Evidently that man didn't pay attention to what he said.

NT in case you never saw a source, try slipping up on your wife one of these cold things and yell, "Boo".

HERBERT Poole, you know, has been over the South City Gulf Club. Last week, just to welcome him we suppose, burglars broke into the station just for the sake of it. Evidently that man didn't pay attention to what he said.

plate glass out of the door. Don't think Herbert appreciated the welcome. He would have to pay the government tax just to talk.

YOU been by Clanton Motel registered for that little Christmas Eve? Don't cost anything to register and you'll have a wonderful and expensive little boy or girl. Take that matter today.

DC TO MEET WITH
MR. HEFLIN, 20TH.

RS. JAS. D. Hefflin will be at Jefferson Manly Palmer, United Daughters of the Confederacy on Friday, November 19, 1959.

ANGELINE Pruett, honor high school student of Verbena High school will be guest speaker. Heret will be "Peace Overtures to the Confederate States." Mrs. Pruett expects a full attendance at interesting meeting.

THANKS FROM THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

IN last week's county paper there was an article stating that the local one-cent sales tax had passed. This, of course, was good news to the people of Chilton County who had worked so hard for its passage.

The Board of Education and the Superintendent wish to thank the citizens for their interest, hard work and encouragement displayed in the campaign for the tax.

As has been stated before, the Board of Education has employed a bond attorney, fiscal agent and architect. The Board is now ready to begin making financial arrangements and these arrangements will be made just as fast as the law will permit.

The people of the state have been watchful with much interest and excitement the outcome of Chilton County's local effort, and now they can see that the pace has been set. Our county can be an example for others to follow in getting better educational facilities for boys and girls in Alabama.

(-W. A. Lecroy)

EDDIE Edwards, local chairman of the Christmas Parade for the Junior Chamber of Commerce is busy making contact with local clubs to help bring forth one of the finest parades for our City and County.

NOTICE TO MINISTERS

TO all ministers in Chilton County, I would appreciate very much your using the "Bulletins" in your church, one Sunday during December, that are available to you from the Chilton County Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. Tucker, Chm.

MAYOR ENDORSES SEAL SALE

The high cost of tuberculosis is emphasized by Mayor Hollis Jackson in his official proclamation approving the 53rd annual Christmas Seal Sale which opened November 16.

"Since the first Christmas Seal was sold in 1907, more than 8 million lives have been saved from this tragic disease," he said, "and it still costs this nation over $700,000,000 a year."

Tuberculosis costs this nation and this community much more than money, he pointed out. "The cost in worry and headaches in families this devastating disease cannot be measured, in lives crippled by disease."

"Christmas Seal dollars spent now are an investment in human lives. They will also mean tax dollars saved in the future," the Mayor said.

Mayor Jackson's official proclamation reads:

WHEREAS, the cost of tuberculosis is a heavy burden on the people of this community, state and nation;

WHEREAS, no individual, regardless of race, creed or economic status, is safe from this communicable disease unless all are safe;

WHEREAS, the work of the Chilton County TB Association, aimed at preventing the spread of tuberculosis, will help bring an end to the economic loss and personal tragedy caused by the disease;

WHEREAS, the support of the tuberculosis association is derived solely from the sale of Christmas Seals;

THEREFORE, I, Mayor of Clanton, urge all residents of this town to contribute generously to the 1959 Christmas Seal Sale.

AMERICAN HOME WEEK --

ONE of the least known and probably most important 'week's' observed by us (in Alabama and Chilton County November 22-29) is American Home Week.

Just thinking how many facets of our living is enveloped, or should be, in this one theme is awesome indeed.

We, in Chilton County, just as millions of others, take our Home and all that it means to us for granted. Seldom do we stop to think of just how many millions in the world are Homeless and helpless and do not enjoy the bountiful living which we call "the daily grind".

Recently we were discussing with our young son the blessings of a Home and the abundance of things we enjoy and of course he had many questions on the subject. One thing in particular which impressed us was the fact that he had a sincere desire to help the "little boys and girls" who didn't have anything to eat. He asked "how?" And we couldn't tell him how.

The only answer we could give him was to enjoy the abundance which he had and grow up into a strong health man with the same ideas which he has now and possibly he could do something about it!

Now this was a feeble answer to give to so important a question. He caught us off guard! But, how can we help those millions who don't have a home and don't enjoy three square meals a day. . . or even one square meal a week?

This is itself is something to ponder, but more than that, such things should renew and strengthen our faith in our family life and serve to inspire us to better support it from our position in it and realize that there are those who don't have an American Home and we are a fortunate few indeed!

THANKS TO THE MOTHERS

Mary T. Thomas (Written in appreciation of our Homeroom Mothers)

What delicious refreshments! How relaxed in my mind!
Why, up in the classroom Nell Mulline you'll find.
And she understands that each boy and girl
Is happy indeed, and each mind's in a swirl.
But let's concentrate on the things here below.
As each mother passes, coming to and fro.
There's secretive smiles on these faces, all Keen joy pervades from wall to wall.
Then announcement is made of the lounge that's to come.
And we are amazed and somewhat stunned.
What gracious and generous mothers these!
We think, as Peggy passes the keys!
Then, as each teacher's name is called aloud,
Aren't we surprised! Aren't we proud!

THANKS TO THE P.-T. A.

Mary T. Thomas
(Written for the Faculty of the Elementary School)

There was wonder in his thinking
As we reached the luncheon door,
And those busy footsteps, passing,
Caused us all to wonder more.
How that secret had been guarded!
Not one word had reached an ear
Of those culinary artists
And the treats that would appear!
What more gracious contribution
Could we teachers have desired?
Than those lovely dainties
All displayed before our eyes?
There we sat in deep amazement
These cakes are examples of culinary art.
These mothers are kind, but aren't they smart!
For this love and devotion, dear ones, you've shown
We're grateful indeed, and desire there'll be sown
In your pathway, as on life's journey you go, Immeasurable blessings and joys by the score.

SELDEN IS DELEGATE TO NATO CONFAB

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Rep. Winwood Selden of Alabama's Sixth District arrived in Washington over the week end to attend the 5th NATO Parliamentary Conference as an official delegate of the United States. This is the third consecutive year that Congressman Selden has been appointed by House Speaker Sam Rayburn as one of nine members of the U. S. House of Representatives to represent our government at the important NATO meeting.

The Conference, composed of members of the legislative bodies of each of the 15 NATO nations, convened on Monday in Washington with the United States as official host. Economic, political, military, scientific and technical problems affecting the NATO nations are being discussed during the week-long session.

This is the first time that the NATO Parliamentarians' Conference, organized in 1955, has met outside NATO Headquarters in Paris, France. The U. S. Capital was selected for the 1959 meeting because this year marks the 10th Anniversary of the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty in Washington.

At the close of the Conference on Friday, Rep. Selden will return to Alabama where he will remain until Congress reconvenes in January.

York, Jr., Director of Extension Service, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, will be the guest speaker for this event. This will be the fourth annual observance of Farm-City Week.

THINKING TOGETHER

In the story of the fruitless fig tree, to which Jesus came seeking for fruit, which is found in the 11th chapter of Mark, there is nothing to indicate that at some other time there were figs, but the important point of the story is that there was no fruit when Jesus passed that way. This can be true of our christian profession. The trouble with trying to be a christian, and endeavoring to render service to Christ according to our own convenience, and at such times, and under such circumstances as will not interfere with other things that occupy our lives, is that when Jesus passes by seeking of us that particular fruit that we are capable of producing for him, we are "out of pocket" and there is no fruit for him.

Christ comes to us in the form of opportunity, and it only when opportunity is afforded that we are able to render any worthwhile service to Him. This opportunity may come at some rare or special time. It may come under some peculiar or odd circumstance, and it may be an opportunity that will only come once in a life time, but Christ does come to us by way of opportunity seeking fruit of our lives.

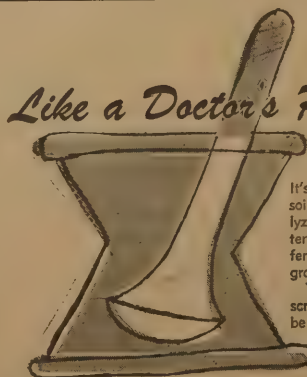

Another important point of this story is that Christ was looking for figs. He was not looking for apples, or plums, or peaches. He wanted figs. When Christ comes to your life or mine seeking for that special or unique service that we are capable of giving, he is not looking for that which some one else could do or give. He needs just what we could do. He has created us with an ability which is exclusive to only us. Our gifts and talents may seem small and insignificant to us, and even to others, but not to the God who created us. There is a definite and important place for you and me in God's great work, and plan, which no one can fill but us, and at one time or another, and perhaps many times, we can render a great and important service to our Master.

It is certain that many great things could be done as God performs his great work on earth, if we were as man who the first chapter of Psalms describes, "And he shall be like a tree that is planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; His leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

CLANTON TO BE TREATED FOR WHITE FRINGE BEETLES

Till our force assembled, all
And were pleased beyond expression
At the cheer from wall to wall.
Then we learned of thoughtful planning
For our comfort day to day,
And our thankful hearts within us
Longed to speak without delay.
Longed to praise those lovely mothers,
Longed to let them understand
How the heart of each true teacher
Values all for which they stand.
Thanks to each devoted mother
Who has helped a dream come true.
Thanks for every loving kindness
That you, each and all, did do.

MR. William F. Helms, local supervisor for the Plant Pest Control Division of The U. S. Department of Agriculture announces plan for treatment of an area in the City limits of Clanton for White-fringed Beetles. This work is being done in cooperation with the City. The White-fringed Beetle is an insect, the larval (grub) stage of which is very detrimental as it works in the soil and attacks many agricultural plants. The Federal and State Department have placed quarantines on certain commodities grown within these infested areas. Also certain industrial concerns might be affected as there are regulations on traffic moving in and out of infested areas.

Lee A. Popwell Writes on Scripture

Man's Imperfection in Creation may be made perfection by choosing. Dent. 30:19. How by? 1. In the (1. Jno. 2-20, Luke 13:14) man receives the gift of Eternal Life, which makes mortal man Eternal God. (Like Jesus Christ is God) and what man was created to be Psalm 82:6, John 10:34-35, Acts 17:29, Romans 7:14. You see now what repentance and obedience to all the Commandments will do for you, but if those will enter into life, keep the Commandments. Mat. 19:17; 18:19. If you love Me keep My Commandments Isa. 14:15.

He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. —(II Corinthians 9:6.)

There is no one so poor that he cannot give of brotherly love--of kindness, tolerance, consideration, and a helping hand to someone less fortunate. The more we give and the more gladly we give in His name, the more we shall receive.

National corn production for 1959 is expected to reach 4 1/2 billion bushels.

Mr. Helms states that the acreage south of 2nd Avenue to Poley Bridge Creek and from 17 Street east to the city limits will receive treatment. The material used will be 10 percent Dieldrin at the rate of 30 pounds per acre. Along with controlling White-fringed Beetles, this insecticide will also kill ants, roaches and many other insects found in the soil. Mr. Helms assures all concerned that the utmost care and precaution will be taken and that he is sure no ill effects will be noticed. In fact, the side benefits of this treatment should be beneficial to everyone.

Mayor's Proclamation FARM - CITY WEEK 1959

WHEREAS the prosperity and well-being of this community are dependant upon cooperation between the two great elements of our society: farmers and urban people, and

WHEREAS the complexities of their individual problems, and the divergence of their activities have led to a widening gulf of misunderstanding, and

WHEREAS this gulf of misunderstanding must be eliminated; and each group must understand the other if our American way of life is to endure, and

WHEREAS Farm-City Week provides an unparalleled opportunity for farm and city people to become re-acquainted,

I THEREFORE J. Hollis Jackson, Mayor of the City of Clanton, do hereby proclaim the period of November 20th through November 26th, to be Farm-City Week; and I do further call upon all citizens of this community to participate to the limit of their capability in the joint visits, the seminars, the pageants, fairs, civic and social events attendant to a successful Farm-City Week in Clanton.

Done at the City of Clanton this 19th day of November, 1959.

J. Hollis Jackson, Mayor

FARM AGENT SAYS SOIL FERTILITY FAR TOO LOW

One of the most serious farm problems in Chilton County is low acre yields. He reason for low yields is that so much of our land is lacking in available plant food. Soil test information indicates that 50 percent of soils in the county need a great deal of lime, 30 percent need a moderate amount, and only 20 percent require no lime. Yet, only 10 percent of the cropland and plowable pasture acreage in the county is currently being limed.

Lime Is Key
Lime is the foundation of a sound fertility program. It is necessary for good yields of most crops. Lime is necessary because it: (1) makes soils less acid, (2) increases bacterial activity, (3) supplies plant nutrients--calcium and sometimes magnesium, and (4) makes fertilizer nutrients more available.

45% Lack Phosphate
Soil test information also indicates that 45 percent of the soils in the county are greatly lacking in phosphate, 35 percent need a moderate amount, and only 20 percent require very little or no phosphate. As to potash 66 percent of the soils need large amounts of potash.

Can Be Corrected
Such low fertility conditions be corrected by the use of adequate amounts of lime and fertilizers applied according to test recommendations.

Be sure to have fields soil tested this fall.

PROTECT THE FAMILY CIRCLE

"Protect the family circle" is the aim of the Chilton County TB Association as it prepares to open the 1959 Christmas Seal Sale.

The traditional annual campaign to fight tuberculosis will open November 16, with the mailing of Christmas Seals to Chilton County residents.

"Over eight million lives have been saved since the first Christmas Seal was sold, but the saving of lives is not enough," declared Mrs. R. M. Tucker, Christmas Seal chairman. "We must see to it that every family in Chilton County is spared the suffering and tragedy of this long-term, chronic illness."

"It is from this year's Christmas Seal Campaign more than maintain our present TB control activities," said Mrs. Tucker. "We must expand our efforts to include the unknown cases of TB in this community. We must increase our efforts to help our patients get back on their feet and stay there. We must expand our educational program so that people of all ages learn how to protect themselves from TB. We must put more money into medical research to find better ways of fighting TB."

Serving with Mrs. Tucker on the Christmas Seal Committee are: Mrs. Julia Ruth Hickey, Miss Faye Wesley, Mrs. Lloyd Howard, Miss Louise Foshee and Mrs. Aubrey Smith.

The Pilot Club and the Health Department are both co-operating in this group in every way possible to help rid Chilton County of this number one infectious disease.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the good people of Liberty Hill Baptist Church for services rendered for the funeral of our loved one. The singing was very lovely. Thanks to the pastor and the church for their assistance and to Rev. Howard Anderson for one of the most beautiful services I've ever heard.

We also wish to thank the good ladies who so kindly helped to prepare food for the family and assisted to serve it in the home of Mrs. J. M. Moore.

Thanks to friends and relatives for the beautiful flowers. May God richly bless each of you who had a part in any way. The Family of Mrs. Mary Catherine Moore-Burnett.

and every week!

Somewhere in your town a man waits hopefully for you. He is a minister. A priest. A rabbi. A man used to speaking out and taking action. But where you're concerned, he can only wait and hope you will come. He stands ready to pass on to you the powerful, crucifixion introduction to Faith. The strength and confidence Faith can mean many things to men... and to the families who stand on them. Start to find the Faith with your family this week.

CLANTON - Thursday Mornings At New Rockett Building

FLOOD LIGHTS A MUST ON FARMS

Every farm needs flood lights. Make a list where these lights should be installed, says Auburn University Extension Engineer Bill Cox. And list in the order that they are most needed. Then install each one when money and time are available.

The engineer recommends mounting the fixture 15 to 20 feet above the ground. Be sure that the fixture or lamp will direct the light downward, and keep flood lights clear of trees to avoid shading large areas. Cox points out that a fixture at the corner of a building will light two sides of the structure as well as the surrounding yard.

ISABELLA VO-AG DEPARTMENT
HOST TO SOIL TEST MEETING

Farmers from the Isabella community met last Friday at the Isabella Vo-Ag Dept. The purpose was to learn how to take a Soil Sample for testing. Mr. John Sellers, Assistant County Agent of Chilton County went through the entire procedure of taking a soil sample for testing. This is something that all agricultural leaders feel that is of great importance in farming today. Yields of crops have been increased greatly by Soil Testing.

Those farmers present to benefit from this important meeting were Marvin Orts, Ernest Grooms, J. M. Bryant, Wallace Fox, Raymond Mims, Calvin Raspberry and Claude Mims.

These farmers plan to do soil sampling this fall or winter. Results from other farms have shown that if they follow through with this their time will not be wasted. If farmers were absent from this meeting would like to learn more about this important program, contact your County Agent or local Agriculture teacher for information and help.

Mr. Sellers also gave a talk on soil sampling to the Ag. III and Ag. II Vo-Ag classes of Isabella School.

Aerial spraying can now be used to control undesirable woody plants in hardwood stands, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The cost is about .75 to $9 an acre, and the system may be useful in southern pine plantations.

Telephone Talk

W. R. Waters

Your Telephone Manager

HAVE MORE TURKEY? Famous last words on Thanksgiving Day! And when you're far away from home what you wouldn't give to hear him! Well, why not give the folks at home a Long Distance call—you can almost smell the turkey and taste the pumpkin pie! Or if some member of the family can't come home—give him a call and share all the fun going on at your house. Costs so little, too, because bargain rates are on all Thanksgiving Day.

INEVITABLE QUESTION—what to give so-and-so for Christmas! Although Christmas is over a month away, still the Day of Decisions is arriving. May I make a suggestion? Here's a gift anyone would love—an Extension phone! Can't you see a teenager's delight with a personal telephone? Or Grandma's? And Dad—he'd be like a bee in clover with a phone of his own in the den. Extension phones, in color, are a happy solution to any Christmas gift problem.

WORLD'S LARGEST SWITCHBOARD! It's in the Pentagon Building and has more than 44,000 telephone outlets! It's staffed by 210 operators. Requires as much telephone service as the average city of 200,000 population! Whether it's important business conducted from that building, or our own everyday calls, it takes a lot of planning and a lot of know-how to meet the needs of modern telephone service.

SIXTY MINUTES—a whole hour of fine entertainment coming up Friday, November 20, on the Bell Telephone Hour television program. For time and channel, see your local newspaper.

STATE TO TRAIN 50 DOGS FOR PRISON GUARD DUTY

MONTGOMERY, Ala. -- The Alabama prison system is following the lead of police departments over the nation in starting to train dogs for guard use at state prisons.

The guard dogs are to be specialized for prison work, and not for the general police work. Prisons Director Frank Lee said that a call for 50 dogs. Only the Garman-Shepard (police) and the Doberman-Pinscher - dogs from eight months to two years old are wanted.

Mr. Lee asked that anyone wishing to donate an eligible dog to the prison service contact him at Kilby Prison, Montgomery, Ala.

Use of the dogs should lessen the necessity for the use of firearms in apprehending escaping criminals, Mr. Lee said. "The dogs will be trained to bring down, disarm and hold a fleeing man without hurting him."

Kilby Prison, Atmore Farm and Draper Correctional Center will have the guard dogs. They will patrol the prison yard and fence at night—outside regular living and working areas.

VERBENA VO-AG HAS TRACTOR CLINIC

A tractor clinic was held today in the Verbena High School with Claude Mims, teacher of Vocational Agriculture, in charge. All of the 39 boys enrolled in vocational agriculture participated.

Highlights of the Clinic was the demonstration given on how to use a tractor where all boys actually performed the service themselves. In addition to the demonstration, films were shown on farm tractor safety, and periodic maintenance.

The films were shown by Mr. R. E. Cantrell, Agriculture representative, Standard Oil Company. Mr. Cantrell also led a discussion on the proper choice and use of lubricants and the importance of performing daily and periodic maintenance services. These are most important to long life and economic operation of the farm tractor.

In as much as farm mechanization has become such a major factor in our modern day agriculture, the Vocational Agriculture Department is adopting it's farm mechanics program to give the students studying vocational agriculture a working knowledge of farm mechanics and preventative maintenance. The tractor clinic is a part of the emphasis that is being placed on the farm mechanics program in Verbena Vocational Agriculture Department.

These tractor clinics are made possible through the cooperation of the Agriculture Representative of the Standard Oil Company and the local Standard Oil Agent, Mr. W. H. Thomas.

ALABAMA FARMERS PAY LESS FOR LUMBER
Compared with other states, farmers in Alabama are fortunate in the cost of lumber. API Extension Marketing Specialist A. W. Jones points out that Alabama farmers pay $93.50 per thousand board feet for a commonly used item-ship-lap common pine No. 2 and better. The average for the whole country is $133 per thousand board feet. Only farmers in North Carolina and Washington pay a lower price, says Jones. And farmers in Utah pay the highest price-$178 per thousand.

After 37 Years--

Bean Retires As Postmaster

About Town
by Ben

LUTHER Bean will retire on the last day of November, after 37 years as an employee of the Clanton post office. Four and a half of those years were as Postmaster. Mr. Bean stated:

"I am retiring from the position of postmaster at Clanton, Ala., on November 30, 1959.

I take this means to thank the general public and my friends for making it possible for me to have had the honor of serving you as clerk, assistant postmaster and postmaster for more than 37 years.

I began work in the local post office as clerk on September 1, 1922 under my uncle, Wiley M. Bean and served under 4 postmasters, W. M. Bean, Billy Smith, H. F. Downs and R. N. Lowe, until my appointment as postmaster June 6, 1955. At the time I commenced work in the local post office I was the only clerk and the office was third class with receipts of approximately $6000 annually. At this time this office is first class with 4 clerks and assistant postmaster and has receipt of approximately $6000.

My association with all has been most pleasant. I hope I have served you in a manner worthy of the high trust you have placed in me. I hope I can continue to have the good will of all.

I have no immediate plans for the future even though my retirement has been considered for some time. I will possibly leave how to spend some time with the local deer hunters and fishermen of the area.

Best wishes for all and I hope it will be possible for me to serve you in some other manner in the future."

Respectfully yours,
Luther P. Bean, Postmaster

The Day Before The Feast

Talkin' Turkey... Turkey Fashion

THE Mr. and Mrs. Pictured here are most likely discussing the discrimination and humiliation of being associated with a feast without cranberry sauce... but then, that's life, for a turkey anyway! What they should be considering is "how do we get out of this mess". They look like they know their goose is cooked and are proud of it. Maybe turkeys are proud of their lot in life; we certainly have nothing against their lot... especially on Thanksgiving Day. These prize specimens have likely already been led to the slaughter, but what better way to go, than on a table heaped with bounteous goodies! Hey Ma! Pass the Turkey!

COUNTY AGENT DISCUSSES THE COUNTY SOILS

What is the fertility of soils in Chilton County?

According to County Agent M. R. Glascock many of the soils in Chilton County are infertile. He emphasized that low soil fertility was one of the main reasons farmers obtained low per-acre crop yields.

50% Below Normal

For example, above 50 percent of the soils in the county are below 641 6/10, which is too acid for optimum growth of most crops. "The primary reason for acid soils is that farmers are not using adequate lime," stated Mr. Glascock. "For example, only 10 percent of the cropland and plowable pasture received lime. Only 200 tons of lime were used in the entire county."

50,000 Tons of Lime

"Yet a recent survey made by Agricultural Extension Service specialists showed that it would take near 50,000 tons of lime to raise all Chilton County farm lands to optimum levels. To maintain them at proper levels, 1600 tons of lime should then be applied annually."

Agent Endorses

M. R. Glascock said it would be difficult to cite another agricultural practice which gives a greater dollar return than using lime when needed.

Another factor limiting fertility is insufficient potash. Approximately 66 percent of the soils tested in Chilton County are low in this vital element. To overcome this serious problem, County Agent emphasized that more farmers should use fertilizers high in potash, such as -12-12 or 0-10-20.

Enrich Your Soil

"Low crop yields and small profits come from infertile soils and poor management, just as high crop yields and big profits come from rich soils and good management. Fertilizer and lime are the tools which can enrich poor soils and bring about a more prosperous agriculture," declared M. R. Glascock.

Determine by soil test the correct grade and amount of fertilizer and lime to use for higher yields and bigger farm profits.

BETTER SPEECH CLUB PRESENTS A PROGRAM

ON Friday, November 13, the students of the sixth grade of Clanton Elementary School, under the leadership and love of their teacher, Mrs. Curry Thomas, presented a program in observance of American Education Week. The skit that was presented was entitled, "A Day at School."

The classroom was attractively decorated with the colors of red and white, which are the colors of the Better Speech Club. Each parent and guest of the students were present with a red and white Better Speech Club pin.

The parents were delighted to follow their children through a typical day of school. From the welcome to the class of the skit we know that the children in their work are the things that will help them in actual living. The present day provides many new and progressive things of our school. The maps, charts, library books, art, reference books, and television are the things that are used in their work.

We are indeed grateful to have a teacher in our school as Mrs. Thomas. She is always keeping foremost in her mind the development of our children's moral and spiritual, intellectual, social, and all of life's need according to each child. She is always ready to help each child find his place in the world, and to give him the love and desire to want to do his best.

Every student in the class took an active part in the program, and the subjects and leaders are as follows:

Welcome and description of class room, Beth Maddox; Devotional, Deloras Edwards; Arithmetic, Nelda Mullins; Social Studies, Helen Mims; Writing, Shirley Tucker; Physical Education, Ronald Gore; Attitudes, Patricia Bason.

Language, David Johnson; Spelling, Mary Evelyn Patterson; Health, Margaret Glascock; Science by Jerry Rhodes; Reading, Sara Jo Wyatt; Art, Charles Honeycutt; Music, Judy Johnson.

After the program the class marched to the front and sang the club song. Poems were given by members of the class. Then Edwin Wilson, class president, closed the day at school.

The parents would like to thank Mrs. Thomas for the work she is doing in our school.

TURKEY on the table and bicarb in the cabinet...
Happy Thanksgiving!

IF you don't give thanks on Thursday, you don't really realize how well off you are!

DON'T forget the Jaycee Christmas Parade December 4th. It will really put you in the spirit of things.

THERE is no question that Chilton is on the grow ... wish we had a hunk of real estate around these parts and we'd prove our point'.

THE Greek word for bread is "psomi". Germans call it "brot" and the Spanish call it "pan". No matter what you call the staff of life, they tell us that there are untold thousands who do not enjoy even the basic essential to daily living. . you might consider that when you sit down to feast on Thanksgiving!

WHAT WE WANT IS ACTION --

ON September 24 of this year the News embarked on a renewed program effort for obtaining for Chilton County a new Courthouse building. Since that time we have received hundreds of comments, pro and con and scores of signatures, all favorable on the proposal.

The topic is not political. It is a public and social necessity. There are no axes to grind and no certificates of merit or badges of courage to be handed out.
It is a thing that must be done if we are to continue in our progressive state.

It is the people's choice. It has been left entirely up to the citizens of this County. The Board has gone on record unanimously favoring such a move and money is available to begin the project and then some.
The need is obvious. It is time this undertaking, was marked "top priority" and the necessary business transacted.

It is your County and your Courthouse, such as it is now; we only hope it doesn't fall down around your ears before something constructive is done about the matter. We will not get tired of supporting the project, but the courthouse isn't getting any younger or any better and your official and legal business is suffering from the squeeze.

Let's make a decision. . . now!

OUR RESPONSIBILITIES --

SOME editors and other people will disagree with us and say that a newspaper does not have the freedom to suppress news, of any form, even though it be detrimental to the community.

We disagree with this train of thought for this reason: Our responsibility to a growing prosperous community is one of our foremost duties and we feel that to fail in this duty would be to fail in our reason for existence.

The sensational and the "scoop" sells newspapers,
'tis true! However, a much more rewarding frame is that of boosting a growing community and being a part of something worthwhile, even if it means passing up a "scoop" or two!

Many times we would like more than anything else, to break a story, and give 'er the gun. However, on closer observing, the story is not all that important, but human nature being what it is, would likely cause gossip. We will not print a story, until we are positive of all the factors involved, when it can have a harmful effect on the community. We have some supporters who proclaim "oh if I were an editor I'd dig up all the dirt I could"! That is entirely possible, but it would not be fulfilling what we assume our obligation to our community. . . and we're proud of the fact that we don't
"dig up all the dirt"!

THE BLACK SHEEP --

IT is getting to the point where any aspirant for a political office in Chilton County feels he must join the "machine" or be defeated by running on his own merits.

It is appalling enough to note that a man has so little confidence in himself that he would not set out to lick the "machine" where there was such a situation prevailing. It is more appalling that we should have such a prevalent feeling that there was a political "machine" in Chilton County.

We all have observed what political machines can do to a community and, for that matter, to a nation. . .
look at the Prohibition era!

Phenix City has been another greatly publicized victim of machine politics.

Chilton County is rapidly growing out of knee pains in many fields. There is no doubt that the "machine" element is present and we, as individuals must fight with every conceivable means to honestly and efficiently thwart such a situation.

We are not even suggesting the possibility of another "Phenix City," but where there is political connivance it is evident that every citizen must be alert to his duties to avoid harm to his community and thus, his family and friends.

Keep this in mind: the one thing that the political "machine" thrives heartiest on is public apathy--the unwillingness of the people to accept their public and political responsibilities. Politics, like our faces, are dirty, only if we, the people, fail to keep them clean!

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR DISABLED
FARMERS

"Farm-City Week, a Nationwide observance calling attention to the common goals and common needs of rural and city people, by coincidence also marks the beginning of social security disability protection for farmers. It has already been earned by most city workers." Cecil L. Simpson, District Manager of the Birmingham Social Security Office said today.

Beginning October 1, 1959, Simpson pointed out, the farmer who has a severe long-term disability -- and cannot do any substantial amount of work, may qualify for monthly social security benefits for himself and his dependents, if he is at least 50 years old. If he is under 50, he may qualify to have his social security record frozen to protect his future benefit rights.

April 1960
April 1960 will be the first month disabled farmers can get payments for themselves and their families.
For many farmers who have been covered by social security only since the beginning of 1955, October 1

CEREBRAL PALSY

Of the various types of cerebral palsy, the one characterized by contracted muscles or spasticity is the most common. In spastic palsy, the muscles tend to contract far more strongly to stimulation than is necessary to bring about the movement of the limbs desired.
The victim knuts up when movement is attempted, there is a scissorr gait as the legs cross over each other, knees rub together tightly at each step, and the elbows, wrists and fingers are bent and stiff.

Treatment of victims of cerebral palsy calls for long and arduous care and training of the patient, and in many cases the results are rewarding. In fact, many spastic children can learn to dress and feed themselves, some can do work at home, and a certain number eventually can take their place in life as independent individuals.
There are an estimated 200,000 to 300,000 cerebral palsy victims in this country.

Authorities insist that six out of every seven children born with cerebral palsy survive. Of these, two will be feeble-minded and require institutional care. Assuming that the remaining four are mentally normal, usually one is crippled to the extent he is considered homebound, and one is handicapped only slightly and will be able to compete with normal children. The remaining two are those who present the greatest problem as to their physical and academic education.

With proper treatment and training, these moderately disabled, mentally normal cerebral-palsy patients can be greatly improved.
And, in many cases, they can regularly attend school after having had care in treatment-training schools or centers. Cerebral palsy is due to brain injury, usually before or during birth, which affects the central nervous system.

Limit the freezing load to two or three pounds of food for each cubic foot of freezer capacity.

But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren."
--(St. Luke 23:32.)

Upon each one of us who,
through Jesus the Redeemer, have been blessed by God, there rests the great responsibility of extending a helping hand to those who falter in darkness and in weakness in their quest for His grace, His love.

DO you try to be gay
On Thanksgiving Day;
AND show thanks
For the plenty you've got.
OR do you sit 'round

And wish for a change
In your lot.
WE'VE all got to pay
And make our own way
IT'S the nature of things

YOU can wish for the world,
But as long as you're 'surled'

SOIL TESTING IS YOUR GUIDE TO FERTILIZATION

Adding mineral fertilizers to any soil without first determining its acidity and fertility level by soil testing is unsound and frequently wasteful.
A soil test will assist you in locating acid soils on your farm. It will also tell you and pH level of your soil. A soil with a pH value of 5.0 to 5.5 is too acid for most crops, but do better when the pH value is between 6.0 and 6.5.
Lower Soil Acidity
Unless soil acidity is lowered through proper use of lime, most plants will not grow out 'as they should, no matter how much fertilizer you apply.

What To Use

If your soil contains an level of phosphat or potash, should use a 4-12-4 2or other phosphate-potash ratio ferti-
But if the soil tests low in phosphate and high in potash, 4-fertilizer should be used.
Don't guess -- soil test!

First TD, Maplesville
In the first quarter, Southpaw Bobby Edwards hurled a 15 yard pass to end Howard Graham for Maplesville's first TD. Edwards ran the extra point.

On third down Tim Moore hit left tackle and sprinted 64 yards to put dirt. The extra point was good and Maplesville had built up a 19 to 6 lead.

Verbena Takes Kick
Verbena then took the kick and began to move. Earl Traywick ran 3 yards around left end and Wallace Scarborough got 12 yards which contributed much to the drive that went down to the four yard line.

At that spot Verbena fumbled and Maplesville recovered killing the Verbena threat.

CCHS Begins Basketball Season Tuesday Night

by Wayne Atcheson

The 1959-60 edition of the CCHS Basketball campaign commences Tuesday night at Jemison.

The Tigers have an entirely new team this year with three exceptions. They are Jimmy Tiffin, Clarke Hutchinson and Wayne Mizell who are the only lettermen returning this fall.

This year's schedule pictures two new teams in Marianna, Fla., and Alexandria.

Two Week -End Trips
Two week end trips are on schedule for this season. The first one comes next week when the Tigers will play Luverne on Friday night and then journey to Marianna for a tilt on Saturday night.

The team has a total of twenty games, not counting the tournament at Luverne during the Christmas holidays and the district tournament.

Taller Team This Year
This year the team has one of it's tallest teams in years. In the first ten boys, which is the "A" team, there are six boys whose height is over six feet.

As strange as it seems the ten boys heights is exactly six feet and Coach V. L. Bulger is counting on these boys to win some hall games.

At Forward
At forward, Jimmy Tiffin 6'3" is a returning letterman who will be counted on much in crabbing those rebounds, and hitting on his jump shots.

Buddy Vines 6'2" didn't play last year, but he should be a big help at forward also this year.

Billy Eates 6' 1 1/2" and Elliott Monroe 5'11" will see a lot of duty

A Pivot Post
Donnie Bolgef 6'4" and Wayne Mizell 6'1 1/2" will play the pivot post. Mizell lettered last year and both are being counted on to make the Tigers yell this season.

Clarke Hutchinson 6'3" is a two year letterman at guard. Also at guard is John Will Wyatt 5'9" and Leroy Arthur 5' 9" two good ball handlers.

Also playing guard is Doug Jones 5' 9", a senior transfer from Aiken, South Carolina. Jones lettered last year at Aiken.

So the teams looks good so far and they should be able to win many games this season.

Coach Ray Scruggs has some good boys on the B team.

Probable Starting Lineup
The starting five will probably be Clay Carroll at center, Dale Adcox, a transfer from Collins Chapel, and Randall Price from Vermont at forwards, and David Headley from Enterprise and Keith or Kenneth Mims at guards.

BILLINGSLEY TOPS JEMISON 13 - 0

Hubert V. Ray
THE Jemison Panthers kicked off Billingsley Bears to start the '60 season.

Jemison fumbled the game away. Thus giving them 6 loses for the season.

The Panthers had the ball on their five yard line twice, but no avail. A fumble broke up the first threat and half time caught the Panthers again on Billingsley's one yard line. Score at half was 0-0.

Jemison Receives
Jemison received at second half but they fumbled it away again. The tie broke in the fourth quarter.

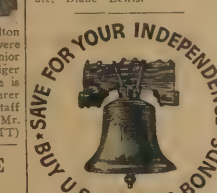

James Rhodes passed to Geo. Wilkins for a Billingsley touchdown. Andrew Dennis ran 20 yds. for a Billingsley second TD on a pitchoff. The point was made this time.

Final score was Billingsley 13 - Jemison 0. Last year's score was Jemison 25-Billingsley 14.

STATISTICS
Jemison	Billingsley
First downs	11 9
Rush yds.	197 134
Pass yds.	27 68
Passes completed	1-4 6-16
Passes int'd.	1 0
Fumbles lost	4 0
Yds. Penalized	35 10

Jemison Losing Players

The players we are losing through graduation are listed below: John Barnett, Donny Guy, Jimmy Posey, Kent Salter, Earl Smith. We would like to congratulate these boys and cannot forget to mention our fine cheerleaders. They are: LaNelle Martin, head, Judy Davis, Eleven Porter, Sue Head, Joyce Champion, Gwendolyn Clecker, Helen Mean, Shirley Rhodes and substitute, Diane Lewis.

ALL-COUNTY TEAM WILL BE CHOSEN 2 WEEKS FROM TOMORROW

The all-county team will be announced two weeks from tomorrow. The coaches have received or will receive their ballots today or tomorrow.

Each coach will vote for 22 players, and I am asking the coaches to send their ballots in so that I can receive them by next Tuesday.

Also the boys selected will be contacted and be asked to come to Clanton for pictures.

So watch next week's News for more information.

ATCHESON'S PREDICTIONS...

LAST week ended my football predictions column and I picked two out of the three games played. Billingsley kinda surprised me (and probably many other people) when they beat Jemison 13 to 0.

But my seasonal total was 13 right, 6 losses, and one tie for a 75% percentage.

STORE ROOT CROPS ON GROUND FOR THE WINTER

A storage cellar is an ideal place to keep root crops such as carrots, beets, turnips, rutabagas, and parsnips for use during the winter.

However, these crops can also be kept on the ground, says Auburn University Extension Horticulturist John Bagby. Select a well drained spot, and clean and level the ground. Then place a three-inch layer of pine, oak, or wheat straw on the leveled area.

According to Bagby, the roots should be piled in a pyramid on top of the straw. Then cover the vegetables with a thick layer of straw and about three inches of soil.

The horticulturist warns against putting root crops in storage too early. Wait until the roots are thoroughly chilled by cool weather. Then leave about an inch stem on the roots when preparing them for storage.

C. C. H. S. "B" TEAM GOES UNBEATEN

by Wayne Atcheson
The Clanton "B" team went undefeated in five games that they played this season.

One of the games although resulted in a tie. That one was in the first game against Selma.

Probably their biggest victory of the season came against Cloverdale. The bagby tigers were down 13 to 6 at the end of the third quarter, but came back in the fourth and scored 13 points to win.

All of the following played good football and will probably turn out to be good varsity players in a year or two: Norton McCray and Curtis Deason at ends; Thomas Earl Mims and Johnnie Mims at tackles; Robert Traywick and Slim Vines at guards; Roscoe Williams at center; Hilliard Ward at Quarterback; Jim Mullins and Guy Ray at halfbacks and Douglas Coe at Fullback.

Clanton 6 -- Selma 6.

Clanton 9 -- Cloverdale 13.

Clanton 7 -- Prattville 0

Clanton 13 -- Marbury 6

Clanton 19 -- Marbury 14.

WARREN EDWARDS TAKEN OUT OF TRACTION

IF it was left up to me and my writing I would have already had Warren Edwards home. But he is still being kept in the hospital.

The doctors last week took Warren out of traction and put a cast on him. The cast goes from over his head to his hips.

Everyone is still longing to see Warren come home in good health.

HOW TO HANDLE YOUR WILD GAME MEAT

The reason many people don't like the flavor of wild game is that the game they have eaten was not handled properly from gun shot to table.

Game birds, squirrels, and rabbits should be cooled quickly, says API Extension Wildlife Specialist Earl Kenamer. The body cavity should be cleaned and meat placed in a cool, dry place or refrigerator for three or four days. This short storage period helps to tenderize the meat and improve the flavor.

And the specialist has a trick for storing game birds, particularly doves and quail, in the freezer. He recommends storing the birds in plastic containers—not bags—and immediately filling the container with ice water to about an inch from the top. Then quick freeze. Covering with ice water keeps the meat from drying out, explains Kenamer.

Thanks to Mrs. Erlo Short, our lunchroom cook for good wholesome meals each day.

Our attendance is fair this month but it should be better.

Woods Jewelry Established As One Of Chilton's Finest

SHOWN here are Mr. O. F. Woods and Mrs. Jewel Gentry in the shopping center of Chilton County. They are located between the banks in Clanton and await your pleasure. You see that smile... well, that says welcome!

IN the early part of 1958, February to be exact, one Orville Franklin Woods opened a jewelry business between the banks in Clanton.

From the beginning, Mr. Woods, expressed a determination to handle only the best merchandise and by-pass all low-quality merchandise that is glutting the market.

He has proved his conviction that people want quality and service and he has lived up to his determination and given them just that: "Quality and Service".

Mr. Woods is expert in the field of watch repairs also, having 15 years experience in the field and graduating from the Forrest City School of Watchmaking in Arkansas and the Southern Watchmaking Institute in Birmingham, Alabama.

Woods Jewelry is the Franchised Dealer in this area for Lord and Lady Elgin watches and Long-Life Diamonds. He prides himself and his business on these products as well as his complete line of Gemex and J. B. watchbands, Foster and many other nationally advertised quality items.

His employees include Steve Rennings, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Rennings, who is 17 and handles all clock repairs for the business. His employer states that he knows more about clock repairing than he does, so if "old ding" won't ring take it to Woods, don't throw it away!

Mrs. Jewel Gentry, recently employed, is happy to serve the ladies who want a woman's opinion on matters of gifts for that somebody special. Mrs. Gentry is a former school teacher in Chilton County and is thus widely known. She lives in Clanton at 109 5th Street. One son, Billy, is graduated from API and working in Florida.

Woods is "convenience headquarters"! For instance: right now you can buy a gents birthstone ring, normally selling for $24.95 for only $14.95... that's a real savings! And for those who are a little pinched for cash due to the coming "gift giving" season, they have a Lay-A-Way Plan and Easy Budget Terms to help ease the strain of Christmas gift-buying.

Getting back to the boss! He has been employed in Chilton County as a jeweler since 1951, so that makes him practically a local yokel like us!

He has a fine family made up of wife, the former Carrie Mae Lewis of Birmingham (they were married on April 26, 1945) Margaret Rose, 11; Andrea Lewis, 7; Orville Franklin, Jr., 6; and little Miss Amy Louise, 3%.

If your gift-problem is acute, see Mr. Woods, Mrs. Gentry or Steve at Woods Jewelry Co. where quality and service reign supreme and satisfied customers are numbered by the score! A welcome addition to Chilton's list of growing merchants and thriving community.

HOW LIMING INCREASES YIELDS OF ACID SOILS

Most legumes, pasture plants, and field crops do better on well limed soil than on an acid soil. Liming the soil may make the difference between success and failure. Under most conditions liming makes it possible to grow a good crop instead of a poor one.

Lime materials supply calcium and magnesium in readily available form. They increase the availability of potassium and phosphorus, also. Plants grown on limed soil have higher contents of these elements, all of which are essential to man and animals. Liming encourages the growth of legumes, which become especially rich in protein. Legumes also fix nitrogen. As lime decreases the acidity of the soil, it has far-reaching effects on crop growth and yields. For example, phosphates are more available to plants in the pH range 6.0 to 7.0 than below 6.0 or above 7.5. In cotton experiments, results have shown that one pound of phosphate produced more cotton at pH 6.0 than two pounds did at pH 5.1.

Pasture research shows that one pound of phosphate produced more herbage at pH 6.0 than three pounds did at pH 5.2. In the case of white clover pastures, 60 percent more forage was produced on limed pastures.

Peanut research shows that maximum response to fertilizer cannot be expected unless adequate calcium is available in the fruiting zone. Likewise, corn, soybeans, small grain, grain sorghums, grass-legume mixtures, and legumes must have an application.

ALABAMA FARM LANDS NEED MUCH MORE LIME

The benefits of adding liming materials to our agricultural soils have been known for centuries. Yet, we in Chilton County are using only about one-eighth the lime we should apply each year. It is possible that many Alabama farmers have been lulled into a false sense of security regarding their real needs for lime. The label non-acid-forming material on certain fertilizers may have led them to think they are liming their soil when they use this kind of fertilizer.

This is not true. Liming materials are the only materials that effectively change the soil pH to the range necessary for maximum crop returns.

The use of acid-forming fertilizers and insecticides accounts for only 5 to 10 percent of the total lime loss on Alabama farms. Crop removal, erosion and leaching, account for the other 90 to 95 percent. A sound liming program based on a soil test is absolutely necessary. It is the only way to insure good crop yields.

Soil tests are a sound basis for the best recommendations. Few essential practices can be carried out more accurately or with greater assurance of financial returns. The soil test shows how much lime, phosphorus, and potash is

FACTORS THAT DETERMINE GOOD OF PEANUT HAY

Peanut hay is one of the numerous by-products of the peanut crop.

For best quality, peanut hay should be baled and stored immediately after threshing. According to Auburn University Extension Agronomist Jasper Jernigan, how and when it's harvested and how it's cured determines its quality.

When the hay is left in the field and exposed to weather, it quickly loses its value. Jernigan adds that hay from vines treated with copper-sulfur is usually higher in quality than hay from untreated plants. This is because the treated vines contain more leaves. Hay yields from runner peanuts are usually about 1 1/2 to two tons of hay per ton of nuts.

Above average farmers don't look down on soil testing. They use soil tests because they are interested in producing top yields of high-quality crops.

To get top yields, you should have your soil tested regularly and use sufficient amounts of fertilizer to build up and maintain a high fertility level.

Alabama Soils receive only 1/5 of the lime needed annually!

Alabama uses only a fifth of the lime it needs. On thousands of fields a shortage of lime is holding down production. Unless something is done about this, yields will drop even more severely in the future than they have in the past. Soil test to determine how much lime you need this year.

MISS SARRIS
HEAD OF TAP PROGRAM

Miss Dorothy Ann "Dot" Sarris has been appointed State Chairman of the Teen Age Program (TAP) of the National Foundation, it was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the March of Dimes organization.

"To meet the demands of the National Foundation's new program which now includes birth defects and arthritis as well as polio, we are expanding the ranks of our volunteers to include teen-agers," Mrs. O'Connor said.

"I am sure that they can be among the most effective volunteer workers. For this reason, they will be given increasing opportunities to take on responsibilities connected with the public education programs for Salk vaccinations and special services for patients in hospitals, clinics and homes. One of the first duties will be helping with the New March of Dimes," Mr. O'Connor said.

Miss Sarris will be serving for the second consecutive year as state TAP chairman for Alabama. She was named to the post by Jefferson County TAP chairman in 1958. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sarris, 666 McMillan Avenue, Birmingham, Dot is currently engaged more at Auburn University. In a busy campus life as a sophomore she served as Red Cross Representative, was vice-president of the student body, head cheerleader and listed in Senior "Who's Who" as Best Worker.

A member of Tri-Hi-Y, served as vice-president and president of official delegate to three national Tri-Hi-Y conventions. She was Feature Editor of her school paper, was a member of the National Honor Society and held offices in her Junior Achievement committee for two years. She is a member of Delta Delta Sorority, served on the Freshman Advisory Committee, the Dance Committee and the Gloom and Plainsman staffs.

Something for the Bird

When you pass your plate for a second, and pass it again for a third, And each time it's generously heaped, with slices of Thanksgiving bird Plus cranberries, yams and stuffing, and then you proceed to some pie, Your digestion just wouldn't be human if it didn't go slightly awry.

Now you shouldn't collapse on the sofa, or into an over-stuffed chair, Then silently sit and suffer, when it's easy enough to repair. The damage that over-indulgence has done to your holiday mood. When the wherewithal is handy for settling the surplus food.

Just head for the bathroom or kitchen, where baking soda is kept, Whip up a soda chaser, which you're sure to find very adept At calming your jangled inners, and reviving the spirit gone limp, And you'll soon feel as light as a feather, instead of full blown as a blimp.

ADA IS HOLDING SERIES OF DIS. MEETINGS

The American Dairy Association of Alabama will continue its circuit of district meetings throughout the first of next month. Seven of the district meetings have been held, with five more still to take place. A.D.A. counties from district nine will meet at the youth center in Dadeville on Monday, Nov. 30. Alabama Power Company in Anniston will be the meeting place for district six Tuesday, Dec. 1. District three will meet Wednesday, Dec. 2, in the auditorium of the activity building in Ft. Payne. And on Thursday, Dec. 3, district two will meet in Culman at the REA Auditorium. Winding up the circuit will be the district one meeting in Florence at the municipal building Friday, Dec. 4.

Each meeting will include a dairy princess program, election of new directors, and a review of the A.D.A. research grant at Auburn. Dr. K. M. Autrey, head of the for shipment are being tested. Penicillin and other antibiotics used for treating mastitis and other infections should always be used within their limitations, warns Parrish. If dairymen follow manufacturers' instructions for antibiotic usage, no adulteration of milk will occur. Ordinarily, milk cannot be sold until 72 hours after treatment. Inspectors for controlling flies around barns and on animals must be carefully supervised to prevent contamination of milk, feed, water, or milking equipment. And only specific chemicals are safe for direct use on lactating animals, adds the dairyman.

According to Auburn University Extension Entomologist Jerry Ruffin, two or three tablespoons of 50 percent wettable methoxychlor can be directly applied on milk cows without residue danger. Apply the chemical only by hand and use no more than every two to three weeks. Dairymen can also use sprays containing pyrethrin, althrin, pipernyl butoxide, lethrin, thianth, and repellents such as MCK II, 326, tetrax and crag. But even these insecticides should be applied only when there is no danger of getting them directly into the milk. Full information regarding this problem is available through your local Extension agents, county and state health officials, or local veterinarians, reports Parrish.

NAVEL JOINT DISEASE IN PIGS

Young pigs may become crippled in the farrowing house. This crippling usually occurs in seven- to ten-day-old pigs and may be in the form of swollen joints, knots on the elbow and other spots or lameness and death. Auburn University Extension Hog Production Specialist G. B. Phillips explains that the common name for this condition is navel joint disease. It is caused by germs that enter the pig's body through the navel soon after birth.

To prevent this disease, a rigid sanitation program should be followed. Clean the farrowing house before the sow enters it. Also Phillips recommends painting the navel of the pigs with tincture of iodine soon after birth. The navel cord should be clipped and treated with iodine immediately after birth. These germs can also enter the baby pig's body through broken places in the skin. Animals in farrowing houses with concrete floors and no bedding often skin their knees while nursing. To prevent this from occurring, use shavings or other bedding on concrete or wooden floors. And if the knees are skinned, treat them immediately with iodine.

When disease symptoms are found, inject one cc of penicillin into the muscle each day. Do this

NATURAL GAS RATES TAKE 7% HIKE HERE

DUE to an increase in cost of Natural gas to the City of Clanton from our suppliers, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, we are forced to pass this increase of about seven percent (7%) on to our consumer.

A few years ago the City absorbed an increase in the cost of gas, therefore, this increase will have no effect on the Consumer. We, the City officials, have tried to think of a plan that we could use so the rates could remain as is, but as of to date we haven't. This increase will be effective on your next billing.

Sincerely,
J. Hollis Jackson, Mayor

WE now stand with our backs to Thanksgiving (figuratively speaking) and facing the Yuletide season with all its fun, frolic and confusion. The halfway mark has been reached for the biggest run of holidays of the year. From the middle is a good place to take a look at most anything or any situation, so while we are in a position to take a good long look, let's decide here and now to treat the coming season with the respect and the tradition of a fine, old-fashioned Christmas. You know what we mean!

TO ERR IS HUMAN... --

A lady, we know not whom, called us this past week concerning some news, very important to her and rightly so, which we had failed to print. We did our levellest to convince her that it was an honest error and that we were firmly opposed to any kind of discrimination in our news reporting. She was unconvinced, to say the least, and hung up on us right in the middle of an apology. At that point, it was kind of hard to feel apologetic, but we are and we maintain that it was an error and we will do all in our power to rectify the misunderstanding. The lady gave us her name, which we did not catch, but she was concerned about the Hillcrest Community. We assure her, that we too are concerned about Hillcrest and ever other community in Chilton County. Our aim is community service and we do not designate any particular community. . . Chilton County is our prime interest. "To err is human, to forgive, divine!" We are definitely human, m'am!

JAYCEES SPARK CHRISTMAS SEASON--

FRIDAY, December 4th, the Clanton Junior Chamber of Commerce officially ushers in the Christmas Season in Clanton and Chilton County by bringing Santa Claus in to help celebrate the festivities. This has grown into an annual affair by the Jaycees and is growing in size and interest each year. Many businesses and organizations are participating in the big parade along with the CCHS Band and a Color Guard from the local National Guard Unit. Be on hand in Clanton Friday, December 4 at 4 p.m. and help bring in the Christmas Spirit.

The Inside Picture

Knowledge is a potent weapon against any enemy. In the fight against tuberculosis the knowledge supplied by a chest X-ray is a big gun. Case-finding and health education are vital activities of your tuberculosis association, which Christmas Seal contributions help support.

NO HOME SAFE, UNTIL ALL HOMES ARE SAFE!

Once again the citizens of Chilton County have pledged their faith in the voluntary fight against tuberculosis by supporting the Christmas Seal appeal, said Mrs. R. M. Tucker, Christmas Seal Chairman.

Reporting on the results of the 1959 Seal campaign to date, she said she hoped contributions would continue to come in and bring the total to its present amount to somewhere near the amount estimated as necessary to carry on the association's essential activities during the coming year.

A Child's Church

By Bro. W. B. Cox, Rt. 2, Clanton
What does the church mean to a child?
Is it a place to go on Sunday and stay a while?
Or a place in his memory he'll keep, Where as a child he felt free to laugh or weep.
As the story of Jesus the teacher told,
Or how Joseph into slavery was sold.
How the Children of Israel out of Egypt were led,
How manna fell from Heaven, so they could be fed.
They'll remember Jonah was swallowed by a whale,
Prayer got Paul and Silas out of jail,
Daniel was cast in the lion den, Because he honored God instead of men.
The laws of the lion, God locked;
Those sinful people it must have been a shock.

Pat Boone Tells Teen-Agers Bible Can Answer Questions

Turn to the Bible for the answers to life's Big Questions, urges Pat Boone, popular television actor and screen star. This is his primary advice to teen-agers--and their parents--as he launches a new series of sponsored articles for teen-agers in the December Ladies' Home Journal. If he could, he would put a Bible in the hands of every teen-ager, he declares.
Boone, who is equally popular as a singer and a teen-ager counselor, singles out two names the problems which he believes each will remedy. The troubles range from the blues to the blues.
The verses are familiar ones. For example, if you feel lonely and unprotected, you'll find solace, he says, in the ninety-first Psalm, "The Lord is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in Him will I trust."
If people criticize you harshly there is consolation in the fifteenth chapter of St. John which asks "that ye love one another as I have loved you."
If the world hates you, know that it hated me before it hated you. . . If they have persecuted me, they will persecute you."
Should you be troubled with the age-old problem of money,

TURKEY on the table, fang Gooites all around, let's dine. NEXT day, Turkey cold as kraut Hey Ma, Turq the old bird out! TURKEY hash and Turkey stew. Oil for something green and new. FOUR days later, Turkey soup Next year we hope he flies the coop!

THERE are only three of us in Dad's fam. children that is, myself and my two sisters. In September my kid sister gave birth to a boy named Jay. In October my wife gave birth to a boy named Mark. In November my oldest sister gave birth to a boy named Randy. The youngest in the family came first and the oldest last. It was the first for the youngest; the third for myself and the fifth (and she says final) for the oldest. That ain't no record as far as statistics go, but according to my Dad, it's a record as far as he's concerned. . . and boy has he got grandsons!

THEY've finally invaded the last outpost of a man's pleasures with taxes! A cuppa coffee now has a tax tacked onto it. This time it is a 1 cent and worthy tax, but just the only place left for a fella to forget his problems and carra and woes was over a cup of coffee. . . and now, even that stales back at him! What ya' gonna do?

UNDERSTAND! however, speaking of taxes, that there is a bill making the rounds that would cut withholding (the sore spot) taxes to a minimum of 25% over a period. Now that's something that will appeal to the voters and the av-erage citizen. That, along with increased economy in government spending and well start climbing out of this tax hole we are now wallowing in!

ALA. IS 140 YEARS YOUNG NEXT WEEK

MONTGOMERY, Ala. -- The State of Alabama will be 140 years old next week, and Gov. John Patterson will mark the historic occasion by proclaiming the week beginning Monday as Alabama Statehood Week.
Said the governor in his proclamation:
"I call upon all people of Alabama to join in giving thanks for their heritage as Alabamians and to observe the week with appropriate ceremonies given to the purpose of recounting the glorious history of their state and preserving the principles upon which it was established."
A special program is planned here Dec. 14, the state's birthday.

FIRE PROTECTION
Now is the time for all good householders to check for fire protection. Fires kill more than 10,000 persons in the United States every year. More than one billion dollars is the cost of fires in this country, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Many deaths from fire occur in the home. Carelessness causes more fires than any other cause. There's no place like home for neglecting to check fire hazards. Many home fires are related to stoves, furnaces, and fireplaces. Heaters of all kinds should be installed and operated according to regulations, kept free from soot, and not excessively overheated. No inflammable material should be allowed near heaters and all fireplaces should be screened. Fires start from kerosene, gasoline, or benzene after these fluids have leaked from containers or pipe lines. Inflammable cleaning fluids are a hazard around the home chiefly because of the danger that they may be ignited by static electricity while in use. Spontaneous combustion, generally in rubbish containing damp loose papers and dirty rags, accounts for many home fires. Misuse of electricity and defects in wiring are frequent causes of fire. Matches are responsible for kept in a metal container and more starting fires and they should be importantly, away from children. The largest single cause of fire is carelessness in smoking. Discarded cigarettes should be placed in ashtrays and not on the edge of tables, where they may fall on inflammable material. Fires often result when a person is smoking in bed and falls asleep. Most victims of fire in the home are children under six years old. One person in the United States dies from fire every hour.

Governor to Open New Interstate Highway

First link in Alabama's new Interstate System of Highways, shown above, is scheduled to be officially opened Dec. 10 by Gov. John Patterson (inset), whose administration is embarked on a four-year, $671 million road-building program. Paved with 10-inch, heavy-duty concrete, the new highway is one of the most modern in the United States. It is located north of Birmingham with the Warrior Interchange visible in the background. New U. S. 31, the new roadway is to be redesignated Interstate Route 65. The ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be sponsored by the Alabama Roadbuilders Association.

Road-Building Program Reaches Milestone Dec. 10

MONTGOMERY, Ala. -- Alabama road-building passes a milestone next week with the formal opening of the first link of new Interstate Highway, a modern network of limited-access roadways spanning the nation.

"ALA. Good Roads Day" Gov. John Patterson will snip a ribbon opening the brand new stretch of highway north of Birmingham next Thursday afternoon, a day which he has set aside by official proclamation as "Alabama Good Roads Day."

To be dedicated then is an eight-mile section of Interstate Route 65, a super-highway linking Nashville, Birmingham, Montgomery and Mobile. When completed, some 671 miles of Interstate Highways will criss-cross Alabama.
Gov. Patterson, whose administration plans the largest road-building program in state history, has invited Alabama's congressional delegation to be special guests at the highway-opening program, which will be held near Warrior. Sponsoring the Dec. 10 program is the Alabama Roadbuilders Assn., which has scheduled plane bus tours of highway construction in the area.

$671 Million In a speech following the highway ribbon-cutting, Gov. John Patterson said he would discuss the Alabama Highway Department's road-building program. During his administration, the department expects to spend a total of $671 million on highway development, an all-time record.

Improved Efficiency "Through good management and business practices, we are determined to stretch every dollar to the limit and get just as much highway as we possibly can for the money," Gov. Patterson said. "Highway-building costs are steadily rising, and the only way we can still get as much road per dollar is to increase our efficiency."

Rapid Communication He pointed to the recent purchase of 275 two-way mobile radios to be installed in the cars of key highway personnel, providing them rapid communications in the field. The governor also cited savings under the competitive bid laws as bringing about "more paving at less cost."

Here's Breakdown A report recently prepared by Highway Director Sam Englandhardt Jr. compares the status of the farm-to-market road program during the first nine months of each of this year, a total of 1,430 miles of the last two administrations. constructed at a cost of $10,000,000. In 1951, 750 miles were built at a cost of $9,970,000 and in 1955, 951 miles were built for $13,85,000. During the first nine months of said.

FERTILIZING ADEQUATELY WILL LOWER FEED COSTS FOR CHILTON COUNTY FARMERS

To have plenty of low-cost feed is the aim of successful livestock farmers everywhere. Feed costs make up a high percentage of the total cost of producing milk and beef, a profitable agriculture requires efficient production. And this demands adequate fertilization. Livestock farmers in the strongest economic positions are those who grow most of their total required feed in the form of high-quality hay, silage and corn.

The production of high-quality feed at low cost per unit depends on the use of fertilizer. A sound program of pasture fertilization will return $2 to $6 worth of feed for each $1 spent on fertilizer, which is a good return for investment.

You need to plan a long way ahead in the use of fertilizers for pastures and feeds. Fertilizing pastures and perennials is usually more complicated than fertilizing cotton corn. Therefore, soil testing becomes most important. The soil test will guide you in an efficient fertilizer program.

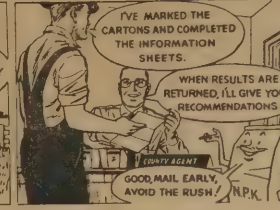

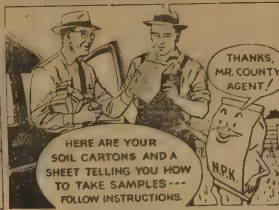

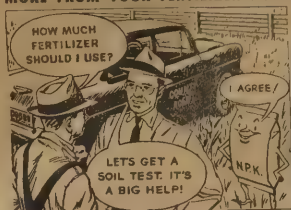

You can't expect good returns from fertilizers on acid soils. Without lime applied according to soil test recommendations, fertilizers will be only partially effective. Right fertilization and liming are absolutely essential if you are to have good forage at low cost per unit of feed.

To succeed in livestock production, you must have a good fertility program. A soil test is the first step in planning such a program.

EFFICIENCY IS ESSENTIAL TO FARM PRACTICE

THE need to increase efficiency on Chilton County farms was never more important than today. We cannot stay in business with low yields.

This is an age of constant and frequent change. Farmers, to maintain their rightful position in our total economy, must be willing and ready to accept the scientific tools

AGRICULTURAL CENSUS NOW UNDERWAY TO BE BENEFICIAL TO LOCAL FARM OPERATORS

The 1959 U. S. Agricultural Census for Chilton County is now in full operation, according to Joe Will Pitts, County crew leader.

It is necessary for census enumerators to obtain information from every farm operator in order to obtain accurate state and national totals. When completed, these totals will give us a clear picture of our nation's agricultural strength. Totals for Chilton County will be made available to our farmers and the general public, for their use and information. These figures will be of great help to our farm operations in making their plans for future operations. The figures will also tell the food industry the areas in which they can obtain the supply to meet their public demand.

Crew leader Pitts stated that most farm operators have received their official census questionnaire in the mail. He urges those who have received their questionnaire to complete it as best they can and then hold it until the census enumerator calls at their home to collect it. At that time the enumerator will help the operator fill in any question he has had difficulty

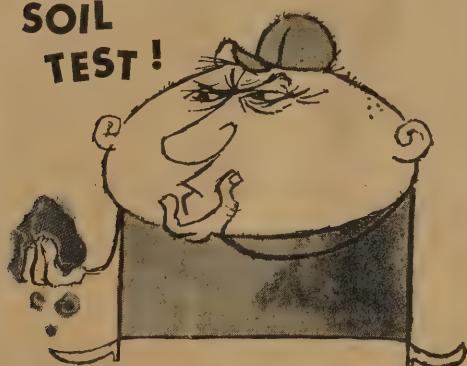

S. S. NOTE — TO WORKERS DURING HOLIDAY SEASON

Chilton County persons, and others in this area of Alabama who go to work during the holiday season should be sure to show their social security cards to their employers the first day they go to work on a new job. These words of advice come from Cecil L. Simpson, district manager of the Birmingham office of the Social Security Administration. Simpson points out that if the job is covered by social security, as most jobs are, the employer must report for social security purposes the earnings of the employee regardless of the amount. If the worker's social security account number is omitted from the report filed on his behalf by his employer, he gets no credit for his earnings. "That," Simpson warns, "can mean a loss of money to the worker and his dependents, and it could mean no payments at all when the time comes to claim them."

Social security application blanks for originals or lost social security cards may be obtained at the post office. They should be filled out and mailed to the Birmingham district office of the Social Security Administration, 1710 First Avenue, North.

DON'T GUESS — SOIL TEST!

Nobody can look at a handful of soil—or a field—and tell what minerals it needs for best crop production. Anybody who tries this is simply playing a guessing game. Probably expensive guessing, at that. Without knowing what's needed, a farmer stands a big chance of using the wrong kind of fertilizer . . . or too much or too little of the right kind.

Soil testing . . . which finds out how much of what kind of fertilizers and lime are needed for a given crop in a given field on your farm . . . does away with guessing. It puts fertilizing and liming on a paying business basis.

Whether you have a farm or just a back-yard garden, lawn, and shrubbery, soil testing is for you.

See your county agent for soil testing supplies and instructions.

Farming Principles

America's industrial progress is made possible through efficient production. The same principle applies to farming. Fertilizer and lime are vital for efficiency in crop production in Chilton County. They will increase yields and help lower the unit cost of production.

Increase Yields

Practices that increase yield per acre, such as applying adequate amounts of fertilizer and lime, usually lower the cost of producing a crop. It usually costs just as much to prepare the land, plant, and cultivate a high-yielding crop as a high-yielding one.

Unit Cost Important

The unit cost of production is a very important item in today's farming. As farm prices decrease, it is particularly important that the unit cost of production be kept as low as possible.

Calculated Risk

In periods of declining prices, a farmer may be hesitant to spend extra money for fertilizer to increase yields. However, it is obvious that this outlay will enable him to farm more profitably at lower production cost per unit even though he begins by spending more money.

FOR A MERRY CHRISTMAS, BE SAFE

Will Christmas be a holiday or a horror day for you and your family?

The National Safety Council asked that question today as it announced a campaign in December to reduce accidents on the highways and in the home.

Theme of the campaign, according to Arthur B. Langlie, chairman of the Council's National Committee of Religious Leaders for Safety, is: "For a merry Christmas—make it safe!"

Langlie, former governor of Washington, is now president of the McCall Corp., New York City.

"Emphasis during the month-long campaign," he said, "will be on the moral responsibility Americans have to prevent accidents. "The persons who through disregard for safety injuries or kills another person has violated a commandment."

"Thou shalt not kill" refers just as surely to motorists on the highway and chance-takers in the home as it does to the berserk man with a loaded shotgun.

"Motorists who drink and then drive, homeowners who carelessly use matches, candles or Christmas tree lights, are morally responsible if death or injury results."

One target of the National Safety Council holiday campaign is the office party that relies on the bottle for its fun.

Langlie emphasized that the campaign will not attempt to dampen holiday gaiety.

"We're just as much in favor of office parties as the next person," he said, "but not when they spill out tipsy people to climb behind the wheel of a car and drive on the highway."

"Have your friendly office party without the flowing bowl, the highway hilarity."

The Junior Citizen's Club met on Friday, November 20, 1959. The meeting was called to order by the president, Janet Culp. Jackson Moore gave the devotion. The club recited the Alabama's Creed and followed with the song Dixie.

The secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. They were approved as read. The treasurer reported a balance of $8.01 in the treasury. The corresponding secretary reported that she had written or received any letters this week.

The activity committee reported the club had two visitors this week. Dr. Fincher and Mr. Bill Lancelor from Auburn University.

The membership committee reported no loss or gain of members. The room committee reported the room was prepared for the meeting. The flower committee thanked Janet Culp for bringing flowers. The PTA committee reported 69 members in the PTA.

There was no old business. In the new business it was moved by Anne Dailey and seconded that the corresponding secretary write Judge Walter B. Jones and request him to write a Confederate Creed to go with our Confederate flag. It was moved that the club contribute a Thanksgiving dinner to a less fortunate friend. It was moved that the dinner be taken to Mr. and Mrs. John Goodhouse and their six children. Their real names will be revealed later. The club moved that the motto for this year be "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

It was moved and seconded that the club leave off the program for the day and practice the program for the flag presentation ceremony.

The critic urged the members to pay more attention to the program. The parliamentarian reported three violations in parliamentary procedure during the meeting. They were: the president failed to call for discussion after a motion; one member talked before he was recognized; one member said "I make a motion," instead of "I move". It was moved that the club be adjourned until the next meeting. The club thanks Mrs. Harold Smith for printing the two Thanksgiving poems for us.

What a thrill was ours last Wednesday afternoon, when we came back to the classroom from lunch! There before us was the beautifully decorated punch table and gay Division of ACS, and Miss Frances Neims, Birmingham, educational director. Local educational chairman of the Society will conduct the campaign through voluntary field workers and civic units in an effort to take the cancer message to the whole of Alabama.

arrangements had been placed at vantage points about the room. Several home-room mothers had slipped in during our absence and given us this surprise.

In short order a lively Thanksgiving party was under way. Accessories for our convenience were passed out by Jerry Rhodes, Michael Danner, Charles Honeycutt, and Mary Evelyn Patterson. Bill Branch and Sara Jo Wyatt passed delicious and tasty sandwiches while Shirley Tucker and Phillip Davenport served chunky home-made cookies. Leisurely we passed in order to the punch bowl where Patricia Buxton and Patricia Cox served us. During the entire hour there, speaking and music appropriate to the occasion. Our speakers: Nelda Mullins, Michael Danner, Mary Frances Perryman, Tyus, Charles Honeycutt, Maddox and Sandra Jones, and suitable piano selections furnished by David Reed Ealing, Linda Cox, Helen Mims Nelda Mullins.

This was certainly a lovely affair in which to usher in Thanksgiving holidays. Our care thanks are expressed to Branch and her group of home room mothers.

HURRY CHRISTMAS! Well, will it be merry—or hurry—around your house? Why not make it merry by leaving a lot of holiday duties up to your telephone! For instance, why not use your phone to order gifts, to shop for just about anything you need during the holidays. Ring up the bakery, the florist, the grocer from your easy chair! Don't forget the phone's a quick and cheery way to invite people to parties. And with Long Distance, you've got the fastest way possible to make plans, greet old friends, and visit the folks who can't get home for the holidays. So, use your telephone—"for all it's worth"—at Christmas time, all the time!

ALL TIED UP—Isn't that usually Dad's fate at Christmas time? And if it isn't ties, it's socks or shirts or handkerchiefs. This Christmas why not gang up on the old boy and give him something to really put a gleam in his eye—his own personal extension phone! Can be installed anywhere he likes to relax in private. Of course, Dad's not the only one who'd get a bang out of an extension phone. Sis or Brother or Mother or Grandmother—just about everyone would love the convenience and pleasure of an extension phone. Colors to suit everyone, too. Just call our Business Office and say the word—we'll be glad to handle all the details.

TUNE IN on Sunday, December 6 for a repeat telecast of Bell Telephone's Science Series program, "Gateways to the Mind." I'm sure you'll enjoy this stimulating show, so watch for time and channel in your newspaper.

PUTTING OFF UNTIL TOMORROW --

The business establishments of Clanton and Chilton County have shown a very bad sense of timing when it comes to displaying their wares and getting ready for the rush of Christmas buying that is inevitable at this time of the year.

Businesses selling to the general public should have been ready with window displays, complete stocks and most assuredly promotional advertising campaigns during the latter part of November.

It has never been a good policy to rush the season too much, but just as good timing is pertinent in a political campaign so it is in most any other undertaking, especially when dealing with the general public.

One businessman put it well when he said: "If the merchants are not ready to sell when the people are ready to buy, how do they expect to keep trade at home... they will go out of town!" This sums up the fact that is always present: We want the people to trade at home, we speak about it in unquestionable tone; but when the time comes for us to prove that trading at home has its advantages and every one of us, we fail to keep up with the demand.

The Christmas Parade, held last Friday was designed and presented to usher in the Christmas Season... buying included and the business houses that weren't completely ready for the crowds in town at that time did a great deal toward bringing business away from town, because the people were ready to look and see and buy.

It gets back to the theme which we always maintain: If you don't tell them... and show them... how will they know? And we might add, where will they go?

A GREAT NEED --

CHILTON County has a great blessing in natural resources and there are some of the best possibilities in this area for developing that could be imagined. One of the weakest links in the economy of Chilton County and the main factor for hindering our progress is the lack of industrial development in this area.

Hundreds of Chilton Countians go forth to work each day in other cities surrounding us simply because they cannot find suitable employment here at home. This is not only sapping our population growth it is sapping our economic stability as well. Those who work out-of-County are very likely to do a great deal of their buying out-of-County also. This is not a healthy situation.

All-out efforts should be made by every one of us to insure that proper investigation is made concerning any possibility of new industry situating in Chilton County. It is apparent by now, that prospects are not going to come to us... must go to them. Some few people have spent much time concerning themselves with possible industrial development for Chilton County and some progress has been made. Compared to some communities the size of this, however, we have made little progress. The fault lies in complacency. We think we are satisfied with things the way they are, when in reality, we don't really know any other way.

We will not progress as we should without some form of industry to boost our population and thus boost our economy. It is a proven fact! We ourselves have proved it! Now that we know what it takes, steps should be taken to establish Chilton County as an industrial County, as well as an agricultural center and thus balance the economic situation.

We are definitely progressing, but it has been done the hard way. It's time we awoke to the fact that communities, smaller than we, are harnessing us in industrial development while we sit around on our plowstocks and do absolutely nothing to change the course!

THE THROTTLE, THE BOTTLE... HOLIDAY?

IT would be interesting to discover, in this era of motivation research, what the word "holiday" means to most people. What is the first thing that flashes in your mind when the word is mentioned?

Time off from work? A trip? An excuse to celebrate? A tragic accident toll?

Unfortunately, truthful answers probably would place all of those higher on the list than the true meaning of the holiday. And it's especially unfortunate that holidays must have an association with high accident tolls.

Christmas, with the deepest spiritual significance, is the deadliest holiday of all, according to the National Safety Council. Ironically, it achieves this terrible distinction precisely because we want it to be such a wonderful occasion.

It is a sentimental holiday. People will drive long distances for the traditional family reunion, undaunted by the worst weather. More travel -- especially winter travel at highway speeds -- means more accidents.

It is a convivial holiday. The joyous spirit of the occasion is too often sought in liquid form.

This deadly conjunction of the throttle and bottle has dimmed the true radiance from the star of Bethlehem.

The National Safety Council has asked for church leadership during this Christmas season to point out that accident prevention is practical religion, and that good will toward men can find no finer expression than behind the wheel of a car.

TOYS, TOYS FOR GIRLS AND BOYS

Peeking from beneath Christmas trees across the nation Dec. 25 will be all sorts of playthings—round toys, hard toys, soft, cuddly toys, noisy toys. But little if any thought will be given to how safe they are.

This, the National Safety Council points out, just isn't smart. "Fortunately," it said, "most toy manufacturers have done their best to make their products safe for youngsters. But a toy perfectly safe for an 8-year-old may be quite unsuitable for a toddler."

The Council made these recommendations about buying toys this Christmas:

1. Teach children how to use the toys.
2. Keep an eye out for possible wear or damage—broken edges or splinters, for example.
3. Perhaps most important, but toys that suit the child's age.

The Council gave these suggestions on what toys to buy:

For children up to 2 years. Buy sturdy rattles, washable squeaky toys, stuffed animals and doll blocks with rounded corners and no small parts, and large colorful balls.

Beware of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys, toys with poisonous paint, sharp edges, button eyes that can pop loose, removable parts.

Ages 2 to 3. Toys for toddlers, this, the exploring age -- sand-box toys, large peg boards, picture books, large crayons, picture books, large crayons.

Beware, again, of sharp edges on toys, small removable parts, flammable toys, lead-based paint, objects that can be swallowed.

Ages 3 to 4. Excellent are toy telephones, doll houses and furniture, miniature garden tools, building blocks.

Stay away from toys that break apart.

ALLERGIC DISEASES

All that wheezes is not asthma -- the way some physicians have been expressing it. Today, the medical men say all that wheezes is asthma unless proved otherwise, "cranked that foreign bodies in the bronchi, tuberculosis, cancer, and other types of bronchial obstruction can produce wheezing. Nevertheless, the wheezing heard on expiration is the chief symptom of asthma, and is caused by a narrowing and shortening of the bronchial tubes."

There are several types of illness caused by allergens, those substances capable of inducing special reactions in the body. These allergens gain access to the body by being swallowed or inhaled, by coming in contact with the skin, or by injection, as with drugs or serums. The common illnesses caused by these allergens are hay fever, skin disease, digestive disturbances, and asthma. It is estimated there are between eight million and fifteen million persons in the United States subject to all.

Asthma is the only allergic disease that is responsible for many deaths. Hay fever and asthma, often caused by the inhalation of pollen of trees, grasses, and weeds. There are three specific pollen seasons, definite as to time of onset and termination. The pollen season extends from mid-March to the end of May and the flowering plants are trees, or splinter, those too heavy for the child's strength, sharp or cutting toys.

"Help pack safety in Santa's sack," the Council said. "Be sure children get safe toys for Christmas."

We see
and hear

by BO

THERE are so many monologues and hysterics in this old world that it is always rewarding and refreshing to hear from or of someone who rises above this petty place and expresses sincere concern and sympathy for his fellowman. This is doubly true when the one to whom the expression is intended is a complete and total stranger.

John P. Lawrence tells us of a colored gentleman and his wife who live in a tenement street. It seems there was this lame man selling apples and mostly getting passed by without too much care. The Negro couple came by dropped money into the beggar's box and to listen heard them asking the unfortunate of his condition appeared truly concerned. "You no pligit, Mr. Lawrence ends with 'there's some good in all of us, isn't there?' And thereby, shines the Christmas Spirit! Would that more of us could identify it for what it really is!

There's a rumor that Don Miller, receiving his "Wings" market for a flying machine, really a glass and tin contraption, really a test pilot for the "SAFETY TPI" (That's the name in the text of Seat Cover) (Of Their Pants) He's got a corner in the market too... he's forever and eternally sewing up torn pants! Wish you had Don old boy!

SOMEbody forgot who just now, fortunately, said of the Santa Claus in last week's parade: "That's the first Santa I ever heard who said, 'Get away, kid!' Surely he must be kidding! That Santa was a popular fellow on that day. He probably said a lot of things before he got back to the North Pole!"

PERRY, Florida becomes a family reunion this week with the mildard Traywick move there from Clanton. Needless to say, Clanton is on the losing end, but according to members of the family they plan to make as many round trips as possible up this way to visit old friends and relatives. We wish them Godspeed, but we sure hate to lose such an old Chilton clan! The Traywick children, Robert and Joyce plan to remain in Clanton until mid-term at least when they will join their parents. But a older daughter, is married to a stay ahead and is now overseas in the service.

ANOTHER of Clanton's newer businesses is Raymond Popwell's restaurant in West End. Raymond has a most convenient business located out there... we know "cause we tried it! In fact, we were one of his first customers. And while we were there, we looked around and good. "There's nothing missing, the wheezing heard on expiration is the chief symptom of asthma, and is caused by a narrowing and shortening of the bronchial tubes!"

SOME of Clanton's traffic lights are getting nervous. "Don't know whether that's an occupational hazard or not, but some of them are certainly hesitant about turning green. Let that be a lesson to you smart aleck drivers. If you tease the traffic light, it will become neurotic. Hope they get fixed soon; they're making us nervous!"

WE want to be somewhere among the first to congratulate our co-worker and friend Horace Maddison on his commitment to Christ and the Ministry. Horace says he knows that God has given him the call and it now remains that he do something about it. He realizes that he has a long way to go, but he has already gone halfway. He knows that God has called him. Horace has a wife and two fine boys and attends the Northside Baptist Church in Clanton. Again we say, congratulations to him on his divine invitation and wish him divine guidance for the road ahead.

Many popular, elm, beech, birch, oak, sycamore, ash, and hickory. The summer or grass season, in a large section of the country, begins in the middle of May and continues to the end of July, with the pollen culprits known as sweet vernal grass, June grass, low sporn, red top, orchard grass, and timothy. The fall or late season that starts about mid-August and lasts through October, features ragweed and blue grass for pollen allergies. Medical care is necessary in most cases of allergy to prevent serious asthmatic attacks.

Rise in Total Government Spending Outpaces Growth of Our Economy

THE cost of Government in the United States -- Federal, State and local combined -- has grown nearly four times as fast as the entire economy from the turn of the century to the present, a period of less than an average lifetime, according to data compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce and the Bureau of the Census.

Long View of Spending

The following table gives the trend of the long-term relationship between total Government spending, Federal, State and local combined, and the gross national product (in billions of current dollars):

Year	Spending	Product	Ratio
1902	$ 1.7	$ 21.9	8.1%
1913	3.2	39.5	8.1

This development has been accompanied by a pronounced rise in living costs over the period, with a consequent fall in the dollar's buying power. Long-term figures show that the cost of living today is three and one-half times as high as it was just after the turn of the century. By a striking coincidence, total Government spending has risen three and three-quarters times as fast as total economic activity during this period, according to long-term relationships between Government expenditures and the gross national product. The base year is 1902, the first year for which the Census Bureau has compiled figures for total Government spending.

Cure of Inflation Problem. Whatever the precise relationship between the trend of living costs and the rate of growth in the cost of Government from time to time, the record is clear in one fundamental respect. Big Government spending has always accompanied inflation in the economic annals of the present century, with deficit financing on a mammoth scale accentuating this trend. War, of course, has been a major factor in this development, but recent years have shown that budget deficits and persistent inflationary pressures have become peacetime characteristics as well. That is why concern over the trend of Government spending has become so widespread and efforts are being pressed to have Government live within its income.

The record likewise challenges the validity of any contention that rising Government spending is a spur to the nation's economic growth. An outstanding Congressional group, a subcommittee of the Joint Economic Committee, has explored this and found that there is no necessary relationship between the amount of Federal expenditure and the rate of economic growth over the long run. In fact, considering today's tax burden and its impact on savings, capital formation and incentive, excessive growth in Government spending tends to become a decided drag on the growth of the economy rather than a stimulus.

A Persistent Upstream. The figures show that total Government outlays have risen from the equivalent of 8 per cent of the gross national product in the early years of the present century to the comparable ratio of more than 30 per cent today. The relationship has varied over the years, and were particularly high in wartime, but the long-term trend has been persistently upward.

Combined Federal, State and local spending added up to $185 billion last year. The indications are that this year's total was up to a new high of around $150 million, equivalent to more than $800 for every person in the population. The 1959 bulge, one of the biggest in years, was largely due to a jump in the total of Government spending.

Chilton Chooses First All-County Football Team In It's History

SENIORS; 7 JUNIORS —

by WAYNE ATCHESON

THE Chilton County News announces the first All-County football team in the county's history. This Roster of 22 players was picked by the coaches of Chilton County.

The News is also making definite plans to boost into an annual affair. This year's squad is composed of seniors and 7 juniors.

John McAfee of Maplesville, a senior tackle, was the only unanimous choice. Jimmy Dennis and Buddy Vines of Clanton, and Kenneth Scarbrough of Verbena got one vote with one exception.

Most Plays from Clanton Clanton placed the most players on the team with seven followed by Maplesville with five, Jemison and Verbena with three a piece, and Isabella and Billingsley with two each.

The team has only three ends instead of four because one end from Maplesville quit the squad before the season ended. But at the halfback three boys tied, so all three were on the team to round out the 22.

Outstanding Ends At ends were Kenneth Scarbrough of Verbena, a senior and ending 185. Scarbrough also has played many other positions for Verbena.

Howard Graham of Maplesville and David Cobb of Clanton are the other flankers. Graham just a junior had a good year and will be valuable to his squad next year. Cobb caught the winning touchdown pass against Montevallo for probably his biggest play of the season.

For Tackle

John McAfee of Maplesville and Jimmy Dennis of Clanton were the top vote collectors at tackle. McAfee has been playing on the team since he was in the ninth grade. He also is a good fullback. Jimmy Dennis has led his team in tackles for the last two seasons. Dennis has lettered three years.

Jimmy Posey of Jemison and Billy Atkinson of Isabella were the coaches choice for the other two tackle positions.

Guards Clanton placed both of their guards on the team. They are John Argo and Don Jones. Argo was probably Clanton's most consistent lineman on the Tiger team this season. Jones was bothered by injury in the first half of the season, but came on strong the last half. Both are seniors.

Dewey Deavers, a senior from Verbena, and Douglas Gilliland, a junior from Billingsley were the other guards.

At Center

Braggs Gibson of Maplesville and Clay Carroll of Clanton were the coaches choices at center. These coaches received all the votes except two. Gibson, a senior, is a good defenceman at 165 pounds. Carroll, just a junior is also a good defenceman. Carroll weighs 170.

The Quarterbacks

At Quarterback, Buddy Vines of Clanton and Earl Griffin of Verbena. Vines did all the passing, kicking, and half the running for Clanton this season. Griffin is also a good passer and fine runner. Both are seniors.

Moore-Guy L. H. Halfbacks

Tim Moore of Maplesville and Donnie Guy of Jemison are the left halfbacks. Moore is very fast and was the top ground gainer for Maplesville this year. Guy started the season at end, but was shifted to halfback. Guy was one of Jemison's top performers this season.

At Right Half

At right half is Horace Davis of Jemison, Tommy Shelton of Clanton, and Andy Dennis of Billingsley. Davis was probably at his best on defense. Shelton was tops on offense for Clanton this fall. Dennis is probably the best back that Billingsley has had in many years.

Davis and Dennis are seniors while Shelton is a junior.

Fullbacks

Roy Bray of Isabella and Bobby Seales of Maplesville are the fullbacks. Bray, a junior, was tops for Isabella this season. Seales, a senior, did a fine job at fullback for the Red Devils this season.

That's the team. You may have noticed it, but the backs outweigh the linemen by seven pounds, 169 to 161 pounds.

A CONTROVERSIAL FIGURE

THE fabulous Fabian, by some strange coincidence, appears in his latest movie release "HOUND DOG MAN" Sunday, December 27 at Clanton Drive-In Theatre. Fabian has caused quite a bit of controversy in his short span, but his appeal to the teen-age is apparently universal. Above is a shot of the young teen-age idol.

1200 Concrete Blocks Per Day.. And Growing

MR. J. W. Suite organized the Clanton Concrete Products Company in 1946 to serve Chilton County and Central Alabama with concrete blocks for the building trade.

Since that time Clanton Concrete Products has grown to a total production of more than 1200 concrete blocks per day. Mr. Suite says that a concrete block should age for 30 days or more to make it fit for building purposes so they necessarily must keep large stocks of blocks on hand to supply the need.

Last year Mr. Suite added a 2½ ton GMC 4 - yard solid concrete mixer to his fleet of trucks which enables him to take care of his customers. He now has besides the large GMC truck a 1½ ton Chevrolet truck and a three-quarter ton Ford pickup.

He is able to supply your needs on a moments notice and with the best merchandise in his line.

Employed at Clanton Concrete Products Company is Lloyd Baggett, Hubert Johnson, James Easterling, Odelle Easterling, Elbert Fulmer, and Billy Fulmer.

Mrs. Howard Fulford, his daughter, helps him with the office chores and the bookkeeping.

Clanton Concrete Products is located three blocks south of town on U. S. Highway 31. Telephone 387.

Northside Baptist Has "Much To Be Thankful For"

FIVE Northside Baptist Church of Clanton has so much to thank God for this year. The church has just received as a free gift a nice six room home, given to the church by the Dan Russell Mills of Clanton to be used as a convalescent home. It is located just across the highway.

Credit Where Due
The Company and church want the credit given to the superintendent of the Mill Mr. John Holder who is a faithful member of the Northside Baptist church. We are so thankful to have Mr. and Mrs. Holder as members of the church, and for what they have done for the church in many ways. We also want to thank Dan River Mills for the home, and the interest they have in the spiritual growth of the church and community. We feel that Chilton County owes the Company a pat on the back for all they have done for the county.

T - Call - To Miss J
God has blessed our church this year with 44 additions, 25 baptisms, and 19 by letter. From the church God has called a fine young man to the Gospel ministry, Mr. Horace Maddox, and also a fine young lady Miss Linda Vines to serve as a foreign missionary.

Best Spirit
Our church is not the largest, but it has one of the best spirit. Fellowship and cooperation in the church is well organized, and our organization is doing a fine work. The present building is not large enough to take care of the Sunday school, so we would like to have it.

Proof Positive That Learning Can Be Fun

LAST Friday, President Alex Jackson promptly called the Science Club to order. Reports were given, all business was attended to, and then the fun began.

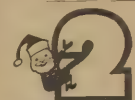

Under the director of the program chairman, Gene Martin, the boys and girls competed in the old game of Tic-Tac-Toe, but a new feature was added to the game. One boy and one girl at a time played, and before either could place a mark on the board, he or she had to answer a question which had been covered in a lesson class.

The meeting ended with the boys and girls eagerly awaiting an opportunity to continue the game.

CLANTON, ALA.

Mrs. Jones Is Educational Chairman, ASC

MRS. F. A. Jones of Clanton has been appointed to serve during the coming year as Chilton County educational chairman of the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division.

Announcement of this was received from Miss Frances Nels of Birmingham, state ACS educational director.

In the county society's educational work, the new chairman will be responsible for a continuous program to help save lives from cancer through education. This effort is carried on through the public information media, such as newspapers, radio and television, film showings, printed literature, talks, lectures, civic and employee groups, window displays, and other means.

Although the cancer society holds its annual crusade in April, its educational work goes on throughout the year. This is an important phase of the American Cancer Society's three-point program of cancer control—education, research and service.

JACKETS ON PORK CHOPS?

One day soon your grocer may sell you cuts of meat coated with a protective airtight covering. This transparent, frostproof jacket will keep the frozen steak or other meat intact until you cook it.

The housewife will cook the meat "as is"—and you'll eat the "wrapper" with the pork chop! Food researchers say the coating layer, something like corn starch, will not change the flavor of your favorite meat cut.

With all the changes the years bring in food processing and preparation, BEER and ALE continue as favorite beverages in many American homes. These wholesome beverages always have the knack of going well with many foods, no matter what the method of meal preparation!

Under Improved Program--

Board of Revenue Shooting for Economic Construction Record

FROM all indications it appears that Chilton County is in for a record-breaking road program during this administration.

According to Probate Judge J. C. White, the Board of Revenue is going all-out to establish a record for roadbuilding.

From The Birmingham News
by BOONE AIKEN

To carry out its projects, the board has gone into the grading and paving business. For the first time, the county is doing its own contracting and building its own roads and finds that it is saving money. Judge White explained, that by handling its own work the county also can have a better balanced year-round program, since it has been customary to let contracts only in the Spring and Summer.

"By doing the work ourselves, we utilize our equipment more fully, make better use of our personnel and keep more of our money in the county," White said.

For about nine months, the county was without an engineer, then Bob Alexander, formerly of Lamar County, where he was county engineer for 11 years, was hired.

Goal of the board is to pave 30 miles of farm-to-market roads a year for the next five years. The present grading unit can do 13 miles a year and the balance will be contracted. There is no bonded indebtedness.

Judge White estimates the new stepped-up program is costing $4,000 whereas if contracted it would have run around $10,000 to $15,000.

Roads recently completed include Sardis-Pletcher-Highway 82 road, 6 1/2 miles south Stanton, 1/2 mile; west of Maplesville, 1/2 mile; Isabella-Thorsby, 6 1/2 miles; Milledge Church road, 1/2 mile; Refuge road, 3 1/2 miles; Providence Church road, 1/2 mile; Black Snake Road, two miles; Liberty Hill road, 1/2 mile.

ROADS now under construction are: North of Posey Store, 5 1/2 miles; Verbena - Chestnut Creek road, 4 1/2 miles; Elmore County line - Midway-Mt. Creek road, 6 1/2 miles.

The county hopes to have the Lay Dam bridge contract let soon, probably in December or January. This will be a joint project of the federal, state and county governments.

The board has purchased approximately $70,000 worth of equipment to complete its accelerated road program. With what it already had the members feel that the Highway Department is ready for an all-time record for road building and economy, although this is the first time it has tackled big jobs.

The Highway Department has 75 employees and a new $13,000 engineer's building. It is located near the county shops and contains all modern equipment needed for a well-rounded road planning program. The department has complete aerial maps of the entire area to expedite the engineer's planning. Board of Revenue members are Reddie Hilyer, A. D. Headley, Sherman Motley and Dalton Champion. Probate Judge J. C. White is chairman.

Nat'l. Farm Loan Changes Name

ON January 1st, 1960, the Canabake National Farm Loan Association changes its name to Federal Land Bank Association of Marion, Alabama.

For 42 Years

According to G. B. Auburtin, Manager of the Marion Association, the national farm loan associations have been servicing Federal land bank loans for some 42 years and although they have been developed into strong financial institutions and are owned outright by the farmers they serve, the old name has been difficult to remember, most farmers referring to the association as "the Federal Land Bank."

Eliminate Confusion

Auburtin feels that the change will eliminate a great deal of confusion and is looking forward to operating under the new name. Auburtin also advises that the Farm Credit Act of 1959 transfers appraisal responsibility from the Farm Credit Administration to the Federal Land Banks and has removed any restrictions on the size of loan that can be made to an individual or family farming corporation.

Removal of Limit

Auburtin feels that removal of the loan limit will enable his association to serve some people that it has not been able to serve in the past and that with the trend to expensive labor-saving machinery and to larger farms, there is increasing need for larger loans.

Smaller Crop Of Fall Vegetables This Year

A smaller amount of fall vegetables is expected on the market this year.

The fall vegetable crop is expected to be 12 percent less than last year and eight percent below average. A smaller crop of carrots, tomatoes, snap beans, sweet corn, cauliflower, and lettuce is mainly responsible for the decline.

In addition, the production of vegetables for processing is five percent less than production in 1958.

Chilton's Newest Industry Opens Doors to Businessmen

IN Clanton on Wednesday, December 2, the newly-built Newport Business Forms south of Clanton held an open house to invited guests and civic organizations to better enlighten the general public on the method of their operations and how their business effects local economy.

Davis, in Charge
Mr. Ben Davis, Vice-President of Newport Business Forms, is head of the local business.

Newport has several other plants throughout the southeast to coordinate with the local firm turning out quality printing, binding and office forms.

Mr. Davis, 66, started in the printing business in 1918 in New York, N. Y., as a printer. In 1918 he joined Newport News organization and has been associated with them since that time. His years of training and experience serve him well in the operation and management of a new plant.

Employment Goal, 100
In January of this year Mr. Davis expects to have 100 employees in the new building and temporary employees in the City Hall. Operations in the middle of April and they will employ 30 local persons. Their goal is to have 100 with a monthly output of sixty thousand.

The establishment is the latest in modern facilities and houses some of the finest equipment in the trade. They sell through dealers only and cover the states of S. C., central and western Tenn., Miss., Ala., Ga., Fla., and La.

Local Labor Throughout
The Open House occasion was for local businessmen and organizations to better acquaint them, and through them the general public, with the operations of this new industry. All employees, with the exception of Mr. Davis and Norris Roberts who is plant superintendent, along with Harry Lloyd, in charge of the pressroom, are locally born and locally trained in their respective duties. "That's why," says Mr. Davis, "it takes so long to get set up." All employees are given an annual bonus.

According to Mr. Davis, this new business has been successful in other locations.

This new business, ultimately employing 100 on more local workers is a welcome addition to Chilton County's growing list of fine business and industrial developments.

In making appraisement, more machinery need less sugar.

WATCHING THE 'OPERATION'

HERE you see a partial view of one of the big web-fed rotary presses at Newport Business Forms. This is a rubber plate press. They also have a combination rubber plate and offset press which is capable of delivering 24,000 per hour. They plan to add a complete offset press to their present number in the near future. Looking on the operation here are: left to right (identifiable), Rep. Francis Speaks, Probate Judge I. C. White, Johnny Vines, Tax Collector George D. Smith, and others. Over 100 persons toured the plant on that day.

Jack is married with four children and is purchasing agent in charge of Carbon Manufacturing at Newport News. Mr. Davis attends First Methodist Church in Clanton and he says he will retire from the business after his job here is completed. "In four or five months" he says.

MR. CHILTON FARMER -- Good Use Of Feed Means Profit For Hog Growers

Efficiency in converting feed into pork is especially important during low price periods.

Since feed is the most expensive item in market hog production grows cannot afford low efficiency animals. Auburn Extension Hog Marketing Specialist Ray Cavender points out that the average hog producer probably uses about 450 pounds of feed to produce 100 pounds of pork. This figure includes the feed required for the breeding stock and for carrying pigs to around 225 pounds before they are sold for slaughter.

According to Cavender, more efficient growers can produce 100 pounds of pork with 375 pounds of feed or even less. He warns that producers who use over 450 pounds of feed should seriously consider not breeding sows. With expected feed-grain prices, they will probably have trouble recovering from short-run costs of medicine repairs, buying and selling, and other factors that add up in expensive work. The Agriculture III class has been studying "Farm Management".

The FFA Chapter received another Polled Hereford bull given to them by the Sears Roebuck Foundation. This gives the Clanton Chapter three bulls to be used for improved breeding in the community.

The Clanton FFA has received a registered heifer from the Sears Roebuck Foundation as a prize in their improved livestock program. The Agriculture classes have been working on project reports. These project reports are the usual, and boy keeps on his supervised farming program to determine whether he made a profit.

Plants Need Balanced Diet For Necessary Food Development

PLANTS have appetites, just as humans and farm animals do.

But many crops in the county are forced into "overeating" certain elements but are on a starvation diet for other nutrients needed to furnish them health and steady growth.

This is where an alert farmer can enter the picture. You don't have to wait until crops are ring-streaked, speckled, and spotted with blotchy discoloration. You can get help beforehand by having a soil test made to detect nutrient deficiencies before crops are planted.

A soil test will help determine how much and what kind of each fertilizer element should be added to produce a heavy, healthy yield of any crop.

The County Agent explained that many crops in the county are forced into "overeating" certain elements but are on a starvation diet for other nutrients needed to furnish them health and steady growth.

He emphasized that a major soil fertility problem in the county is an unbalanced supply of plant nutrients. Eating only one food source each day is unhealthy for people--similarly, he pointed out, no one morsel of certain fertilizer element can keep plants well-fed.

The County Agent urged all farmers to ask themselves two questions: (1) Are you sure you know the fertility condition of the soils on your farm? (2) Do you know what kind and amount of fertilizer to use on your crops for top yields and top profits?

If you can answer these questions, he said, you are on the road to more profitable farming. But if you can't, he strongly suggests that you obtain the right answer by having a soil test made right away on each field of your farm.

A soil test is the best and most practical way to determine the right kind and amount of fertilizer to use, according to the county agent.

API Extension Agronomists say that nitrogen is the key to low-cost, high-protein grain and forage.

What Is

"pH" is the scientists' yardstick for measuring the degree of acidity or alkalinity of various soils. Soils with a pH reading of less than 7 are called acid soils, and those soils with a pH greater than 7 are known as alkaline soils.

Most crops in Alabama grow best on soils with a pH reading of 6.5.

1. LIME
2. neutralizes soil acidity
3. furnishes needed plant nutrients
4. increases bacterial activity
5. decreases toxicity
6. makes nutrients more available

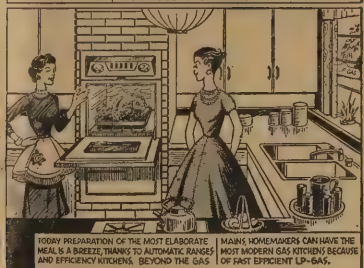

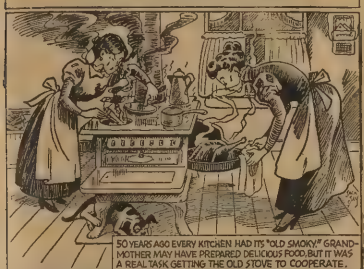

Be a smart farmer--have your soil tested to find out if the pH level on your farm is right for your crops.

ADVERTISEMENT MRS. BATES WRITES ON INSURANCE

Clanton, Alabama: December 3, 1959 Editor Chilton County News Dear Sir:

I am writing to express my thanks to Mr. Ollie Blalock for the Insurance Policy he sold me.

I have recently been paid $1731.00 for sickness, hospitalization, and accumulated doctor bills for my operation and hospital bills.

I was taken sick on July 27, 1959 and released from the Chilton County Hospital on October 13, 1959. I spent 78 days in the hospital and the insurance was paid for me without question and promptly by the United Security Life Insurance Co. of Birmingham, of which Mr. Blalock is Agent and Manager in Chilton County. It covered all but a very small fraction of my total bill for sickness.

I especially wish to thank the hospital staff and Dr. Joe Moore for their kindness and consideration of me while I was a patient there.

Federal Support For Local Drainage Job Endorsed By Officials

At a meeting held at Probate Judge J. C. White's office Monday, December 14th, interested land owners, city and county officials met with U. S. Corps of Engineers representatives to study provisions of a recently supported $266,000 drainage project. Detailed plans of project to materially widen Walnut Creek and Poley Bridge and Goose Creeks in the Clanton area were presented by U. S. Corps of Engineers representatives Messrs. Mueller and Moore. The project will consist of movement of approximately 300,000 cubic yards of earth. The main channel of Walnut Creek from a point below Dake's bridge to Junction of Poley Creek and Goose Pond near Airport will be 65 feet bottom width. Main channels of tributary creeks going into Walnut Creek will be widened to 35-40 feet.

The above drainage project when completed should materially improve farming and living conditions in the Clanton and surrounding areas, as well as make available approximately 1,000 acres of additional land for farming, business and residential purposes.

The project, designed by the U. S. Corps of Engineers representatives, will when actually completed be primarily paid for by federal authorities. However, local land owners are being asked to contribute in the cost of the project. Individuals attending the above mentioned meeting were: J. Hollis Jackson, Judge J. C. White, A. R. Butler, A. D. Headley, J. N. Dennis, Burton Mullins, T. E. Wyatt, Robert Powers, Robert Alexander, M. G. Casbeck, Reddie Hilyer, R. F. Fellen, Dalton Champion, John Reid, P. O. Box 606, phone 202.

FHA Acts To Meet Changing Needs In Chilton

The National Committee for Rural Development Program called attention today to the following announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

To better serve the changing agricultural credit needs of farmers in rural development counties, the Farmers Home Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is revising its eligibility requirements for operating and farm ownership loans.

Effective immediately, farmers in rural development counties who are regularly employed off the farm, if they meet other eligibility requirements, may obtain credit assistance from Farmers Home. Previously a farmer had to spend most of his time farming in order to qualify for a loan.

Many rural development counties have been successful in expanding local industries or in attracting new industries to their communities and in expanding other opportunities for off-farm employment. The regulation which limited credit assistance to farmers who spent most of their time farming prevented some farmers from obtaining the maximum production from their farms and taking full advantage of the new opportunities for industrial or other employment.

Other eligibility requirements which remain unchanged, are that applicants who are part-time farmers must be established farmers carrying on substantial farming operations, must have a dependable income from other sources, and be unable to obtain the needed credit elsewhere.

The types of assistance provided remain the same. Owners who have employment off the farm may obtain loans to develop their farms and refinance debts incurred for agricultural purposes. Owners and operators who have employment off the farm may obtain loans for necessary farm operating costs.

Chilton County is a Rural Development County. All applications for loans are made at the local county office of the Farmers Home Administration, which is located in the Higgins Building. With the loans, borrowers receive to the extent necessary, the assistance of the agency's county supervisors in preparing farm and home operating plans, in keeping farm records, and obtaining advice on farm problems.

In fiscal 1959 loans made by the Farmers Home Administration in rural development counties increased $3 million over those made in the previous year. A further increase in lending under the revised regulations in the current fiscal year is expected.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES

Traditional White Christmas Pageant At First Methodist

The First Methodist Church in Clanton will hold its annual White Christmas pageant on Sunday afternoon, December 20, at 5:30 p.m. The program will be under the direction of Charles Griffin and the Choir will be directed by Mrs. Gordon Robertson.

25-Year Tradition
The White Christmas pageant is a tradition of long-standing at the Methodist Church. For more than 25 years the story of the Birth of Christ has been presented each Christmas. It has been viewed by hundreds of young people and adults in Central Alabama and it has never failed to lift the hearts of all who have seen it.

New Scenes
This year the pageant will reach its most elaborate form. For the first time it will include a scene of Creation, and a view of the Ark of the Covenant. God's prophecy to Isaiah will be revealed in a dramatic scene at the Temple, and the Angel of the Lord will be shown as it confronts the Prophet.

Beautiful Scenes
The story will move onward to the beautiful scene with the Angel and Mary, to the Inn at Bethlehem, the Shepherds in the field, the Wise Men's visit to Herod, and the presentation of the gifts to the Holy Child.

Each scene in the White Christmas Pageant will depict in vivid form the story of the Birth of Jesus Christ. It is a program that should be seen by every child, young person and adult. You are invited to be present at the First Methodist Church in Clanton on Sunday, December 20, at 5:30 p.m.

The offering will be designated for the Methodist Children's Home in Selma.

Temple Assembly Of Good Christmas Program

THE annual Christmas program and pageant at the Temple Assembly of God will be Sunday night, Dec. 20, at 6:30 a.m. "The Other Shepherd" is the play to be presented by the young people. About 50 Temple young people and boys and girls will be used in the presentation.

Rev. Nelson E. White, pastor, invites the public to attend. At the close of the play gifts will be exchanged, and treats will be given to all the boys and girls present.

Maplesville Baptist Choir To Perform

THE Adult Choir of the Baptist Church of Maplesville will present "Love Transcending," a Cantata of the Christmas Story on Sunday, December 20 at 7:15 p.m. Public is cordially invited.

Christmas Program At Sardis Church

A Christmas Program of music and the exchange of gifts will be held at Sardis Church on Sunday, December 20th. No time has been released for the event, so interested parties should check with the pastor concerning the time. Pastor is Rev. J. L. Williams.

Northside To Present "Song Over The World"

ON Sunday evening at 7:00 the Northside Baptist Church of Clanton will present a Christmas Pageant. In charge of the production are: Mrs. Claud Comer, Hymon Atcheson, L. C. Hanes and Lalladale Headley. Everyone is invited.

EXPRESS THE HOPE OFTEN--

CHRISTMAS time is one of nostalgic greetings and cherry get-togethers of friends and family. Oftentimes it is the one time during the 365 days that all, or practically all the family gets together to have a good time.

It is interesting to note the different ways that different people accept the Christmas Season.

To some commercially-minded folk it only means additional revenue for their business, and that's all. To others it means a tiresome drudgery of trying to figure out what to buy whom and where to get what.

But the true side of Christmas, and the one which all of us return to at one time or another during the festive season is the fact that it is a birthday celebration. The Birth of our Lord, Jesus Christ. Too many times, we place it in a very improper position in the last overall view of the season. We tend to make it second or last in importance.

Christmas comes but once a year and it truly does bring problems and trials and tribulations considering the human factors involved. In reality, it should bring to us a renewed peace of mind that the only thing that really matters is that mankind has a Saviour and that God has not forgotten him. Christmas is not the end which is considered by many. It is the beginning, or should be, of a renewed faith in the Spirit of Christ. The fact that He came into the world to give us life, should make some kind of impression on the hardest of us. And we can truly glory in the Spirit of Christmas because it is the Birthday of one who means more to us than anything or anyone living or dead... whether we realize it or not!

And so, "Merry Christmas" is not a mere greeting or saying, it is a heartfelt expression of hope from one human to another... express the hope to others often during this Christmas 1959!

THE HOSPITAL AT CHRISTMAS TIME --

HOW do you describe the Christmas season in a hospital? How do you put on paper the emotional experiences, the little pleasantries, the human tragedy, and the profound sense of compassion that only a hospital can know during the Christmas season? How do you put loneliness into words?

Truly the Christmas holiday season is the epitome of the concept underlying medical and hospital care -- the great humanitarian spirit, the selflessness, the tenderness of thought and action, the annual renewal of man's belief in goodness and brotherhood and in "doing unto others --"

The hospital is a sad place at Christmastime, and it has its joys as well. Most of the patients who are able, will go to their homes this Christmas Day. Only those who are seriously ill or disabled will remain. To some, home will be just a dream or a hope.

The maternity ward will be a happy place, for what could be more delightful and more hopeful for the future than a baby born, like another infant born nearly twenty centuries ago at Christmastime? And what could be more tragic, more shattering, more soul searing, than the loss of a loved one on Christmas Eve?

The hospital sees all these things and feels all these emotions.

After the visitors have gone and the carolers have departed and the hospital is left once again to the patients and the nurses and maids and orderlies and maintenance men and technicians and doctors, who have given up so much of themselves to work as one in a common purpose, an odd sort of quiet settles over the hospital.

And perhaps the patient who has had a happy time will awaken on Christmas morning with a trace of tears on the pillowcase for no matter how humble the hospital, there's just NO place like 'home'.

But those who work in hospitals can take solace in the knowledge that they are living the Christmas spirit, not just at Christmas time, but all the time, and his is the noblest goal that man can aspire to.

DISEASES TRANSMITTED BETWEEN ANIMALS AND MAN

Anthropozoonoses is a mouthful of a word that becomes simple when broken down. Anthro is a combining form denoting relationship to man, and zoonosis is disease in animals. Hence, anthropozoonoses are diseases transmitted between animals and man. In medical nomenclature, the word zoonoses refers to such diseases.

Zoonosis has world-wide importance, and the World Health Organization has established in Argentina a Pan-American Zoonoses Center to coordinate the work of investigators in different parts of the world studying the problem of diseases transmissible. There are eighty-seven diseases of animals transmissible to man, according to the latest count. With the control of various human plagues, it becomes evident that a great deal of chronic illness, which incapacitates but does not kill human beings, result from man's close contact with domestic animals.

And some diseases man gets from animals are deadly, such as rabies. It has been discovered that bats are capable of harboring rabies without themselves being necessarily sick. From bats, the disease may spread to skunks, thence to dogs and to man; or the bite of a rabid bat directly on man may infect him with the virus of rabies. Another disease called psittacosis has at times afflicted humans throughout the country, having been spread by imported sick psittacine birds such as parrots and parakeets. Nowadays, parrots and parakeets of the domestic breed are said to be free of psittacosis.

Brucellosis, also called undulant fever, is a disease of animals which occurs in humans who work with infected animals, handle infected meat, or use raw milk from infected cows or goats. Anthrax is a somewhat rare disease transmitted from animals to those who handle hides, hair, bristles, and wool. Medical men are learning to know the zoonoses and how to protect man and animals against the transmissible diseases.

Just as piling brings the top dollar from pine veneer logs bring the top dollar from hardwood, according to A. W. Jones, Extension Marketing Specialist at Auburn University.

MORAL RESPONSIBILITY AND CHRISTMAS

THE National Safety Council announced today a Christmas holiday safety campaign that will stress moral responsibility and appeal to every American to observe the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill."

"By moral responsibility," said Arthur B. Langlie, chairman of the Council's National Committee of Religious Leaders for Safety, "we mean simply this:

"Motorists--and people in their homes, too--violate one of the Ten Commandments when, through disregard for safety, they cause others to suffer or lose their lives."

"This," said Langlie, former governor of Washington and now president of the McCall Corp., New York City, "is the reason for sober worship and family joy. It is also a time for honest thinking."

"It's a time for honest thinking about living a sound, full life and helping others to do so. This must surely include thoughts about driving your car -- carefully and soberly."

"We must have regard for our own lives and well-being, and patient consideration for the welfare of those who ride with us or who ride in other cars."

"Thoughtful, careful habits are wrapped up in the meaning of the Christmas season."

The Council's Christmas safety campaign will continue from Dec. 1 through the New Year's holiday. It will reach its peak, the organization said, from Dec. 21-25. Theme of the month-long effort, which will emphasize the need for safety on the nation's streets and highways, is: "For a merry Christmas--make it safe!"

"One sure and simple way to help make your holiday safe," Langlie pointed out, "is to do away with the office party which relies on the bottle for its fun."

"Take care of yourself and your family this Christmas," Langlie urged. "Above all, remember the Golden Rule. It will help you have a safe and merry holiday."

THINGS We see and hear
by BOB

LEWIS Headley, head man at IGA tells us that he went Buck hunting last week. Everybody knows that Lewis is quite handy at "buck" hunting, but this time it was the deer variety and Lewis says he hasn't been having much luck with either one. He was a guest in the party of Armistead Selden. He said the lodge where they stayed was magnificent and he obviously thought it was quite an experience. Oh yeah, about that buck; he didn't get one! But he had a good time trying.

AND speaking of venison, "Flip" Murphy told us the other evening that he bagged himself a nice eight point buck not long back and he figured since that put him in a class with several other Chilton deer-slayers he'd have it mounted. It's a good thing they just mounted the head, or that would be a lot of buck to tie up!

UPON seeing Orville Wood propelling himself on a pair of crutches, we ventured to ask him what happened and it was just as we feared. The misadventure had the front door blocked when he took off and he had to make his getaway out the back way. That first step 'be'ing a dilly, old Orville 'broke his paw! No seriously, he said on Thanksgiving night (he wasn't celebrating either) he stepped gingerly off the back porch onto a bag of nuts and broke a bone in his foot when it turned. Now, there's a likely story!

MR. Red Pulmer, spokesman for the Disabled American Veterans tells us this week that the people responded wonderfully to their call for toy sets for the Chilton County Christmas Chest. He says they obtained more than they ever have before and needless to say his organization, the Chest and your volupitization, will make a number of Chilton County children happy this Christmas. The DAV thanks you,

Seal Sale Response Is Encouraging

THE Chilton County Tuberculosis Association got encouraging word today. A check-up shows that the 1959 Christmas Seal campaign is running way ahead of drive at this time last year. Of our goal has been received this year's campaign.

"The people are demonstrating that they are behind the fight to eradicate tuberculosis, which kills more people in Alabama than all other infectious diseases combined," said Mrs. R. M. Tucker, Sale Chairman.

"She said more people are answering the letter of appeal than before."

"The contributions for the Seal Sale finance the voluntary tuberculosis program in Chilton County. Money raised by the annual county Seal sale helps to provide good health for all of us by fighting and preventing the spread of tuberculosis, both by finding and treating persons afflicted with disease and by financing research on its prevention and cure."

"We are grateful to the people of Chilton County for the response they are giving to our annual Seal Sale. It proves that they are aiming at knocking TB out of county."

Add New Life To Old Picture Frames

Old wooden picture frames can be revived to add life and usefulness.

Before apply a new finish, remove paint or the old finish with remover and fine steel wool. Follow the directions on the paint remover can, advises Alice Peavy, Extension Home Furnishings Specialist. After cleaning the frame with turpentine, rub it with fine sandpaper or triple O steel wool until it has a satin finish.

A variety of finishes will provide a soft, natural look, points out the Auburn University Specialist. Use two coats of penetrating seal or three coats of paste wax—or, you can apply two parts linseed oil and one part turpentine with a soft cloth. For this rubbed oil finish, repeat the process at least four times allowing a minimum of one week between coats.

Large Shipment U.S. Poultry Goes Abroad

The largest shipment of frozen chickens ever to be sent abroad will be in Europe in time for Christmas dinner.

This number includes 700 tons of frozen poultry that has been inspected and graded by the Poultry Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

According to the Auburn University Specialist, the U. S. Department of Agriculture inspection and grading service has helped to increase the use of American frozen poultry abroad. And this large shipment is a big step toward expanding foreign markets for U. S. Poultry.

Grade-A dairying is the most important phase of the dairy industry in Alabama. It is one enterprise in the state's agriculture in which a good job is being done toward supplying all our market requirements.

Requests for travel information in Alabama has reached a record high for off season demands. The months of November and December, according to Roy Marcato, Director of the Publicity and Information Bureau for the State of Alabama, are usually slow for this department. However, the demands for travel information has increased the work load of this bureau to such a point that our staff cannot cope with the situation on a day by day basis.

This demand for information about travel in Alabama will make it necessary to revise our estimates for 1960 considerably upwards from original surveys.

The increase in both foreign and domestic mail means more tax dollars for the State - and for the hotels, motels, restaurants, gift shops, gasoline stations, department stores, garages, sports shops, marine supply stores, tourist attractions, and companies dealing in services, who are in direct contact with the traveller.

The extensive use of soil testing as a guide to proper fertilizing is the big point in Alabama's soil fertility campaign.

Poplar Springs Club Delivers Baskets To Shut-Ins

The Poplar Springs Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon, Dec. 4, in the home of Mrs. Dennis with Mrs. Myrtle Smith as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Bertha Stewart, called the meeting to order, the Bible reading by Mrs. Gladys Smith. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Jessie Parrish, and all calls were answered with the most unusual Christmas present ever received.

The business consisted of an interesting report from Miss Lena Lewis and Mrs. Putman on delivering nine beautiful Thanksgiving baskets to shut-ins, three of which were sent in birthday cards to the girl who have sponsored all in the Children's Home, and Emma Batson starting a sewing basket around to each member to make money for the club.

New business was that the club decided to send our girl in the Children's Home a nice car coat for Christmas, along with other gifts, for nine toys to the Christmas tree and help with fixing the boxes and delivering.

The demonstration was on Christmas decorations given by Mrs. Putman.

man and Miss Downes with so many new ideas.

Advice For Storage Of Irrigation Equipment

When your irrigation equipment is ready for winter storage, follow these recommendations.

Auburn Extension Specialist Lawrence Emsie says to answer the risers from the main lines and store them with the nozzles where they can't be damaged. Stack the main pipe under a shed, and take the rubber sealing collars out of each pipe section and store in a dry, cool, dark place. Properly winterize the power unit and make sure all water is out of the pump and pump-priming mechanism.

PSC SAYS — SOUTHERN BELL ORDERED TO MAKE REFUND

CUSTOMERS SHOULD RECEIVE $25 MILLION

An order requiring the Southern Bell Telephone Co. to refund in excess of $25 million dollars to its customers is in keeping with a long-standing policy of the Public Service Commission, Chairman C. C. (Jack) Owen said today.

Owen said the commission order also has the effect of reducing present telephone rate $3,303,371 per year.

"I have taken the position from the beginning in this case," the commission president said, "that a substantial and fair refund should be made to Southern Bell Telephone customers. This order sustains the positions taken by the Commission in 1954."

Owen took over as chairman of the commission in January, 1951. The other members when the telephone case was filed were the late Jimmy Hitchcock and T. O. (Tillie) Walker.

"I am pleased to participate in this order which provides substantial refunds to all of the company's customers and at the same time allows the company recovery of wage increases which it has granted to its employees," Owen said.

"After all the company's employees have to pay as much for milk and bread as any one else and this is a fact that should be considered in arriving at the maximum refund."

"I hope the company will comply with this order, as it should be in the public interest without further delay, and begin to make the refund of money which rightfully belongs to the customers as soon as possible."

"I have fought doggedly to prevent the company from charging unreasonably high rates for its services. My position has been and will continue to be to pursue this same course."

American Legion Post 6 Honors CCHS Football Squad of 1959

by Wayne Atcheson

After the winter break, the No. 6 of Clanton gave the Clanton Football Team a banquet, last Thursday night which was enjoyed and appreciated by the coaches and the team.

Vines-Dennis Share Linebacker

After the winter break, the Most Valuable player trophy given by the Legion, Jimmy Dennis received the Good Sportsmanship trophy. This trophy was given by a team committee who watched the boys play all season. These boys certainly deserve the awards.

The team and guests enjoyed a fine dinner, chicken supper which started the banquet.

Letters Awarded

After the dinner, the letters and trophies were introduced. Then Coach Don Finlayson introduced each player and awarded those who were deserving the awards.

Atcheson Presents Statistics

Wayne Atcheson, statistician and sports writer for the team, then gave some statistics of the season. The Clanton football team had a record of 10-2-1. They scored 142 points and allowed 142 points in 17 games. They had 1,000 yards in 104 carries, 1,000 yards in 104 carries, 1,000 yards in 104 carries, 1,000 yards in 104 carries.

Lanier's Good Sport

Vince Lanier, captain of the team, was named the Most Valuable Player. He was named the Most Valuable Player for his leadership and sportsmanship.

Presents Trophies

Mr. P. Powell then presented Buddy Vines the Most Valuable Player trophy. Buddy thanked the Post and said he enjoyed playing with the team and said even though we didn't win all our games we gave it all we had.

Guest Speaker McKeen

Mr. Dent Williams introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Allen McKeen of Montgomery. Mr. McKeen is now working with a sporting goods company in Montgomery. He also helps Champ Pickins promote the Bluegrass Football Game.

McKeen played his college football at Tennessee losing only three games in his varsity career. After his playing days he coached for ten years at Memphis State and ten years at Mississippi State.

McKeen stressed the game of football as being the only all-American game. He said that it was the only American game played only in North America. He said that it was not a game played with mechanical skills, such as basketball and baseball.

McKeen also told of some exciting moments that he had had in his playing career and coaching career. Everyone really enjoyed his speech.

Bates Acts Emcee

Mr. Lally Bates, Commander in Chief of the Legion, who acted as Master of Ceremonies, then recognized other guests and those who promoted the banquet.

The Legion is planning to give next year's squad a post-season banquet and give two or three trophy awards to the players.

Tiffins Was Fouled

Tiffin was fouled in the act of shooting and had two shots with 3 minutes, 48 seconds to go. Tiffin missed the first one but got the second and Clanton led 26 to 24.

Jim Baum was fouled by Jimmy Tiffin

Jim Baum was fouled by Jimmy Tiffin and Baum made a 20 to 25 with 2 minutes 24 second remaining.

Vines Gets Free Shot

Thirty-five seconds late Buddy Vines had a free shot coming but missed it.

With exactly one minute left Leroy Arthur was fouled but missed his free shot and the action really began.

Thirty seconds remained when Leroy Arthur traveled and it was Lanier's ball. Lanier trying to get in the court knocked the ball out of bounds and Clanton was in possession.

Clanton Takes Over

Wayne Mizell brought the ball down the court and as he stepped across the center line he passed it back across the line to Hutchinson putting Clanton ahead with a free shot.

Lanier called time out with 11 seconds to go. Lanier took the ball in and couldn't get a shot in anywhere until in the two or three seconds Charles Savage got the ball and pushed it in from 17 feet out. The buzzer sounded as the ball was in the air and it was just that close.

Both Team-Poor Shooters

Both teams displayed poor shooting from the floor. Clanton held a 10 to 6 lead at the first quarter, but one last shot before the half put Lanier ahead 14 to 13 at the half.

No fouls were committed in the third quarter. Clanton made three free shots, two by Leroy Arthur, and Lanier made two field goals. Clanton led 19-18 after three quarters.

Jimmy Tiffin was high point man for both teams with 8 points. Wayne Mizell grabbed seven rebounds and Buddy Vines got six.

California Cows Lead In Milk Production

Any dairyman can improve his herd regardless of its production level or size.

This can be done by keeping records and using those records to improve the herd, points out Auburn Extension Dairyman Sam Jones. And this is exactly what members of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association do.

According to Jones, totals for DHIA testing in the United States for 1958 are now available. The average cow on the test produced 10,068 pounds of milk and 394 pounds fat—an increase of 174 pounds of milk and five pounds of fat over 1957. During 1958, California cows led all others on the test with an average of 11,022 pounds of milk and 432 pounds of fat.

Dairyman in Alabama averaged 6,507 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of fat in 1958, says the specialist. On Oct. 1, 1959, there were 16,969 cows on the DHIA test—52 percent of all the dairy cows in Alabama.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today that he saw no basis in the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Law for thinking that Congress intended to discourage the traditional exchange of Christmas presents by employers and labor organizations.

"The Secretary pointed out that traditional practices are unaffected by the new law. He said that nothing in the new law prohibits the holding of Christmas parties for employees where gifts and entertainment are provided by an employer or a labor organization."

"Secretary Mitchell also said that he has received several letters from reputable charities indicating that some labor organizations may be withholding customary donations apparently because of an erroneous belief that the new law forbids such donations. This belief probably stems from a misunderstanding of the provisions dealing with fiduciary responsibilities of officers of labor organizations."

The Secretary pointed out that

THIS is a Christmas story. It about a fire cracker, a match, and two friends standing innocently talking in the corridor of the arkhouse. One man without even knowing absentmindedly pulls out a firecracker and 'nades it. The ends, to be cooperative and probably, thinking firecrackers were safe to put a match to, struck match and lighted the cracker.
ell, anybody who has ever lighted a firecracker knows the first thing to do is to get rid of the thing fast too late. This our hero threw it into the Sheriff's office. As we said, it's just a Christmas story. Probably never happened. At least we know a pile of nice guys that wish to see Sam Hill it hadn't.

The judge was indignant: "I don't think of anything worse than man beating up his wife," he said to the defendant. "What made you do it?" "Well," said the man,
"he kept saying, 'hit me. Go read and hit me! I'll have you boon of a judge in court and let fix you."

businesses around town. Tuesday evening the Atlantic & Pacific Tea company manager Robert Flounory and his wife entertained the employees at their store at their home. Games and Christmas goodies were served in quantity and all had a wonderful time.

What are you doing out so late?
I'm looking for a husband.
But you have a husband.
That's the one I'm looking for.

SHERIFF Hugh Champion is the reason about the tedious shooting of firecrackers about town and county. The law says you can't shoot firecrackers and other explosives. Seems no one is paying any attention to the law and breaking them at will. Thus, the sheriff's force is going to have to be to be enforced they shouldn't be put off on the state books.
What would you think if all our were treated so lightly?

Yule Customs Past and Present

IN IRELAND, only women named Mary may sing the carols in church on Christmas Eve. Carols are exchanged in Holland on December 6, not on Christmas Day.
Some Scandinavian families place all their shoes together on Christmas Day, in the belief that this will cause harmonious living throughout the year. In Nova Scotia, it is considered bad luck to take a Christmas tree down before the end of New Year's Day.

COMMENDATION
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT
RESOLVED: That the Clanton Kiwanis Club hereby commends the Honorable Armistead I. Selden, Representative of the Sixth Congressional District of the State of Alabama; the Honorable J. C.
White, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, and Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama, and the members of said Board, and the Honorable J. Hollis Jackson, Mayor of the City of Clanton, Alabama, and the members of the Council of the City of Clanton, Alabama, for their favorable action in supporting said project.

AND BE IT FURTHER RE-SOLVED: That a copy of this Preamble and Resolution be forthwith given to the Press, and forwarded to the Honorable Armistead I. Selden, Representative of the Sixth Congressional District of the State of Alabama; Honorable J. C. White, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, and Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama, and the Honorable J. Hollis Jackson, Mayor of the City of Clanton, Alabama.

Hope for Further Development
AND BE IT FURTHER RE-SOLVED: That it is the hope of the Clanton Kiwanis Club that said project may, in the near future, be extended, and enlarged, so as to better serve the people of this community.

DIBBLE, DIBBLE, WHAT'S A DIBBLE?

TREE planting dibbles are being constructed in the vocational agriculture shop by Clanton vo. ag. stu-
son, teacher, Tommy Cargile, and Wayne Minor. Completed dibbles can be seen hanging on the wall.

Dibbles For Pine Trees

Members of the Clanton FFA Chapter and residents of the school area won't have to worry about having dibbles to use in planting pine trees this year.

Twenty all-metal dibbles have been built by the third year vocational agriculture class under teacher J. R. Thompson. Army surplus and other scrap metal was used to build the tree planting tools which are available for use by the public at a two dollar deposit is made for each one.

The blade of the dibbles is made from army surplus precast drill bits, the leg of the handle is one inch pipe, and the cross piece on the handle is three-fourth inch pipe.

Mr. Thompson estimates that the dibbles cost about 50 cents each to build. In addition to being useful in the community, they gave students valuable welding experience.

HAVE FUN WITHOUT FIREWORKS

ATTORNEY General McDonald
Gallion has ruled that any fireworks containing 25 grams of powder in them are prohibited by law in the State of Alabama. This, of course, includes all firecrackers and most other type fireworks. It does not, however, include caps for toy pistols or less of explosive compound.

County Solicitor L. F. Gerald has warned the law will be enforced, so better watch your fireworks this Christmas.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

It would take 16 slices of bread to provide as much thiamine as a pork chop; 17 bowls of cereal to provide as much protein as a pork chop; and 15 servings of spin-ach to give as much iron as a serving of pork liver.

Rice is the most universally grown and most widely used for food of all grains cultivated. Rice is nutritious, satisfying, and consistently a low-cost food. It makes a good starch for expensive meats and other protein foods.
Cotton was used in 42 percent of women's wear and in 77 percent of children's wear in 1958.

It takes a little longer to whip nonfat dry milk than egg whites or cream, but it can't be over-whipped. However, whipped non-fat dry milk doesn't hold up over a long period so plan to use it within an hour after whipping.

In all pork cookery, low temperature cooking is important.
For best flavor and aroma, spices should be kept tightly covered and used within six months.

Low-fat cottage cheese contains very little fat and vitamin A.
Creamed cottage cheese usually has about five percent fat and furnishes more calories and vitamin A.

Finger painting will help keep children busy on a rainy day. Mix six tablespoons of dry laundry starch with a little cold water.
Four mixture slowly into one quart of boiling water, stirring until liquid thickens. Add a drop of oil of cloves and food coloring or poster paint to color.

Onions take fourth place among vegetables in per capita consumption.
A potatoer will not pick up dirt so easily if it is starched lightly after laundering.

For best results in using new equipment, follow the instruction book that came with it as closely as you would follow the recipe for a new dish.

More than a million and a half acres of land were planted to trees this year by U. S. farmers. This is an all-time record; previous high was in 1957 with 1,170,990.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

WE CAN HAVE CHRISTMAS EVERY DAY

What a wonderful time of year Christmas is! We celebrate the birth of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus of Nazareth.

We are all drawn more closely together as a family group. Our hearts seem to be bubbling over with love and compassion for everyone with whom we come in contact.

We exchange gifts. We sit around the fire and tell our children and parents how much we love them, how much we appreciate them.

There is something exciting and enchanting about the whole Yuletide Season that makes us seem to glow with a warmth from deep within.

Let us pray: "Dear God, Our hearts seem to be bubbling over
with love and compassion for many, many happy Christmas Days together! Watch over us, bring us all back together again next Christmas. Don't let our tight little family circle be broken."

Why, how the magic of Christmas can affect us!

I once heard a man say: "You get out of Christmas just what you put into it." I think this is true. The home that is prettily decorated, the preparations

HOLIDAY MENU AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

IT is becoming traditional that we publish the menu served at the Chilton County Hospital on Christmas Day each year. There's nothing quite like Christmas in a hospital and though it is tragic and sad for some, this particular establishment houses the true spirit of giving and sacrificing which is the Christmas Spirit.

The statement by Matthew that the wise men from the East, inquiring "where is He that is born King of the Jews?" aroused Herod so that he ordered the massacre of all children two years old or less, is very significant. It is taken as proof that Jesus must have been born about two years before this infamous decree was issued.

No less an authority than the Catholic encyclopedia places the Birth of Christ in the year which, by our modern methods of keeping track of dates, would be 7 B. C.
Thus Christ's birth does not exactly determine the difference between
B. C. and A. D. date.

Most people, however, do not care if the exact day and year of Christ's birth are unknown. What matters most is the deathless vigor of the Christmas Spirit throughout the world.

The Origin Of Christmas Carols

THE custom of singing Christmas carols dates back to ancient times when walls and minstrels sang them in the streets.

The first true Christmas carols, which spread to many European countries, originated in Italy during the thirteenth century. These carols, with their solemn, beautiful and childlike simplicity, came way in popularity to modern simplified and solemn Christmas hymns.

Peace On Earth --

IN this year 1959, the world is not everything we would like it to be. We have a talent for organization, and a positive genius for making things—machines that are marvelously intricate and precise. Yet, among ourselves, we have never been able to fashion anything except the uneasiest kind of peace on earth, a hesitant, suspicious attempt at goodwill toward men.

But once a year, at Christmas, the vision is available to us. Dimly we catch a glimpse of what the world might be if our ability to produce could be matched by an ability to understand.

Our shortcomings are many and glaring. Even today, half the world goes to bed hungry every night. And over us all streak the rockets. We live under the fearful shadow of our own new-found ability to make the earth a dead and shattered star, drifting lifeless through empty space.

And so, for each one of us individually, we make this Christmas wish. May we capture and hold throughout the New Year that spirit of love and peace and brotherhood that we can all glimpse at Christmas time. As the vision grows brighter, so will our world.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

'Tis Fortunate We Are --

THE people of Chilton County are fortunate indeed to have churches which put so much spirit and enthusiasm into the celebration and remembrance of Christ's Birthday. We can speak with authority of only one church in the County, that being the First Methodist at Clanton, but from all indications and observations there are no exceptions when it comes to honoring Christ on Christmas.

Without a doubt, we are blessed repeatedly with individuals who thoroughly believe in this Christmas Spirit and put their whole being into making it so for others.

To mention a few who are representative of this true Christmas Spirit we name Mrs. G.L. Robertson and Mr. Charlie Griffin. Their diligence in this Christmas work is beyond compare and there consecrated efforts show forth in the productions which they present.

There are numerous others of course, due as much credit; in fact hundreds of others, but we cannot name them all. We only hope that most of Chilton County was privileged, as we were, in viewing or taking part in some of the Christmas Pageants and stories that were presented last Sunday evening. Inspiring is an understatement indeed! Congratulations and thanks to all these fine folks!

HERE IS A MAN who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office.

HE never owned a home. He never set foot inside a big city. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He had no credentials but Himself.

HE had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him.

He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves.

HIS executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying — and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

NINETEEN wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all armies that ever marched and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of any upon this earth as powerfully as that One Solitary Life.

ABUNDANT LIFE
by ORAL ROBERTS
NEWSPAPER REPORTER SAVES A WOULD-BE SUICIDE ON CHRISTMAS EVE

It was Christmas Eve. A police reporter on the Seattle Post Intelligence of Seattle, Washington, was sitting at his typewriter when suddenly, without warning, a woman came to him. Not knowing why, he hurried to Pioneer Square, three blocks away, just in time to knock a loaded pistol away from the head of a man about to shoot himself.

A cold rain was falling, and the gun slid across the glistening grass. Everything seemed so unreal that the reporter felt he was enacting a strange drama. Across the street at a glance he noticed the time shown by a clock in the window of a restaurant. It was five minutes past seven.

Just a few minutes before, he had been sitting at his typewriter. Now here he was in Seattle's "skid row" with a man he had just saved from death.

Where did the impulse come from that sent him out into the dreary night? What had sent him directly to the spot where a human being was about to hurl himself into eternity?

The man dropped on his knees and began fumbling for the wet grass for the gun. The reporter pushed him with his foot and he sprawled on his face. Then the reporter picked up the gun. "Let's go home," he said. "Where do you live? What's your name? Is it Jack?"

"How did you know my name?" asked the man, who was sobbing.

"I don't know," said the reporter, "but let's go somewhere where we can talk."

The poor fellow shook his head. "I don't want to talk," he said. But then words came pouring out of him. "I can't go on. I can't face them. My children will have no Christmas presents, no food, no money. I am sick and I'm tired. I want to get away from it."

Somehow the reporter was able to persuade Jack to let him take him home. When they walked into the house, two little girls about three and five years old rushed to their father. His wife ran to him and put her arms around him. She looked at the reporter and said, "I've been worried sick. Tonight when he didn't come home by seven o'clock, I prayed and asked God to take care of him and bring him safely home. And here he is."

Suddenly the reporter realized why the impulse had come to him at exactly seven o'clock. Prayer had spanned the distance and God had used him as an answer to her prayers. (This story was related by Alexander Lake in Your Prayers Are Always Answered.)

It is my firm conviction that prayer is the greatest privilege God ever gave a human being.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS WHEN PUTTING UP CHRISTMAS TREES

The traditional burning of the Christmas tree outdoors is a thrilling sight, but when accidentally ignited indoors can be a flaming disaster. The National Safety Council said today.

"Filled with natural pitch and resin, the Christmas tree is one of the most combustible objects known—virtually impossible to extinguish by ordinary methods."

"When the needles fall," the Council said, "it should not be burned, branch by branch, in the fire place, because the roaring fire is difficult to control. It should be burned outdoors, in fire-safe areas."

"The months of December and January," the Council added, "are the leading months for fire burns, and last year 93 fire deaths occurred during the Christmas holiday alone."

The Christmas tree tradition is a wonderful art of the season, the Council said, so keep it wonderful by observing these few precautions:

Buy a tree no bigger than you need. The larger the tree, the larger the fire hazard.

Wait to put it up until just before Christmas. Keep it in a cold place until then.

Saw off, diagonally, at least an inch of the trunk and place in a stand filled with water.

Place tree away from sources of heat such as TV sets, radiators, powerful electric lights, which speed up the drying process.

Use nonflammable decorations. Keep metallic icicles or tinsel away from light sockets. Dangling into the socket, they can cause short circuits or flash fires. Do not overload circuits, or replace normal fuses with oversized ones.

Use electric lights only. Be sure they bear the Underwriter's Laboratories label. Check for frayed cord, faulty sockets, loose connections. Provide a switch some distance from the tree to turn it on and off. Do not unplug tree lights underneath the tree.

Never use candles on the tree or around any combustible decorations.

Turn off tree lights before leaving the room or the house.

Don't operate electric toys, such as trains, beneath the tree. They can ignite decorations or wrappings.

Use stool or ladder while trimming the tree. Let children deprecate only lower branches. Don't smoke while trimming or dismantling.

Burn the tree in a fire-safe area outdoors. Some communities have tree-burning bonfires under the supervision of the fire department. If your community does not, contact your fire department and seek its cooperation. Youth organizations may collect the trees.

STUTTERING

Stuttering is a disturbance in the rhythm of speech. Intermitent or irregular spasmodic blocking or repetition of sounds and words is characteristic. Stuttering is four times as frequent among boys as girls and it always begins early in childhood. Children of about three or four naturally begin to repeat words and sounds.

Any child may show an occasional slight hesitation in his speech and while speaking may stop suddenly as if he is groping for a word. In the child afflicted with a tendency to stutter, a tenseness in his repetition becomes apparent as his vocabulary increases. This is due to the spasmodic contraction of the muscles having to do with speech such as those of the lips, tongue, jaw and larynx.

As the stuttering becomes more definite, others will notice it and playmates will often mimic him. The stutterer becomes conscious of his speech difficulty, there is a psychological effect, the child begins to show anxiety when he talks. He may put his hand over his mouth when he begins to stutter, or he may turn his head away from the person to whom he is speaking, and tensions and spasmodic movements in other parts of the body are noticeable. Stuttering and stammering, being primarily conditions resulting from emotional causes, call for treatment in resolving the mental conflict.

When the mental problem is adjusted, the patient will regain self-confidence and the speech defect usually disappears. Treatment with a class is preferably to individual treatment as the person encouraged by the progress in others gains hope for himself. Family and friends must be patient and confident, for impatience and anger only make the problem worse.

Will You Share Your Home?

THINGS We see and hear
by BOB

GOT a much appreciated Christmas card from our very good friend Marion Deaton and family stationed in the southern part of Florida. It reminded us of something he told us about his flying and how near you can be to someone, yet how far away. He flies a B-47 with the Strategic Air Command and they do much of their flying at night. He says many a night he has flown over Clanton and seen the lights at the local airport and thought about how painful it was not to be able to see his mom! That's kinda like we felt when we received his card. ... only in reverse. We're a long way from him, but it makes us feel much closer.

AND speaking of Christmas Cards! We think that sending greetings to loved ones and folks you know is one of the best ways in which Americans can send their money nowadays. It's nice to be remembered, and nicer still to do the remembering!

IT says here that the Roman God Janus, for which our month of January was named was pictured looking both forward and backward. It's good to look back over the accomplishments of the past year, but much better to look ahead toward an even better year to come.

Dwell not long on the things gone past. But look ahead to a brighter year One filled with dreams and deeds that last. And bring yourself and your loved ones cheer!

Don't Let Christmas Bring Tragedy

According to API Extension Forester Ivan Martin, nearly every family in the United States has a tree of some sort to help make the Christmas holidays a success. "However," says Martin, "everything good must be handled with care, and Christmas trees are no exception." For a safe and truly merry Christmas, follow these safety suggestions offered by Martin.

Select a fresh, green tree. "If the needles are turning brown, the tree has already dried out and will be a fire hazard," says the specialist. Saw off the butt end on a slant, at least one inch above the original cut. Keep the butt end standing in water during the entire time the tree is in the house. Be sure to refill the container daily, as the tree absorbs the water.

Be sure the tree is well supported. Keep it away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, and other sources of heat. The tree should be placed where it won't block an exit in case of fire or other emergency. Never, never use lighted candles or other open flames on or around Christmas trees.

Check electric tree lights and connections. Don't use worn, frayed wires or electric cords. Avoid using combustible decorations and flammable reflectors for lights. Keep metal foil icicles or tinsel out of the bulb sockets. Avoid overloading electric circuits. Accumulations of wrapping paper and plastic electrical toys under the tree are also dangerous practices.

Will You Share Your Home?

WILL you share your home temporarily with someone else's child?

This question is being asked by Miss Joyce Clements, Director of the Chilton County Department of Pensions and Security, who states that her Department has a need for additional private family homes to keep children at board for varying lengths of time.

"A boarding home is a family home which has been licensed by the Department of Pensions and Security to care for unrelated children," Miss Clements explained. "The license does not cost anything. It just means that the people in the home love children, their home meets the standards set by the State Board of Pensions and Security, and will be supervised by a county department worker."

In making an appraiser for boarding homes, Miss Clements emphasized that the need is not for persons wanting to elicit children, but rather for those who can offer temporary care.

The things you do in the year to come will mean much more if you do them right. So stand up straight, and that tune you hum Can be your theme for a future bright!

MOST of the businessmen in Clanton and surrounding territory are pleased with the shoppers' efforts to trade at home this year. We have heard too many "I can't find what I'm looking for" remarks though and it leads us to wonder just what they are looking for. To our way of thinking, local merchants were well stocked in everything.

AND of course the merchants' complaint is "we've got it and they don't want it." ... Oh well, it's Christmas and we wish you and yours the happiest and merriest yet. We hope your stockings are filled with all the goodies of a Christian life and sincerely pray for better understanding and wonderful peace throughout the coming year. Nell and myself, Benji, Terry and Mark wish you a wonderful Christmas and a beautiful holiday season. MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Boarding Home Care, as a Service for Children

The Director stressed the fact that board is paid for each child. She appealed to all people in Chilton County who can do so to place their homes to these children. "I now have several children at board," she said, "and some vary in length of time depending on their family situation. She said homes can be licensed on a temporary basis, for a few days, or for longer periods of time, two, three or four children, under present standards, with conditions possible for large families. Sometimes a home, however, is licensed for a particular child only. This may occur when a child is crippled or emotionally disturbed. A family can meet the needs of this child generally with no others are placed there."

"There is a great need for families who can take older children on a temporary basis," she said. "If you are interested persons may contact the Chilton County Department of Pensions and Security, she said."

A Christmas Wish

I like to think that there will be
 On Christmas Day, around each tree,
 A feeling of the presence of The Child God sent us with His love;
 That there, beside each girl and boy,
 He'll be, to witness all their joy.
 I like to think that all the while
 The gifts unfold, I'll see Him smile
 And that He'll hear our caroling
 And know it's for Him that we bring To God the Father, for His birth,
 To be among us here on earth...
 Or may we have our Christmas gay,
 But not forget that it's His day
 Let's let the Lord Jesus share in it—
 Let's have a bit of prayer in it.

Pine Cone Legend

ONCE UPON A time, according to a Hazar Mountain legend — a poor miner's wife was gathering pine cones in the forest. It was just before Christmas, her husband was ill and there was no money in the house for food. So she gathered the cones and sold them to the villagers for kindling — obtaining enough for the day's necessities.

One morning while she was looking for such cones, a little imp jumped out of a huge fir tree. "Here, here are the biggest driest cones of all. Take these," he shrieked jumping up and down excitedly.

Suddenly there was such a shower of cones that the poor woman was frightened. She tried to run away, but could not move until the little imp had filled her basket. And having started home, the basket grew heavier and heavier — she wished the imp hadn't disappeared, he might have helped her.

When she finally reached her hut she called the children to help carry the basket inside. Emptying the basket, she found that every cone was solid silver.

Commemorating these legendary silver cones gilded pine cones are sold in modern stores, to decorate our home — to burn and crackle gaily in our Christmas fires.

Tips on Touring

Ready Your Car for Winter

If you are one of millions of women who keep a household going, you probably keep a car going too. Here are some tips to insure good going for your car this winter.

Have it checked now. Last year, a survey of 3,000,000 cars showed that one out every five needed repairs. The survey covered brakes, front lights, rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror, horn.

This fall, the Motor Vehicles Bureau in Albany, N. Y., reported that nearly half of the vehicles inspected for mechanical fitness required repair or adjustment.

Be sure to have the radiator and the rest of the cooling system examined. Sluggish circulation can cause the motor to overheat, wasting anti-freeze. Have the radiator drained and flushed before new anti-freeze is put in.

How's the generator? The belt should be tight, the belt fabric fresh, and the generator brushes in good shape. Unless the generator does its job, night driving and the use of heater and defroster can exhaust the battery.

Keep the battery full. In winter, it works extra hard. Have the water checked every two weeks, at least. If your car has water jets for cleaning the windshield, make sure the water supply contains an alcohol solution. Otherwise it might freeze. Finally, have the heater and defroster checked. Any Shell dealer will be glad to make sure your car is ready for winter.

Christ Is Born, Indeed!

by Rowena Cheney

On Bethlehem's hill the shepherds Behold a wonderful light, Blending with golden voices Presounding through the night. And Wise Men, too, were heading With sweet faith, they journeyed To distant Bethlehem. Whether we come as Wise Men Through miles of barren sand, With priceless gifts—or shepherds With humble, empty hands, By light that beckons still, And Angel voices, singing Of peace and glad good will, To men of every color, Of every race and creed, Till peace on earth bears witness That Christ is born indeed! —Home Life

CCHS Glee Club Gives Concert

The Chilton County High School Junior and Senior High Chorus presented a Christmas concert, under the direction of Mrs. Lyle A. Rae, at the High School Gym, December 17, 1959 at 7:45 p.m.

The accompanists were Miriam Golden and Katie Don Thompson. The program portrayed The Birth of Christ in Scripture and Song. "The Prophesy" by Isaac Watts, "The Adoration" and "The Spread of The Good News", which were very impressively given. There were also some secular arrangements given, Carol of the Bells, Here We Come a Caroling, White Christmas, and to climax the program the combined choruses sang "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

The Senior High Chorus consists of 107 members and the Junior High 223.

At the close of the program, Clarke Hutchinson presented Mrs. Rae with a beautiful piece of her silver pattern in behalf of the members of the Glee Club, in appreciation of her work.

Clanton is fortunate in having such a capable person to direct the Glee Club.

This program was the highlight of the Christmas Season.

Some of the people from out-of-town who attended the program were Dr. Ethel Eastman and Mrs. Jester of Alabama College, Montevallo.

Mrs. Rae is a graduate of Alabama College.

(St. Matthew 7:5.)
It is said that to under-not without faults, and then to try--with God's help--to correct them, will lead us to understand and be sympathetic to the weakness of others, and in kindness and charity to be of help to them.

RURAL SURVIVAL $50 to $500

Safe in their shelter under three feet of feeding and sleeping eight people. The farmer hired a bulldozer to dig the hole, then built the shelter himself from used timbers and concrete.

The Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization provides specific information telling farmers how to protect their families and livestock from fallout, what to do before an attack, how to build a fallout shelter, and what food to store.

After an attack, civil defense authorities would broadcast frequent fallout forecasts to the surviving population and advise farmers how long they could safely emerge to perform essential tasks in maintaining the production of food so vital to national recovery.

Fallout shelter information is available free by writing to OGD Rural Civil Defense, Battle Creek, Mich.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
C. WILSON HARDER

Do not be surprised if the T men step in to indirectly force compliance with the anti-trust laws relating to illegal kick backs to big retail chains.

Congressional committees who have been investigating the situations that the Federal Trade Commission has failed to take action on are said to be thinking privately that the Revenue Bureau may possibly step in to matter with both feet.

It is not that the IRS has any interest in, or authority to, enforce the Robinson-Patman Act, but when substantial chunks of cash pass hands without any record, the tax people are definitely interested.

There seems to be substantial data being developed to show that a large share of the rebates given the big chains is in the form of cash which is all handed under the table.

At the same time, there is developing a growing disgust at the spathy of the Federal Trade Commission, charged with stopping illegal marketing methods.

Probably helping fan this feeling was the recent major effort by the FTC in particulating in the "exposures" of the rigged quiz shows. Yet when all the fuss and feathers settled down, no law was violated.
And the "startling" disclosures about this facet of the TV business was probably its great shock to the man in the street who has long been wise to the fact that even the so-called independent purveyors of independent business.

While the Justice Dept. in the sphere has of late been quite active in anti-trust matters, FTC is still doing business at same old frozen molasses pace.

In the meantime, independent businessmen under severe pressure to get out from under the Robinson-Patman act.

So don't be surprised to see the T men doing the job that the FTC seems either unwilling, or incapable, of doing.

To extract onion juice, peel the onion and cut off one slice. Press the raw surface against a fine grater and move slightly back and forth. The juice will run off and can be caught in a spoon.

Apply any floor wax that must be polished in a thin, even coat.
Buff thoroughly by hand with a bristle brush or an electric floor polisher. Too much wax and too little buffing can create a dangerous slip hazard.

Bethsalem HD Has Christmas Party; Exchange Gifts

The Bethsalem HD Club met on Dec. 10 with Miss Davis and ten members in the home of Mrs. J. C. Lupeholdt. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. S. Short.

Mrs. Lupeholdt gave the devotion and prayer.

Mrs. J. O. McGee read the story of the hymn "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night" Miss Davis gave the demonstration on Christmas Decorations. We passed along our ideas to other members.

Roll call and minutes were given by Mrs. Derrell Pierce, secretary.

A list of the officers for the new year was turned in by the secretary. We all especially enjoyed this meeting as we drew names and exchanged gifts.

Delicious refreshments were enjoyed by the group as the gifts were opened.

The Club dismissed to meet again with Mrs. Short in January.

Appeal To Veterans For Accuracy

An appeal to veterans and their beneficiaries to properly execute required forms when applying for veterans benefits was issued by Neil R. Smart, Manager of the Montgomery VA Regional Office, today.

Every item on an application blank must be filled in legibly before the claim can be adjudicated he pointed out. Failure to provide the necessary information holds up the decision on the claim until correspondence elicits a complete answer.

Such correspondence is costly to the applicant and to the Government, Smart said. It is further objectionable to all concerned because it delays action on the application.

"You are always welcome to bring your problem to the contact representatives at our office located at 400 Lee Street, Montgomery 4, Alabama," he invited.

Savings Stamp Gift
Books Make Ideal
Christmas Gift

The Post Office will be open all day Wednesday, December 23, 1959.

If you are searching for that ideal last-minute Christmas gift, the Clanton post office has the answer an attractive gift book containing United States Savings Stamps.

"While everyone looks to us to do his Christmas mending, few people think of us as suppliers of gifts," Postmaster Sutley told the Chilton County News today. "Actually, we've been in the business for many years."

Postmaster R. R. Sutley called attention to the recent action of the Civil Aeronautics Board which approved Postmaster General Summerfield's plan to make use of surplus space on commercial planes to speed the movement by air of First -class mail during the Christmas rush.

Local mail conditions, Postmaster R. R. Sutley stated, show propriate comments).

The Post Office Department
once again plans to deliver all Christmas mail prior to Christmas day as it has for the past several seasons. Postmaster R. R. Sutley noted, in urging local mailers to cooperate with the Post Office Department by mailing Christmas cards and packages early and often.

When selecting apples for sauce, choose medium-sized Wealthy, Mc-Intosh, Winesap, or Greening ap-the crosses of Jesus and the two thieves stood. On this spot, in his last agony, Christ compassionately pardoned the thief. (Jordan)

FOR THESE

This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him and saved

What is our attitude when we pray? Are we telling God our faith, seeking only His mercy and His love, we are

How To Protect Water Pipes From Freeze-Up

IT'S not too early to think about protecting water pipes from freezing.

A good idea is to cover any pipe lying on the surface of the ground with about 30 inches of soil, suggests Extension Engineer Bill Cox.
A new line should be placed in a trench about two feet deep or below the frost line.

The Auburn University specialist recommends using an electric heating cable on exposed pipes that cannot be covered or insulated.
These cables range in cost from six to 20 cents per foot and will protect the pipe even in the coldest weather. According to Cox, the cost of electric city for heating seldom is more than 25 cents per 24 hours for a 26-foot cable. Never lengthen or shorten the heating cable, he warns, because it ill affect the heat output and may cause a hazard. A thermostat is not necessary, but it makes protection automatic and economical.

A soil test can make you more productive by increasing your crop yields per acre.

Christmas Present Fudge

Homemade candy is a Christmas present everyone on your gift list will enjoy, and candy making is no longer a chore when you use recipes developed by the home economists of the Carnation Company. Smooth, velvety fudge is at hand in a matter of five minutes... the better blending facilities of Carnation Evaporated Milk are responsible for the perfect texture. There's no tiresome beating, cold water tests, no need for a thermometer when this modern method is used. These same features are true of other Carnation candy recipes such as Pecan Log and Almond Peanut Clusters.

Five Minute Chocolate Malt Fudge

(Makes about 2 pounds)

2 tablespoons butter 1 1/2 cups (about 16 medium) dried marshmallows
1 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk 1 1/2 cups (1 1/2 8-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 1/2 cups sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup instant malted milk 1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Combine butter, evaporated milk, sugar, salt and instant malted milk in saucepan over medium heat. Bring to a boil, and cook 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to "bubble" around edges of pan.) Remove from heat. Stir in marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla and walnuts. Stir vigorously for 1 minute (or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended). Pour into 9-inch square buttered pan and allow to cool. Cut in squares.

Pecan Log

(Makes 2 dozen slices)

2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon maple extract
3/4 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk 1 cup peanut butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla 1 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup ground or finely chopped pecans

Mix sugar and evaporated milk thoroughly in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a rolling boil over high heat. Reduce heat to medium. Boil for 6 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add vanilla, maple extract, peanut butter and 1 cup chopped pecans. Beat until well mixed. Pour into 9-inch square buttered pan and allow to cool. Shape into 12-inch roll. Roll in 1/2 cup ground or finely chopped pecans. Cut into 1/2-inch slices.

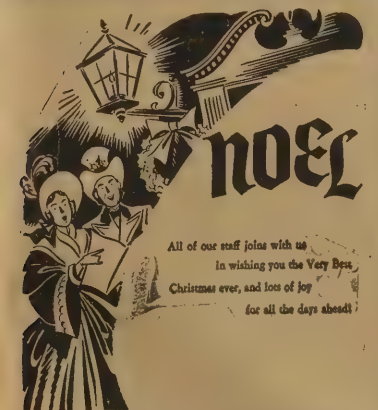

Almond Peanut Clusters

(Makes about 3 1/2 dozen)

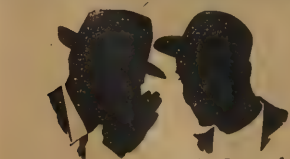

2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup chopped almonds 1 1/2 cups chopped almonds

Mix sugar and evaporated milk thoroughly in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a rolling boil over high heat. Reduce heat to medium. Boil for 6 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add vanilla, almond extract, peanut butter and almonds. Beat until well mixed. Drop candy rapidly from a teaspoon onto a buttered cookie sheet. Cool.

Quest Club Party

Silver bells on the front door heralded the arrival of Quest Club members as they gathered for the Christmas party, Tuesday night Dec. 15th.

Inside, the Yule decorations prevailed in full array. On a graduated table was a small church with red and white that cast a soft glow on a creche. An arrangement of special interest was a tree made of inverted funnels in silver, ornamented with tinsel and colored balls. On the mantel were branches of pyracantha with colored birds perched at intervals; the gaily wrapped gifts were placed on a table decorated with a small tree of sparkling net.

Miss Clements read a poem. A short business session was held.

Mrs. J. J. Reeves, Mrs. Dawson and Miss Clements were in charge of games. Members were really in the holiday spirit, entering into the games with zest, and a merry time followed.

As members sang and clapped hands, Mrs. Dawson acting as Santa, handed out the gifts.

Ten members were present and a visitor, Mrs. Jeff Hand, Jr. Refreshments in the Yule motif were served.

Miss Clements Hostess

Circle Two of WMU met with Miss Mary Clements Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Marvin Dawson, circle chairman, presided. Mrs. Edna Reynolds received the book, "By All Means."

The study was combined with a Christmas party.

The home, decorated in potted plants, including a lovely poinsettia, was very cozy. The tree, full of sparkling lights, with lovely gift wrapped packages beneath it made a merry picture.

All were like children, eager to see what they had received from their secret pal. When the gifts had been passed for all to see, the hostess served refreshments.

The drop leaf table was ready all decorated in Yule motif. Places made ready, Miss Clements served cheese sticks she had made, sausage rolls, fruit cake and Russian tea.

Mrs. Jeff Hand, Jr. was a guest.

Mrs. Lenoir Hostess

Mrs. V. O. Lenoir was hostess to Circle One of WMU Monday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Herman Shirley, circle chairman presided at this meeting, the last three chapter of the Mission Study Book, "By All Means" was reviewed by Mrs. J. A. Peterson and Mrs. George Naish.

The Lenoirs home was made festive with pots of poinsettias and the glowing Christmas tree.

Adding to the Yule spirit, gifts were exchanged by secret pals and refreshments in the Christmas colors were served.

Janelle Lenoir assisted with the gifts and in serving.

Juniors Meet

The Junior Sunday School Class of the Baptist Church met at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Lonnie Cobb, Friday afternoon, Dec. 18th. The Junior GA's with their counselor, Miss Mary Clements were their guests. The GA's presented the regular program.

Then followed a series of games which all enjoyed.

Refreshments were sandwiches, french fries, cheese straws, candy, cake and drinks. Miss Clements gave each girl a favor. They will exchange gifts at the church Christmas tree, Wednesday night, Dec. 22. Girls present: Darlene Collins, Louise Bolton, Betty Ann Bowles, Patricia Vines, Judy Lewis, Sue Stephens and Jenny Bolton.

Thursday night, December 17 was regular meeting night for Jemisonian Chapter, 398, OES. There were 19 members present, with Mrs. Ann Glass and Mr. Sam Collins presiding.

Following the meeting, the committee for games took over. Mrs. Doyle Thacker, Mrs. Jim Woodley, Mrs. K. V. Lowery and Mrs. Elsie Smith. Members pantomimed gifts they would like to have.

A lovely Christmas tree was the center of attraction. Each member brought a gift and placed it under the tree, numbers attached. Members then drew numbers and received gifts this way.

Record music was played as members were served mints, nuts, cakes decorated in a holly design and coffee.

There is still time to drop by Mrs. Holly Price's and see her hand made planters. Prices reasonable.

A Thank You

The Jemison Masonic Lodge and the Baptist Church deeply appreciate the fine cooperation of all members and friends in making the chicken dinner a success. With all helping and many donating food, the project cleared $460.00 at this writing.

Christmas Legends

THE POINSETTIA is America's favorite Christmas plant. Legend says that a poor Mexican girl plucked roadside weeds to present at the altar on Christmas Eve. As she offered them, they burst into brilliant bloom, the "Flor de Noche Buena." We call this plant the Poinsettia after Joel K. Poinsett, who introduced it to the U.S. 120 years ago.

FID FLORISTS predict that more Poinsettias will be wired as Christmas gifts this year than ever before in history. The hardy plant, available virtually everywhere in the nation, has come to symbolize the Spirit of Christmas to all Americans.

HOLLY and the Christmas tree have their stories, too. The tree is traced to sacred rites of Druid priests while the wreath signified good wishes in early Roman times. Holly was valued for its magical and medicinal qualities before becoming the herald of Yuletide.

"THE NUN'S STORY"

COMING to the Clanton Drive-In Theatre on Sunday and Monday, January 3rd and 4th is an inspiring movie called "The Nun's Story". It stars Audrey Hepburn in the moving portrayal of the trials and tribulations... and the rewarding experiences of a nun. Above is a scene from the movie.

50% In; TB
Chairman Says: "Please Give"

"THE Christmas Season is truly a season of giving and a time of sharing with those less fortunate," said Mrs. R. M. Tucker, Chairman of the 1959 Chilton County Christmas Seal Sale. She added, "It looks like the 1959 Campaign to fight tuberculosis will be one of which we can all be proud. We have received about 50 percent to date in this year's Seal Sale, which provides fun for the voluntary TB control program in our community. I am sure funds will continue to come in from men, women and children of Chilton County who are deeply concerned about the tuberculosis problem in this area. The funds they voluntarily, and in the privacy of their own homes, contribute for Christmas Seals do much to help prevent TB and to bring those who have it to the care of physicians, thus resulting in a remarkable saving of lives."

Citing the association's program, Mrs. Tucker said, "The Tuberculosis Association works constantly to protect us from this disease and to safeguard our children now and in the future. Christmas time gives each of us an opportunity to support this program by contributing for, and making liberal use of, tuberculosis Christmas Seals."

Use an egg poacher to heat the baby's food. Each section holds a small quantity and all of the food is steamed at one time.

Pine Cone Legend

ONCE UPON a time—according to a Hazzard Mountain legend—the poor miner's wife was gathering pine cones in the forest. It was just before Christmas, her husband was ill, and there was no money in the house for food. So, she gathered the cones and sold them to the villagers for kindling—obtaining enough for the days necessities.

One morning while she was looking for such cones, a little imp jumped out of a huge fir tree.

"Here, here are the biggest driest cones of all! Take these," he shrieked, jumping up and down excitedly.

Suddenly, there was such a shower of cones that the poor woman was frightened. She tried to run away, but could not move until the little imp had filled her basket. And having started home, the basket grew heavier and heavier—she wished the imp hadn't disappeared, he might have helped her.

When she finally reached her hut she called the children to help carry the basket inside. Emptying the basket, they found that every cone was a solid silver.

Commemorating these legendary silver cones gilded pine cones are sold in modern stores, to decorate our home—to burn and crackle gaily in our Christmas fires.

Threes Common Causes Of Hunting Accidents

Hunters can reduce accidents if they avoid the three common causes.

One-third of all the accidents in hunting can be traced to three causes, says Auburn University Extension Specialist L. H. Johnson. These are: (1) lack of line of fire, mistaking humans for game, and careless handling of firearms. The latter cause also includes hunting with the safety catch off.

According to the wildlife specialist, safe hunting depends on the common sense, courtesy, and alertness of all people who engage in this sport.

Prepare Seedbeds For Spring Planting

Prepare now to plant dallis grass, coastal bermuda, or bahia grass next February or March.

According to Auburn Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews, failure to get a stand of these grasses is caused by planting on a loose, freshly prepared seedbed. After deciding on the acreage and field that you want to plant, send soil samples to Auburn for fertilizer and lime recommendations. And following these recommendations, apply lime uniformly over the field. Andrews points out that the lime should be mixed thoroughly with the soil by turning and disking. About a month before planting, apply and disk in the fertilizer. The field should then be harrowed to smooth the seedbed.

After a good rain to settle the soil, your field will be ready to plant in late February or March, adds the agronomist.

1960 Planting Affects Chilton's Future Cotton Allotments

How recent legislation affects the determination of farm cotton allotments for future years was explained today by Eddie L. Owen, Chairman, Chilton Agricultural Station and Conservation Committee.

For 1961 and future years, according to the Chairman the new law requires that, in determining farm cotton allotments, the farm cotton allotment for the preceding year shall be used as the "base" if at least 75 percent of the farm allotment for that year was planted to cotton or regarded as planted to cotton.

Therefore, the acreage planted to cotton or regarded as planted to cotton on a farm for 1960 must be at least 75 percent of the 1959 allotment (Choice A) farm allotment to preserve the entire allotment as a base for 1961.

Acreage may be "regarded as planted to cotton" if it was included in the previous year's Conservation Reserve Program, if the allotment acreage was released to the county ASC Committee for re-planting to other farms, or if the county committee determines that planting was prevented by a natural disaster or illness of a farm operator or producer.

If at least 75 percent of the previous year's regular farm allotment was not planted (or regarded as planted) to cotton, the use in determining future farm allotments will be reduced to the acreage of (1) the regular allotment for that year, and (2) the acreage planted or regarded as planted in that year.

Farm cotton allotments for 1960 may not be less than the smaller of 10 acres or the 1958 farm cotton allotment. However, beginning with 1961, the reduction in the farm base—if 75 percent of the previous year's allotment was not planted or regarded as planted—will apply to farm cotton allotments regardless of their size. Thus, small cotton farms are guaranteed an allotment equal to 10 acres or the 1958 farm allotment only if the 75-percent planting requirement is met each year.

Farmers releasing cotton allotment acreage may not designate the farm to which the County ASC Committee reapportions the acreage. Present law, likewise, does not authorize a farmer to sell or lease a cotton allotment to another farmer.

Acreage planted or regarded as planted to cotton on a farm is credited to the State and county for purposes of future State and County allotments.

COTTONSEED OUTLOOK IS BAD FOR 1960 CROPS

The present outlook for planting Alabama's 1960 cotton crop with good, high quality seed is not too promising.

Although producers made a real effort to produce an adequate supply of high quality, certified, and registered cottonseed during 1959, the general weather conditions were unfavorable during the cotton harvesting season. Extension Agronomist Melvin Moorhead points out that a large portion of these seed harvested are not going to meet minimum germination requirements. In fact, he adds, many of these seed have already gone to the oil mills.

The minimum certification requirements on all classes of cottonseed were recently reduced from 80 to 75 percent by the Board of Directors of the Alabama Crop Improvement Association. This means that seed germinating from 75 to 80 percent will carry the regular certification tags. However, these tags will be stamped substandard in germination. According to the Auburn University Agronomist, seed germinating below 80 percent are genetically as good as those germinating higher. However, farmers using the lower germinating seed should increase their seedling rate to obtain satisfactory stands.

The same cottonseed situation is also occurring in Alabama's neighboring states, adds Moorhead. Some of these states have reduced their minimum germination requirements to certified cottonseed from 80 percent to 70 percent. And this means that seed dealers in other states are bidding for our high germinating, certified seed. In fact, says the specialist, quite a few of our certified seed are already moving into other states.

New Years Resolution for Hog Producers

Now about this for a New Year's resolution—to have at least 50 per cent of the hogs produced on your grading No. 1 within the next year?

According to Auburn University's Ray Cavender, the whole industry—particularly producers—would profit if Alabama producers would adopt this goal.

By working to bring it about, Cavender says, the first step in achievement is sizing up the quality of your present stock, and then determining the quality of your present stock, and then determining the quality of your present stock.

swine judge, call the county agent's office for information. Remember that backfat thickness in combination with weight and length are major factors in classifying market hogs into grades.

The Extension Hog Marketing Specialist adds that meatiness and muscling are very important on today's hog markets. To get an idea of the quality of your hogs, visit the packing plant or meat processor where some of your hogs are slaughtered. Here you learn how the animals are yielding in terms of lean cuts and fat.

By keeping a few simple records, you can determine the performance of your sow herd and cost of feeding pigs to market weight, says Cavender. And it may surprise you to find that the better performers are also the better quality animals. "Records on sows and feed costs, the ability to estimate and measure backfat thickness, and the eye to detect quality and muscling are all important in producing more number one hogs," concludes the specialist.

Watch For Aphids
During Cold Weather

Now that cold weather has spread across the state, truck crop growers should watch out for increasing damage from aphids.

During hot weather, these pests are usually controlled by parasites and predators, reports Extension Entomologist Jerry Ruffin. However, the parasites and predators become less active in cool weather and aphids rapidly increase.

Among the crops most likely to be damaged are turnips, mustard, radishes, lettuce, broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, and other leafy vegetables. The Auburn specialist advises checking with your county agent for insecticide recommendations.

MRS. CHILTON —
Your Kitchen Needs
Convenient Outlets

If you are lucky enough to be building a new home or even remodeling, don't forget the importance of electrical outlets.

"Rewiring is expensive," says Elizabeth Bryan, Auburn Extension Specialist in home management, "so keep in mind both present and future outlet needs. An outlet is necessary wherever equipment is used—don't depend on extension cords."

Miss Bryan recommends an outlet for every four feet of work surface—fronage with at least one outlet to serve each work surface. Also plan an outlet for the refrigerator, the planning center, and the dining table. In case you iron in the kitchen or use an electric toaster or fry pan, an outlet is needed for this equipment.

According to the specialist, electrical purpose outlets are needed for the range, ventilating fan, dishwasher, washer, dryer, and food waste disposal. And separate circuits should be provided for the freezer and air conditioner. Miss Bryan points out that your electric company probably has an advisor who can help with wiring system plans.

Christmas Gifts for Drivers

Women who do Christmas shopping can get ideas for the motorists on their lists from these items.

A map measure for computing exact distances between towns, no matter how winding the road. Just roll the little wheel over the route selected and the mileage is calculated automatically.

A travel iron in a leather case. For a bit more, add a compact laundry kit containing folding hangers, clothes pins and a plastic container for soap flakes.

Travel slippers that fold into a matching case. Great for motel stops, they'll also be most welcome while motoring.

A flashlight with metal bracket on its head that holds 4 different screwdrivers. This is great for any small emergency repairs at night or in dark corners of the car. The light throws a beam on whatever you're fixing.

An immersion heater that plugs into the cigarette lighter receptacle. Great for instant coffee, tea, warming canned soup or the baby's bottle—all while enroute.

A travel lock for motel doors and/or drawers. It comes in two parts, can be adapted for almost any situation to protect valuables.

A coffee maker that plugs into the lighter receptacle. This is for folks who are tired of instant coffee.

Finally, how about a spring-wound razor for sprucing up in the car or at the motel? It looks and performs just like an electric razor.

Now Linda Can Wear
Pretty Yuletide Shoes

Linda then . . . and Linda now

Six-year-old Linda Brees of Columbus, Ohio, has been crippled from birth. She suffered from a birth defect, a disorder which seriously affects one out of every 16 babies born in the United States.
When Linda was old enough to walk, she could get around only with the aid of steel braces on her legs. That meant wearing heavy, ankle-high shoes which were not very pretty for a little girl who was otherwise developing into a real beauty.

Children with significant birth defects, known medically as congenital malformations, often face a lifetime of cripling. But there was hope in Linda's case. In her hometown, at the Columbus Children's Hospital, a new center especially designed to treat birth defects was set up with the support of New March of Dimes funds. It is probably the world's first birth defects treatment and study center.

Linda began a series of surgical operations, treatments and exercises to strengthen the muscles she still had in her legs. Today she can no longer ride a bicycle. Though she still uses crutches, the doctors at the Columbus center hope that she may soon be able to abandon them. Meanwhile, what delights Linda most is that like other little girls, she can now wear pretty shoes.

The New March of Dimes campaign in January, 1960, is aimed at a three major crippling diseases, including arthritis and polio in addition to birth defects. It is estimated that one out of every four American families is affected by these disorders. Linda's progress toward a healthy, normal life symbolizes the hope held out by the New March of Dimes for millions of sufferers from crippling diseases.

The Very First Christmas Tree

TO August Ingeard, a home-bick impatient tail t. goes the credit for introducing the Christmas tree to America.

Ingeard came to this country in 17 to visit his brother in Wooster.
With the prospects of a usual Christmas for the first time way from his native land, August decided to bring to his newly adopted home all the Christmas spirit and festivities he had loved so much in Wetzlar, Hessa.

To his young nephew and niece he would show how Christmas was celebrated in the old country.

First, he needed a Christmas tree! This is the way he described how he found it.

"I walked on Apple Creek... where I found water so high I could not get across. So I walked along until I found a tree fallen from bank to bank and crossed on this. I cut a tree and carried it to the farmhouse. I walked thru town with my tree."

Adapt with scissors, Ingeard cut his own paper ornaments and a local tinsmith fashioned a shinstar for the top.

And thus—the first Christmas tree in America.

PELLETED CONCENTRATE. Fast eating is desirable when dairy cows are milked in parlors and eating time is limited. An 84-day Auburn test revealed that cows eat pellets more readily than whole feed. Concentrate feeds in cone test, milk production and butterfat percentage were similar for cows on both concentrate forms. In another study using pellets made from a different feed mixture, there was a slight decrease in butterfat content.

MEAT ADVERTISING. Most housewives are exposed to meat advertising. This was learned in a 1959 survey of 629 Alabama households. It was found that 36 percent of urban households have television or radio, or both, and 75 percent of the housewives read daily newspapers. One out of five (20 percent) said they watched meat advertising to check on price, quality, and new preparation ideas.

BURNING WOODS HARMFUL. Annual burning of woods is harmful to pine growth. This was proved on experimental plots established some 30 years ago by the Auburn Agricultural Experiment Station. Results show that small tree seedlings are killed by fire every year and no new trees become established. Thus, growth and yield of wood products is small.

LIME FOR CORN. Liming corn land almost doubled yield in an experiment at Auburn, as compared with yield on a very acid soil. The very acid soil (pH 4.5) had a very low lime level (10 lb 6.3) with the same amount of fertilizer (53 lb) with the same lime soil.

PLANTING BLUEBERRIES. Blueberries can be grown anywhere in Alabama in home gardens or for commercial use. New varieties that show promise and are recommended for the state are Tifblue, Homebell, Mendocino, and Garden Blue. Planting is done from November until March, preferably on moist soil, and watering is needed during dry periods for the first year. The plants should be planted together to insure cross pollination.

APPLE DISEASES. Failure to properly prune apple orchards can cause the spread of diseases. For controlling black rot, bitter rot, and fireblight, sanitation by pruning out and burning all blighted twigs, fruit spurs, dead wood, and cankers is essential. Destroying this material is important because along with mummified fruit, it is a source of primary infection in the spring.

GARDEN PLANNING. Needs for producing should be considered when planning home gardens. In addition to needs for fresh home use, the following are suggested to provide vegetables for 200 persons: 200 bushels of greens (Shogoin), pole beans (Blue Lake), lima beans (Henderson), field peas (Giant Blackeye), and English peas (Victor Freezer); 100 row-feet each of okra (Clemson Spinless), broccoli (Early Green Sprouting), and cucumbers (Model No. 24); 400 row-feet of sweet corn (Tussock No. 1) and 500 row-feet of sweet corn (Crisp-Ear). Selections vary with location and preference. But these crops and varieties have been good in Auburn tests.

Mrs. Patterson Uses Preserved Flowers in Arrangement

Preserving Flowers With Sand Is Latest Technique Of Homemakers

By BRUCE JETTON
Auburn Extension Service

ALMOST every home demonstration club member you talk to preserves food. But Mrs. Malcolm Patterson of Madison County is one who preserves flowers.

Her condition is president of the Madison County Home Demonstration Club. She has been a member since 1948. And she made 265 individual, miniature, dried flower favors for the annual achievement day program last year, according to Home Agent Oneone Cook.

Explaining how she preserves the flowers, Mrs. Patterson says she first cuts the heads off the stems, which are filled with sand. Part of the secret of Mrs. Patterson's success is the way she arranges the flowers in the sand.

points out Agent Cook. Instead of just dumping the sand over the flowers, Mrs. Patterson uses a special technique. She first arranges the flowers in the sand, and then fills in around the edges. At intervals the container is shaken to settle the sand in between the petals. In this manner, the original shape of the individual petals is retained.

The foliage is taken off the stem and dried separately by the same process. The different parts stay in the sand until all the moisture is taken out. When the petals and foliage are dried, they are glued back together in their original form on the stem.

Used in arrangements just as fresh flowers are, it's difficult to tell Mrs. Patterson's preserved flowers from those freshly cut from the garden. And they will last for several years, or until they are worn out or damaged, according to the talented homemaker.

few weeks and they will taste just as good and cost a lot less. Always be alert to food bargains while you are doing your shopping. Keep your eyes peeled for the occasional sale. The advantage of a good buy. But while bargains are nice, be sure your family can make use of them before you bring them home. It's no bargain if most of it ends up in the garbage pail.

Some families can make a substantial savings by not wasting money on unnecessary diet supplements. The best source of vitamins and minerals is a well balanced diet. A normal individual has no need for expensive vitamin or mineral preparations. If you are not feeling "up to snuff," see your doctor and let him decide whether you need extra supplements in your diet. The same thing is even true of the multitude of "health" foods on the market. There is nothing magical about any of them. They are just food with a fancy name. If you don't eat a well balanced diet and you won't need expensive health foods. Money spent on these items is money wasted.

One other factor to consider when comparing the cash register receipts and your bag of groceries is the non-food items that are undoubtedly included in the package. Such items as cigarettes, cleaning supplies, and other household items are often included in a food purchase. It is enlightening to subtract the cost of these items from the grocery bill. We are sometimes paying less for groceries than we think.

Economist Sees

Tough Going For Farmers And Good Times For Business In '60

By FOY HELMS

Auburn University Extension Economist

THE 1960 outlook for business is good. Higher rates of economic activity and employment than was witnessed in 1959 are expected. Total consumer incomes, which in mid-1959 were some seven percent larger than a year earlier, may increase another four or five percent by mid-1960. And the per capita purchasing power will increase further in 1960.

How About The Farmer?

The story is different for the farmer. He had a good year in 1958 when his net farm income was 20 percent above 1957. He was the only one doing well while the recession was getting under way. However, the picture changed in 1959, because net farm income was down 15 percent in 1959. The outlook for 1960 is not much better. A further decline of perhaps seven and a half percent in net income is expected, while a slight rise in costs of farm production is almost a certainty. The cost-price squeeze will be tighter yet. Again, a further slight drop in retail food prices is expected.

In summary, it appears that everyone except the farmer will see his standard of living improved in 1960. This is another way of saying that the farmer is likely to be in a less favorable economic conditions than are likely to prevail in the United States this year.

Going Tough For Average Farmer

What will happen to the Alabama farmer under these conditions? Certainly, the Alabama farmer is going to find it going tough. The only way he can avoid it is to find a way to produce well above average. This is most unlikely and the year's end will find many farmers in a very tight spot financially. Some farmers who have bought high-priced land and other capital items on credit or with little equity may face dire circumstances by the end of 1960 if they are dependent on the land for payment.

A good hard look at the prospects for the major commodities produced in Alabama may suggest a way out for some farmers. The outlook for cotton is not very bright. Domestic consumption of cotton will not be so burdensome. Domestic consumption will remain at least as high as in 1959 and exports may be increased substantially. Prices are not expected to rise, but good Alabama farmers made money on cotton in 1959 and can do the same again barring a hard break from the weather. Remember though, for the last three years farmers generally have had better-than-average weather.

Average Feed Prices Little Lower

Feed supplies on hand suggest other possibilities. Total supplies of feed grains and other concentrates have been trending upward over the past seven years and are now at record levels. This means a little lower average prices for 1960. Alabama farmers who buy feed or feedstuff can benefit from these lower prices.

Other commodity highlights are as follows: Some improvements are in the outlook for poultry, and eggs, and eggs to farmers in the country as a whole. Milk and dairy products will be in average higher than last year, while volume of dairy products and cash receipts from their sale may reach a new record. With higher costs except for feed, however, net income will probably not change much from 1959. This leaves the dairy enterprise as the most stable income producer in Alabama agriculture.

John Thomas May (above) of Gallion got his start in the sheep business as a 4-H Club member. Now he has 85 registered ewes and has won scores of championships and reserve championships in state and out of state show circuits. SEE STORY ON PAGE 5.

Reduced production of eggs and broilers in the first half of the year will probably strengthen prices for both of these commodities, but no big increases are expected.

In meat animals, this year's production is expected to be somewhat higher than last year, but a very high level of demand should continue. Hog prices, like those of other livestock, may be down slightly from last year with hog prices next fall and winter as high or higher than in the same period in 1959.

Total slaughter of cattle and calves will be larger than last year. Any rise in cattle prices during the spring is unlikely to be as marked as last spring's rise, while somewhat lower prices are expected in the last half of the year as compared with 1959.

The demand for foods of all kinds will remain strong this year, and the supplies of fruits, vegetables, and nuts will be plentiful in most areas. The fresh market for vegetables will again offer good opportunities for some Alabama farmers.

The outlook for forest products is favorable. Construction, especially for pulpwood, will remain good at about the same price levels for stumpage. Other forest products including resin will have a good year. The long time outlook for forest products in Alabama is even better than for 1960.

Marshall Countian Likes Diversification

BRUCE JETTON
Auburn Extension Service

MG. Summers has found the secret to making a good living from a small farm. The Marshall County farmer has developed a diversified program to make the maximum use of 60 acres of open land on his 74-acre farm.

Of course, diversification is not the whole secret. Summers has been a Farm and Home Development demonstrator for three years, and Assistant County Agent Ralph Sherer and Assistant Home Agent Opal Collins have been mighty helpful to him and his wife in working out a good program. "M. G. is now one of the best farmers we have," pointed out Agent Sherer.

DIVERSIFICATION—M. G. Summers found that diversification was the answer for income on his 74-acre farm. Above, Summers (right) and Ralph Sherer, assistant agent in Marshall County, talk turkey. Below, Summers and his wife look at the veterans in one of their broiler houses. Below left, Sherer, Summers, and Stanley get a close look at the pimento pepper crop. peppers, corn, and grain sorghum. Last year was Summer's third year to raise turkeys, and he is well pleased with the project. He marketed approximately 6,500 broilers over the past year. However, some of the turkeys are sold when they are 15 weeks old and weigh about eight pounds, some at 25 weeks and 20 pounds, and the Toms at 27 to 28 pounds. Part of his turkeys were grown under contract.

Summers has been in the broiler business for six years and has three houses with a total capacity of 16,000. Grown under contract, a bonus is given for a conversion ratio over 60 percent. Summers has received 40 pounds of meat per 100 pounds of feed, usually collects a bonus.

The farmer only produces three batches of broilers a year since he starts the turkeys in the same houses.

After a year and a half of raising sheep, Summers has 31 ewes. He uses a registered Montadale ram for breeding. In the spring he grazes the sheep on his 60-acre farm, and during the first part of October he planted eight acres of oats. Two acres of Abruzzi rye were planted during the middle of September to give the sheep early grazing. The FFD farmer also has a quarter-acre nursery plot of coastal bermuda from which he will establish two more acres next spring.

Although he averaged 35 bushels of corn per acre in 1960, Summers has a little disappointed over the crop this year. He fertilized it with 300 pounds of 4-12-12 and side-dressed part of the crop with 66 pounds of nitrogen per acre, but he just didn't get rain at the right time, explained Agent Sherer.

The 20 acres of grain sorghum Summers planted did better than his corn, producing 12 bushels per acre. He harvested the crop this year. He fertilized it with 300 pounds of 4-12-12 and side-dressed part of the crop with 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Poultryman Tries New Method

Electric Cable In Trough

Keeps Water Temperature Up

BOB SHARMAN

Auburn Extension Service

THE egg producer's big problem this time of the year is water freezing in the water troughs for his laying flock.

Many approaches have been made to this problem but none have been entirely satisfactory. The best is the method of using electric cable in the trough. But according to County Agent D. S. Loyd, the solution to this problem lies in the hands of the individual and his particular setup.

Some egg producers have even tried using the water from water heaters. This has proved fairly satisfactory but mechanical difficulties keep popping up. Still, a few are using this method today.

Then there are those who prefer the plastic covered heating cable. Being plastic, this cable is easy to install during winter and remove during summer. One of the big hitches, however, is that farmers often fail to remove the cable and when the water gets low in the trough the chickens sometimes peck through the plastic coating. Besides, any-

TO PREVENT FREEZING—Freezing weather jobs are no more. Egg producers are using electric cable in the trough to keep the water warm. A dip in the mercury often takes a shiver like this out of your poultry profit when it causes the drinking water to freeze. Below, Loyd, Shorman, and County Agent D. S. Loyd, Buckner has installed lead cables in the water troughs to prevent freezing and loss of profit.

tion of the cable that sticks out of the water is likely to burn out.

One of the newer approaches to the freezing problem is being tried by L. E. Buckner of Onchota Rt. 4. He operates a 6,000-layer farm in the Hoods Crossroads community and has been in business for four years. At first he tried the water heater system, but when it blew up on him he decided to change to another method.

Now Buckner is using a lead jacketed heating cable. He used it for the first time last year and was pleased with results. This year he plans to put it in two other houses. The cable consists of an asbestos wrapped wire coated with plastic and a lead jacket. The lead jacket makes the cable heavy enough to stay in the bottom of the trough. "You, chicks are not likely to peck holes in it."

Cotton, Corn, Peanut Seed Outlook

Late Shoppers End Up With Poor Quality Seed

MELVIN M. MOORE

Auburn Extension Agronomist

SEED growers of Alabama made a real effort during 1959 to produce a large supply of genetically pure cottonseed, hybrid corn seed, and peanut seed under the state seed certification program. Acres produced on all three crops were increased over the 1958 amounts. However, increased wintering and processing of cottonseed made the largest expansion.

The acreage of cotton produced under our certification program during 1958 jumped from approximately 23,000 acres in 1958 to 40,000 acres in 1959. These 40,000 acres produced enough seed to plant almost 800,000 acres of cotton in 1960 with certified acres with registered and certified seed. Since weather conditions were most unfavorable, the harvest of high quality, high germination seed was considerably reduced. It is estimated that 25 to 40 percent of the seed went to oil mills because they failed to germinate satisfactorily.

MOORE

The minimum germination requirements on registered and certified cottonseed have been reduced from 80 to 75 percent, and cottonseed germinating at this percentage are tagged standard in germination. By completing certification on all of our 75 percent registered and certified seed producers in Alabama will have enough genetically pure seed to plant 80 to 75 percent of the 1960 Alabama cotton crop.

This cottonseed situation in most other Southern States about the same as we have in Alabama. Other states have reported losing as much as 60 percent of their 1959 produced cottonseed due to extremely poor germination. For this reason, seedmen in other states will be bidding for a large portion of Alabama's high germinating seed. In fact, a large volume of our certified and registered cottonseed has already moved in to other states.

I would say that the over-all outlook for high quality, genetically pure cottonseed for planting in 1960 is not too good. Making early arrangements for your 1960 needs will enable you to get high quality, genetically pure certified seed of recommended varieties for planting this year's crop.

The 1959 cotton variety report had not been released at the time this information was compiled, but we do not anticipate any major changes over the 1958 report. Therefore I suggest that you use the 1958 report as a guide until the 1959 report is released. At the present time, the hybrid seed corn picture looks some better than the cotton picture. The majority of our hybrid seed corn crop was harvested without too much damage. It indicates that the supply of high quality seed will be adequate to meet demand. The seed of some varieties may be short as the planting season progresses, but all of our farmers should be able to get hybrid seed corn of a recommended variety for 1960.

Here again, the corn variety report of 1959 was not available at the time this story was written, so use the 1958 report as a guide in selecting the variety you will use during 1960.

The supply of peanut seed for use in 1960 looks fairly good at the present time. This statement is based on seed peanuts that are harvested but are still in the hull. We will not know too much about the quality of the seed from the standpoint of germination until early spring—after the peanuts have been shelled and tested.

St. Clair FHD Farmer Manages Farm Timber Land Like An Expert important in a property managed woodland are the following practices:

1. Provide adequate fire lanes throughout the woodland area.
2. Follow selective cutting and thinning practices recommended by your Extension agents and foresters.
3. Provide for natural reseeding or reset thin areas with seedlings.

"My son's 4-H Club forestry project interested me in a timber management and reforestation program," declared John M. Coker of Asheville Rt. 2.

The St. Clair County Farm and Home Development farmer recalled that young John Franklin planted several hundred pine seedlings when he was just a little fellow beginning 4-H Club work. And practically every one of the young trees lived.

"I saw my farm in a different light after that," said Coker. "I attended a forestry field day demonstration presented by the St. Clair County Extension agent and I could do a lot of the things required in a forestry management program."

Since then, Coker has girdled 100 acres of hardwoods and interplanted with pine trees. On another 60 acres he thinned the stand by selective cutting of pulpwood and saw timber. From just five acres he cut 25 cords of pulpwood and 6,000 board feet of lumber, and the remaining timber stand is in better condition than before the thinning operation. From the entire 60 acres he expects to get a total of 115 cords of pulpwood and 45,000 board feet of lumber just by thinning the stand.

Six years ago Coker sold 100 cords of pulpwood off the same 60 acres. At that time he had a paper company forester mark the trees. But now he does his own marking and cutting, using family labor and an occasional hired laborer.

In addition to the knowledge gained through visits to the county agent's office and field day demonstrations on forestry, Coker has learned a lot through experience. When he started marking and cutting his own timber, he learned the importance of proper spacing of trees. Taking care to select the best trees for removal was a problem since this practice is a must in a good management program. However, thinning out good trees to leave growing room for the others was not quite so easy.

Coker tries to thin according to age and closeness of trees in a stand, making sure to leave the highest possible number for fast, efficient growth. In thinning older pine stands, he leaves sufficient space between the standing trees to let the new ones grow without too much crowding. This way natural artificial reforestation can take place providing replacement trees for the next thinning and, at the same time, building future timber and pulpwood sales.

Four-H Doings

CLUB members throughout the state are busy tending projects, trying new ideas and recommended practices, and recording results in their record books. They are learning to do things they never get. At left, Linda Maughan, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Maughan of Gordo, is typical of the Pickens County 4-H'ers who carry projects in food preparation, freezing, home improvement, lamp wiring, and talent. Sharon Lowe, right, is the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oth Lee Lowe of Reform. She is vice president of her local club and has undertaken projects in food preparation and clothing. Keeping Ahead in Farming

Farm Man-Hours Drop To New Low

Agriculture used an estimated 11.1 billion man-hours of work in 1968—the smallest number in more than 50 years. Compare this with 11.4 billion the year before, 16.8 billion 10 years before that, and 23.3 billion 30 years ago.

With the drop in man-hours in 1968, total farm output was nine percent above the two previous years and 24 percent above the 1947-48 average. Farm output per man-hour was 10 percent higher than in 1967. World War II, each worker averaged enough food, fiber, and tobacco to supply himself and about 22 others.

Honey Bees And Pollination

Honey and the bees that make it are more important than we sometimes realize. The honey bee does a highly beneficial job in pollinating many of our most important pasture plants, fruit trees, and other crops.

The southeastern honey crop was generally good this year, although excessive early rainfall reduced the crop in some areas. And further reduction in nectar flow occurred, also, in the later dry weather. The honey bee is the most important insect in the world, as shown by the Crop Reporting Service. This is a decrease of three percent from a year earlier. In the U. S. the 5,437,000 colonies of bees now on farms are about the same as a year ago.

Need More Sheep

Could you use more money? Try spring lambs. Together with the wool they produce, these animals can help provide a good income. And, I think, would be on many farms. Alabama's 1969 lamb crop totaled 43,000 head. Wool production last year is estimated at 340,000 pounds. Both lamb and wool crops are off from 1968. Yet lamb and wool are two important products.

EDITOR'S DESK

Roddell Byrd

FLORIDA County farmers bagged over 10,000 bales of cotton from 12,600 acres last year. About a month ago when County Agent J. E. Morris was figuring the yield, he said cotton producers averaged 407 pounds of lint per acre in that county. That's considerably under the 515-pound average in 1958.

It's not that farmers haven't followed good production practices as they did in 1958—other factors enter into the picture, you know.

Cotton Allergic To Acid. Soil tests have shown that about 50 percent of the cotton fields in Hale County are too acid to make top yields.

John Deavours figures it this way. One pound of phosphate produces more than 10 pounds of cotton. If the soil is 6.0 (slightly acid) than five pounds at a pH of 5.1 (more acid). The Hale County Agent says his cotton farmers can't afford not to test their soils because of the limited acreage and the cost of producing the crop. "I don't think it's true in other areas of the state."

How Do You Store Corn? Not long ago I was watching a corn picker-sheller swallowing up row after row of 75-bushel-per-acre corn. The sheller was turning out almost a bushel of shelled corn per acre. The farmer, Martin Stallings' farm near Duthan in Houston County.

George McMillan, Houston's farm agent, told me that Mr. Stallings is bagging the shelled corn in 100-pound bags with about one percent premium grade malation added per bag—that's six pounds per 100 bushels. With this treatment and the heavy paper bags, Mr. Stallings' corn should stay fairly free of insect damage.

"Bats won't bother it as much, either, as they would stored loose or in cloth bags," says the farm operator. What do you think?

Triple Use Crop. Getting all you can from a crop is becoming more important these days—another way of cutting per-unit costs.

This story is told by J. J. Young, Cherokee County agent. He says one farmer last October applied 30 pounds of 12-12-12 and applied the proper amounts of plant food. One hundred and 11 yearlings grazed the area three months. During this time each animal was fed five pounds of crushed corn per day. The average gain was one and a half pounds per day or about 150 pounds each for the three months.

The cattle were removed and the oats were again fertilized. The yield was 55 bushels per acre.

Did the man lose or gain? As expenses he had 17,500 pounds of mixed fertilizer, 10,500 pounds of nitrate fertilizer, 105 bushels of oat seed, about 770 pounds of crushed corn, and land preparation expense. On the credit side he had 1665 pounds of beef gains and 1815 bushels of oats.

"My pencil is not good at figures," says Young, "but after liberal expense allowances the man must have had more than $2,000 left."

WE resolve, for 1960, to do everything we can, for any citizen of Chilton County, in any way we can, as long as it is constructive and for the betterment of that person and the community.

CELEBRATING New Year's can be done in various and sundry ways. Those who believe in the 'liquid' kind might consider a "bovine cocktail" or an H2O high-ball. We guarantee better results all the way around, and it's a good way to start a new and glorious year!

WE happen to be in a position to know. . . business in Chilton County needs some competition to wake it from its deceptive slumber. Merchants tell us they sell all they're gonna sell whether they advertise their product or not. If local merchants believe that. . . we are of the opinion that they don't know what they are talking about! It has been proven that this ain't so! !

THE bill that's supposed to be before Congress (somewhere) to reduce withholding taxes at a nice percentage over a period of time, either got lost in the shuffle or has a bunch of senators googly-eyed! They can't seem to get the ball to rolling. If they're worried about public disapproval they can dismiss that from their minds. . . we guarantee they have 100% backing of the public, providing it means an honest cut in taxes!

The Fireworks Boom ---

THE obvious disregard for the law which was so widely expressed during the past holidays concerning fireworks and their use bears close looking into.

It is true that there were some misleading ideas circulated about the use of firecrackers and the like, but that, in no way gave folks the right to so brazenly mock the laws of the State of Alabama.

As has been said many times, the laws are for our own protection and though we see no harm in the use of some fireworks, we imagine that there were some casualties or near fatalities resulting from their use right here in Chilton County. The law is express in the fact that large firecrackers are taboo. We don't exactly agree with the prohibition of fireworks, but the law is the law and must be obeyed in a society with a scope such as ours. Learn the law and then abide by it. It will possibly save you grief of one degree or another in time to come! The lawmakers are not complete idiots; they usually have good reason for their actions!

Consider The New 365 --

DURING the next few days it will be well to consider what you are going to make of the brand new 365 days that the Lord has given to us.

Resolutions, no matter what form or magnitude, are of one significance if they are beyond your power of will and ability. Do not resolve to dissolve all your bad habits unless you are completely in control of the fact that you can do it! It is the opinion of many that a small resolution carried out, is by far better than a whole bucket full of 'do's and don'ts' loosely interpreted.

We are firmly convinced, however, that it does a person good to "resolve" to do something, better than he has been doing in the past or to make up his mind to give up a habit which is detrimental to his body, his family or his spiritual development.

Don't just resolve to be a better person. . . be more specific! We all have faults of different degrees. Pick the one or two that you feel need the most work and then go to it.

Happy New Year and may your resolutions not only be worthy, but may you be worthy of upholding them!

THE AMERICAN WAY

Citizenship Is a Full-Time Job Indifference Is Not A Virtue --

INDIFFERENCE is blocking the way to a new Courthouse building for Chilton County!

Scores of names have been received requesting, even demanding a new Courthouse building, but there are still scores and scores of citizens in Chilton County which have not answered yea nor nay to the question confronting us as to whether or not we want the new building.

It is apparent by now, that though the need is great and the handicaps of the present facilities shown, the majority of Chilton's residents choose to remain silent.

As long as we remain silent in the matters which concern us as a community, our community will remain silent.

There are several reasons for this apathetic approach to the problem. One is that many folks feel that their opinion will mean little one way or the other. . . they couldn't be more wrong! Others literally do not want our County to progress and still others just don't care enough to say, one way or the other.

Considering your opinion among neighbors and friends is a fine way to hash out the situation, but then if you don't make your opinion known it is not worth much.

To keep our County constantly on the grow, we must constantly consider our rights and obligations as free citizens of this County. . . Thus far, the people are showing a decided lack of interest in their County affairs with the acceptance of griping occasionally about some situation. Now we have a chance to do something about one situation, that Heaven knows, needs attention and we go on our merry way without giving it a passing thought.

There's a saying about "it's never too late. . ." but there's also a saying about "never put off until tomorrow what you can do today!" How about it Chilton County?

YOUR HEALTH

SKIN DISEASE

The ten most common skin diseases represent approximately 75 per cent of all skin diseases. Acne heads the list as the commonest blemish of the skin. Because acne is especially common and chronic in adolescence, it causes a great deal of mental suffering during those years when young people are self-conscious as to their appearance.

Acne is described as an inflammatory disease of the sebaceous glands occurring most frequently on the face, back and chest. The sebaceous glands normally secrete an oily substance, known as sebum, which acts to keep the skin pliable. When this sebum moves outward through its openings or ducts at a rate slower than normal, it tends to collect as a plug over which the skin cells grow. The result, then, is a seedlike raised spot familiarly known as a whitehead.

In most cases, however, the mouth of the sebaceous gland duct remains open, collects dirt, and becomes a blackhead. Variations of acne represent individual reactions to the cause and may change or be aggravated by many factors. Possible causes of acne include heredity, glandular activity, endocrine disturbance, infection, anemia, overindulgence in bromides, digestive and intestinal dysfunction, nervous hyperactivity, and more especially, excessive fat intake.

An important treatment is cleansing of the skin with a non-greasy

We see
and hear

by BOB

WE don't have white Christmas down in this neck of the woods, but we sure do have "quiet" ones. With the exception of the illegal shooting of fireworks (an exceptional amount) Christmas in Clanton was quiet and peaceful and very enjoyable. We managed to get the real spirit Christmas Eve and enjoyed buying gifts and otherwise blowing off our harem and cash. But, it was well worth it. . . we thoroughly enjoyed this Christmas Holiday away from the grind of everyday working and worrying. We just let everything go as it would and sat back and relaxed.

SAW several of our old friends, whom we haven't seen for a number of years this Christmas. Seems the holidays, especially Christmas, brings everyone back home for a little while with their friends and relatives. Saw the Rev. Don Esty and got to chat a spell with him down on the street. He, as you probably remember, was pastor of the Presbyterian Church for quite a while and was very active in community affairs. He is now at Highland Avenue in Birmingham and apparently doing well there.

Also saw Wallace Neesley while he's home for the holidays. . . We remember his as "Frog", but he's got a much more dignified title now. He's in the flying fleet of Uncle Sam's Navy and apparently enjoys his field very much. He's stationed at Honolulu, Hawaii at present hoping to get a carrier assignment in the near future. We wish him well, and lots of luck.

Old Red (Russell) Lewis is in flying machines, too. He's in the U.S. Air Force stationed in Georgia and is now training in jet fighters. Nobody could love their chosen field any more than Red does. He says they make it hard on a guy sometimes, but agreed with us that they either make you or break you. We feel justified in predicting that Russell will be one flixy that they "make". His dad of Lewis Machine Shop here in Clanton, who we make it hard on a guy sometimes, but agreed with us that they either make you or break you. We feel justified in predicting that Russell will be one flixy that they "make".

IT was very significant and interesting to note the quiet way in which business was being conducted the day after Christmas, Saturday. There was an unusual amount of activity in Clanton, but it was probably the quietest Saturday we've ever seen, barring holidays falling directly on that day. It was as though everyone had acquired a measure of the Christmas Spirit and were serene and satisfied with their lot in life. Sure would be nice if it could last over to Monday and throughout the New Year. Well, it's possible!

MR. Reddie Taylor was so darned busy (and who wasn't taking in money (he was on the register) the day before Christmas that he did something which he said he had never done many times before. He took time out and as usual with the purchase involved, gave him the sales slip and a five dollar bill. Mr. Reddie in his anxiety to please the customer and not make him wait hurriedly jammed the slip, accompanied by the five, into the sales slip book. I'd sure like to be the fellow who cleaned off the sales slip books all over town on that day, 'cause we're sure it happened to more than one active merchant. The comparison between Thursdays business and Saturday's was monumental; and we don't mind financial wise entirely. Thursday, it was definitely every man for himself. Saturday, it seemed that everyone was happy and had plenty of time to give to the other fellow. The birthday celebration of the Prince of Peas does have it's effect on each of us, as usual, in different measures and degrees.

AND speaking of Christmas working miracles. It happens even in the lower animals. Christmas eve night we hit a little dog very much by accident and though we are sure it would have been normally killed the little fellow, he came through it all unscathed, although with a great deal more respect for automobiles we hope. It was one of those helpless situations where he was there, before we even had time to reach for the brake and we socked him. He rolled and rolled and hit the road a 'runnin' even though in an entirely new direction from when he started. It was a miracle for him and he's alive. 'Twas a blessing for us that we didn't kill a living thing so close to Christmas.

WE haven't been able to find out definite, but we don't think

Veterans carrying GI loan mortgages will receive their annual statements of loan interest and property taxes paid during the calendar year 1959 much quicker if they do not flood the Veterans Administration with phone calls and letters on the subject.

The VA's Alabama regional office is now processing some $300 of these and will automatically mail them without request from the borrower, Neil R. Smart, manager, said today.

"Time taken to look up the records and answer these requests will delay the automatic statement processing for other veterans," Smart explained.

Mailing of their statements is expected to be completed by February 15, 1960. Veterans who have not received their statements by that date are asked to contact the VA. Smart said the "statements" will include the year-end unpaid principal balance, interest paid on the property during the calendar year 1959.

Also to be mailed automatically to each borrower is the 12-month supply mortgage loan payment notices and remittance envelopes for use during the calendar year 1960. If instructions on the payment of the payments will be facilitated greatly, Smart said.

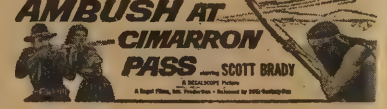

Smart further cautioned veterans to use the special remittance envelopes for payments only, avoid later payments from mis-directed.

MUELLER SAYS
'60 COULD BE BEST YEAR--IF

Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller predicts that 1960 could be the "best year of our lives if inflation" is blocked, strike stalemates ended and peace maintained.

In a recent speech before the 64th Congress of American Industry in New York, the Commerce Secretary suggested consideration of legislative action in the fields of labor disputes and income tax rate reforms.

"Possibly, we might see further whether or not it would be more in the public interest to decentralize the process of collective bargaining in basic industries so that the employer group of an individual company could bargain directly with a union representing their own employees and not be forced to deal with industry-wide unions," he said.

This might prevent industry-wide strikes that "paralyze the whole nation's economy," he pointed out.

Referring to basic tax rate reforms, Mr. Mueller said, "such reforms could eliminate what are actually punitive taxes and replace them with a carefully designed program that stimulates rather than retards economic growth and new job opportunities."

Mr. Horsley White's house was damaged very badly in the fire on Christmas Eve night. Someone ventured to say that it was the Christmas Tree lights, but we didn't see any great damage. We're certainly glad it wasn't destroyed. Mr. Horsley and his wife, Mrs. Horsley, are in Birmingham and apparently doing well there.

GRAPEVINE reports are that Ralph Norman, of Big Four Hardware will no longer be with us after the first of the year, or soon thereafter. There's not many folk in Clanton whom we'd rather not see go than Ralph Norman. In the short time he has been in Clanton he has probably made more friends, business contacts and created more good will than anyone ever could. He's the type of fellow who goes in for assisting in the little things in the community which make big things work and are sorely lacking in many of such distinctive character. The only consolation whatever is in the fact that we still will have his younger brother Dave, who though hasn't the experience in such things as his brother does, has a mighty winning way with him and already boasts many Chilton Countyans as his friends. Anyway maybe Ralph will decide to stick with us. . . he and his family. Chilton County ain't such a bad place at all, when you get to know folks!

ALWAYS something new coming along and during the month of January. . . running lengthwise. . . the National Foundation, which originally fought Polio and now is braced out in virus diseases, arthritis, birth defects and disorders of the central nervous system will hold it's annual appeal and drive for much needed funds for research. Jon Will Pitts has been named chairman of this year's "march" in Chilton County. You'll be hearing from him on the subject for the next few weeks. It is our hope, on viewing the good done by this organization, that you will continue in your generosity to those less fortunate and will give, in some measure, to this worthy cause. There are many worthy causes, 'tis true and we don't venture to say which are the more worthy. It's for you to decide. . . and thus, it is for you to consider them all before you decide which you will support. Think on it for the coming few weeks.

MR. Bob White is coming along splendidly with construction on their new building out on 4th Avenue. It certainly is going to be a sizeable structure and a welcome and attractive addition to Chilton's long list of progressive business establishments. We intend to keep you well posted on the proceedings!

NEWS OF—JEMISON

Mrs. George Nash
Amidst traditional wedding charm and beauty, the marriage of Miss George Cobb and Jack Wesley was solemnized in the First Baptist Church of Jemison, Friday night, Dec. 4th at 8 p.m. The Rev. Louis Brasher officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cobb, Jemison; her groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley of Jemison. The impressive double ring ceremony took place before a backdrop of potted palms, ferns and angelonia branches.

A central floor standard held a massive sunburst arrangement of white snapdragons, gladioli and ranunculus. Smaller arrangements of the flowers were on either side.

Seven wrought iron branched and silver held burning white candles that cast a soft glow over the wedding scene. White flowers ornamented the new-dress that was placed on the bride.

Magnolia foliage and burning candles filled the window recesses. Rows of white satin ribbon and white mums marked the family pews where parents sat. Clusters of white mums marked the pews of guests.

Mrs. C. L. Walton, pianist, presented a program of pre-nuptial hymns and played the wedding marches.

Mrs. Gerald Smithman, accompanied by Mrs. Walton sang "Because" "Till and The Lord's Prayer" as a fervent benediction to the ceremony.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chilton County Hospital, a report was made concerning fire risks and safety factors of the Chilton County Hospital and Nursing Home, it was announced today.

The Hospital building is approximately 35,000 square feet of inside surface space. The Nursing Home having approximately 28,000 square feet of inside surface space. Both are single story type.

Floors: Both buildings are of concrete slab with fireproof vinyl tile with the exception of the surgical wing flooring which is the original safety factor of non-conductive vinyl tile.

Walls: Walls are of rock lathe attached to metal framing, except the parts that are plastered, and this is plaster attached to metal lathe. The paint is fireproof type paint.

Roofs: The Hospital roof is fireproof composition built up type roof with metal ventilation outlets. The roof of the Nursing Home is concrete slab.

Windows: All windows have metal frames in both buildings. Windows in each room have sufficient space to allow a grown person to crawl through by breaking the glass.

Doors: Treatment of doors clasped them as fire resistant on the rooms. Other rooms have metal doors. All door frames are metal.

Draperies: Fireproof fiberglass, with buildings.

Ceilings: Fireproof acoustical type ceilings on metal frames.

Furniture: All beds, chairs, stands, dressers, bedside tables are metal and fireproof, in patients' rooms.

Fire Control Equipment: The Hospital has four fire hydrant with attached here at equidistant parts of the building. The Nursing Home has two fire hydrant stations at either wing of the building. Specifications on the original buildings were fireproof.

Special considerations: Oxygen-Oxygen is piped to each room in the Hospital through a separate closed system. The oxygen is stored in a separate room with an outside entrance. The laboratory stocks no inflammable drugs in quantity size. Specifications, controls, and general considerations of fire prevention were discussed with members of the Fire Department of Clanton; they were of the opinion that no fire problem existed in the building and that adequate water supply for fire prevention and control was nearby.

Conclusion: Both buildings are as nearly fireproof as modern building methods can make them. There is an added safety factor of adequate fire control equipment present.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

IT'S TIME TO TURN ANOTHER LEAF

Another New Year's Day! This is always a time when people make resolutions and turn a "new leaf" in the book of life.

Have you turned your new leaf yet? Thousands will be starting 1960 afresh with a "clean slate." They will have become determined to shed their bad habits, refrain from spending, stop doing this or that. But will these resolutions be kept? Many of them will be broken!

It is this way every year for most of us. We all make New Year's resolutions with good intentions, only to break them this year or that. But will these resolutions be kept? Many of them will be broken!

One man I know resolved last New Year's Day to go on a strict diet.

"I won't eat anything sweet for a whole year. I must get my weight down!" he said. By New Year's evening, he had "polished off" two pieces of pecan pie, a half-pound of chocolate candy and a dish of ice cream!

"The spirit was strong," he said as an excuse for breaking his resolution, "but my stomach was weak!"

The man was really defeated before he started because he was not completely determined to sacrifice a little—to go all the way!

"I've made a New Year's resolution," said one of my teammates the other day. "I've promised my wife I won't buy anything on credit during 1960."

Now this is a real goal! I hope he makes it, but with living costs being what they are today, he has "a long row to hoe."

Any person who makes a New Year's resolution and sticks with it all year is to be commended.

The same thing applies to our religious life. We can be strong in our faith and trust in God to carry us through the trials that may come along during the year. Or we can let our faith slip and slip back into our old patterns.

Yes, the New Year is a grand time to make resolutions. We can use January 1 to start a new calendar in our life, by keeping our eyes on the date and by remembering our past mistakes.

The wonderful thing about living a Christian life is that God helps us through every temptation, through every trial, through every problem. The wonderful thing about accepting Christ in our hearts is that when He forgives, He forgets!

Jesus can wipe our slate clean, and He can help us keep it clean all year!
